Camden Military Chapel

The 2007-2008 school year at Camden Military Academy is the first full year that cadets have marched into the newly-built chapel every Sunday morning at 9:00am. Chaplain Ben Skelton and the cadet religious staff have produced many memorable services, with special speakers such as Mrs. Deborah Hartley, Maj. Speedy Johnson, and Col. Tom Austin. The chapel was also used for college day presentations, Sen. John McCain's rally, and other important meetings and activities.

Physical Fitness

Morning PT - The best wake-up call in the world!

Setting new personal bests

Making it happen as a team

Get firing on all cylinders!

Intramural sports give students who do not play team sports the opportunity to participate in company-level competitions such as flag-football (right, above right). Intramurals take place on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons for 30-45 minutes. Companies compete in intramurals for scores that count toward honor company.

Saturday Morning Inspection

Saturday Morning Inspection (SMI) is an experience that cadets will long remember after their time at Camden Military Academy. Although the inspection is not scheduled to begin until nine o'clock in the morning, cadets often begin preparing days in advance, spending hours shining shoes and brass; dusting presses, desks, walls, and window sills; vacuuming floors; cleaning latrines; and making beds. The cadet chain of command and the company tactical officer put the finishing touches on their individual companies.

LTC. Armstrong and the Battalion Staff conduct the individual barracks inspections first, which are followed by an outside battalion in-ranks uniform inspection. The commandant and battalion commander inspect the cadets' uniforms and personal appearance from head to toe, critiquing individual's uniforms and grading each company on their efforts.

The winning company is the one with the highest overall grade following both phases of the SMI. In addition to the all-important bragging rights, the winning company is rewarded with special incentives such as meritorious furloughs and the ever-popular "sleep-ins."

Forward, March!

Ever since the beginning of Camden Military Academy, drill & ceremony have always been integral to the cadets' daily routine. There are three mandatory battalion formations a day for meals, and cadets will often spend up to two hours a day in formations, marching or drilling under the supervision of the cadet chain of command.

Faculty In Action

MAJ Ron Horn (USA-Ret), mathematics, political science, and economics teacher, is known for his intense class lectures and extraordinary teaching abilities.

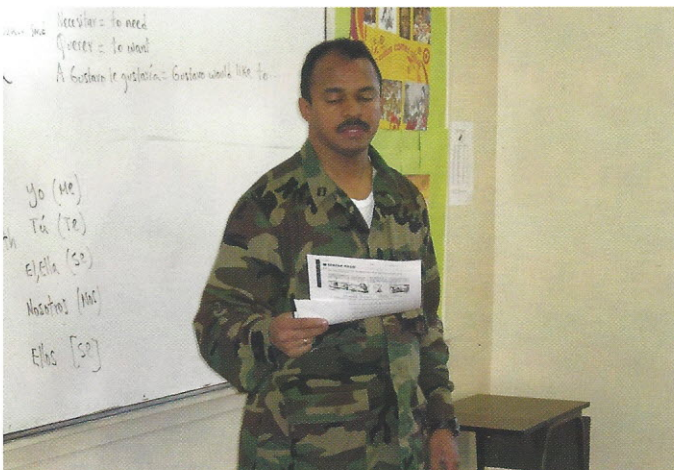

CPT Dan Dupree, science teacher and lacrosse coach, joining the CMA faculty just this year, provides a hands-on physics lesson with the building of a catapult style medieval siege engine.

CPT Patrick Fitzgerald, another new addition to the faculty and lacrosse coaching staff, mentors students in his vocabulary class as they complete a worksheet.

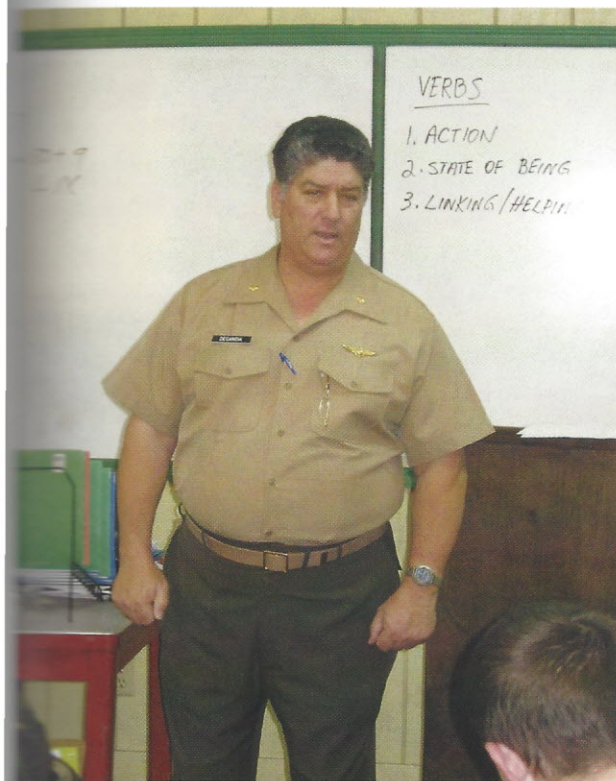

CDR R. E. Ruys (USN-Ret), mathematics instructor in addition to both football and track coach, is a favorite among cadets.

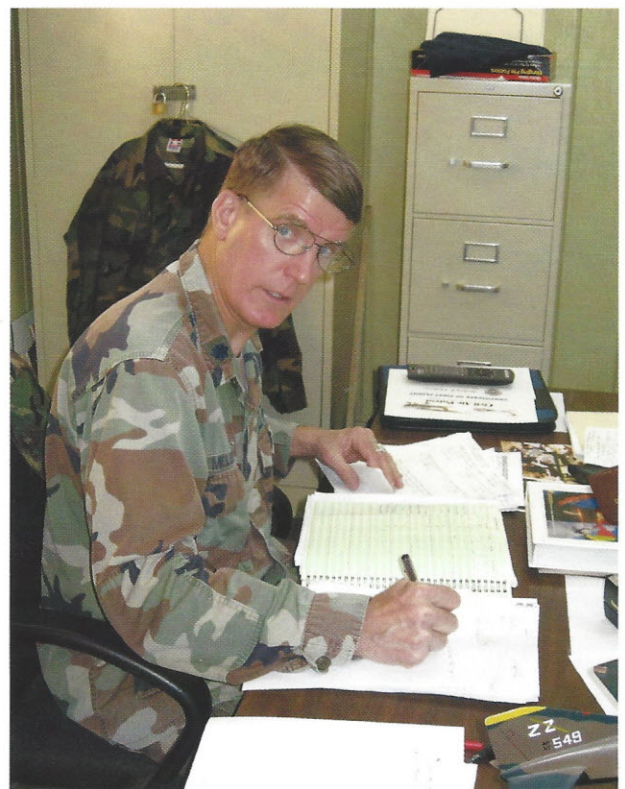

CPT Jair Ararat, Spanish teacher and soccer coach, is the third new instructor added to the faculty this year.

MAJ David LePage (USAF-Ret), instructor of physics and academy registrar, reviews cadet transcripts.

MAJ Tony Decandia (USMC-Ret), instructor of English and CAP pilot, discusses the different uses of verbs in the English language.

LTC Glenn Melberg (USAF-Ret), instructor of algebra and CAP Commander, is known for using aeronautical terms to teach mathematics.

LTC M. Ferjani, instructor of English and French, helps a cadet understand the importance of knowing multiple languages fluently.

LTC W. C. Mobley, instructor of mathematics and history, is well known on and off campus for his extreme southern accent and his professional golfing skills

Civil Air Patrol Squadron 805

Squadron 805 after glider orientation flights in Spartanburg.

Maj. Tony Decandia piloting a Maul towplane.

Squadron 805 has been with Camden Military Academy since 2003, when it was formed by cadets with the help of LTC Glenn Melburg, USAF (Ret). From its beginning, Squadron 805 has been playing an important role in building the Camden Military cadets into strong leaders. Since 2003, Camden Military has had three Battalion Adjutants, two Company Commanders, one Battalion Commander, as well as numerous other high leadership positions held by Squadron 805 cadets. Squadron 805 works jointly with other CAP squadrons in South Carolina on ground search and rescue programs, communication classes, leadership classes, and so on. Many Squadron 805 cadets are qualified in Emergency Services Programs, Ground Team Member and Radio Operations. The Squadron also participates annually in the Team America rocketry program national competition. Meeting regularly on Thursday nights during the school year, cadets are instructed in areas such as aerospace education/opportunities, emergency services, moral leadership courses, drug demand reduction courses, drill and ceremonies instruction, customs and courtesy classes, and more. Under the command of retired US Air Force Lieutenant Colonel Glenn Melburg (Algebra II instructor at CMA), USMC retired Maj. Anthony DeCandia (English instructor at CMA), CAP 2d Lt Cecil 'Del' Sills, and CAP 2d Lt Harold Zimmerman cadets are offered opportunities to learn and advance their education in a wide range of aeronautics-related fields. This year's special events consisted of rocketry competition, glider and powered flight orientation, and color guard competitions.

Fort Jackson Summer Camp

The keys to success in the JROTC Summer Camp are teamwork, self-confidence, positive attitude, and a willingness to test one's limits. The summer camp, which is a week-long program conducted at Fort Jackson, South Carolina, keeps cadets constantly active and engaged in character-building activities. Events include canoeing, ropes courses, repelling, marksmanship, compass reading and orientation, land navigation, field math and science, leadership reaction, and field day sporting events. U.S. Army instructors provide that professional touch to each participant's experience to insure it is both memorable and worthwhile.

Camden Military Academy offers all of its cadets opportunities to develop leadership, discipline, and teamwork skills through its many sports programs. Here students are encouraged to participate in any of the wide range of sports: football, cross-country, basketball, wrestling, golf, baseball, soccer, lacrosse, track, tennis, bowling, marksmanship, and drill team. Several of the larger team sports are offered at varsity, junior varsity, and junior high levels.

This year, head coach Will Rice had only one returning starter and a lot of inexperienced players which showed in the early season. All of the coaches set mutual goals going into the season and were pleased throughout with the team's progress. As the players developed more experience, performance improved sufficiently for the team to finish the season with a winning 4-2 record. The players played and practiced hard throughout. Coach Rice says he is proud foremost of the way the team played and worked together in addition to their other individual accomplishments.

Cross Country

Coach Heflin and his runners took the Cross-Country team to new heights this year. Along with defeating local 3A and 4A rivals, the Cross-Country team continued to set the bar higher and higher as the season progressed. Sticking with the past theme "We Run through the Woods" the Spartans did that and more by placing at least 3rd in almost every match. Coach Heflin continued to influence the team with teamwork and added heart by actually running with the team at practice.

Varsity Basketball

"We have been up and down this year," says Coach Johnson. "Along with our regular season the team also competed in the T.H.U.D. conference, which was a first at Camden Military Academy. We have competed against many fierce rivals that challenged every ounce of integrity and knowledge that our team possessed. Leading scorers such as J. Ilbrink, C. Isaac, M. Repass, and L. Boone were instrumental in keeping the team competitive throughout the season, as were the rebounding efforts of C. Smith and M. Repass. J. Ilbrink led the team in assists. All team members contributed to our success and it is a true pleasure to coach this team. They played and worked hard together and developed a tremendous amount of character. They also began to understand that there is more to life than basketball."

Junior Varsity Basketball

This year's J.V. Spartans were long on effort and desire but came up short on execution. The team's 2-7 season was the result of too many turnovers and an inability to hit open shots. Backcourt players on this year's team were Carlos Diaz, Craig Musgrove, Chris Dougherty, Josiah Smith, Seun Sabanjo and Justin Tisdale. In the front court were Jared Bell, Jonathan Bell, Jack Davis, Alex Ochoa and Malcom Singleton. Elijah Kitts proved to be an extremely versatile player, at one time or another playing all five positions on the court. The team did show improvement during the season and actually played their best game against Mount Zion Christian's Varsity reserves, losing by only two points in the last game of the season. It is hoped that the players will build on their experiences this year and continue to improve as they come back next year to play junior varsity or move up to varsity.

Junior High Basketball

Below: Doeblner shoots for the three.

The Middle School Basketball Team's main goal this season was to develop their skills each game. The highlight of this season was when the team started to work together and how it feels to win. "Cadet Locke helped out tremendously with his skilled shot and intensity on the defensive side. Cadet Patterson applied his skills at point guard and was also a key factor to the team's defense. Cadets Stephens and Barrett truly stood out at their positions underneath the basket on both offense and defense. The team as a whole honestly impressed me and showed their determination to improve their game," said Coach Greene.

Varsity Wrestling

In his third season as head coach of the CMA wrestling team, Captain Jonathan Richard is still building for the future. The team had two goals this season: (1) to have a winning record and (2) to work together as a team.

"Working with the team and experiencing the team come together was a great accomplishment", says Coach Richard, "We had a very respectable season this year and I am very proud to say that this is one of the best teams I have seen yet. I look forward to seeing most of the team return." This year the CMA team became a very well-rounded and well-developed group one that will lead the way to a winning season next year.

Varsity Bowling

The Camden Military Academy bowling team does not actually compete against other teams until the South Carolina Youth Bowling Association Tournament at the end of the season. Team members practice vigorously throughout the season honing their skills and preparing for the big event. "We have some good bowlers on the team," says Coach Ararat, "talented enough to compete at the state level." The coach hopes that most of his present team return next year to provide an experienced core on which to build next year's team.

There are no words to express how proud we are of you, Son! We have watched you grow from a little boy into a fine young man. Take the lessons you have learned, the knowledge you have received and continue to grow into the man God wants you to be.

Mom and Dad have given you wings. Now is the time for you to spread those wings and fly.

We love you Son!
Mom & Dad

"Have not I commanded you be strong, vigorous, and very courageous. Be not afraid; neither be dismayed, for the Lord your God is with you wherever you go." -Joshua 1:9

T.J. Cummings

We love you and are proud of you.
Keep up the hard work!

I can do everything through Him who gives me strength.
Phil. 4:13

Randy Eich

You opened your eyes, thought about it,
and took on the game of life.

Randy, you told them all you were going to be a winner, and that you are! We are very proud of all your accomplishments!

Love,
Mom, Dad, Rob, Dustin, and Peter

Ryan Hughes

Congratulations on your graduation, Ryan.
We are proud of you and what you have accomplished.

We love you.
God Bless you always.

Mom, Chris, Grandma and Grandpa Basil

Jordan Ilbrink

Graduation is not an end but a beginning, an opening to new horizons.

As you explore remember Psalms 119:9-11 and keep His Word in your heart.

We love you,
Dad & Mom

Christopher Isaac

Our Son

Your birth was an amazingly joyful moment in our lives. A moment of guarantee to the family's future identity of the Isaacs for generations to come. Your childhood was a playful one with glaring big brown eyes demanding more than what was possible. Thus your identity as a man began. Your teenage period explored the man within; and the intentions to dare and find a purpose, although rough at times, became part of who you are and will be. Now your adulthood, a period of reflection on the past without forgetting it, a reflection on the future without fear to face the unknown.

My Son, what you have contributed to our family legacy in this short period is far and beyond the achievement of generations. Your commitment to the future and to excellence can only enhance your desire to succeed in life and become a role model to the Isaacs for generations to come.

The Pride, the Hope, and the Inspiration to our family identity is YOU!

Adam J. Poore

Adam,

Nothing worthwhile ever comes without hard work. As the saying goes, "To enjoy the cider, you first must peel the apple." You have peeled the "high school" apple!!

Congratulations! We are so very proud of you. Just keep "peeling those apples."

With all our love, Dad and Mom

Ben Humphries

Ben,

We are so proud of you! This is the first of many great things to come. Keep up the good work. The future is yours.

Love,

Dad, Mom, Jake, Alden, Maddox, Brage,
and Asa

Cameron Presson

Cameron,
You have accomplished so much and we are very proud of you!

Parents can only give good advice or put them on the right paths, but the final forming of a person's character lies in their own hands.

Congratulations,
Dad, Mom & Brian

Daniel Louis Schreiber

You were so anxious to take on the world that you burst onto the scene as a preemie. Praise God that He kept you alive then, and that He has developed you into the incredible young man that you are now. We pray that you will seek the Lord in everything, knowing that He loves you and wants the very best for you in the future. We love you and are very proud of you, and we know that you will do wonderful things in this world!

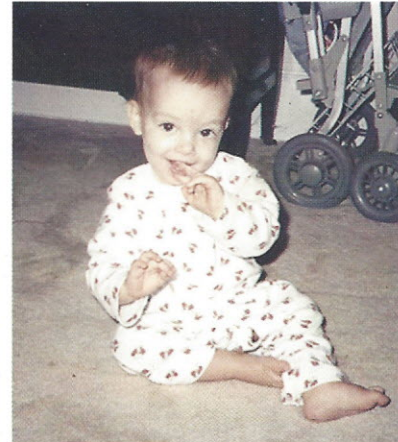

-Mom & Dad

Cory Swearingen

Cory,

What a metamorphosis! We have seen you develop from a boy to a young man, and we couldn't be prouder. Watching your growth and progress—in academics, in responsibility, in maturity—has been rewarding for us.

We hope you will always remember what you have achieved at CMA, the hard work you've put into your education, and the good friends you've made among your fellow students and your teachers. We are thankful for all of their help along your way. Your future awaits you, and we can't wait to see what God's plan has in store for you. "And whatever you do, whether in word or deed, do it all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through Him." (Colossians 3:17)

Our love to you -
Mom and Dad

Erech Strong

Congratulations, Erech !

Well Done !!

Nathan Micalizio

You are the sunshine in our days and the meaning to our lives.

You have made us infinitely proud of you. You have proven to us and to yourself that if you set your mind to something you can accomplish it.

Dream big, Darling!
All is possible with God on your side. Keep Him near and fly high in life. You deserve it!

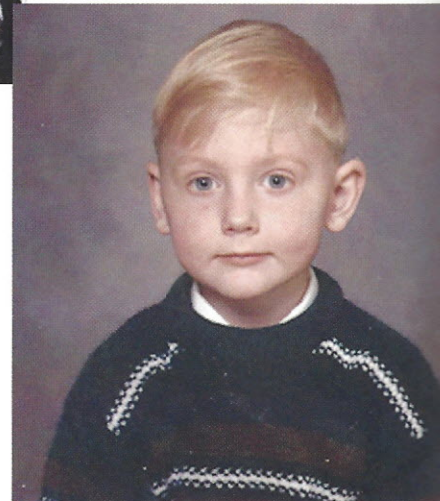

We love you,
Mom, Dad, and Tania.
