Camden Military Academy

Camden, SC 29020 Volume 45

A Position of Leadership

Camden Military Academy is in an enviable position among schools of its type in the United States. We opened this year with 300 students, the only secondary military school of our kind to begin the new academic year with full enrollment. Since the Academy has broad appeal among parents who want a military preparatory school education for their sons, we are clearly a leader in our field. Moreover, we have achieved our numbers without compromising our admissions standards. We continue to seek young men of good character who want academic help, and we have been successful in attracting them. We have a high optimism to continue this trend; however, the field is very competitive, and we must promote our school aggressively to maintain our position.

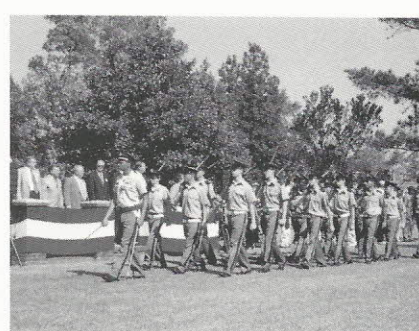

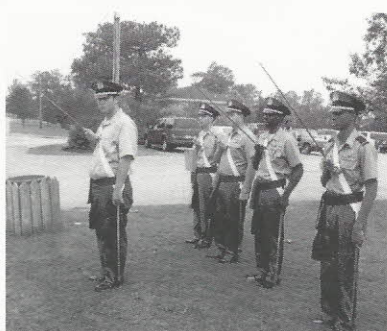

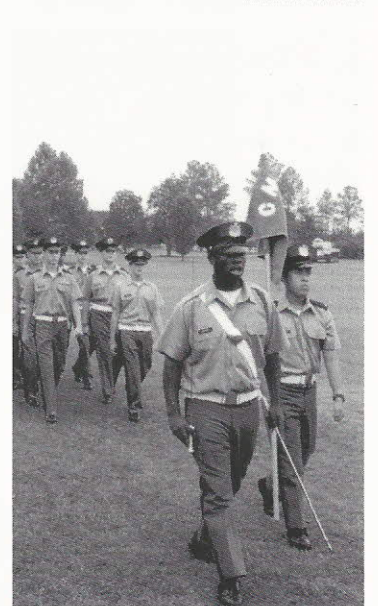

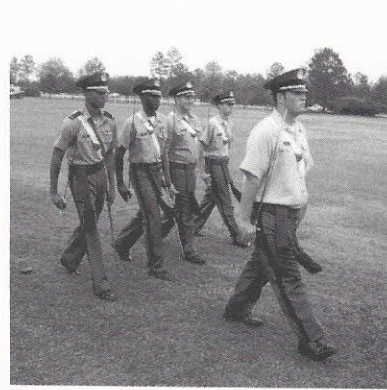

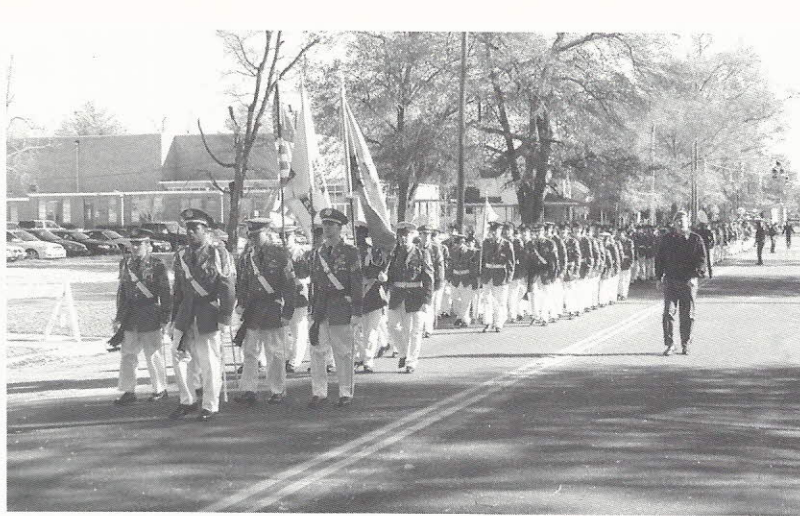

The Academy has kept competitive owing to three valuable assets: people, sports, and academics. In dedication and capability, our faculty and staff rival any others in schools of our type. Our sports programs are beginning to attract wide attention. We have won many titles in the major sports over the years, and this year in particular we have been superlative, with an undefeated football team and outstanding records in basketball and other sports. Our college preparatory curriculum is very attractive to parents. Although our diverse student body will pursue various opportunities after high school, we offer all of our students courses of study that will prepare them well to meet the challenges and demands of college.

Colonel William K. Orris, Headmaster

This has been a year of regrouping, of preparing for the next step. Our overall success as an academic institution gives us great cause for optimism, and we have definite plans for improving our physical plant and our academic programs. We intend to diversify our courses of study with additional electives, honors AP programs, and a broader computer curriculum.

Camden Military Academy has roots that extend over one hundred years into the past. We have proud academic, military, and athletic traditions. As we face the challenges of the present, we do so with a confidence founded upon our success as an institution that provides a quality education for young men.

Military Drill and Values

The significance of the military services always comes to the fore in times when the security of our nation is threatened. We are now engaged in a war against terrorists who seek to destroy the American way of life. The terrorists are elusive enemies who may be anywhere in our midst or anywhere abroad, and we must be prepared to fight them at any time and at any place. Although there is no combat training at Camden Military Academy, cadets learn military drill and military values. Military drill teaches them to follow the chain of command and to work in unison to achieve a common goal. Military values teach them to be prepared to defend their country and its Constitution with peril to life and limb. These values also include traditions that echo the code of chivalry: to be honorable in one's actions, to protect the weak, to extend mercy and charity when the occasion so warrants, but to exercise ultimate force in defense of a righteous cause. Should they be called upon to defend their country, the young men of Camden Military Academy will be prepared to take their place in the ranks.

Band and Staff juniors Brandell McGill and Wayne Blackburn do a little acting before getting down to the serious business of putting on a parade.

On Patriots Day we commemorated the terrible events of September 11, 2001. Band Director David Green conducts the CMA ensemble as cadets sing patriotic songs.

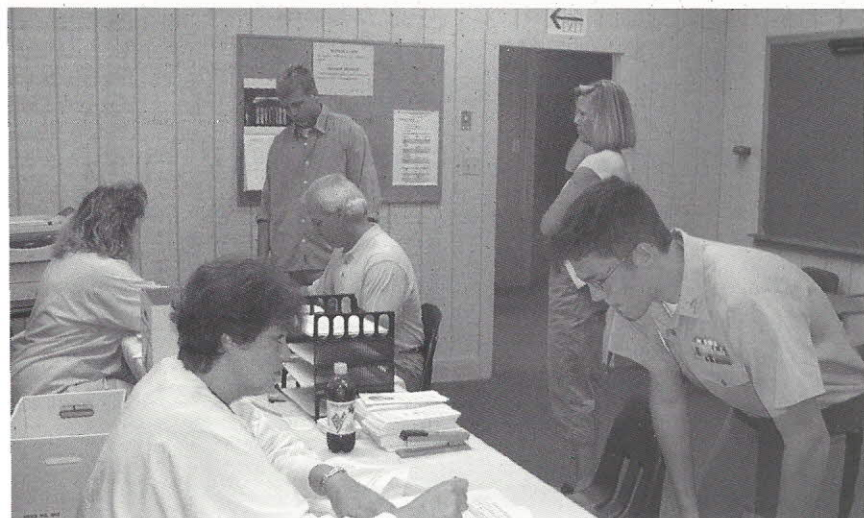

The annual Ring Ceremony is always a proud occasion for cadets, parents, and friends. CMA seniors proudly display the newly acquired symbols of their high school accomplishments.

Seniors Joshua Blankenship and Karl Kakadelis discuss the 2002 yearbook supplement as Mr. Kakadelis confers with LTC Schrader about Karl's class schedule.

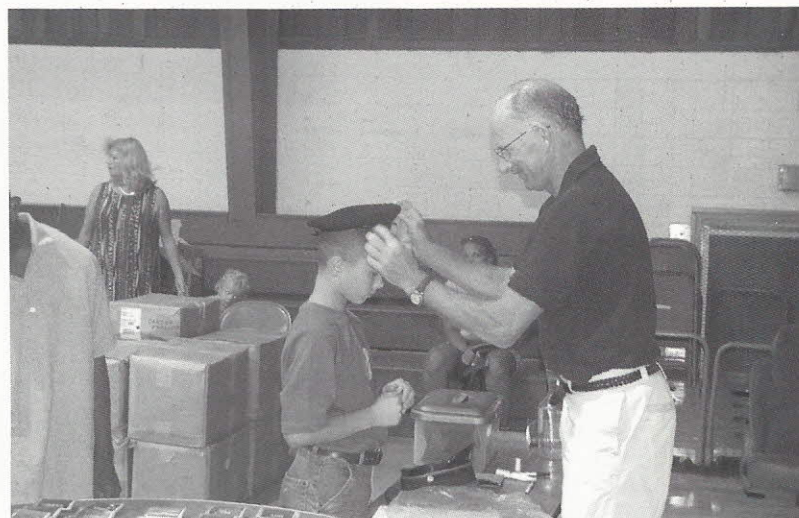

Have We Done This Before?

Of course, we have, but there are always differences. We opened with 300 cadets this year and many new faces. The senior class numbers 76, and at 41 the eighth grade is more than double last year's count. For our comfort and enjoyment, the campus and facilities are in excellent condition, the academic programs are strong, and rumor has it that we have some super athletes in the Corps. A great year is in the making.

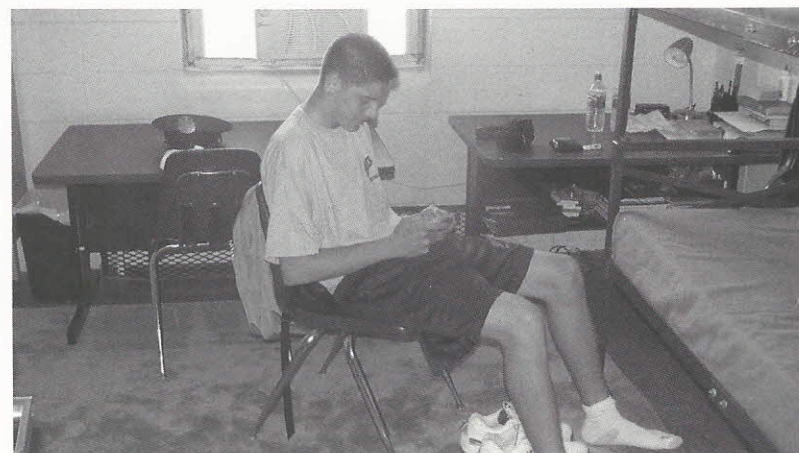

Nurse Debbie Anderson reviews senior Todd Pressley's medical records and counsels him regarding the coming year. CMA closely monitors cadet health needs.

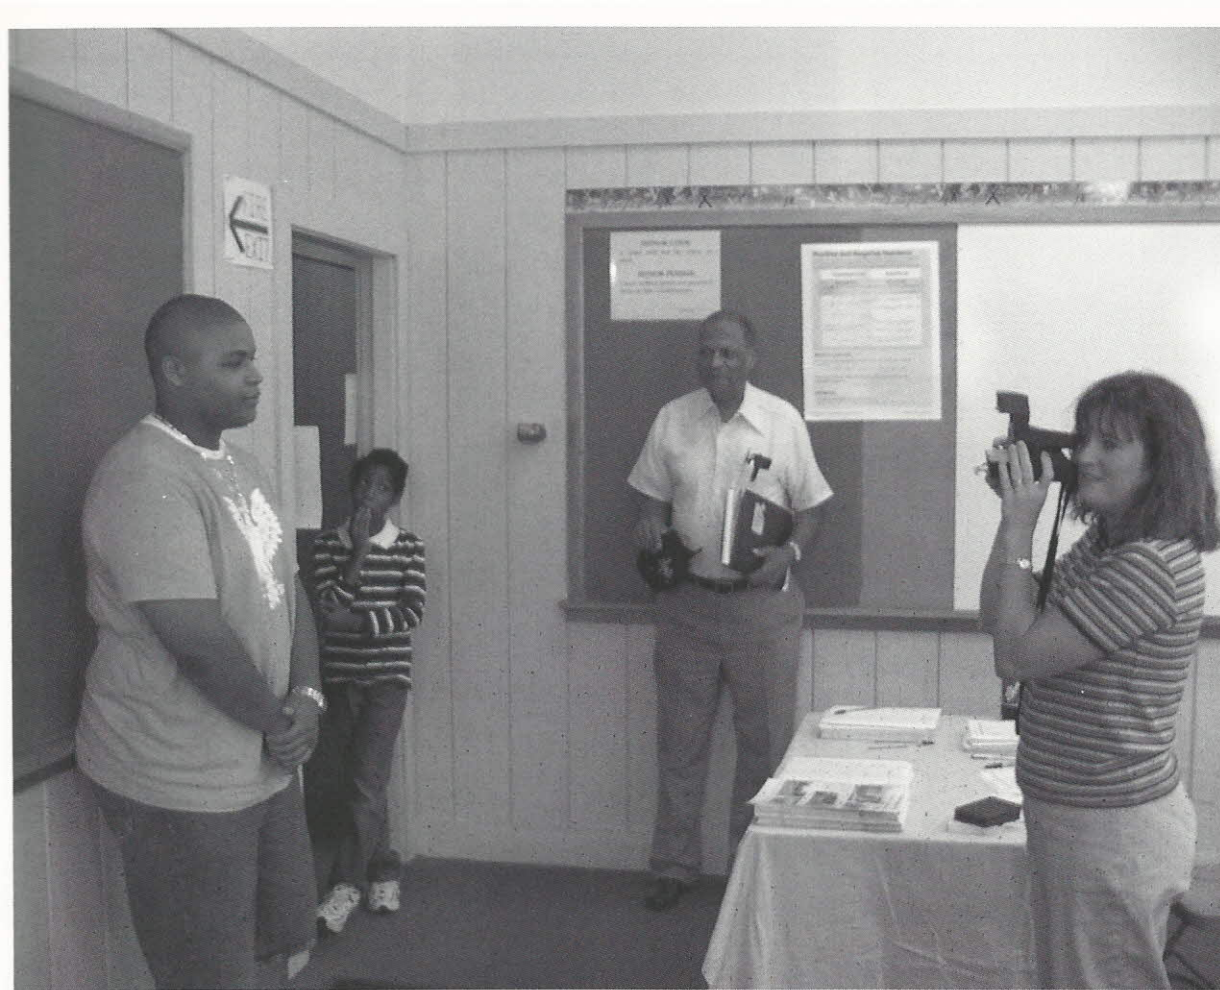

Sergeant Hewitt expertly fits seventh grader Philip Hippeau with a brand new beret.

Junior Brandon Haley settles into his quarters in C Company.

"Smile, now." Mrs. Brandee Young makes senior Tyshawn Thomas's file picture as his grandfather and sister look on.

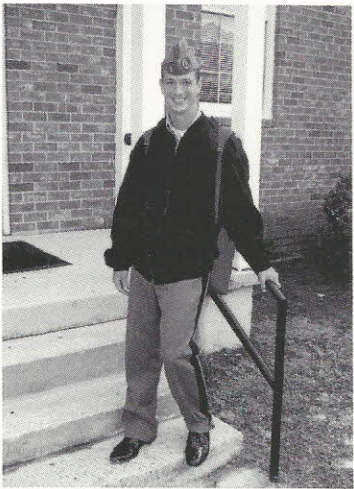

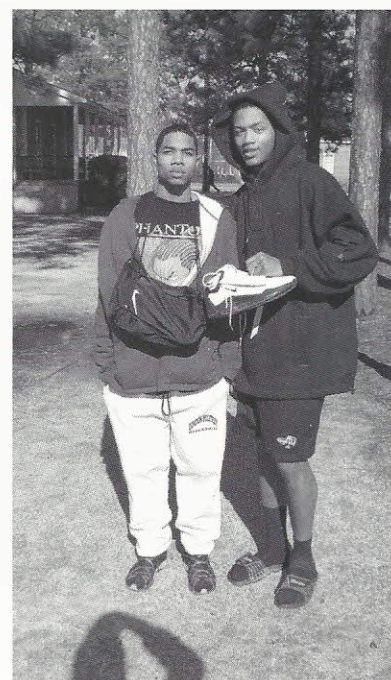

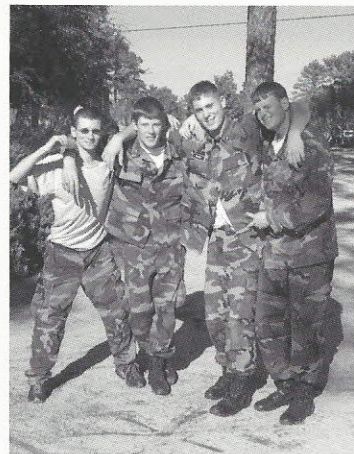

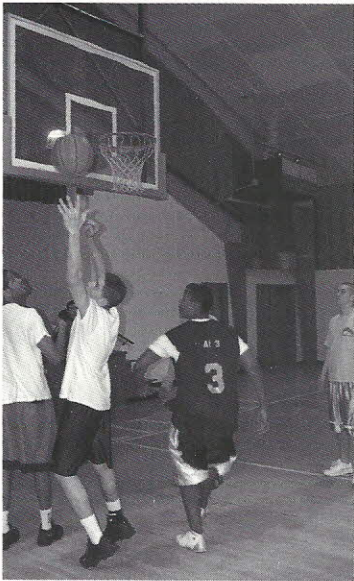

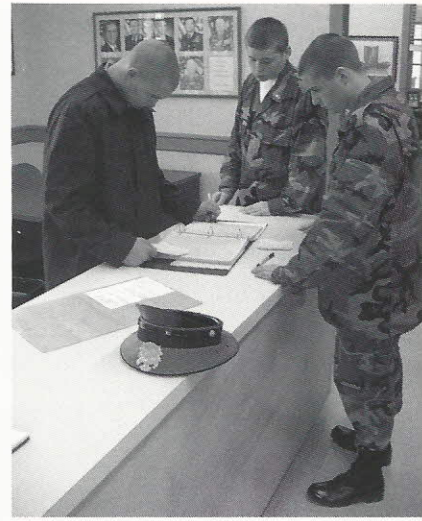

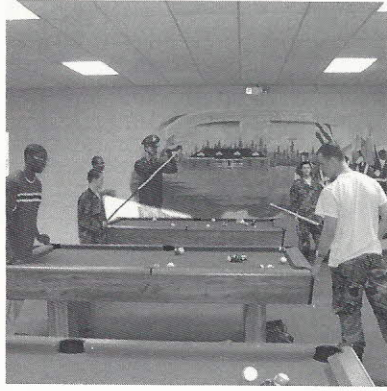

B Company officers 2LT Jacob Chandler and 1LT Andrew Skach introduce new cadets to the intricacies of military drill.

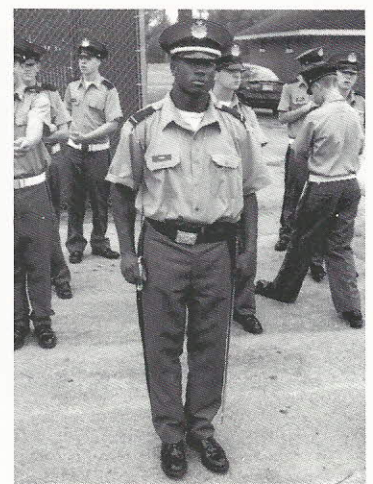

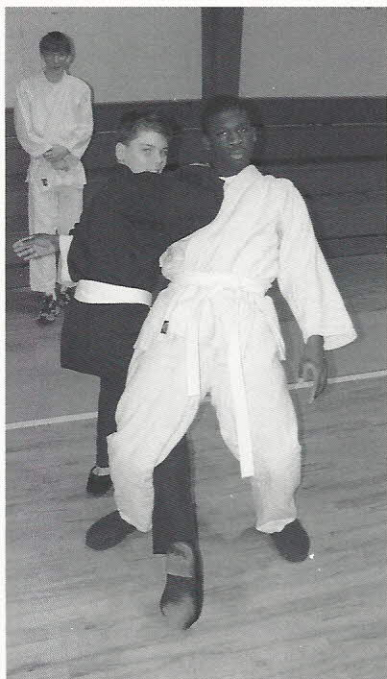

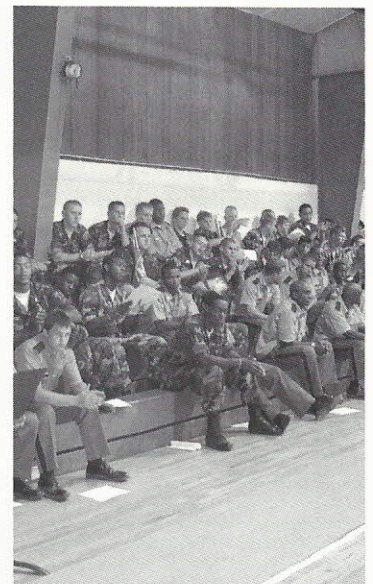

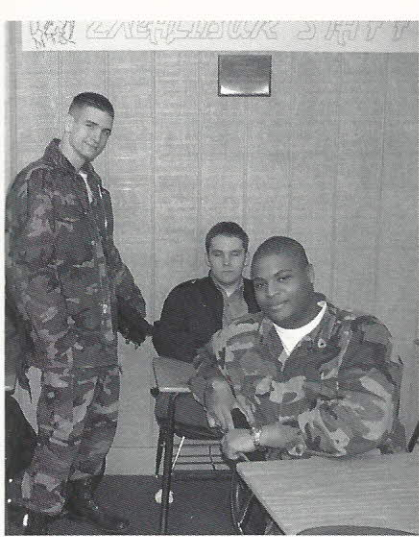

CPT Zach Butler, Company Commander, and 2LT Jacob Chandler welcome Cadet David Oliver and his family to Bravo Company.

Over the years, CPT Fitzpatrick has become very adept at grabbing the right shoe box the first time. Here he assists Cadet J. D. McDonald as Mr. McDonald looks on.

At the end of the day, everyone is hungry. Once again, CMA's able food service staff serve delicious hotdogs and hamburgers.

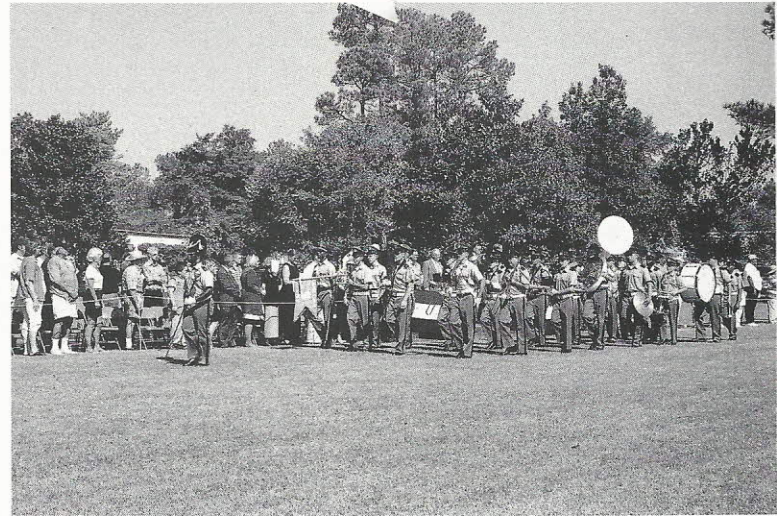

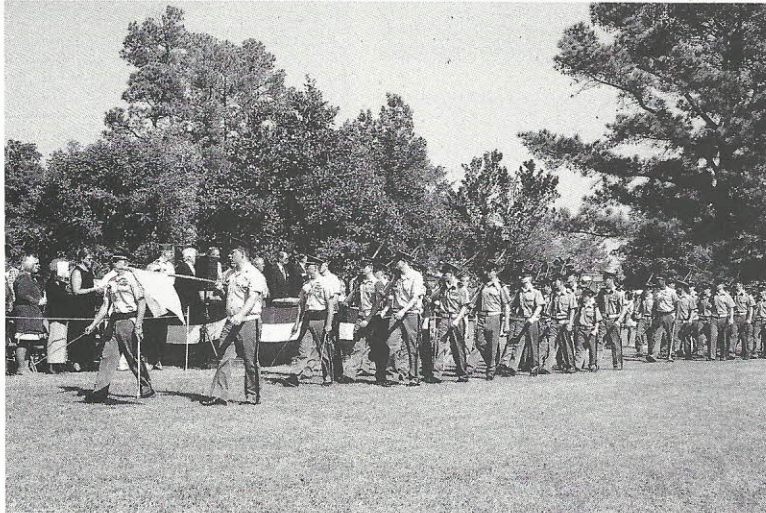

Homecoming Parade

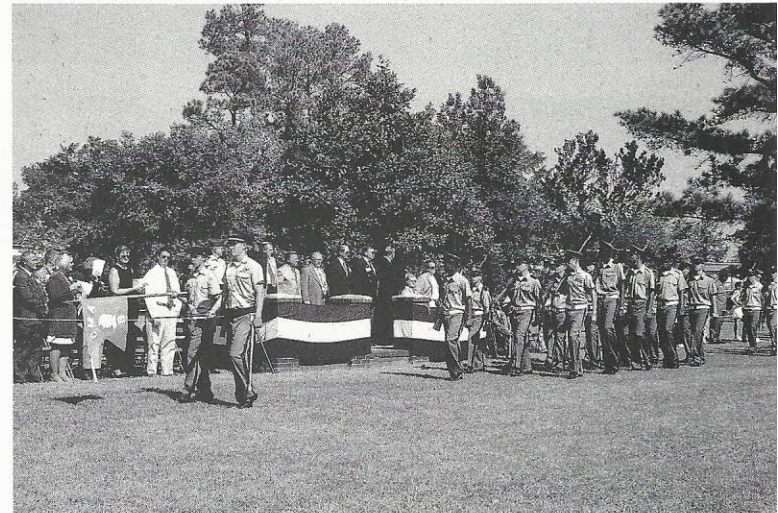

The Battalion Staff pass by the reviewing stand and the large crowd that attended Homecoming 2002: LTC Anthony Swinton, Battalion Commander, CPT Philip Palmgren, 1LT David Hurt, CPT Jordan Gibbs, and 1LT Wylie Brabson

Led by Drum Major Rickey Carothers, the Camden Military Academy Band passes in review.

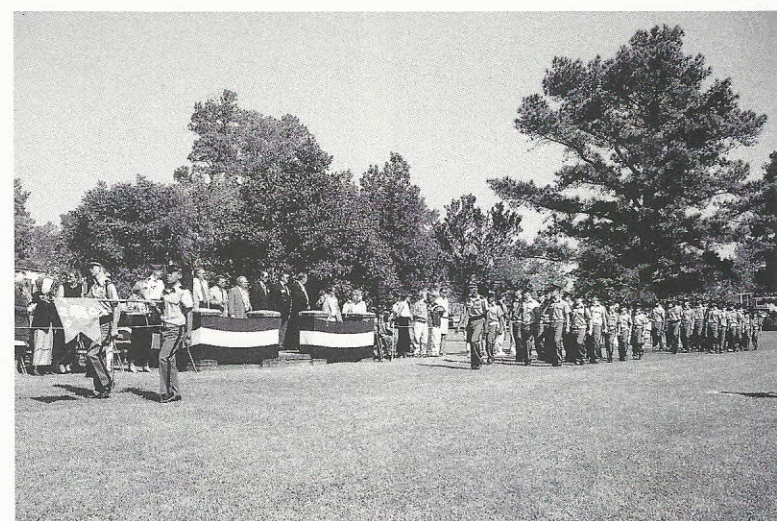

Alpha Company is paced by CPT Joshua Blankenship, Company Commander. The first platoon is under the command of 2LT Charles Hayes.

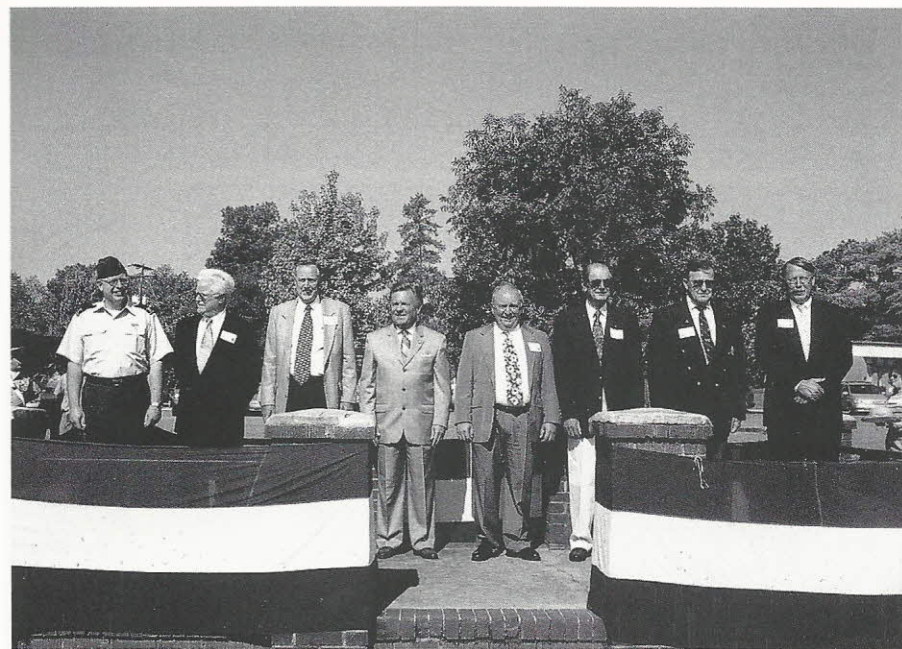

CPT Zachery Butler leads Bravo Company by the reviewing stand.

Leading Charlie Company by the reviewing stand is CPT Chase Whitman.

Heading Delta Company is CPT Karl Kakadelis. 2LT Earnest Mungo commands the first platoon.

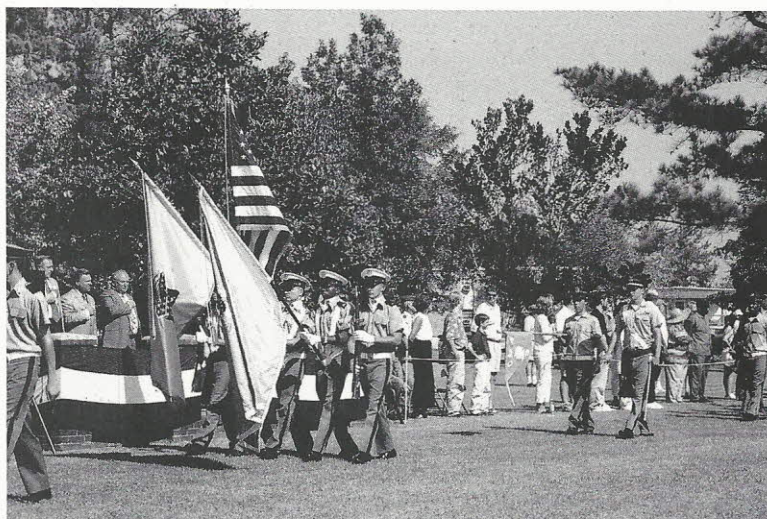

In the reviewing stand are Colonel William K. Orris, Headmaster; Mr. J. Banks Scarborough, Board Chairman; Colonel Lanning P. Risher, Headmaster Emeritus; Dr. J. Breeden Blackwell, Alumni Council Chairman; Mr. Bob "Bullet" Blackwell, Alumni Association Chairman; Mr. William Henry Varn, Jr., Distinguished Alumnus Award; Colonel James W. Bradin, Distinguished Alumnus Award; and Mr. John Mitchell, CMA Service Award.

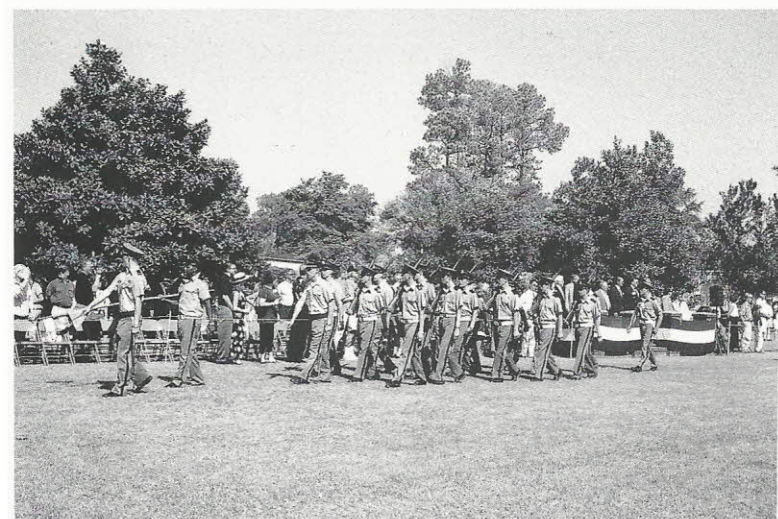

Trooping the line are LTC Anthony Swinton, Colonel William K. Orris, and Mr. J. Banks Scarborough. The driver is 2LT Wesley Osborne.

Camden Military held its annual Homecoming on Friday and Saturday, October 4 and 5, 2002. A large crowd attended, owing to special observances this year. Friday featured golf in the morning and an Alumni Reception and registration in the evening at the Best Western in Lugoff. On Saturday there was another reception and continued registration in the Risher Administration Building, followed by a parade in honor of J. Banks Scarborough, Board Chairman. The most important events of the weekend occurred in White Field House at noon: the presentation of Alumni Association Awards, the unveiling of the James F. Risher Bust, and the dedication of the Scarborough Barracks in honor of J. Banks Scarborough. Alumni Association Awards were presented as follows: the Alumni Achievement Award to Mr. Donald J. Shapiro, CMA '73; the Camden Military Academy Service Award to Mr. John Mitchell, CMA '64; the Distinguished Alumnus Award to Colonel James W. Bradin, CMS '54 and to Mr. William Henry Varn, Jr., CMS '40. Award presentations were followed by lunch at 1:00 p. m. and a football game at 2:00. The Spartans soundly defeated a very good Cardinal Gibbons team.

The CMA Color Guard passes in review. Under the command of 1LT Anwar Towns, Color Guard members are 2LT Ryan Tadlock, PVT Ryan Darr, PVT Richardo Jiminez, and SGT Lawrence Banks.

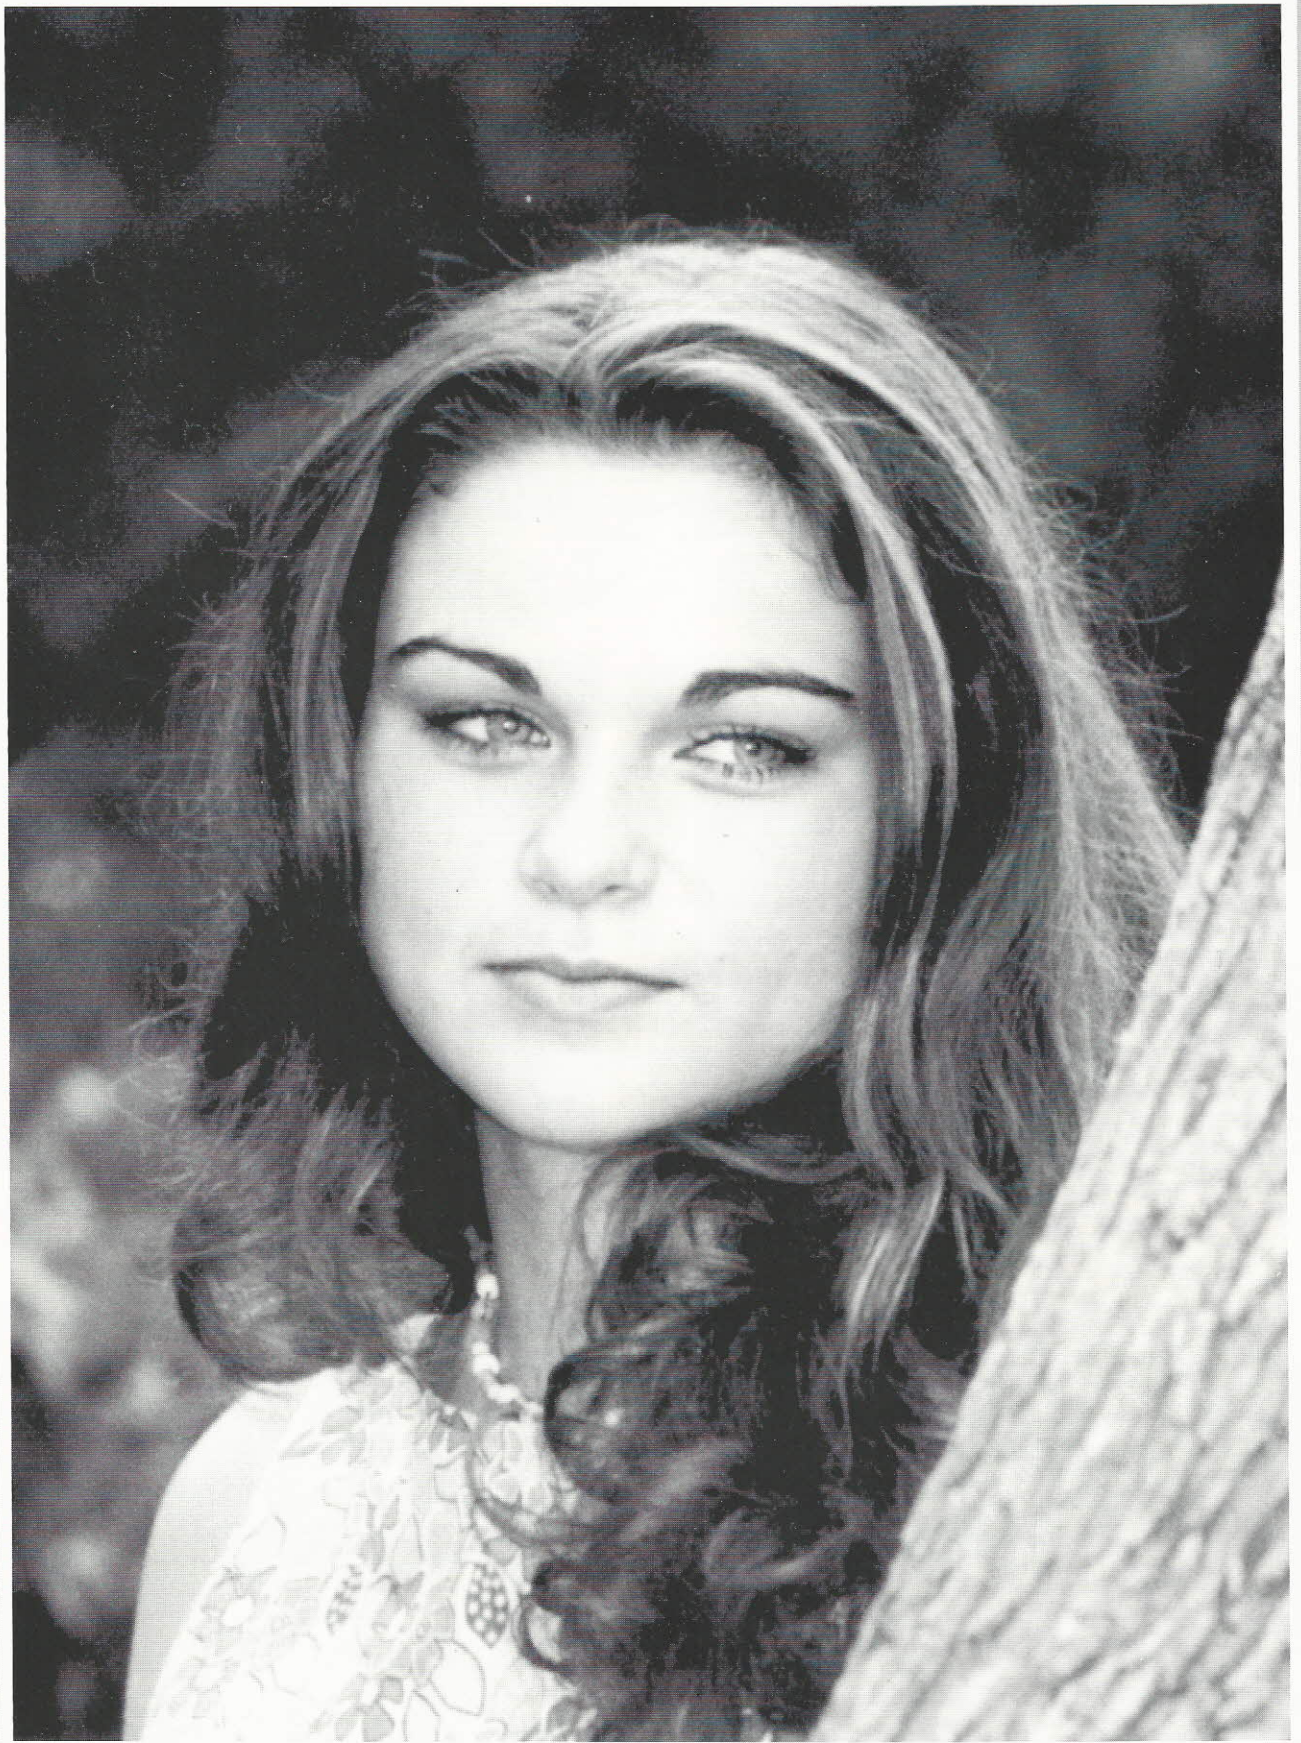

CPT Jacob Winger is company commander of the Headquarters Detachment. 2LT Matt Miller is the platoon leader.

The CMA Cannon Detail lowers the flag: SGT Stone (saluting), PFC Browne, PFC Nichols, and PFC Green.

PEOPLE

Those Who Care and Serve

Traditionally, Camden Military Academy has been blessed with a faculty and staff who are dedicated to their work, who truly care about the young men they serve. The Academy seems to attract men and women of character, who are constantly aware of their positions as role models for the cadets they strive to prepare for life. Moreover, they do not shrink from these obligations; rather, they value them and take pride in their endeavors to build a better world for future generations.

A graduate of the University of South Carolina, Casey Robinson succeeded Gene McCaskill as Director of Admissions at the beginning of second semester. Mr. Robinson had served as assistant director for four and one-half years prior to his promotion. His experience has well prepared him to assume his new responsibilities. "I want to continue to build on the past," he said, "to have a full school with young men of good character. I look forward to the challenges of summer school and the new venture-based summer camp, and of course we're already working on next year." Brandee Young, formerly in Development, is the new Assistant Director of Admissions.

LTC C. H. Armstrong, Commandant, will soon begin his fifth year at Camden Military Academy. He is a West Point graduate and holds a master's degree from Pacific Lutheran University. The Commandant is pleased by a new direction he detects in the Corps. "I think we have a great chain of command this year," he observed. "Junior Leadership classes have helped. Boys are taking responsibility for their actions."

A Virginia Military Institute graduate, LTC Steve Young, Director of Development and Alumni Affairs, took his master's degree at the University of Missouri. He views his role as providing outlets for the natural generosity of alumni, parents, and friends: "We provide an opportunity for them to renew memories and friendships and to help secure our school as a part of their lifetime of giving and helping others." One of his favorite quotations is framed and hangs prominently on his wall: "You cannot hold a torch to light another's way without brightening your own."

Special Events

Visitors Day: 2LT Scott Miller leads his platoon by the reviewing stand on the first visitors day in September.

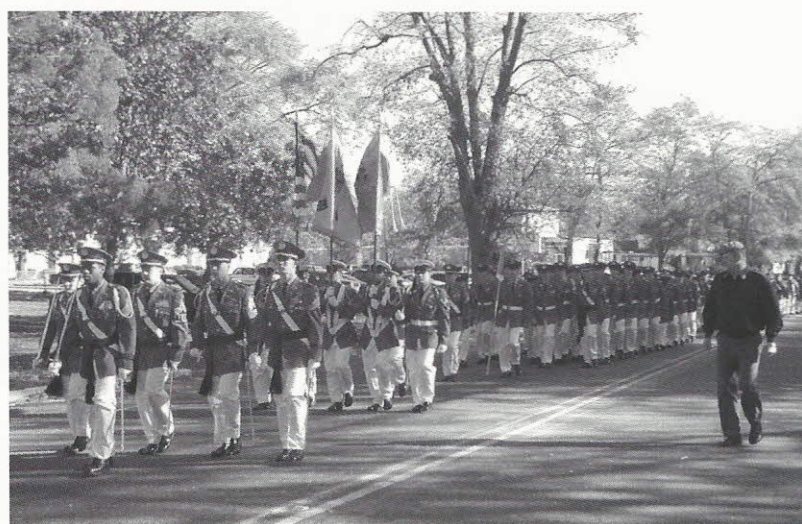

Patriot's Day: Colonel Orris, LTC Armstrong, and Chaplain Westbury opened the program as we remembered the heroes of September 11 and those who lost their lives in Washington, DC, New York, and Pennsylvania.

Educational Opportunity Day: On October 22 seniors Anwar Towns and Wylie Brabson check out opportunities at Coker College.

Ring Ceremony: Senior 1LT Phillip Collins, a fifth year cadet at CMA, salutes after he receives his coveted senior ring at the annual ceremony on November 23.

Christmas Parade: Led by Battalion Commander Anthony Swinton, the CMA Cadet Corps participated once again in the annual Kershaw County Christmas Parade on December 14.

The Military Tradition

Battalion strength now stands at five companies and a detachment. The growth of the Academy is a measure of its appeal to parents as an institution in whose care they can place their sons. The Academy has established itself as one of the leading military schools in the United States. Our reputation attracts students from around the world, and we are justly proud of our military tradition. For over thirty years our JROTC Unit has been designated "Honor Unit with Distinction." We graduate young men prepared to succeed in a highly competitive environment. Our alumni are leaders in every stratum of society, at home, and in other parts of the world. Military education is a valuable complement to the classroom, instilling discipline, order, teamwork, and self-respect. It completes the molding of the whole man.

The mission of CMA's Department of Tactics is to develop in the Cadet Corps qualities of leadership with emphasis on duty, integrity, morality, and self-discipline. Following a strict military regimen, cadets develop a deep sense of duty and obligation that motivates them and teaches them the responsibility necessary to meet future challenges. The process of developing a sense of duty comes from creating an environment that makes clear to cadets what is expected of them, fosters progressive growth and maturity, and exposes them to role models who demonstrate exemplary and mature commitment. Our goal is to build better Americans and in the process create a nurturing environment in which all cadets can grow and develop into outstanding young men.

From Reveille

Then we shower, shave, brush our teeth, and get ready to handle whatever the day might bring.

Next, we have to clean our rooms because there will be an inspection before we go to breakfast.

After room inspection comes uniform inspection, when the Tac and Co look us over from head to foot.

It starts at 6:00 A. M. with the Tac or the CO or both making noise to roust us out, sometimes with a siren.

Finally, we are ready to leave the barracks. We form up and march out.

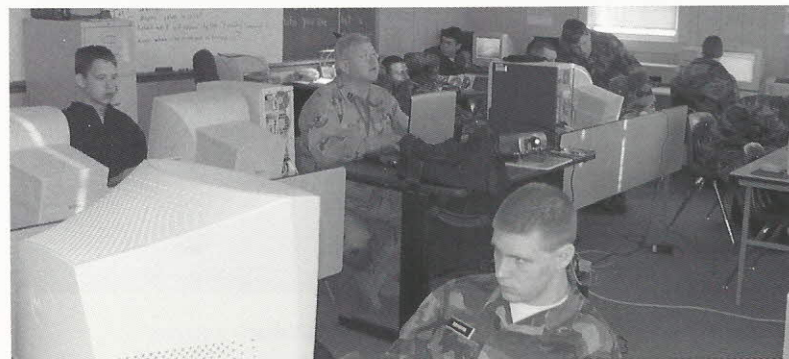

Before breakfast come the Pledge of Allegiance and a prayer.

At breakfast we are always hungry. We have been up and working for an hour and a half.

After breakfast, we return to the barracks, get our books, and walk to class.

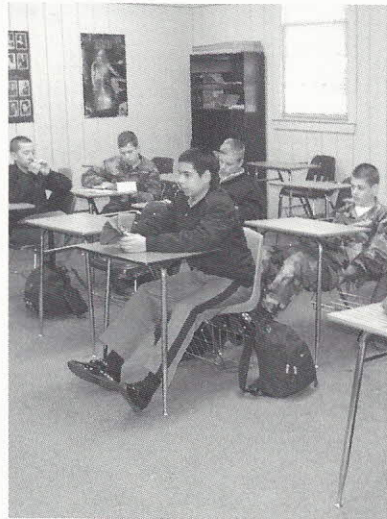

Whether it is English, history, French, calculus, or computer science, we get involved in learning, the most important part of our day.

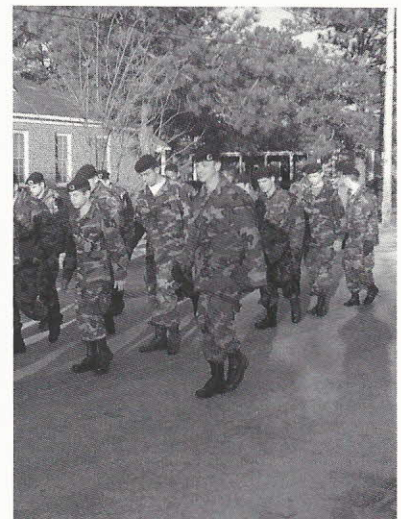

To Taps

We return to the dining hall for refueling at noon.

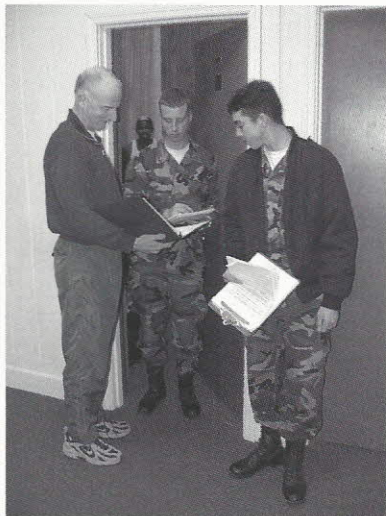

After lunch, we complete the class schedule for the day.

When classes are over, we go to drill on Mondays and Thursdays.

At 6:30 P. M. are the evening meal and the final announcements of the day.

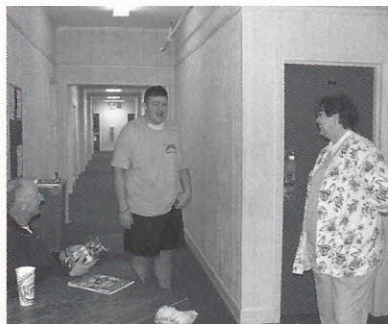

An hour later, study hall begins. Accompanied by the SG, the AOC checks our planners and gives us assignments.

On Tuesdays and Wednesdays we form up for PT.

When we do not have organized competition, we have our choice of sports.

A school nurse frequently comes by to check on our health or to administer medications.

During study hall many of us use our time wisely and concentrate on our assignments.

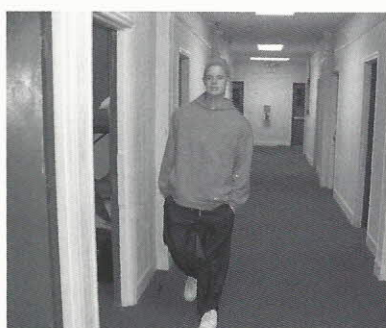

After drill or PT we have some free time. A favorite destination is the Carlisle house.

Sometimes, we just want to relax in our rooms.

The geniuses among us seem to complete their work in a very short time.

Then there are those mysterious creatures, the senior ghosts who float around haunting halls in various barracks.

A Company

The Path to Honor

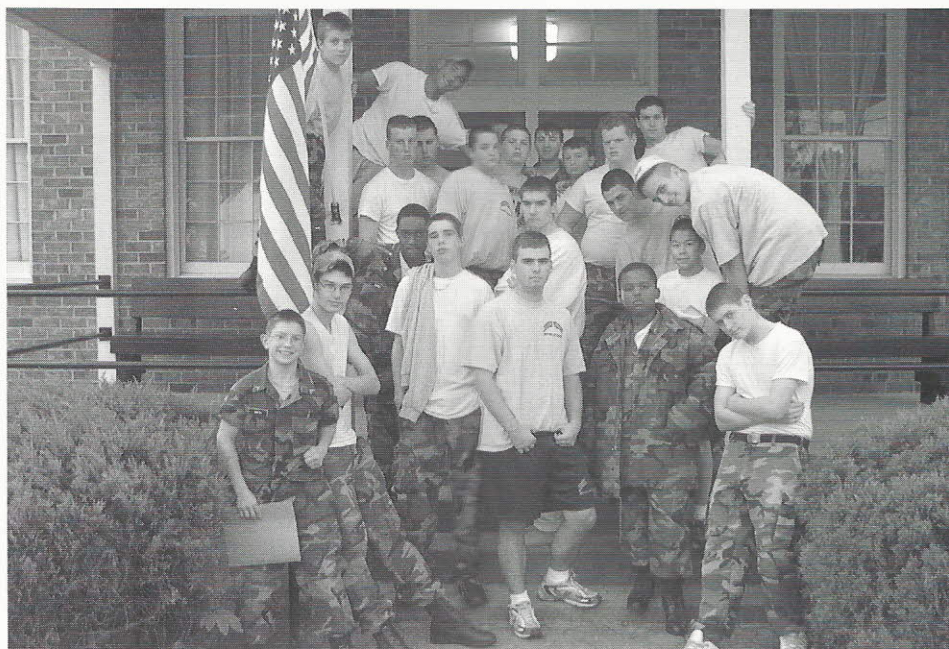

The main goal of Alpha Company is to regain the Honor Company title. "We want each individual in the company to become part of the solution, not part of the problem," said CPT Joshua Blankenship, company commander. "By doing that, the whole company gets better." First Sergeant Jones, new tactical officer, believes that improvement is an ongoing process: "We improve on things a little at a time and keep getting better." In Alpha everybody helps one another. The older cadets help the younger cadets, and everyone tries to learn from mistakes. Other Alpha goals continue to be excellent grades, high study hall ratings, keeping the barracks clean, winning military competitions, and participation in athletics. By improving in all areas of the Camden Military Academy program, A Company hopes to regain the Honor Company title.

B Company

Sharp and Sharper

Scarborough Barracks, the new home of Bravo Company, was formally dedicated to Mr. J. Banks Scarborough during Homecoming this year. Mr. Scarborough is Chairman of the Board of Trustees and CMA's leading supporter. After a year of use, the barracks still looks brand new, a tribute to CSM Irtenkauf, tactical officer, the chain of command, and all the cadets of B Company. "Of course, we would like to win Honor Company," said CPT Zachery Butler, company commander, "but regardless of how that turns out, we want to look sharp at all times. We try to teach the new cadets how to act and wear their uniforms." While military drill is high on Bravo's list, they still emphasize academic performance. Study halls begin with all cadets standing at attention outside their rooms with their planners open for inspection. B Company maintains its high standards year in and year out.

Honor Bound

"We are striving to be Honor Company," said Charlie Company Commander Chase Whitman, "and we have come a long way since the beginning of the year. But we really focus on all aspects of the cadet experience. If we are good all around, then we will be Honor Company." Charlie Company cadets are a well-rounded group. They have a high overall GPA, and they are good athletes. For example, they lost only one intramural football game during PT this year. Leadership is also a strong asset in Charlie. "We have a competent and effective chain of command, and CSM Terrell is an outstanding tac officer who backs us to the hilt as long as we are right," observed CPT Whitman. Charlie also emphasizes self-respect and respect for others. The company's focus on developing the whole man is a sure path toward securing the Honor Company title.

D Company

Accolades for Delta

In only its third year of existence, Delta Company has made its mark. Board Member Brenden Blackwell recently complimented the company: "You have really made a difference within the Corps of Cadets." CSM Melvin Brooks, tactical officer, summed up the ambience of equality, hard work, and reward for merit in the company: "The first shall be last and the last shall be first." Delta has many noteworthy achievements this year: Honor Company first semester, tops in SMI's, high overall GPA, Intramural Sports Champion, and outstanding drill competitions. The company is also loaded with potential college athletes. Company Commander Karl Kakadelis expressed the competitive spirit of Delta: "... And don't be afraid of the people of the land, because we will swallow them up" (Numbers 14:9). The company's main goals for the remainder of the year are to be Honor Company and achieve outstanding academics.

Band & Staff Company

Out Front

Band and Staff Company is always the leader on the parade field and is a highly visible representative of the whole battalion. Therefore, it is constantly under pressure to be at its best. After a tentative start this year, the chain of command has a strong connection and is striving to win the Honor Company designation. Academics, however, still come first in the company. The chain of command tries at all times to maintain a quiet environment to promote study and solid work ethics. "Band and Staff has the best academics in the Battalion," according to 1LT Wayne Blackburn, executive officer. Company Commander David Hurt is pleased that the company has really started to work together to achieve greater goals: "The company is full of younger cadets, but they are learning their duties and responsibilities." Band and Staff is always out front and strives to be outstanding.

Headquarters Detachment

Harmony in Numbers

Headquarters Detachment is an undersized company, but it does everything that all the other companies do. The main difference is that cadets probably get to know each other better than in fully manned companies. HQD consists of 20 returning cadets and one new cadet. All members of the company work together harmoniously. One reason for the harmony is the presence of CPL Crazy Maggie, company mascot and Morale NCO. Maggie is a dog, but she does her job very well. "Our goals are to try to get everyone in the company involved in activities and to win Honor Company," said CPT Jacob Winger, company commander. "We really try hard to win this award." HQD has won Company of the Week several times. CPT Winger believes that if the company continues to work well together, they should end up having an excellent year.

Athletic Director Eric Boland

The school term 2002-2003 has been an outstanding one in the history of Camden Military Academy athletics. The football team went undefeated; the basketball team is among the two or three best of all time; the cross-country team had the most wins ever; 50 or more players intend to play soccer; wrestling continues its popular appeal; and in its third year the lacrosse program is stronger than ever. Moreover, with the addition of Coach Johnson to the staff, interest in track and field seems to be growing.

Athletic Director Eric Boland attributes the success of the athletic program to several factors. One is the Academy's high retention rate: "When we get to keep good players for a longer period of time, of course the athletic teams will benefit from their experience and skill level." Coach Boland also points to participation numbers as a factor: "The number of underclass participants in athletics is up. That circumstance always bodes well for team success in the years to come." Another factor that the coach cites is success itself: "Because of our success over the past ten years, we are attracting a better quality student and athlete."

The athletic program at Camden Military Academy has never been stronger. The proof is in the success of the Academy's teams, in the enthusiasm and participation of the Cadet Corps, and in the superlative competence and dedication of the athletic staff.

Greeted by the entire Cadet Corps, the 2002 Spartan Football Team takes to the field. This history-making group of outstanding athletes went undefeated, scored more points than any other Spartan football team, and finished the season without punting once.

An outstanding rebounder with a strong inside game, junior center Xavier Littleberry gets on his toes to sink a free throw. Early in the season the Spartans had already played three games in which they scored over 100 points. They inaugurated the Christmas holidays by defeating Lugoff-Elgin 101-49 in a tournament at North Central.

Varsity Football

"It was a dream season," said Head Coach Eric Boland. "To go undefeated and never have to punt the football the entire season is a remarkable achievement for any football team. I have had more talented teams, but none more team oriented, who pulled together better as one unit." At the beginning of the season, the coaching staff did not really know what to expect. They thought that a 6 and 3 record might be realistic, but everything came together: the right team chemistry, no key injuries, and no discipline problems. As fortunate circumstances evolved, the Spartans were able to field at least ten players with scholarship potential

One of the largest numbers of players in school history turned out to play one of the toughest schedules and to score the most points. Wins over perennially strong private schools Charlotte Latin and Cardinal Gibbons were complemented by victories over public schools Elore and Hunter-Kinard-Taylor, which went deep into the playoffs. "The coaching staff did a great job in both scouting and team preparation," Coach Boland added.

Coach Roberts attributes much of the Spartans' success to team speed and player football knowledge: "As a group, they were fast and they were very easy to coach; they knew a lot about the game already."

Next year looks promising for Spartan football too. A core of experienced and talented players will return, including Charles Harrington, Xavier Littleberry, Joe Miller, Robert Palmer, and Brooks Sharpe. Fans can look forward to another exciting season.

Quarterback Akim McMullen barks out signals as the offensive line is poised to surge: Doug Stewart, Justin Old, Pat Williams, Robert Palmer, Jacob Chandler, and Daniel Calkin.

Running back Tommy Martin takes the handoff from quarterback McMullen as Marcus Brown leads the way. Martin is headed for East Tennessee or Elizabeth City after graduation.

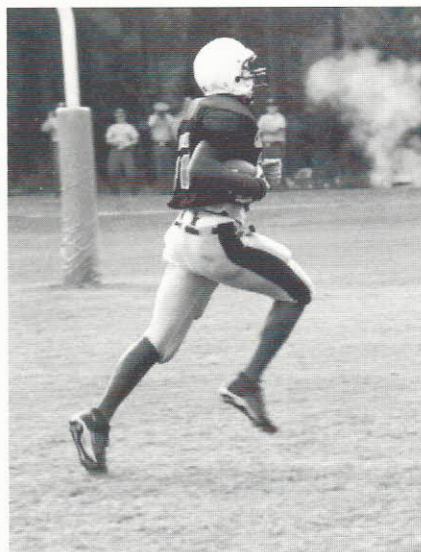

Daniel Douglas kicks off after one of the many touchdowns the Spartans scored this year. Daniel was a consistent performer at his position all season.

Speedster Tommy Martin outpaces his pursuers and finds running room around left end.

Terrence King leaps high to snag a pass, a trademark of the playing style that helped the Spartans toward their undefeated season and that N. C. State fans can cheer in the years to come.

Junior Varsity Football

To have commitment, character, and courage was the challenge the coaches issued to the prospective JV football players who reported in August. Only a handful of players were able to live up to this challenge daily, but their efforts led to two big wins over archrival Christ School. The team's other two games were a close loss to 3-A power Camden High School's 9th grade team and a loss at Charlotte Country Day. The glue that held the team together this year was its three most valuable players: Ryan Hayden, defense; Thomas Tannenbaum, offense; and TDJ Owens, special teams.

Varsity Basketball

Even before it began, the spectacular 2003 Spartan basketball season was off to a good start with McDonalds All-American Larry Blair accepting a full scholarship from Liberty University. "I knew the team would be one of the deepest, most athletic, and potentially one of the best that I had ever coached," said Coach Priester. The only private school entered, the Spartans won the first annual Christmas Tournament at North Central, scoring over 100 points in all games. They continued their rampage in becoming champions of the Christian Shores Tournament in Oscala, Florida, in early January. The team is peaking toward the end of the season and should play their best ball in the final games. "They have established a rhythm, a chemistry, not having to think, just reacting, playing with a lot of freedom," observed Coach Priester. In addition to Larry Blair, five other players on this talented team will be playing college basketball next year: Shawn Kimble, Deon Briscoe, Rico Stewart, Maurice Stewart, Vance Caraway, and Akeem McMullen (basketball or football). Co-captains Blair, McMullen, and Caraway have provided outstanding leadership. More importantly, the Spartans have been successful off the court as well, showing up consistently on the Honors and Deans Lists the entire year.

Point guard George Estes launches a long distance jump shot.

Forward Charles Harrington pulls up short to get off a shot before the defense has time to set up.

Larry Blair demonstrates his powerful inside game with a backboard rattling dunk

Shooting guard Benny Clark guides the ball over the rim.

Maurice Stewart, shooting guard, fires a jumper from the corner.

Forward Woody McMullen fights his way inside for a jump shot close to the basket.

JR HI Football

This year under Coaches Johnson and Priester the JR HI Spartans learned the meaning of teamwork, that winning is important, but that sportsmanship is the ultimate goal. The high point of the season was the joy of winning 36-0 against a good Rock Hill team, seeing all the hard work pay off. Team leaders on offense were quarterback Travis Isaacs, fullback Justin Carter, and halfback Solomon Jeffress; on defense, Justin McDonald and John Artigues.

JR HI Basketball

The Camden Military Academy Junior High Basketball Team is only in its second year and played an abbreviated schedule in its inaugural season. Entering its second campaign with an expanded schedule, the team has responded well and is working its way toward a winning tradition. Coaches Charles Jones and Will Rice work hard to instill the right attitude and values. "In this age group," said Coach Jones, "we try to teach the basics and self-discipline, but we always put academics number one." Going into the Christmas break, the Spartans were 0-3, but after New Years they stayed focused, practiced better, and won three games straight. A team leader and a fine role model for the other players, Clayton Henderson won the Coach's Award this season. Solid all-around play and reliability garnered the Most Valuable Player designation for Travis Isaacs. All players made important contributions to team success in 2003.

Cross-country

Second year cross-country coach John Heflin is pleased with the progress of his team: "We had a lot of firsts this year. We won a lot of meets for the first time and did not shy away from any of the top schools." The Spartans ended their season at a White Knoll meet as the only non-AAAA team in the event. They finished fourth. Coach Heflin praised the leadership of seniors Rico Stewart, Jake Winger, Zack Butler, and Andy Skach. "Both Winger and Butler could compete in college," he said. The coach is excited about next year's team and is looking forward to the return of juniors John Briody, Jonathan Garrett, and Brian Czech. He also expects great efforts from Blake Lambert, Kyle Markey, Craig Phillips, Cameron Caudle, Michael Wooditch, Garrett Uler, and Jesus Trevino. Team members have really worked hard, not only on the cross-country course, but in school as well.

Wrestling

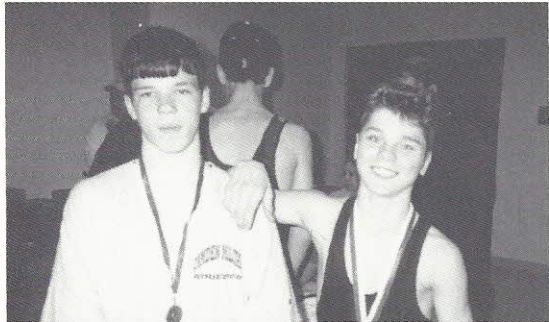

Camden Military Academy put a strong wrestling team on the mat this season, led by all-stars Lance Lott, Nick Leftwich, Ryan Hayden, and Josh Dividian. The Spartans got off to a promising start by beating Indianland, a top state-ranked team. The team had a brief letdown after Christmas but rebounded in the end, winning most of their matches in January and February. They followed Coach Dority's advice "to never give up, keep fighting, finish strong." "We had many cadets with little experience this year," said Coach Hewitt, "but they were really big in heart."

Senior heavyweight Daniel Calkin goes for the ankle lock breakdown.

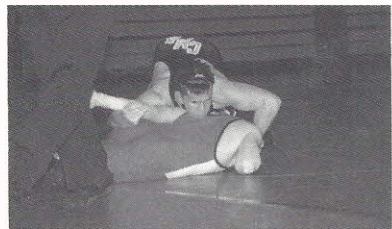

At the Indianland Pepsi Invitational, sophomore Lance Lott won the Bronze Medal and Nick Leftwich the Silver. Both won Gold in the State Tournament at Hammond.

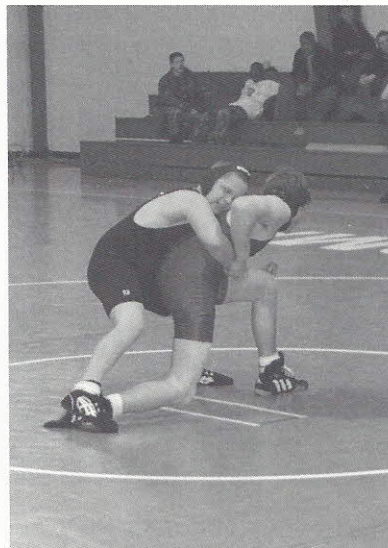

Spartan wrestlers take a break during the action at Indianland: Hayden, Parker, Calkin, Deckard, Lott, Feldman, Pritchett, Feeser, N Leftwich, and Thomas.

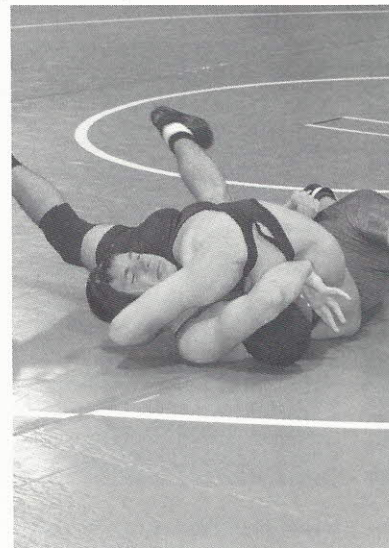

Senior Co-captain Karl Kakadelis executes a half Nelson.

Freshman Charlie Carr is keeping his opponent under control.

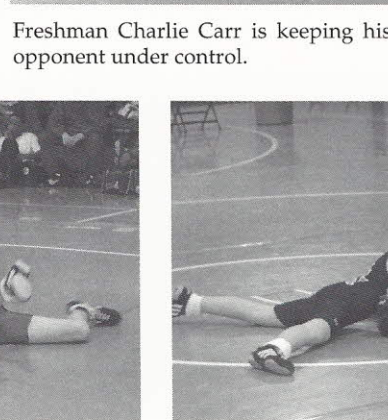

Senior Thomas Pritchett is keeping his opponent's shoulder blades down for the pin.

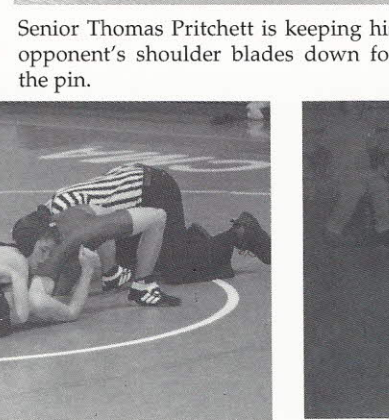

James Garcia uses a combination Arm Bar and half Nelson to flip his opponent.

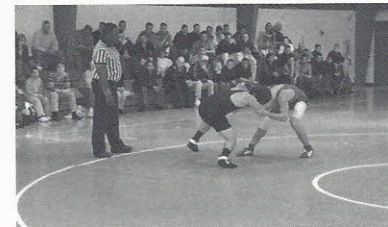

Tim Leftwich uses a Corkscrew to roll his opponent into a pin.

Applying maximum pressure, Nick Leftwich is close to getting the pin.

Philip R. Hippeau applies a half Nelson to gain control of his opponent.

JV Basketball

With a talented group of starters and a deep bench, the JV Basketball Team chalked up its fourth winning season in a row. Hard work and dedication by all team members contributed to one of the most outstanding seasons in team history. Playing to a 13-1 record, the Spartans beat perennially strong Victory Christian School both times they faced the team. Several junior varsity players have the potential to move up and be key members of the varsity team next year. Winning awards this season were Fitz Lewis and Brandell McGill, Most Valuable Players; Adam Nation, Coach's Award; and Thomas Tannenbaum, Most Improved Player.

Adam Nation breaks through the pack for a layup close in.

Finishing the fast break with style, Brandell McGill glides in for the layup.

Curtis Rogers launches an arching jump shot from outside the circle.

Center Raheem Oshodi guides the ball in from short range.

Thomas Tannenbaum, Most Improved Player, takes his turn at the free throw line.

Something for Everyone

At Camden Military Academy an activity exists for virtually every taste or inclination. Our no-cut policy assures every cadet who wishes to participate a place on the athletic teams of his choice. Moreover, intramural sports during activity periods provide opportunities for cadets at all skill levels. Choices include flag football, frisbee, pushball, basketball, weightlifting, bowling, soccer, martial arts, lacrosse, and swimming. The yearbook and newspaper staffs provide outlets for those cadets with literary inclinations. Delta Kappa Sigma, the CMA Honor Society, and Junior Leadership recognize campus leaders, shaping and using their abilities in effective ways. The Academy continues its relationship with the Kershaw County Fine Arts Center, which includes programs at the center and on campus. Numerous off-campus trips are both educational and entertaining. Flexible and innovative, the CMA Activities Program provides recreational opportunities for all cadets. These activities afford a constructive diversion from the classroom and at the same time open new avenues for learning and for exploring new areas of interest.

Effective Teaching

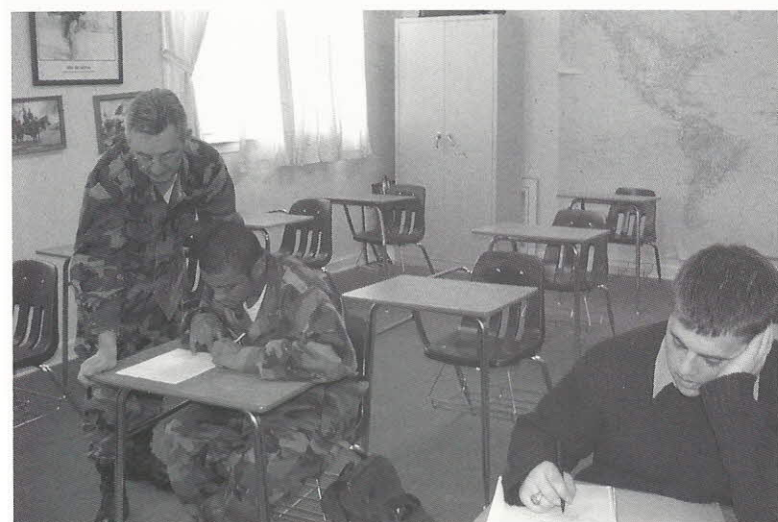

The overall goal of Camden Military Academy is to produce students who can succeed in college level studies, in other post-secondary career pursuits, and in meeting the usual challenges of life. To achieve that goal, the Academy uses approaches that have proven effective in the past and introduces new elements when they have a perceived high level of reliability. For example, the teaching of Latin has for centuries bolstered the study of the English language and, indeed, the study of all the Romance Languages, as well as world and western history. Each year sees more computers and computer applications in the curriculum-methodology mix. Properly used, technology is a valuable learning asset; however, traditional methods still serve well. Small classes, highly qualified teachers, and monitored study halls, all proven ingredients, will remain at the core of the academic system; but we will continuously evaluate our curriculum and methods to determine the most effective ways to help our young men learn.

Having served as academic dean for 17 years, LTC Kelly R. Schrader brings to that position the insight of an overall twenty-three years of experience at Camden Military Academy. He holds bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of South Carolina.

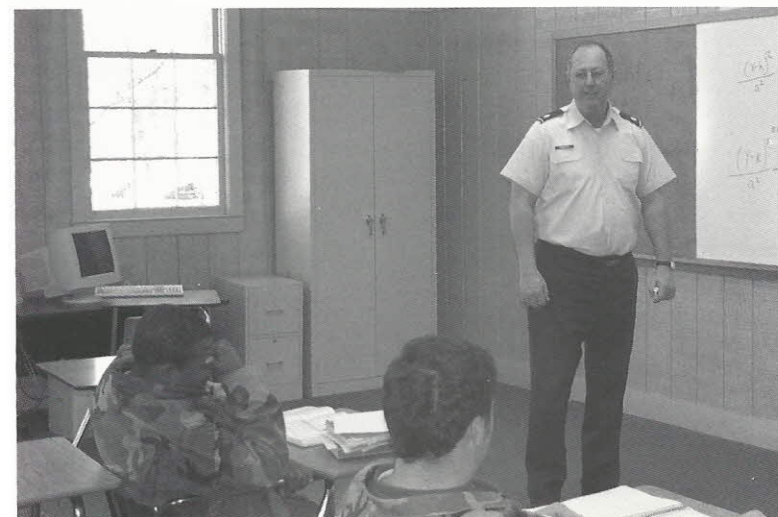

Major Dave LePage counsels a CMA family during first semester registration. MAJ LePage is a science instructor, head of the Science Department, and assistant academic dean. In addition, he controls the computerized grading system, inputting and accessing all data.

LTC C. W. Mobley heads the Social Studies Department and teaches history. He also coaches varsity football and the golf team.

Head of the Foreign Language Department, LTC Mohsen Ferjani is a popular instructor of French. He also coaches bowling and sponsors both the International Club and the Dance Committee.

Mathematics instructor and head of the Mathematics Department, LTC Dave Roberts coaches varsity football and baseball in addition to his classroom duties.

MAJ Deborah Hartley teaches English and heads the Effective Learning Program. She is always available to cadets who seek her out. Known for her understanding manner, she can be very firm in matters of character and responsibility.

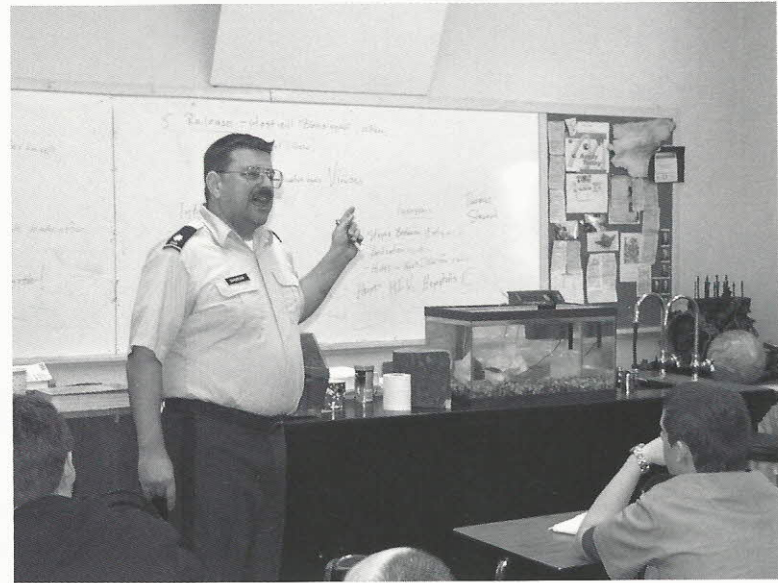

The Value of Tradition

Tradition is an integral part of the way we do everything at CMA. It is an important part of any military organization and is an important part of a quality educational experience.

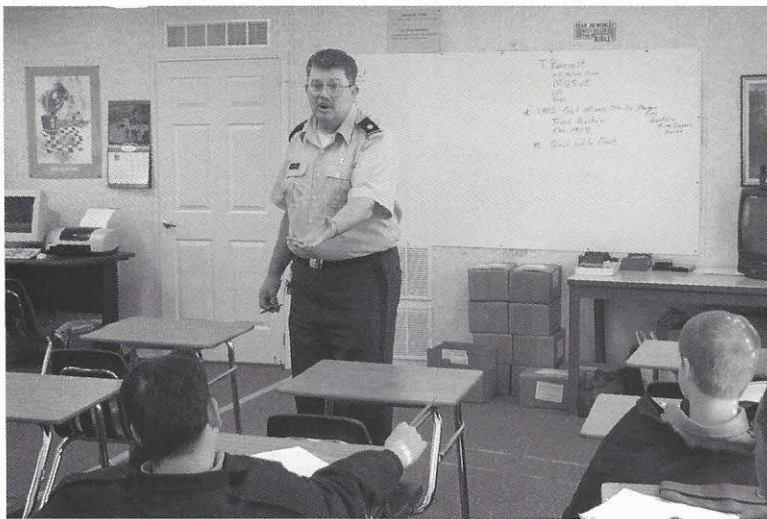

For the past twenty to twenty-five years, there has been great turmoil the world of educational theory. Without disregarding useful innovation, our school has been a bulwark of tradition and proven educational practice. We have embraced the best, while not being detoured by the frivolous.

CMA graduates who have come and seriously applied the lessons taught both in and out of the classroom remain as some of the best prepared students in the nation.

LTC Kelly R. Schrader
Academic Dean

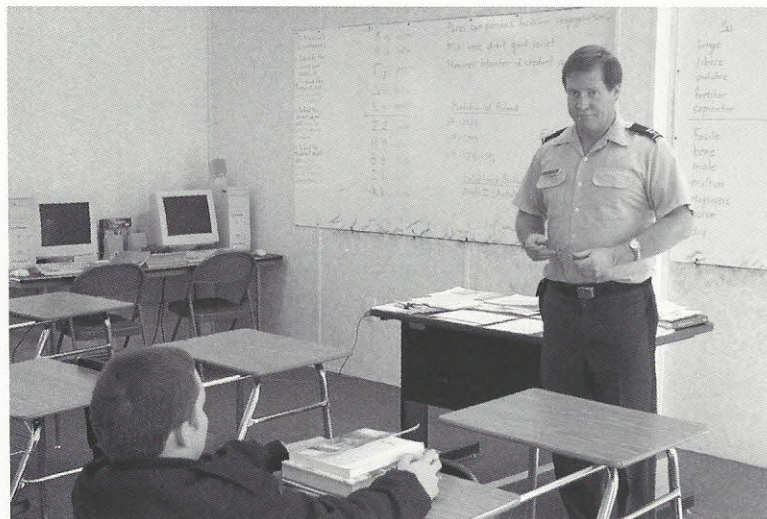

LTC Greg Simonson, biology instructor, brings enthusiasm and a thorough knowledge of his subject to his classes. His other duties include the Science Club and after-school activities.

Chaplain (Major) Ed Westbury helps cadets in several roles, as pastor, counselor, and history instructor.

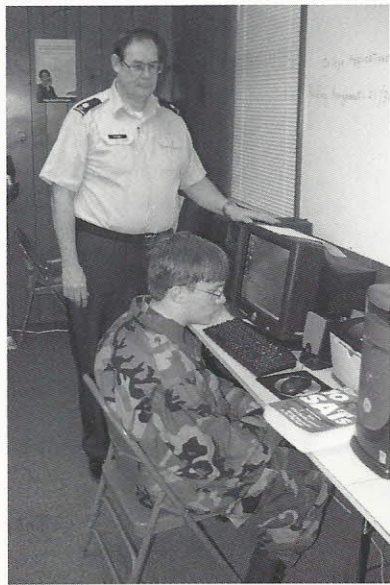

Known for his long assignments and rigorous tests, CPT Samuel Cerezo also sponsors the International Club and coordinates intramural sports.

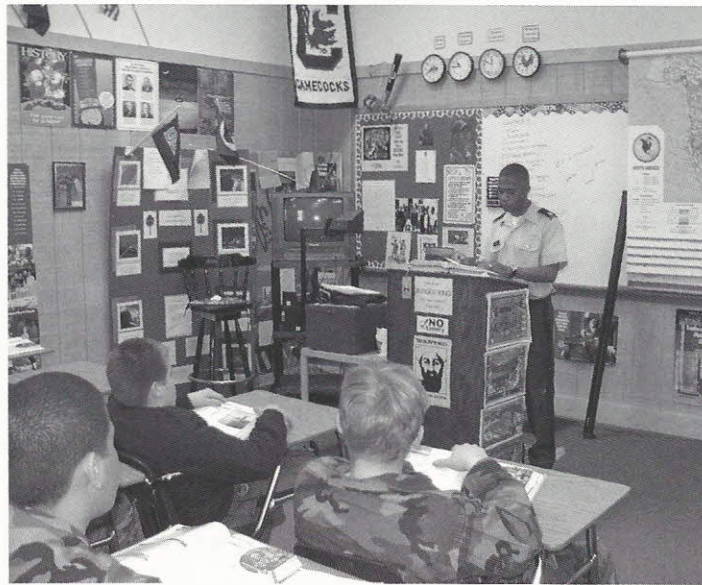

Nearing completion of his Ph. D. in ancient history, CPT James Fitzpatrick is thoroughly prepared to teach Latin and AP history.

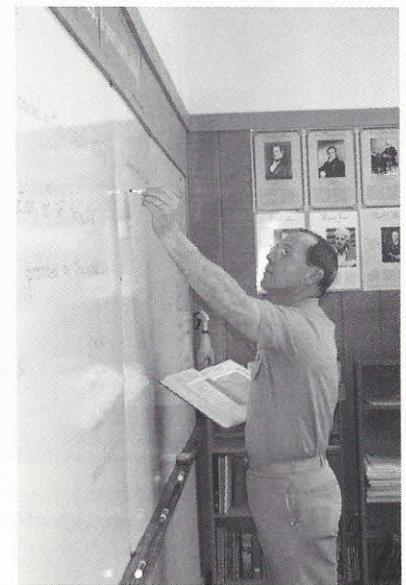

A CMA alumnus and a UNC graduate, LTC Will Rice teaches social studies and literature. In addition he coaches football and baseball.

LTC Robert Thorp teaches SAT Prep, performs his duties as school counselor, runs the Merit System, and assists the Commandant in many other ways.

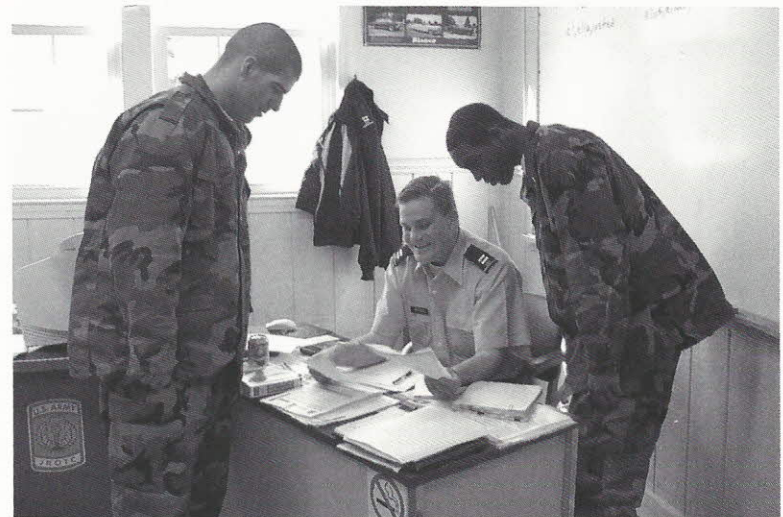

CPT John Heflin, social studies instructor, coaches basketball and cross-country. He also has the most interesting classroom on campus.

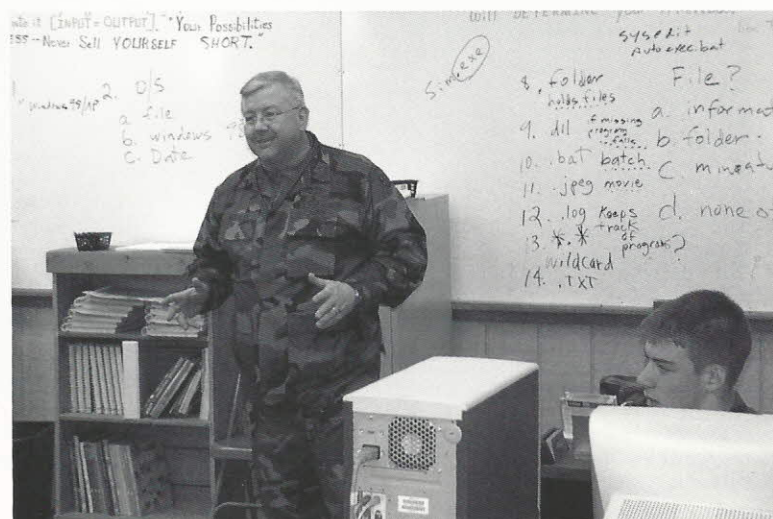

LCDR Doug Marsden, English instructor, holds a bachelor's degree from Mercer and a master's from the Naval Postgraduate School.

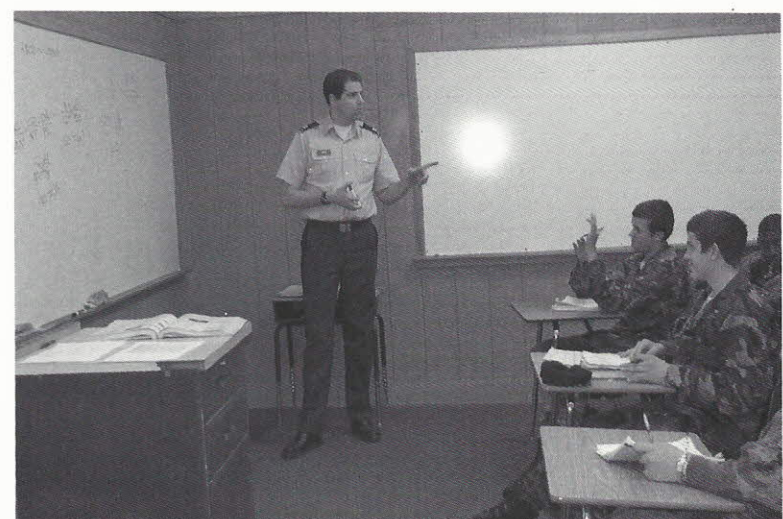

A versatile and stimulating science teacher, MSG Tom Hewitt also coaches the highly successful CMA wrestling and soccer teams.

A College of Charleston graduate and a CMA alumnus, CPT Bob Whitmire coaches golf in addition to his duties as Spanish instructor.

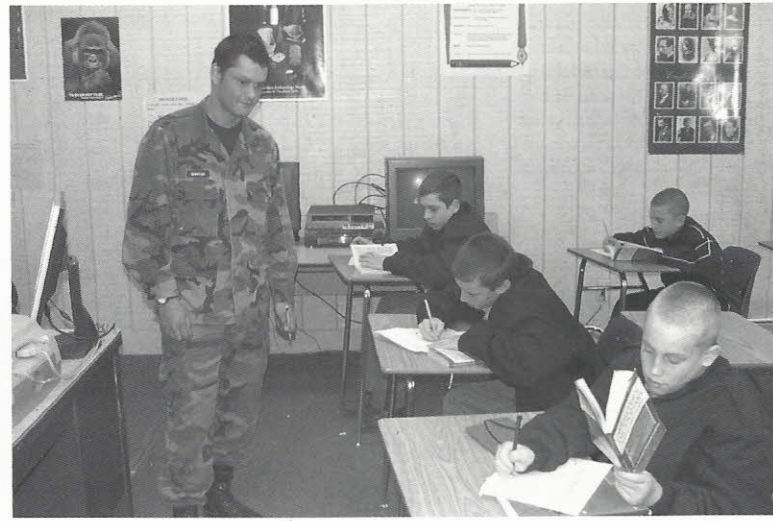

CPT Mike Morales is the computer science instructor and the primary information technology resource on campus. He earned his bachelor's degree at the University of South Carolina, his master's at New Orleans Seminary.

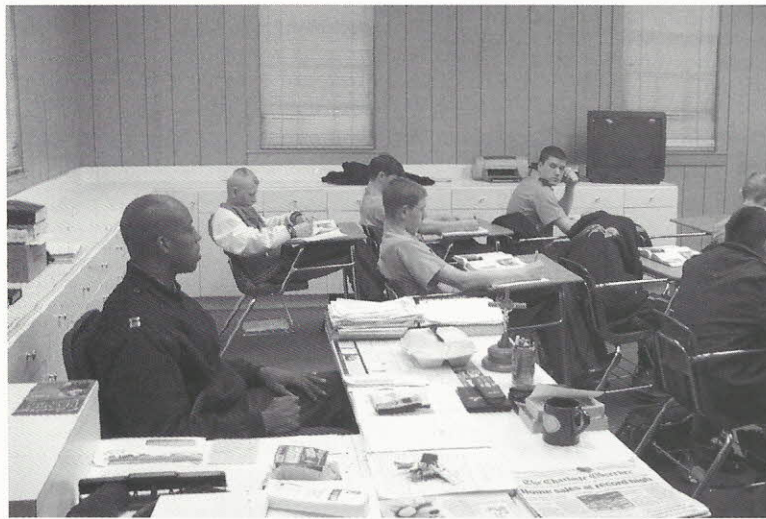

Captain Scott Dack, science instructor, holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Nebraska and a master's from George Mason University. In addition to his teaching duties, he coaches track and field.

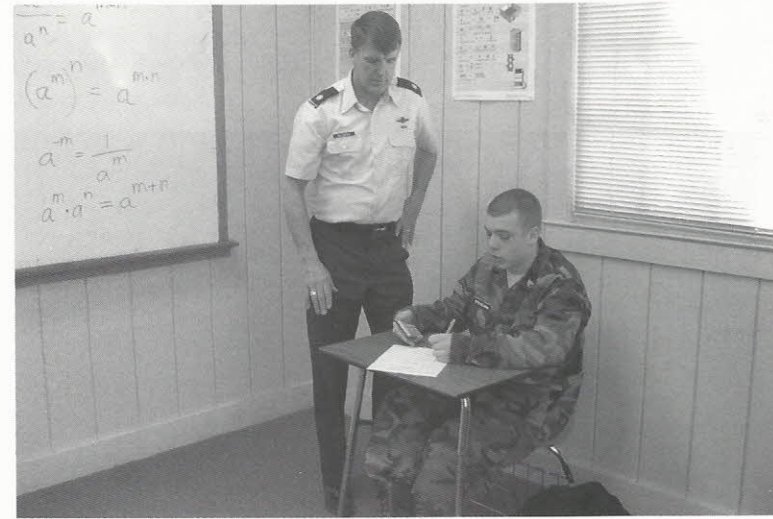

A highly effective teacher of world history and government, CPT Thane Maness is also an outstanding baseball coach who devotes many hours after school to his coaching duties.

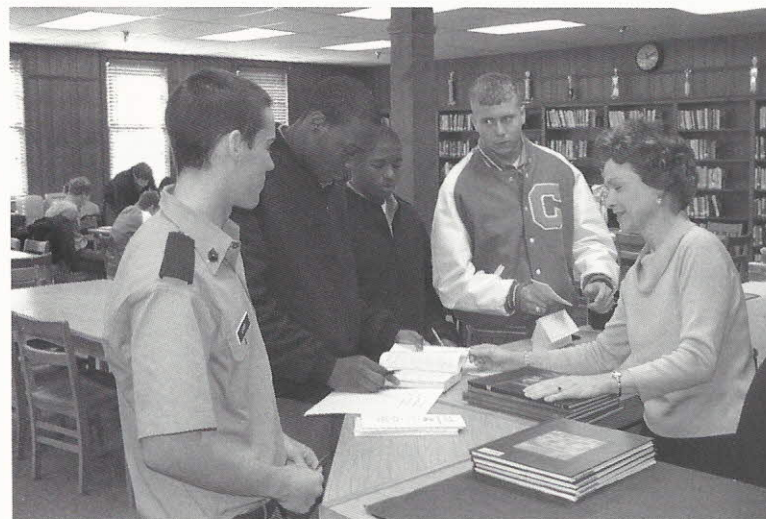

Captain Tariq Ghaffar, English instructor, earned his bachelor's degree at the University of South Carolina. A state finalist in tennis at Spring Valley High School, he is in his second year as the CMA tennis coach.

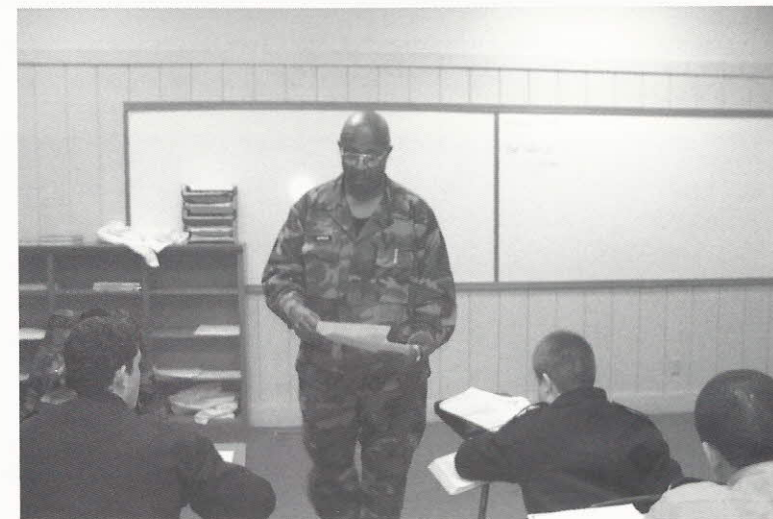

CMA alumnus CPT Ricardo Priester, mathematics and science instructor, is also the head coach of the highly successful CMA Basketball Team. He played his college basketball at Wingate University.

A dedicated teacher who often tutors students after school, LTC Glenn Melberg, mathematics instructor, earned his bachelor's degree from the United States International University. He also sponsors the CMA Flying Club.

Mrs. Melinda Kane, CMA librarian, checks out books to seniors Ryan Darr, Patrick Higgins, Joe Miller, and Eric Davis. In recent years Mrs. Kane has totally reorganized the library using computer technology. Library resources have been expanded exponentially by Internet availability.

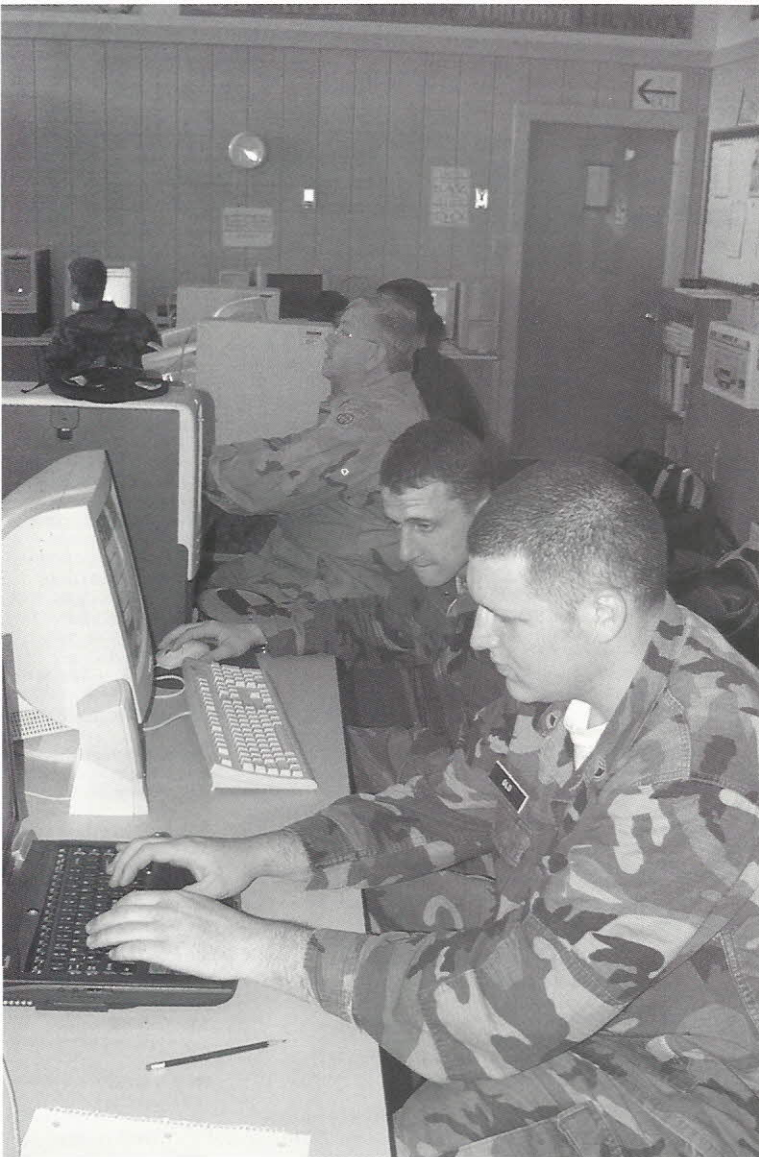

CPT William "Speedy" Johnson, mathematics instructor, earned his bachelor's degree at Voorhees College. In addition, he is a talented and dedicated football, basketball, and track coach.

ACADEMICS IN ACTION

SFC David Green directs the CMA Jazz Band in a spirited practice session. Band Director Green thinks that this year's crop of jazz artists may be his best performers yet: Kakadelis, Lee, Benoit, Czech, Kallgren, Irvin Row 2: Nye, Crawford, Blackburn, SFC Green, Clark

Justin Old and Joseph Allen advance their computer science skills under the able tutelage of CPT Mike Morales.

It was very windy this year when the rockets flew. They went in various and interesting directions. MAJ LePage instructs Scott Dailey in the proper way to fire off his missile.

When the unmistakable odor of formaldehyde fills the air, everyone knows that it is once again cat time in the biology lab. Seniors learn anatomy by dissecting cats. On the left: Harrington, Caraway, Douglas, Mungo, Pritchett On the right: Blankenship, Jones, Chapman, Davis, Hurt

AN AFFIRMATION

I am, I am, I am;
I know I am
The Light of God that never fails.
All great things begin with me.
And I am all great things.
Not one great thing, not a few great things, not some great things,
But all great things
Begin with me.
I am somebody.
Somebody special, somebody caring, somebody sharing, somebody daring to learn.

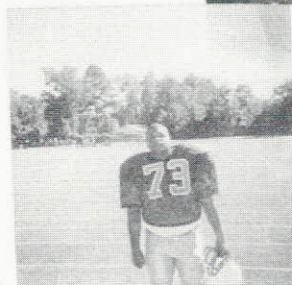

I am somebody.
Because God didn't make no trash
And God made me.
I mean it, I said it, I claim it,
It is so.

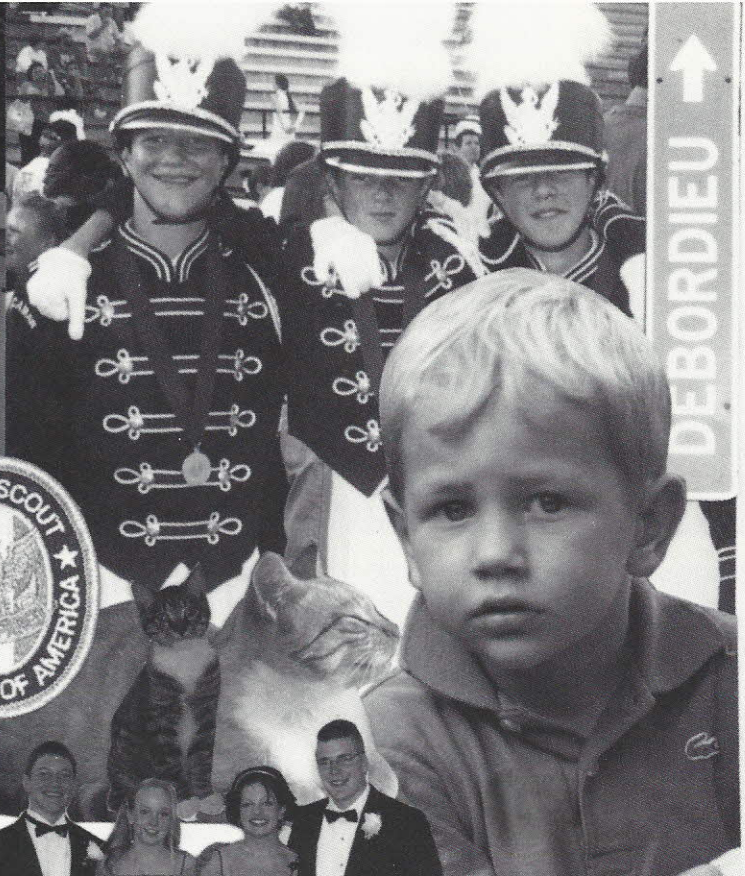

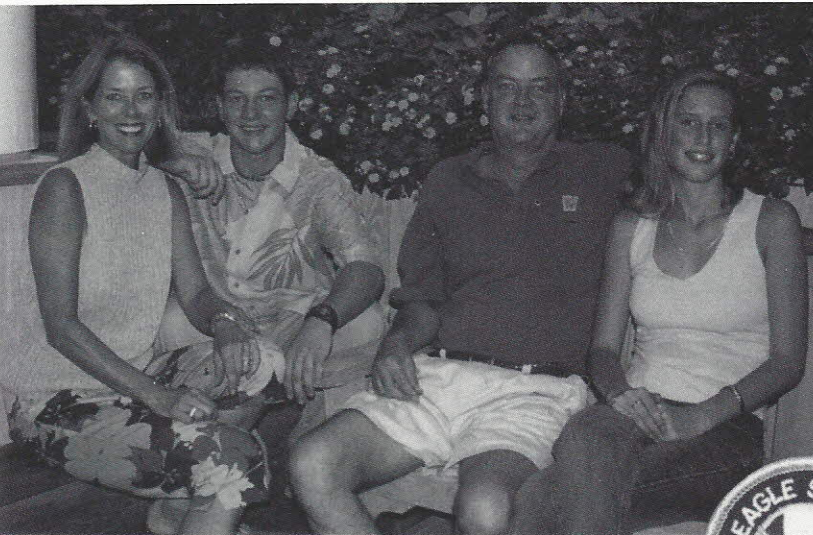

This recitation was taught to Tyshawn Thomas during his enrollment in a Summer Reading Enrichment Program at a Lutheran Church in Washington, D. C. in 1991.

William Justin Old

Today is just the beginning of the rest of your life, Justin. I want you to know that I am so proud of you. You have accomplished one of the biggest goals in your life, graduating from high school. The sky is the limit. Include God first in your life as you make your decisions. Remember that life begins and ends with these decisions that you make each day. I will always be there for you. I love you with all my heart.

Your best friend, Mom

P.S. I know that your father would have been proud of you also.

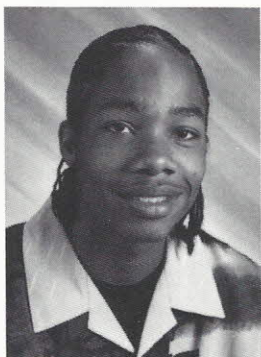

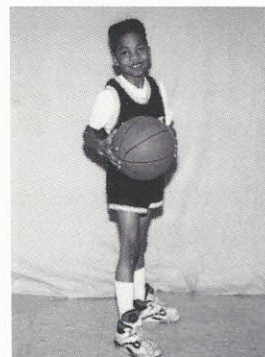

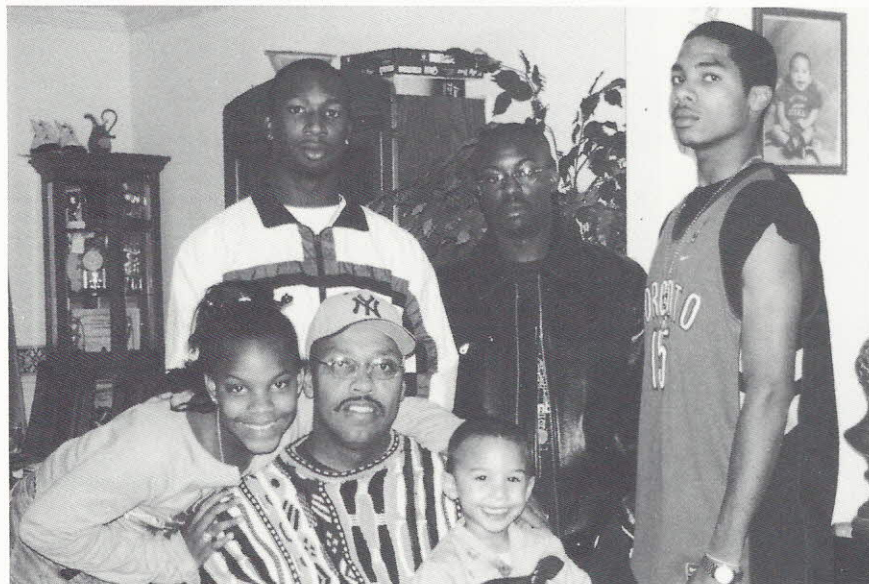

Dear Zack,

"...giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue, to virtue knowledge, to knowledge self-control, to self-control perseverance, to perseverance godliness, to godliness brotherly kindness, and to brotherly kindness love. . . .be even more diligent to make your call and election sure, for if you do these things you will never stumble."

We are so proud of your diligence! We look forward to our promising future with delight and will stand by you all the way.

We love you Zack

As you move on from here, things will be different around you. . .but the inner you, where the courage is, where the love is, where the dreams are, will never change.

We realize that this year brought tremendous changes and challenges for you--many that you had not expected. You met these challenges with determination to succeed. . .and you did!

Approach this new chapter in your life with great confidence in your heart, for you have so much to offer. Go forward with trust, holding your hopes and dreams near, knowing that the world is waiting for the goodness and love you carry with you.

We love you and are so proud of you, Thomas.

Sending you to Camden three years ago was the most difficult decision we have ever had to make as parents. Thousands of miles and three short years later, your hard work and determination has paid off! We are so proud of you and your accomplishments. You have finished well! We hope and pray that you will continue to find for yourself all that God has placed in you. You have what it takes to do whatever you set your heart and mind to do in life. Be strong, be courageous, and dream BIG!

Congratulations, Son! We love you with all our hearts.

Douglas Maurice Stewart II

Maurice, your time has come to move into the next phase of your life, graduation from high school, and then college. I know you have learned a lot. Your soul has been thoroughly tested, but your wisdom has grown as a result of your testing. Good things cost most of us, unless God says otherwise. You are still very young, meaning you still have many choices to make in this life. You have God on your side, and he will do what's best for you at all times. No matter how it seems, if God is on your side, and we know he is, you will be victorious in your season.

Carry on, Soldier

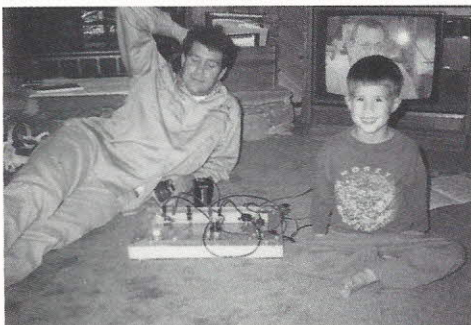

Matt Boland Congratulations! In life, always

Excalibur Supplement 2003

David "Twig" Gray, Director of the South Carolina Fellowship of Christian Athletes, delivered the commencement sermon. He advised cadets that God has a plan for the world and for every individual. Those who can tap into the plan can be world changers. Seated behind Mr. Gray are Chaplain (Major) Ed Westbury; LTC Kelly R. Schrader, Academic Dean; LTC C. H. Armstrong, Commandant; Colonel William K. Orris, Headmaster; and Mr. J. Banks Scarborough, Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

On May 18, 2003, Camden Military Academy presented diplomas to sixty-four cadets from many parts of the United States. Most of the graduates will continue their education in institutions of higher learning all over the nation. Some will serve their country in the military. Assisted by LTC C. H. Armstrong, Commandant, Colonel William K. Orris, Headmaster, presents a diploma to Cadet David Luke Dunn of Orlando, Florida. Cadet Dunn received an academic scholarship from the University of South Florida for $40,000 over a four-year period.

Having received their diplomas, members of the Class of 2003 listen to the final general order of the year, announcing promotions for next school term.

LTC Kelly R. Schrader, Academic Dean, recognizes CPT Phillip Collins for attaining the highest senior class average.

After a parade in their honor, members of the Class of 2003 march toward White Field House, where they will receive their diplomas.

LTC C. H. Armstrong, Commandant, presents the Commandant's Award to Cadet CPT Philip Palmgren, also the recipient of the Daughters of the American Revolution Award.

LTC C. H. Armstrong congratulates CPT Karl Kakadelis and Delta Company for winning the Honor Company designation. The Academic Award went to Band and Staff; the Athletic Award to A Company; the Best Drilled Award to C Company; and the Spirit Award to B Company.

Spring Events

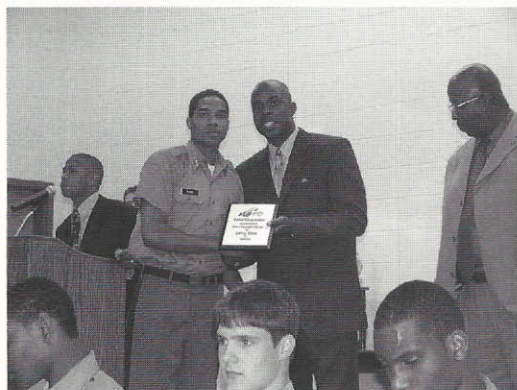

Coach Boland gives Tommy Martin the "Undefeated" football ring at the Winter Sports Banquet on February 19.

At the Gold Star Ceremony on February 22, LTC C. H. Armstrong presents the General Douglas MacArthur Award to LTC Anthony Swinton, Battalion Commander.

Concluding Black History Month, the Reverend L. Gadson of Saint Mark United Methodist Church in Sumter advises cadets to choose role models carefully.

At the Spring Sports Banquet on May 14, Coach Priester presents the Varsity Basketball MVP Award to Larry Blair, a full scholarship winner at Liberty University.

At the annual Senior Dinner on May 15, Kenny Placide, Zach Butler, Matt Hamilton, Tyshawn Thomas, Karl Kakadelis, and Mr. Kakadelis are ready to enjoy steaks.

Cadet Carter Langlo and his date are among the many who enjoyed the Saturday night dance that preceded the Sunday morning commencement exercises.

Lacrosse

Beginning the third year of the young Lacrosse program, new coach Scott Dack challenged the team to compete not only the other teams, but against themselves as well. "I challenged each player to end the season with more skills and a better understanding of the game, and all of us, including myself, met this goal." The Spartans were a very spirited and aggressive team. In their best outing, Fitz Lewis scored two goals and an assist against Heathwood Hall, and rookie goalie Kyle Fisher made 12 saves in the first half. Ray Kessler, the most experienced player, was a leader on and off the field. He was always willing to help his teammates sharpen their skills after practice. Winning awards were Fitz Lewis, MVP; Andrew Mills, MIP; and Trey Martin, Coach's Award.

Spartans: CJ Forcucci, AC Mills, F H Lewis, RJ Hayden, DC Feeser, VR Sanchez, G Jones, WZ Micklon Row 2: KJ Fisher, TE Pritchett, DJ Laggis, MT Martin, DJ Calkin, WJ Old, ML Wilson, LW Rostmeyer, CB Church, Coach Dack

Guy Jones gives Andrew Mills some cover as they move the ball down field.

Andrew Mills moves up to cover the attacker while Daniel Calkin, Trey Martin, and Fitz Lewis block the scoring lanes.

Team captain Zach Micklon and Ryan Hayden fight for position as they try to recover a blocked shot.

Daniel Calkin and Ryan Hayden charge to defend a fast break while Kyle Fisher protects the goal.

Baseball

Spartans: Drew Irvin, Devin Sapp, Brad Byrd, T.J Owens, Hogan David, Adam Nation, John Anderson
 Row 2: Coach Roberts, Charles Harrington, Jacob Chandler, Drew Hemphill, Joe allen, Buddy Tabor, Julian Nunez, David dunn, Coach Maness

The Spartans fielded a very competitive baseball team this season and finished with a 14-12 record. They played well in the North Central Preseason Tournament, won the CMA Invitational Tournament, and beat AAA Fairfield Central twice. The team played well early, battled adversity late, but worked hard all year. Young players gained valuable experience that will pay off next season. Leading the hit parade were Tabor at .422, Byrd and Sapp at .365, and Chandler at .350. Byrd had the most wins on the mound with six. Stolen base leaders were Byrd with 20 and Sapp with 18. Award winners were Brad Byrd, Most Valuable Player; T. J. Owens, Coach's Award; Jacob Chandler, Most Improved Player, and David Dunn, E. Haines Gregg Award.

David Sapp rounds second base. This year he hit .365 with 11 RBI and 18 stolen bases.

Jacob Chandler catches the ball in left field and fires it to third base. He hit .350 with 15 RBI for the season.

Buddy Tabor swings the bat smoothly. On the year he hit .422 and pitched a one hitter against Trinity.

Coach's Award winner T. J. Owens sprints toward third base.

Buddy Tabor slides in under the tag and is safe at second base.

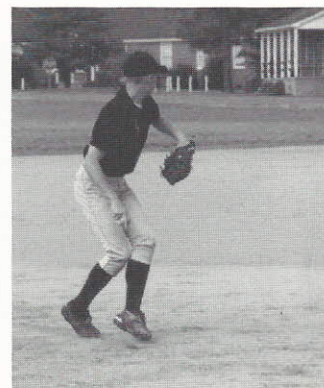

Senior catcher David Dunn anchored the Spartans behind the plate this season.

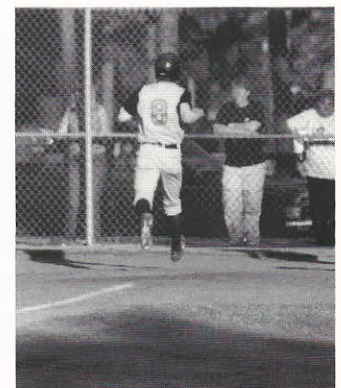

Not only did pitcher Brad Byrd lead the team with 6 wins, he also hit .365 with 19 RBI and 20 stolen bases.

Junior Charles Harrington takes a mighty cut at the plate. He will be back to help the Spartans next year.

Adam Nation squares up to throw out the runner heading to first base.

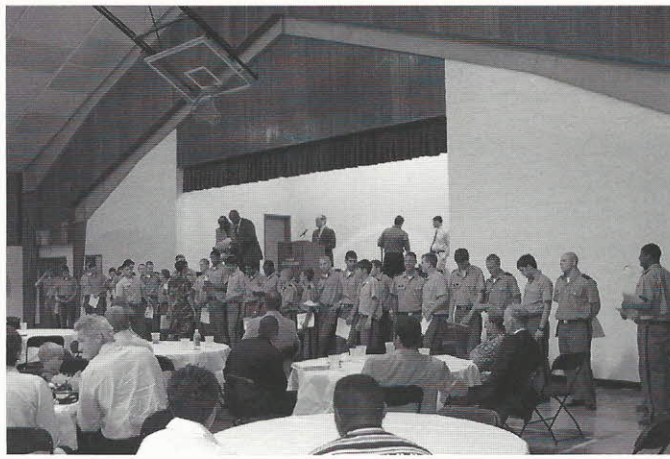

Hogan David crosses home plate for the score.

Track & Field

In an undefeated season, the Spartans scored points in 75% of all the events at each meet. They embraced the team concept and reaped the rewards of a true team effort against tough competition, including Camden High, Hartsville, Hammond, North Central, Crestwood, Ben Lippen, and Augusta Prep Day. They took first place in both meets they entered, competing against nine other schools. Sprinter Terence King scored double the points of any other track and field team member and earned the Most Valuable Player designation. Other award winners were Larry Blair, Most Improved Player, and Reg Collins, Coach's Award.

Isaiah Campbell soars high in the long jump.

Spartans get certificates and awards at the Spring Sports Banquet: (in alphabetical order) Artigues, Benoit, Blair, Boland, Bumgarner, Butler, Campbell, Caulkin, J Collins, RP Collins, Crawford, Czech, Davis, Epps, Gibbs, Greene, Hudson, Jones, Jeffress, King, Laggis, Langlo, Littleberry, Marquard, T Martin, Meise, Meyer, J Miller, Oshodi, Pasut, Philips, Rice, Sanchez, Schuh, A Smith, M Stewart, Tannenbaum, A Thomas, T Thomas, Trevino, Wood, M Wooditch, Workman, Wright, youmans.

Larry Blair, Most Improved Player, flies high in the long jump.

Bill Meyer shows excellent form in the shot put competition.

Most Valuable Player, Terence King, was also a winner on the track, especially in the 100 meter run.

Senior Daniel Calkin gets off a long toss in the shot put event.

Senior David Laggis took first place in a high jump event.

Raheem Oshodi sails over the hurdles in the 300 meter competition.

Justin Wright clears the bar and is ready for the final sprint.

Tommy Martin wins a heat in the 100 meter run.

Kyle Hudson runs his leg of the 1500 meter relay. Carter Langlo, Michael Wooditch, and Ed Meise wait their turns.

Tommy Martin takes first place in the 100 meter run.

Carter Langlo crosses the finish line.

Michael Wooditch takes his turn in the 1500 meter relay

Soccer

Having lost 18 seniors, the 2003 Spartans were an unknown quantity. But it soon became apparent that they were better than last year. The whole team played well. They won all of their close games, playing to an 11-3 record. Romero was steady and always a scoring threat. Chantilope controlled the midfield. Defensemen Lax, Church, and Hamilton highlighted the play. Goalkeeper Caraway kept the Spartans in every game. In a penalty kick shootout against Georgetown, he blocked a kick to save the game. Award winners were Cristian Romero, MVP; Evan Martin, Most Improved Player; and Corey Church, Coach's Award.

Tyrone Chantilope breaks away from the defender.

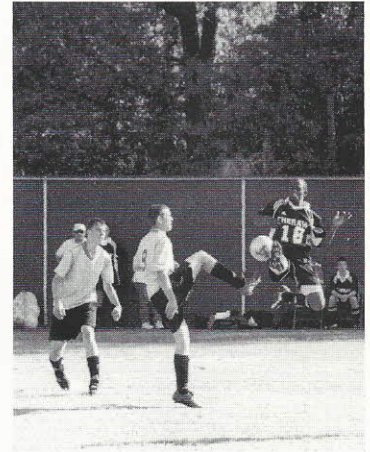

Goalkeeper Vance Caraway punts the ball. He made the Spartans a threat in every game.

Jacob Lax traps the ball as Jonathan Garrett comes in to assist.

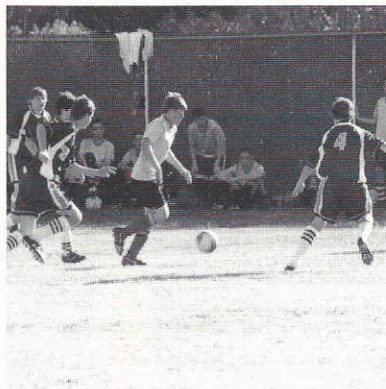

Always aggressive, Daniel Douglas goes for the shot.

Corey Church executes a high kick as Kyle Markey is poised to help out.

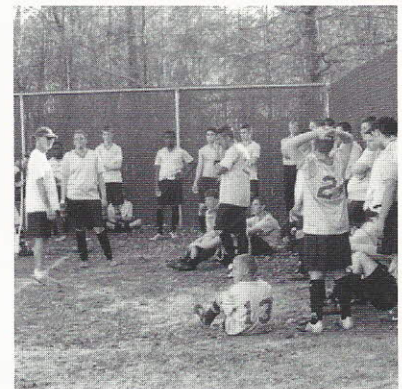

Carl Kakadelis gets some air time as David Millar and Evan Martin follow up.

Shifty Royce Plowman beats three defenders.

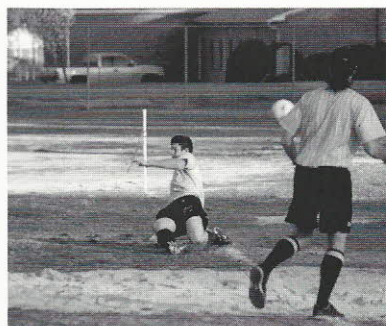

David Millar and Ford Sasser attack the goal.

Coach Hewitt conducts a serious half-time talk.

Matt Hamilton traps the ball.

Flip Blaze attempts to save the ball from going out of bounds.

Most Valuable Player Cristian Romero does some fancy footwork.

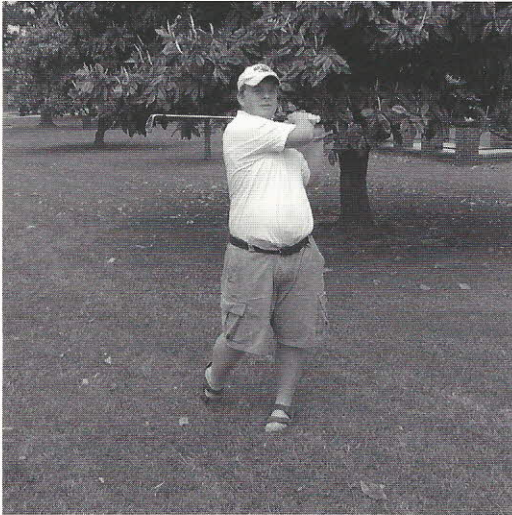

Fulton Beasley heads the ball to Daniel Douglas.

Golf

Like many other spring sports, the Spartan Golf Team was hampered by heavy rains early in the season. But as weather began to improve toward the end of the schedule, the sun began to shine for the Spartans in more ways than one. With the good weather, the team was able to practice every day. With the additional time on the course, scores began to come down consistently and the team began to win matches. All players showed steady improvement over the last part of the schedule and ended the season on a winning note. The Spartans finished their 2003 campaign with participation in the Kershaw County Shootout on their home course, White Pines, and finished third in a very strong field. Award winners were Patrick Williams, MVP; Scott Dailey, MIP; and Ben Bowles, Coach's Award.

Spartans: Thomas Hatcher, Scott Dailey, Patrick Williams, Ben Bowles, William Gardner (not shown: Casey Long)

Patrick Williams anchored the Spartans this season and earned Most Valuable Player accolades.

Doug Hatcher was a steady player who will help the Spartans in the future.

The longest hitter on the team, Scott Dailey has a powerful swing and earned Most Improved Player honors.

William Gardner is another player who will figure prominently in Spartan fortunes next year.

Following Coach Mobley's example, team members inspect and clean their clubs.

Senior Ben Bowles exemplified the competitive spirit all season and won the Coach's Award.
