Alma Mater

Mighty Camden, we salute thee now
And may this be our eternal vow,
That the truths held dear
By thy code austere
Shall thunder in our ear.
In adversity
Let us steadfast be,
And face life's trials without fear.
May love of God and love of man,
Freedom, truth, and duty to our land,
Forge a bond between us,
Man to man.

Of Our Days at the "Acad"

"How about getting off my foot."

An ex-cadet makes good!

"I feel guilty when I enjoy this job."

We look now with mixed emotions upon the school year 1966-67. With excitement we visualize the unknown adventure of our adult future; yet, with sadness, we see the passing of this dynamic phase of our development. Our progress this year has so become a part of our lives that it will subconsciously guide us always. Our conscious memories will be forever sharpened by the EXCALIBUR 1967.

“What’ll you have, son?” These words can be heard each day in the canteen, signalling the entrance of one of the greatest friends the cadets have. For seven years, Mr. Russell has been serving the school both officially as the proprietor of the Canteen and unofficially as the Father Confessor and errand-runner to the “boys”.

For your devotion to our needs and wants for all these years, we dedicate the EXCALIBUR of 1967 to you,

Mr. E. Beckham Russell

Philosophy of Education

Education is far more than the simple learning and retaining of a mass of facts and figures . . .

. . . It is more accurately described as a process of growth, a process which develops not only the intellect but also the personality of an individual so that he will be equipped to live a successful life in this rapidly changing world.

. . . The physical body must be developed through exercise and athletics.

. . . That priceless gift, the mind, must be nurtured through instruction, frequent study, reading and attention to detail.

. . . The spiritual qualities must be strengthened to guide the thoughts of the acute mind and the steps of the strong body down the paths of manliness, unselfishness, duty, and service, to the great satisfaction of having not only made a living, but having lived successfully a life.

"The God who gave us life, gave us liberty at the same time."
—JEFFERSON.

. . . It is these spiritual characteristics, more than any other, by which the Great Commandant of the Universe adjudges each life a success or failure.

The Administration

When we hear someone say “Building men for the future of America,” we instantly think of the man who has made this ideal his life’s work.

Col. James F. Risher, our President, has been molding boys’ characters since he first started teaching at Carlisle Military School in 1924. He enlarged his opportunities in 1939 by purchasing the school, and again in 1958 by acquiring CMA.

It can truly be said that South Carolina is in his debt for “making men out of boys” and providing them with an education they might never have received.

“I want this school to be the best preparatory school in South Carolina, if not in all the South.” So declares Col. Lanning P. Risher when he speaks about Camden Military Academy, of which he is Headmaster. For eight years he has been working toward that goal, and with his determination and education, nobody doubts that he will make it.

He is well qualified for the position he holds, having been weaned on life in a military school. Besides graduating from Carlisle Military School, he gained a degree from The Citadel and went back to Carlisle to teach after a tour of duty in the Infantry. He came to CMA in 1958 and started with a total enrollment of 95 cadets, from which start he has progressed to the present student body of 240. Truly, with a continuation of this progress, his dream will come true.

CADETS—FACES, NAMES, OLD FRIENDS—
What did they look like then?
I wonder where they are now!
Let's open the memory book and reminisce.

He is not dead—this friend—not dead,
But in the path we mortals tread
Got some few trifling steps ahead,
 And nearer to the end;
So that you, too, once past the bend,
Shall meet again, as face to face, this friend
you fancy dead. —ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

Training Cadre

It is the express purpose of the training cadre to instruct the new student at CMA. The cadre not only teaches the new cadets how to drill, but also acts as a big brother until the student can fall into the routine of the cadet.

The select group of commissioned officers and non-commissioned officers has a very important job here. It is their job to get the cadet started off right so that he may become a success at CMA.

Sash and Sword

Membership in the club is limited to the Commissioned Officers who attain the qualities needed to train the battalion. These men have been selected on the basis of their leadership abilities and merit. On the judgment and ability of these men depend the success of the corps of cadets. Honor, loyalty, and tradition outline the basis of the Sash and Sword.

Non-Coms

Responsibility for day to day running of the campus is left to the Non-Coms. Sergeant of the Guard, Officer of the Guard, Colonel's Orderly, and night guard duty are some of the duties that are held by non-coms. They are responsible to their charge. Chosen on character and dependability, they represent the backbone of the battalion.

Cadet Prayer

Heavenly Father,
we beseech Thee to behold with Thy favor this,
our Academy, that, through the care
and instruction of the young men committed to it,
Thy Name may be glorified.

Be Thou guide to those upon whom rests
its government; enlighten with wisdom those who teach;
and grant that we who learn may be blessed in our studies, and our characters so molded that we may evermore stand fast in Thy truth and abide in Thy love,
through Jesus Christ our Lord.

AMEN.

By THE RIGHT REVEREND ALBERT S. THOMAS, S.T.D., Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of South Carolina.
