

The Class Of 2008

Derek sure does look like he's paying attention.

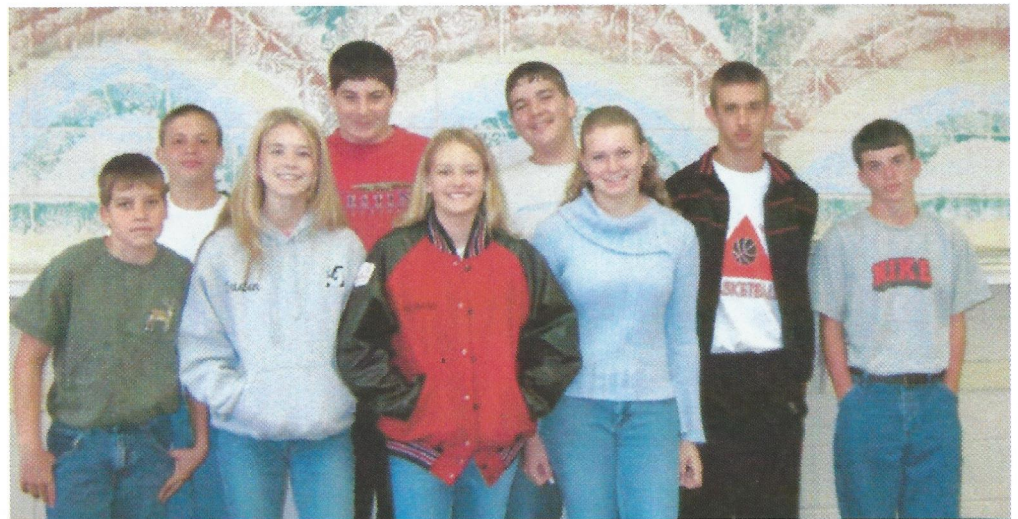

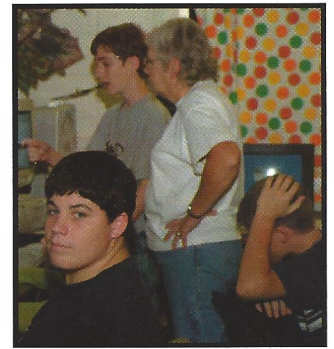

Ms. Calloway is always there if someone needs a little help.

Erica has a little chat with Mr. Stroman at the pageant.

Everyone in Ninth Grade has their very own personality. They all enjoy hanging around with each other. May they remain friends to the end.

The Class of 2008 is an eager class of twelve students. By voting, the class decided that Sarah is the best dressed girl and Kyle is the best dressed boy. Of course, Derek was voted class clown. Bradley is most athletic even though most of them play a sport. Kyle is the most likely to succeed and since Justin gets along with everybody he is the best all around person. All of the students agreed that English is their favorite class. I wonder if they said this because they were IN Mrs. Paula's class. Good luck, Freshmen!
