REFLECTIONS OF OUR

A Spartan was a person who was severe, stern, and lived a strict military environment. He acted with responsibility and used his leadership qualities to the best of his ability. The man himself was tough, proud, and very well disciplined. These Spartans were the bravest men of all.

The military life of the Spartans began at the age of seven. At this age, they learned to fight and use weapons. They were trained to march to war in their finest clothes at the sound of music. They learned to endure physical hardships and public punishment and accept discipline without questions. They all ate in the same dining hall and slept in the same barracks. For physical training they were educated in gymnastics, running, jumping, boxing, and wrestling. They were permitted to do little more than dedicate their lives to the profession of the sword and spear.

The Spartan men had no home life and were forbidden to travel to other cities. They all grew up living and sharing, causing them to believe in simple habits and living styles. They believed in living in the past, a strict military environment. The ancient Spartans were the most skilled and devoted soldiers of their age.

A Camden Military Academy Spartan is a person who grows in mind and spirit. He lives in a strict military environment and through his acts of responsibility and leadership qualities he moves up in the ranks of the corps of cadets. The cadet is very well disciplined and made tough through his military training. This is what makes a cadet proud to be a part of this academy.

The military life at the academy begins in the seventh grade and extends through the twelfth grade. When a student becomes a cadet, he learns basic military movements, how to march in a company formation, and how to drill with a weapon. With this training he participates in military parades dressed in his best uniform marching to the beat of the band. The punishment is made public by the reading of special orders which are read in the mess hall where all the cadets eat; he also lives in his company barracks which are run by the cadet officers. For exercise he is required to attend physical training and participate in wrestling, track, football, basketball, baseball, cross country, and soccer. The cadet is allowed to leave campus at certain times and to go home on furloughs. Through the dedication of the cadet's effort to better this school, he makes this an excellent opportunity for himself and future cadets to keep the tradition of this being a fine military academy.

The cadets at Camden Military Academy all live in a military environment where they grow, living together and learning to share all the things they have learned. The life is not very complicated and the cadets get out of this academy what they put into it. The Camden Military Academy reflects the Spartan Image that was established and developed by the ancient Greeks during their reign of world power.

The Drill Team and the Color Guard stand at attention during the Veteran's Day ceremony.

OD — Phil Zeski, OG — Frank Foster, Mess Officer — Jonathan Lewis, Jeff Leneave and OC — Major McClendon wait for the reports from the 1st SGTS at lunch.

Ronnie Vergnolle studies the Immense Journey, a very deep subject for a very shallow mind.

SPARTAN IMAGE

Col. White works hard on maintaining a good reputation of CMA.

For the past eighteen years Colonel White has served as the Assistant Headmaster and Senior Army Instructor. He taught Leadership Development 3 and 4, which is a class that develops future leaders by teaching them the principles and techniques of leadership. Besides developing the leaders of tomorrow, he has done a great deal to make Camden Military Academy what it is today. He has a special concern for each cadet and each cadet's welfare at school. He consults cadets about their problems and helps them to resolve any that they may have.

Colonel White has served in two wars: World War Two as an enlisted man in the United States Marine Corps and as an Army Officer in Korea. He is a highly decorated soldier and has attended several army leadership schools in his career. Colonel White has a great deal of experience in leadership and management of personnel. However, this year he will be retiring from Camden Military Academy. With him will go his valuable leadership and, more important, the friend that we all have in Colonel White.

ACADEMICS

A FORMAL EDUCATION IS NOW BECOMING NECESSARY FOR LIFE WHICH IS CONSTANTLY CHANGING. EVERY YEAR THE REQUIREMENTS FOR COLLEGE ARE INCREASED, THE ACADEMY ALSO ENCOURAGES ITS STUDENTS TO INCREASE THEIR KNOWLEDGE. THE CLASSES ARE RELATIVELY SMALL AND THERE IS MORE INDIVIDUAL ATTENTION FOR EACH STUDENT SO HE CAN LEARN MORE. CADETS ALSO LEARN NEW STUDY HABITS DURING THEIR STUDY HALL PERIOD THAT WILL ALWAYS BE WITH THEM IN COLLEGE.

ACADEMICS ARE THE MAIN REASON THIS SCHOOL IS IN EXISTENCE AND MAJ. GALE DOES EVERYTHING HE CAN POSSIBLY DO TO FURTHER THE EDUCATION OF THE CADET. HE IS CONSTANTLY WORKING WITH THE STUDENTS HELPING THEM IN THEIR ACADEMIC STUDIES AND MAKING SURE THEIR CLASSES ARE CONDUCTED IN AN ORDERLY MANNER.

MAJ. GALE ALONG WITH COL. HAYWARD BOTH HELP JUNIORS AND SENIORS IN THE BEGINNING OF THEIR COLLEGE CAREERS. THEY GIVE GOOD RECOMMENDATIONS TO CADETS FOR COLLEGE AS WELL AS HELP THEM IN THEIR DECISIONS THAT WILL HELP THEM IN THEIR PROGRESS WHEN THEY LEAVE THE ACADEMY.

THIS YEAR WE HAVE SEEN THE REVIVAL OF HONORS ENGLISH. THIS NEW COURSE WAS MADE POSSIBLE NOT ONLY BY THE STUDENTS, BUT ALSO BY THE FACULTY OFFICERS. THE NEW FACULTY THIS YEAR ARE CAPT. BRIMELOW, SCIENCE; CAPT. SLOAN, ENGLISH; CAPT. HERRINGTON, ENGLISH; CAPT. PRENDERGAST, BIOLOGY; CAPT. BEMISDERFER, CHEMISTRY; MAJOR McCLENDON U.S. ARMY (RET), ARMY INSTRUCTOR; AND CAPT. ZEMP, HONORS ENGLISH, 11TH GRADE ENGLISH.

THIS ACADEMY WITH ITS HELP FROM ALL OF ITS FACULTY OFFICERS AND THE STRONG DETERMINATION OF ALL THE STUDENTS CONTINUES TO BE A TOP ACADEMIC SCHOOL WITH ONE GOAL: TO DEVELOP THE MIND OF THE STUDENTS AND TEACH THEM TO GROW MENTALLY AND SPIRITUALLY.

Peter Hasler and his date proceed through the receiving line.

Brad Anderson looks well entertained.

Larry Mace and Lindsey Harris show off their dancing while Dean Saunders, David Owens, Dawn Dukes look on.

The beat is alive and pumping, delivered by today's popular bands selected by a very hard working dance committee headed by Cpt. Owens and its advisor, LTC Watson. They turn the gym into a rockin' arena with a live band, which is far from the ordinary sports crowds.

There are three dances each year: The fall Visitors Day Dance, the juniors hosting the seniors at the prom, and, the wildest of all, the commencement. At these dances cadets in their formal dress uniforms and their dates dance the night away.

The band, Toyzz, plays a slow song for lovers.

Uncle Tom gladly lends a hand.

Rusty Burgess and Tom Stallings check in Reid Baker as David Skinner looks on.

Jonathan Morningstar and Carol Woods justa dancin' the night away.

The Spartan Varsity Football team posted the best season that CMA has had in five years. Although the team had a few disappointing games, Coach Boland was quoted as saying "We are going through a building period, and we hope to become a team to be reckoned with in the next few years." The team was led this year by Senior running back Orlando Banks on offense and Senior linebacker Thomas Clack on defense.

Banks runs toward the goal line while playing against East Cooper.

Parker and Vergnolle look on with interest.

Cates leaps high to receive a pass.

Clack barely breaks a tackle in a scramble.

Brank gets his head buried in the ground.

Lumpkin rolls out to try for a successful pass, and look at the great blockage.

Balentine breaks away from the pack and makes a mad dash for the goal line.

The 85-86 J.V. Football team was more of a preparatory program for Varsity than a J.V. team. Although the team only won one game all season, they played hard and gave 110% the whole time.

Fritz von Kolnitz, Danny Parker, and Lonnie Long went on to join the Varsity team after completing their season with the J.V. squad. The team hopes that next year will be a season of more victories and harder play.

von Kolnitz comes away from the toss with a smile of a future victory.

Carew runs hard against his opponent.

This year was a first for the CMA cross-country team. Major McClendon coached the team which consisted of 12 members most of whom were seniors. Major McClendon is not a stranger to the sport of running. In fact he coached in the Army and started women's cross-country at Appalachian State University in Boone, N.C. Since this was a first for the team it had some hard races against the other schools. Major McClendon said that "At least we are learning something". He was also quoted as saying "It has been a real baptism with some of the 4-A schools we've been running against." The team won one race against Chesterfield in a meet with Lugoff-Elgin. Hopefully next year the team will be able to muster enough support to lead it to victory. We certainly hope that those teams which won over us will be ready and waiting to compete next year since we will be ready and waiting to strengthen our position over them so that future teams will be able to run as well.

JV BASKETBALL

Both the Varsity and J.V. Basketball teams had successful seasons this year. The Varsity team finished the season with a 16-5 record; while the J.V. team finished with a 9-1 record (Their only loss coming to Heathwood Hall in double overtime.) The Varsity also defeated the #1 team in the conference, Spartanburg Day, in an exciting home game.

The Varsity team consisted of Nick Lopez (Sr.) and Ronnie Drolet (Jr.) at guards; Jonathan Lewis (Sr.) and David Owens (Sr.) at forwards; and Todd Parker (Sr.) at center. In one tournament in Greenville, Nick Lopez was selected for 2nd Team All Tournament. All the seniors wish the Spartans a very successful season next year.

CMA Community to come.

Little is immutable in our everchanging world, even here at CMA. Christmas vacation began with seniors playing Santa Claus to faculty, presenting each, at pre-holiday lunch, an imaginative present, ranging from a "check" for a million dollars for Col. Risher to a "wabbit" for LTC Eller.

Second semester commenced as George Bush launched his "just folks" presidency and Mikhail Gorbachev faced violent eruptions of nationalism in the USSR as he sought through elections a mandate for his three-pronged pitchfork of perestroika, glasnost, and demokratizatsiya. Alaska returned to media focus as the oiltanker EXXON Valdez struck Bligh Reef, the resultant spill fouling 800 miles of shoreline, devastating Prince William Sound, its crude-covered waters an environmental disaster. A terrorist bomb blew PANAM 747 Flight 103 out of Scottish skies and the Ayatollah Khomeini decreed death for writer Salman Rushdie, author of The Santanic Verses. Iran-Contra figure Oliver North prolonged his "fifteen minutes of fame," his trial ending without a bang, the whimpering just perceptible. Fever rose worldwide over cold fusion, a discovery which held potential as important as invention of the wheel. Flight of the shuttle Discovery put us back in the space race.

At Camden, John Arledge, Plant Superintendent, retired and Billy Watford, a five-year veteran here, filled the position. CSM(Ret) John Layne and Captain Keith Barlow joined the staff second semester. Key Club District 16 members elected sophomore Gary Spencer their Lieutenant Governor and Greg Baxter rated an "outstanding president" designation. CMA Voice of Democracy speech contest winner Lewis Sharp won second place in the county and third in the district while ninth grader Robby Mosier won the Kershaw County American Legion Oratorical Contest and placed second in zone competition.

An Eastern Airline strike altered many well-laid cadet travel plans at spring break, some students spending whole days in air terminals on re-routed return trips. The Advocate, an underground publication, and "The Lizard's Kingdom," circulated hand-to-hand, lifted cadet satire to new heights, but only confirmed Jonathan Swift's wry observation on human nature: "Satire is a sort of glass wherein beholders do generally discover everybody's face but their own." We depart filled with optimism for a kinder, gentler CMA community to come.

Spring sports

If sports success were measured only by contests won, the tennis team did not star, but motivation held high and a feeling of matches well played pervaded.

The golf team started their season slow with a couple losses, took up the slack, and ended the regular season 4-5-1. Highpoint was the conference tournament in Simpsonville with the Spartans placing third of six participating schools and Ashley Saulnier and David Stepp receiving All-Conference awards with scores of 83 and 79 respectively.

The baseball team had their best season in recent history, posting an 11-5 record and winning the Carolina Athletic Association Conference title. Weather conditions mixed early practice and led to an opening loss to North Central, 0-1. But after spring break Spartans Lewis Sharpe (5-3) and Gregg Marlatt (3-1) turned on the heat. Riding on the last game, against Christ School, was the conference title. Avenging an early season loss, the Spartans were victorious with a 2-1 win behind Sharp's 13 strikeouts.

Despite a 4-11 mark against other teams, the Spartan track squad enjoyed an undefeated regular conference season and a third place finish in the Carolina Athletic Association meet. Conference champs included David Price in the 100 meter dash, Ron Landers in the 100 meter hurdles, and Rob Strickland in shot put.

With a victory over Cheraw early in the season, Spartans hoped to be the soccer team to beat, but a close loss to Hammond Academy put a damper on spirits and contributed to the loss against Hilton Head the next day. Two games later the Spartans regrouped, started anew, and crushed Coastal Academy, a path to five final wins.

Vince Minelli makes good use of his noggin in play against Coastal Academy.

Year's end wind-up

last weekend picked up speed.

May 21, graduation day, on the calendar all year, came on fast. The final weekend picked up speed on Saturday with company and individual drill competition at eight, followed by award ceremonies in the gym at ten, honor company parade at four, and the commencement dance at nine.

Saturday's awards program began with presentation of the Retired Officers Association Medal to Gregg Baxter for high moral character, loyalty to the school, and exceptional leadership potential. Ian Osborne received the Military Order of the World Wars Silver Medal presented to a junior for overall improvement in both scholastic and military leadership areas. That organization's Bronze Medal, for overall military excellence and leadership went to Henry Taylor; its Gold Medal, presented to the outstanding cadet in the senior class, to Will Rice. Recipient of the National Sojourners Medal, presented to the cadet displaying outstanding leadership potential, demonstrated ideals of Americanism, and high academic achievement, was Ted Hughes. For outstanding JROTC achievement and academic excellence by a junior class member, David Rutledge won the Order of the Daedalion Medal. The Veterans of Foreign Wars Medal, to a senior with outstanding military bearing, patriotism, and overall leadership potential, went to JJ Campbell. Bob Whitmire received the Daughters of the American Revolution Medal awarded to a senior of outstanding ability, achievement, dependability, and high moral character. The United States Army Recruiting Command Award was presented to Mike Nelson, a senior demonstrating leadership in extracurricular activities and a desire to enter a military career. American Legion Awards for general military excellence and citizenship went to Matthew Stokes, silver medal to a junior; and bronze to senior Patrick McGraw. Association of the United States Army Awards for leadership and high moral character were to Gary Spencer, freshman; Michael Balducci, sophomore; Ashley Saulnier, a senior in LET III; and David Stepp, LET IV. Best Drilled Cadet Award, determined by the morning's drill competition was Gregg Hill. Second and third places were to Josh Estep and Bob Whitmire. Beau Markolf won the N. S. Meyer Raeburn Award, a $100. tuition scholarship, for demonstrated outstanding personal appearance and military bearing. BJ Lathan, with only three, earned the Department Medal for the cadet with fewest demerits all year.

Superior Cadet Awards for outstanding participation in Leadership Education and Training (LET I through IV) were Robby Mosier, Kevin McDaniel, Will Mitchell, and Will Rice. JJ Campbell received the Commandant's Award, presented to the most outstanding cadet in the school, other than the battalion commander.

For the second consecutive year, "A" earned Honor Company distinction.

In the scholastic realm, JJ Campbell and Bob Whitmire received Presidential Academic Fitness awards. In debate, Doug Eader was most improved and Robby Mosier earned coach's award. Bobby Simmons received the E. Haines Gregg Award for musical accomplishment, and Dana Lunsford won the John Philip Sousa Award in band, a peer selection. At Sunday morning's nine o'clock Senior Dress Parade, well-organized Class of '89 pranksters provided fellow grads with tassels for their caps and, on signal, seniors affixed them with alligator "roach" clips and marched forward to be honored at their final review.

At ten in the gym, Rev. Louie C.

McDonald, youth pastor at First Baptist Church of Camden, was a commencement speaker to emulate. He analyzed his audience, spoke their language, and held their attention throughout his presentation, in spite of sultry heat. Awards and recognition continued through the graduation ceremony. Gold Star awards for students with 90.0 averages or above for the second semester went to MS Aaron, Balducci, Barnett, Brook, JJ Campbell, Christenson, Eader, Edmondson, Flanagan, Gantt, Hughes, Jordan, Landers, LeVine, McDaniel, Mosier, Osborne, Pote, Reinman, Rice, Saulnier, Sciulli, Spencer, Stokes, Wamer, and Whitmire. Recognized for highest class averages were: JB Thornton, seventh grade; CJ Reinman, eighth; JR Mosier, ninth; M. Balducci, tenth; KD McDaniel, eleventh; RV Whitmire, twelfth. WR Rice earned second highest average among seniors, JJ Campbell, third.

Cadet LTC William R. Rice was commended for his service as Battalion Commander and Robert V. Whitmire received the coveted James F. Risher Award, a peer selection which recognizes the senior most nearly exemplifying the ideal cadet. Col Risher presented diplomas, "Taps" sounded, and 42 graduates and five seniors who will complete requirements at the end of summer school marched out to "Pomp and Circumstance," into alumni ranks. A final order for dismissal of the corps signalled end of the school year.
