

Job Mathias

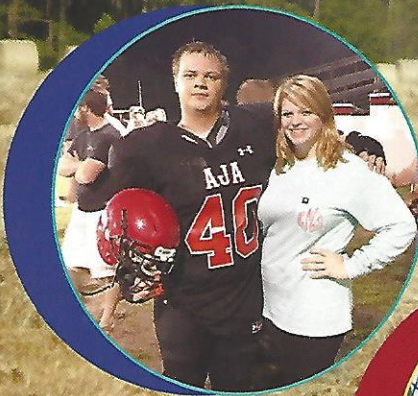

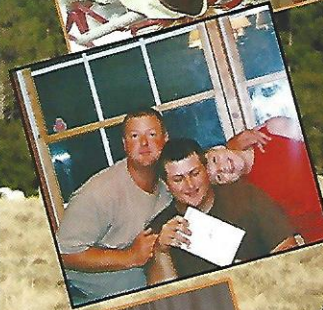

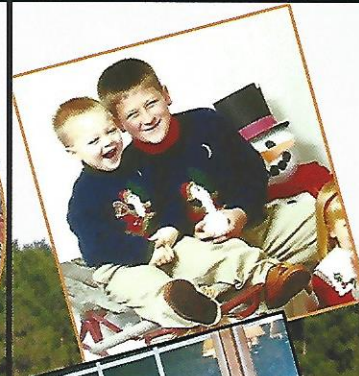

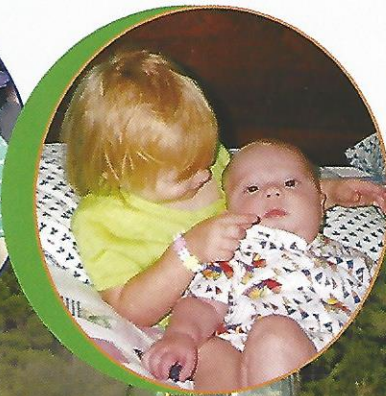

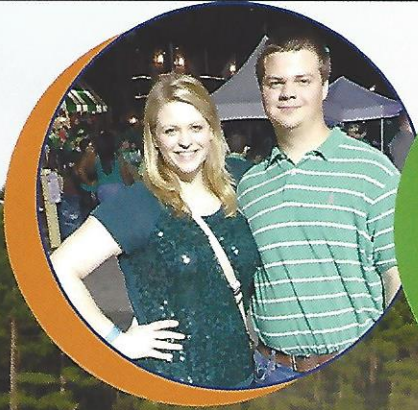

Job,

It is hard to believe that you are already a senior. It seems like only yesterday that you were toddling around. We are so proud of the young man that you have become. You have manners, respect, values and love for your friends and family. Most of all, you are yourself. You are not influenced by what others say or think. You are your own person – our Job.

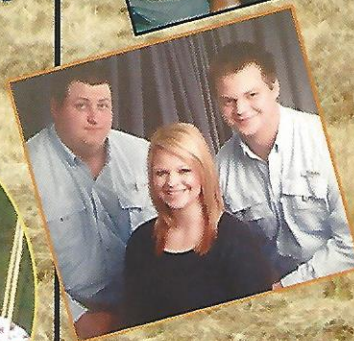

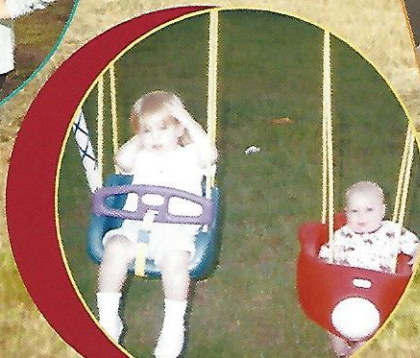

God has great plans for you. Remember, He left you on this earth for a reason. Be on the lookout because He will let you know what He wants you to do.

Good luck in the coming years. We have no doubt that you will go in the direction where you will be led to do great things.

Love,
Honey & Pop

I'm so proud of you,
congratulations!
