

Home Economics

The Home Economics course teaches its students the basic fundamentals about activities in the home today. This prepares them for building better homes in the future.

These girls are learning the proper way to mix a cake.

Mrs. Summers is taking over one of her student's jobs.

These students are learning how to sew properly.