

Is it over or has it just begun? That is a question which faces the Class of 1981. As you walk out of her gates for the last time, CMA will look upon the hard work and determination you have expended to make her what she is.

Nothing can be done and done well without patience and much hard work. The same holds true for production of the 1981 Excalibur. Many people have given their time and their effort to create this book for you, and thanks must go to those who stuck with it. But we would like to thank you, the students of Camden Military Academy, and the Class of 1981 in particular, for your cooperation and for your support. We sincerely hope that we, the Excalibur Staff, have captured the things you wanted recorded in your yearbook.
