

LEFT TO RIGHT: Lynah Faye McAlhaney and Larry Dannelly, Fourth Edition honorees.

Staff Chooses Buttons And Bows

For this edition the Bells Revue Staff has selected two more outstanding seniors to represent the senior class as Mr. and Miss Fourth Edition.

Lynah Faye McAlhaney and Larry Dannelly were named as these two honorable students.

Lynah Faye is 5' 6", brown hair, brown eyes and has a good disposition. Her favorite food is hamburgers, her favorite sport is basketball, and her favorite pastime is talking on the telephone. Lynah's favorite club is the Beta Club of which she is an active member. Some of the other clubs of which she is a member are Paper staff, Annual staff, Block B, F.T.A., F.H.A., forward on the basketball team and head cheerleader. Her only dislike is conceited people. Her motto is "I shall have done yesterday what I have put off for today."

Larry is 5' 10", brown hair, blue eyes and is well to get along with. His favorite food is fried chicken, his favorite sport is football, and his favorite pastime is loafing. Larry's motto is "Never give up." Larry is a member of the Beta Club, Block "B", bus driver, and lettered in football. His dislike is stuck-up girls.

These are truly two outstanding seniors.

account at the Bank of Walterboro. As a result, I'm sure the bank has a lot more money.

Jess Dannelly, Wally Medlin and James Lang all support Carter's Shell Service Station in Ehrhardt. Once a month they buy 50c worth of gas.

Betas Trip To Convention

Friday, Feb. 22, at 11:00 o'clock, 17 members of the Beta Club left Bells High School for the Beta Club convention in Columbia. They stayed in the Orvin Motor Court from Friday until Sunday afternoon.

Believe It Or Not . . .

Mr. Buckwalter doesn't make the auto mechanics boys get dirty any more.

Mr. Dantzler has quit giving tests? Mrs. Fishburne doesn't make you "count beats" any more.

Mrs. Gore is going to let her students gaze out the windows.

Mr. Hampton thinks basketball is a "minor sport".

Mrs. Hightower doesn't make you sign your name on your papers (she says that she can read your handwriting).

Mrs. Kirkland will let you strike over a letter.

Mr. Mauney adores "sour notes." Miss Padgett is not going to call her third period class down again.

Mrs. Padgett is going to let Dianne Harter win one argument.

Mrs. Peters will permit the use of "ain't."

Mrs. Roberts is going to pass Jimmy Harrison for the year on his science fair project alone.

Mr. Smoak has quit giving demerits.

Mrs. Summers won't keep you in for putting tacks in chairs.

Mr. Varn is going to start "flirting" back at those Seventh Grade girls.

And above all, Mr. Kinard is going to start letting students come into the hall before the 8:20 bell.

(P. S.: Don't pay any attention to the above. After all, today is April Fool's Day!)

Upon arrival in Columbia, they registered at the Jefferson Hotel. After registering, they went back to the motel and lounged around until that night when they attended the first general session at the Columbia Township Auditorium, which included the welcome, introduction of officials, speeches, and the talent program.

Saturday morning Larry Dannelly and Perry Bell, who were marshals from Bells, worked from nine until 11 o'clock registering other Beta members. The other members from Bells enjoyed a tour through the Science Museum and Art Gallery.

Mrs. Hightower, the Beta Club sponsor, attended the sponsors' luncheon at the Jefferson Hotel at 12:00.

Saturday afternoon the Beta members enjoyed an afternoon of shopping and recreation.

After sleeping late Sunday morning, the members left the motel the final time at 1:00 and went to Columbia College where they saw a dress rehearsal of "Oklahoma", a play put on by the Columbia College students.

After hamburgers and Coke, the tired but happy Betas left for home.
