

Journalism and Driver Education

These are two new subjects being taught this year also. The journalism course is preparing students for a future in writing while at the same time driver education teaches the fundamentals of driving.

Mr. McAbee explains to Donna the basics of starting a car.

Minnie and Pam discuss the effectiveness of this newspaper outline.

The journalism class is assigned certain subjects on which they must write articles.