1944 MAY 1944 5 M T W T F 5 3 FOREWORD 12 13

In this, the second volume of the REBEL, we, the staff, will endeavor to present to our reader a pictorial representation of a typical year at Carlisle.

You, the men of Carlisle, hail from all sections of the American continent; from the far-away West coast, east to the rock-bound shores of New England, and south to Florida; even Cuba and Puerto Rico. As can be readily seen the assembling of these men has an educational advantage in itself, for by working and playing in concert, that invaluable sense of cooperation which is necessary in order that we live successfully together is instilled in each and every member of the corps.

To the average cadet the year consists of three distinct phases—Autumn, Winter, and Spring—separated by the long-awaited, few, and far between furloughs. With this in mind it is our intention to reveal that which takes place during each of these three phases.

Years from now, after all has been decided, although you may not know the whereabouts of your classmates, the successes they have reached, nor the ambitions they have fulfilled, you will have this, the '44 REBEL, as a guide to lead you back in thought through the years to relive and recapture the life you knew as a cadet.

Young Gentlemen:

It takes faith in God to plant a tiny seed with a vision of a beautiful flower in the future. It takes faith to do the lowly tasks of life with confidence that the same Power that causes the minute germ of life in the small seed to burst forth in glorious beauty, can bring our simple efforts at a humble task into the full bloom of successful living.

Sincerely,

James F. Risher.

By the burning of midnight oil, devotion to our work, and negligence to our studies, piece by piece the copy, snapshots, ideas, ads, capital and other necessary materials gradually came in to make this, the book you are reading.

To Bill Risher and Bob Ussery go the credit due them for their ability to keep the rest of us busy and keep things running smoothly.

The men directly under them and in charge of the various departments were Wally Chapin, Literary Editor, and Russell Schoepf, Sports Editor. Their job was to get the copy in and re-write it. They and their staffs deserve no less credit.

The financing of this annual fell to the lot of Buddy Helmly, Business Manager and Fred Cook, Advertising Manager. Through their efforts as well as those of the men on their staffs, the tremendous amount of money required to put out this yearbook was raised.

Other important staff members are the photographers and artists. Their work needs not be explained as it is shown on every page.

No one or two men did or could have done the amount of work required here, but by the successful coöperation of all, we made it. Let the credit be divided equally.

MILITARY

The Corps of Cadets is proud of its military ability. This is as it should be, for we live entirely under the age-old and honorable code of arms.

Each morning, from 11 to 12, can be heard from our drill field the commanding voices of the battalien's officers shouting "Hut, two, three, four, by the right flank, by the left flank," and other commands, putting us through the sometimes monotonous but valuable maneuvers.

The battalion is composed of three companies and the band, each with its own commissioned and non-commissioned officers. The battalion is commanded by the cadet major, who has a staff composed of cadets. All military activities are under the supervision of the PMS&T, who is a faculty officer.

Five days each week we drill according to infantry rules and regulations. On Saturday, we stand rigid inspection of barracks as well as personal inspection of uniforms and arms at a review.

On every Sunday afternoon, if the weather permits, we put on a formal dress parade in full dress uniform. These parades are attended by many visitors, as well as by the people in the vicinity of Bamberg.

We feel that the military training and discipline which we have received at Carlisle will be of benefit to us when we come face to face with life's inevitable struggles.

Company B

Running "A" Company a close second the ribbons last year, "B" Company is doing its best to take them this year. The company is now learning some very fancy Marine Drill maneuvers, and they have done fairly well at perfecting them. It has also been very successful in doing the silent manual of arms, and other forms of close order drill.

Forty-four has been a year of great improvement for "B" Company and the school is proud of its upward progress.

Composed of the younger, and therefore smaller men in school, Company "C" has always started the year at a decided disadvantage. Although small in number the Band, driven on by its valiant determination to give the school its very best, has made itself worthy of the respect which every cadet in the battalion holds for it.

It is the feeling of the Band director as well as many others that this year this organization has surpassed any Band in the history of the school.

Honor Council

One of the highest honors which can be bestowed upon a cadet at Carlisle is that of being selected by the faculty to serve on the Honor Council.

Although at times the duties of the honor council members may be distasteful and unpleasant, it is a great achievement for the cadet and denotes his character to be placed in this organization.

The Honor Council is composed of five cadets, all of whom this year are commissioned officers, and one faculty adviser. For the past two years Capt. E. W. Burnett has acted as this adviser.

It is the duty of this group to assign judicial punishment to those cadets who by their actions have committed offenses which reflect discredit on the honor of the corps of cadets.

When such a violation occurs, the party or parties concerned are given a hearing by the Honor Council in which all evidence, testimonies, and witnesses are brought forth in order that a fair verdict may be reached. This verdict along with the recommended punishment is submitted to the Headmaster and the Commandant of Cadets for their approval.

Exactly what transpires in the course of one of these meetings is unknown to the corps as each member is vowed to secrecy.

As can readily be seen, a group such as this which has nearly unlimited power in handling these matters, must be made up of capable and broad minded men of sound judgment.

Cross Sabre Club

The Cross Sabre Club is the oldest student organization at Carlisle—its origin dating back to the days when military was first being incorporated into the school's system.

The membership of this club is limited to the commissioned officers. These men are chosen as officers according to their seniority in years, scholastic record, character, and capability. The success of the school depends on its cadet officers for through these men the conduct, morale and general attitude of the student body flourishes.

The members of this club convene informally, with the cadet major presiding, once a week to discuss matters pertaining to the betterment of the school. As a result of these meetings this year has been one of great improvement.

Although the activities of this group are of a serious nature, they have their lighter moments. Our Thanksgiving dance was sponsored by these officers and their annual banquet, held in January at Orangeburg, was most successful.

Non-Commissioned Officers Club

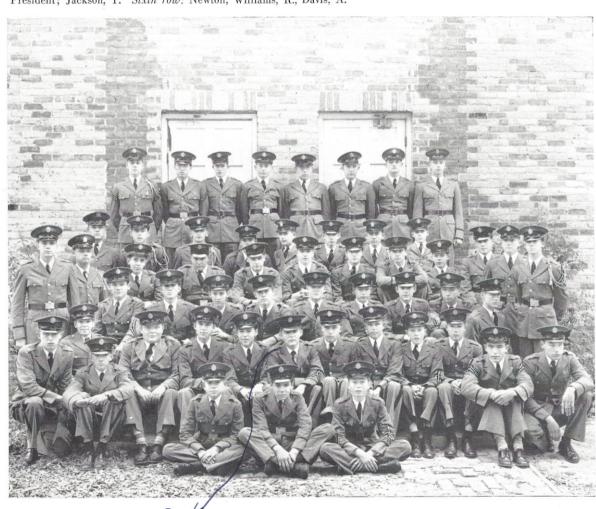

This year, for the first time in the history of Carlisle, the non-commissioned officers of the battalion have organized a club. While this club is essentially for the purpose of promoting better understanding and cooperation between officers and men, it is also active socially.

The club has its meetings each Saturday night at which time discussions are held on school affairs and problems which confront these men. Suggestions are made for improvement with the idea that through them a better school and military organization will be developed.

At the present, the club is having a difficult time in keeping a president. Their first chief executive graduated in February and went into the army. Then the next two received commissions and were therefore ineligible for membership in the club.

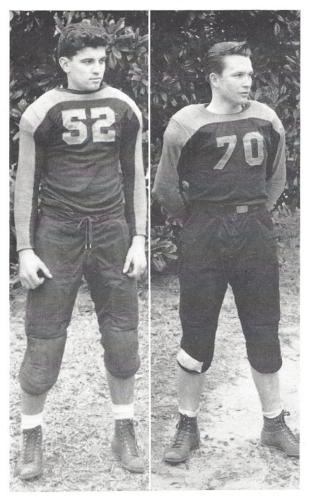

The saying that the non-commissioned officers are the backbone of any military unit is as true here as it is in the army. The corporals and sergeants hold the battalion together.

Football Season

With the outlook for a successful gridiron season being doubtful due to an inexperienced squad and the late start of training, the Golden Cyclone went on to turn it into one of the most successful seasons in the past several years, climaxed with a hard fought victory over our Turkey-day rival, Porter. With only two short weeks of practice before the opening game, the whole squad dug in its cleats a little deeper, charged a little harder, and tackled more ferociously in order to round themselves into a smoothly working organization. To coaches "Red" Burnette and Dan Johnson goes the credit for giving the Battalion a team of which it could truly be proud. Considering the limited time, the green squad, and the difficulties caused by the disastrous loss of Brabham Hall last year, it is hard to realize how our Coaches did such a fine job.

CARLISLE 13 BROOKLAND-CAYCE 13

The Cadets opened the season on their home field against a rough Brookland-Cayce team. Carlisle was first to hit pay dirt, but B-C came back to score two quick touchdowns giving them a lead of 13-6 at the half. Not to be outfought the Cadets came back into the second half with lots of fight and determination to score before the final gun and tie up the game, 13-13.

CARLISLE 20 OLYMPIA 13

One of the most exciting games of the past season was the tussle with the Red Devils of Olympia. This game, in which the lead changed hands three times, was to find the Golden Cyclone emerging victorious by a 20-13 count. The Cadets were first to score on a long runback of an intercepted pass, but soon found themselves on the short end of a 13-7 count, as Olympia scored twice. McKenzie's run tied the score at the half, 13-13. McAllister and Jackson, T., played a fine defensive game, making tackle after tackle. During a hard fought, nip and tuck second half, Carlisle finally scored the decisive touchdown on a perfect play that saw "Motorboat" Thompson go seventy yards untouched to cross the goal line.

CARLISLE 6 ROCK HILL 6

In a hair-raising gridiron spectacle the Black and Gold of Carlisle maintained their unbeaten record when they tied Rock Hill 6-6. The feature of this game was the strength displayed by the Cadet line which equalized the unclicking backfield. Rock Hill scored in the second period to lead the outplayed Cadets 6-0. In the last half the Cadets came out fighting, but couldn't cross the double stripe until the fourth quarter when McKenzie broke loose on a touchdown run which evened the score. Carlisle's attempt for another touchdown was halted by the final whistle.

CARLISLE 19 ORANGEBURG 6

Carlisle displayed its real power for the first time this season as it rolled over a stubborn Orangeburg eleven 19-6 at the Fair Grounds. With a smashing ground attack the Cadets poured through the Indian line almost at will scoring a touchdown in every period but the last. The Cadet line, led by McCall and Glascock, smothered the Orangeburg running attack all evening, but the Indians managed to click with passes late in the fourth quarter to score in a futile attempt to get back in the game.

CARLISLE 0 BROOKLYN-CAYCE 14

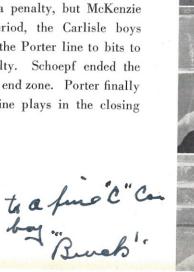

The Golden Cyclone ran into unexpected opposition when they came to grips with a fighting B-C eleven. From the beginning it was evident that the B-C boys, who caught the Cadets flatfooted, were out for blood. B-C struck suddenly with a swift aerial attack that accounted for touchdowns in the second and fourth quarters. Schoepf and O'Neil led the only Carlisle threat, a 70 yard march to the B-C three which was halted only by the half.

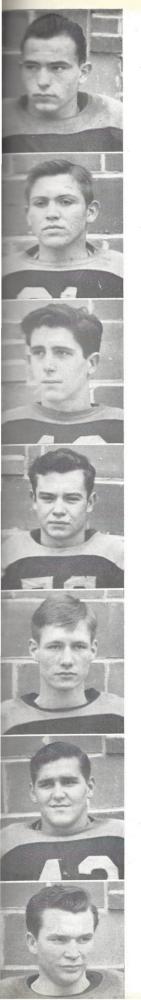

CARLISLE 20 ORANGEBURG 13

Carlisle ran into a determined and never say die Orangeburg team when they met for the second time of the season. The Indians struck quickly through the air to score early in the first quarter. Carlisle bounced back quickly with their vicious running attack led by Norwood, whom the Indians found no means of stopping, for the touchdowns by the half to lead 13-7. The Cadets rallied again for a score on a series of downs with McKenzie making the touchdown. Orangeburg's passes counted again in the final quarter, but it was too late to do any good.

CARLISLE 19 PORTER 6

Entering the game as underdogs, an inspired Carlisle team pounced up on a big rugged Porter eleven unleashing a mighty show of power that kept the Charleston boys with their backs to the wall for the first three quarters. Porter had no off day; they were just unfortunate in challenging a smoothly running Carlisle machine that was at the height of its power. With running plays clicking perfectly the Golden Cyclone swept down the field to score in the first period with O'Neil carrying it over. Twice in the third quarter the Bamberg cadets scored with the first being called back on a penalty, but McKenzie followed through with another score. Again, in the third period, the Carlisle boys poured down the field with an invincible running game that tore the Porter line to bits to score twice, but again one touchdown was called back on a penalty. Schoepf ended the Carlisle scoring as he ripped ten yards through the line into the end zone. Porter finally got its running attack into high gear and scored on a series of line plays in the closing minutes of the game.

The success of this team could only have been achieved through the willingness and coöperation of every boy on the squad. Although there were several outstanding players, they depended upon teamwork from all. While all the boys on the team did not receive Block "C's", this is no sign that they were not in there doing their best.

The team elected Billy Norwood and "Womp Womp" McCall as co-captains, and Jerry De Luca as the most valuable player.

Block C Club

This club is composed of the men who have the privilege of wearing the "Block C." The letter award is presented to those men who have either taken an active part in the school's organized athletics, or have been cheer leaders or managers. Not every man who participates in these athletics is given a "Block C," for there are certain requirements, made by the coaches, which must be met.

Although the requirements for admittance to this group are perhaps stiffer than those of any other, the "Block C" Club's membership is well rounded having "Rats," Non-Coms, Commissioned officers, and Privates.

The Cadets are very proud of the privilege of membership in this club, because the "Block C" which they wear on their sweater is the symbol of long, hard hours of toil and sweat on the gridiron, hardwood, diamond, or in the ring.

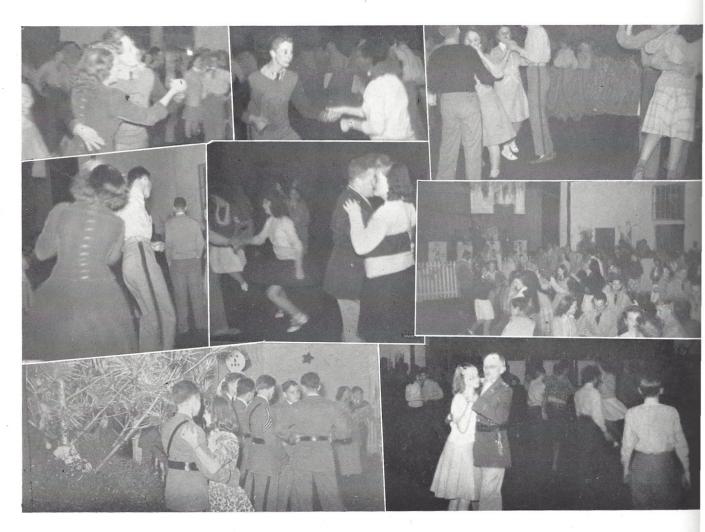

Dance

The dances this year began with a bang in the middle of October when the student body enjoyed an informal dance with music furnished by our own orchestra. Although informal, this dance was important because it was then that the new cadets were introduced to the girls of Bamberg and other nearby communities. Many lasting romances and life friendship originated at this dance.

Our Thanksgiving Day dance was sponsored by the Cross Sabre Club. The fact that on the afternoon of the same day, we triumphed over our archrival on the gridiron put us in the right mood for a good night of dancing. The splendid decorations, arranged for by the dance committee, made the gym look very attractive. The beautiful girls and the splendid dance music made this the most successful dance of the year.

Snow, although beautiful at times, was not appreciated on the night of the Christmas dance, for because of it, this dance turned out to be a near flop. After weeks of preparation by the dance committee and decorations that were considered by some to be the best ever seen at Carlisle, the dance was attended by scarcely fifty people. However, we feel safe in saying that those who did come enjoyed themselves immensely. The music, as in the other dances, was the best, being furnished by the Carlisle "Brigadiers."

Dance Committee

It may be truthfully said that the corps this year is more interested in social activities than in any other one thing. Naturally, first in these social activities are dances which are held in the school gym. These dances, although sponsored by the different school organizations, are supervised by a dance committee. This group, consisting of seven capable commissioned officers, is responsible for the success of every dance. This success is not measured in dollars and cents, for the money collected goes for the decorations and to the sponsoring club, but by the enjoyment which it brings to the cadets and their drags.

The Dance Committee's job is to decorate, finance, provide music, arrange for dates for the boys, and in general to handle all the business pertaining to the dances. We all appreciate and feel that the successful dances that we have enjoyed this year may be traced to these men.

Orchestra

Miss Billie Rice Sponsor

The student body is very proud of its fine orchestra. Equipped with their various musical talents these boys have gained the well earned reputation of being real "music makers."

The orchestra, under the direction of Capt. Rodney Padgett, plays for all of the school dances. When the curtain rings up and you hear the familiar notes of "Ciribiribin," you're in for a gala night of excellent musical entertainment. Every man in school is grateful to the "Brigadiers" for the fine work and coöperation which they have displayed throughout the year.

Christmas Furlough—Back to Civilization

When the following words are read by the adjutant in the mess hall—"The Corps of Cadets is hereby granted furlough from December 17, 1943 to January 5, 1944"—you can feel assured that there is a smile on every man's face and happiness and warmth in his heart.

This is the day that we have all looked forward to since the beginning of school—the day that we leave for three weeks and journey homeward to "Mom" and "Dad" and our "Joyces" or "Janes."

We depart in good spirits and each boy is going to his own particular version of "God's Country." We wonder if the "old home town" has changed much in the last three months, and our minds are filled with plans for those three short weeks.

When we return we'll be ready to get back into "the old grind," but now, we'll forget school and everything that pertains to it.

At last!! . . . Baby's first Xmas . . . Merry Xmas, Cap! . . . Goodbye! . . . Happy boys?

This year as in the past, the student body has its own newspaper, The Bugle. Edited by a staff of capable cadets working under the supervision of Capt. Fred Dial, who acts in the capacity of faculty adviser, the paper is a source of great enjoyment and interest to the boys.

The content of the bugle is much like that of any other school paper dealing solely with Carlisle news and featuring educational and well written editorials, acounts of athletic events, and other school activities.

We feel that a great deal of credit should be extended to the Bugle Staff for their untiring efforts to please the student body in each edition of the Bugle. Their work has been very commendable and we, the Rebel Staff, wish to express our appreciation along with that of the entire corps, to our brothers in journalism.

CARINSLE 39 WILLISTON 11

The Cadet five inaugurated the 1944 season by severely pouncing the Williston-quintet on the losers' court.

McKenzie paced the victorious Cadets with sixteen points.

CARLISLE 40 DENMARK 13

The Golden Cyclone claimed their second triumph in as many starts as they ran rough shod over Denmark on the opponents floor. McKenzie and Carlyle took scoring honors as they sank 11 and 10 points respectively from all angles on the court.

CARLISLE 44 SPRINGFIELD 17

Playing on home ground for the first time of the current season, the Cadets gave the students a real thrill as they came from behind in the second half to defeat Springfield by an overwhelming score of 44-17. McKenzie again ran wild as he tossed in 19 points to lead the scoring.

CARLISLE 24 CHARLESTON 23

In the fastest and most exciting game of the season the Golden Cyclone upset a highly touted Charleston five, before a large home crowd by a 24-23 count. The Bantams came to town boasting a 19 game winning streak, and left with their first loss in two years. McKenzie, Carlyle, and Hill accounted for all of Carlisle's points.

CARLISLE 36 SPRINGFIELD 17

The Cadets next journeyed to Springfield to humble the home team for the second time, and win their fifth straight victory, 36-17. McCall sparked the victory with his excellent floor work.

CARLISLE 30 COLUMBIA 34

Traveling to Columbia, the Cadets were upset by the Columbia Caps for their first loss of the season, 34-30. Columbia stuck quickly in the first half and took a big lead of 21-12. The Golden Cyclone rallied in the last half but the whistle cut them short and the final score stood with the Cadets trailing by 4 points.

CARLISLE 26 HAWTHORNE AIR CADETS 36

Acting as host to the Orangeburg Air Cadets the Golden Cyclone met with their second defeat of the year 36-26. With Hill scoring 10 points the Cadets led in the first period, but yielded to the height of the Aviators in the last half.

CARLISLE 46 HAWTHORNE AIR CADETS 54

Still smarting from two straight losses, the local boys traveled to Orangeburg only to drop another contest to the Air Cadets, 54-46, but the feature of the game was the performance of Lolly McKenzie as he hit the basket consistently from all angles to rack up 21 points.

CARLISLE 52 COLUMBIA 33

As a fitting climax to a brilliant home season, Carlisle put Columbia High to complete riot by a 52-33 score. McKenzie literally ran wild as he scored a grand total of 20 points. Martin, also playing beautiful ball, dropped in 13 points. The game was merely a high scoring affair for the Cadets.

CARLISLE 58 BARNWELL 30

With "The Mullins Kid" amazing the crowd with spectacular shots and Carlin's smooth ball handling, Carlisle's Golden Cyclone handed Barnwell a 58-30 walloping. High point honors went to McKenzie as he converted 8 field goals. Hill was close behind with 14 points.

CARLISLE 20 CHARLESTON 37

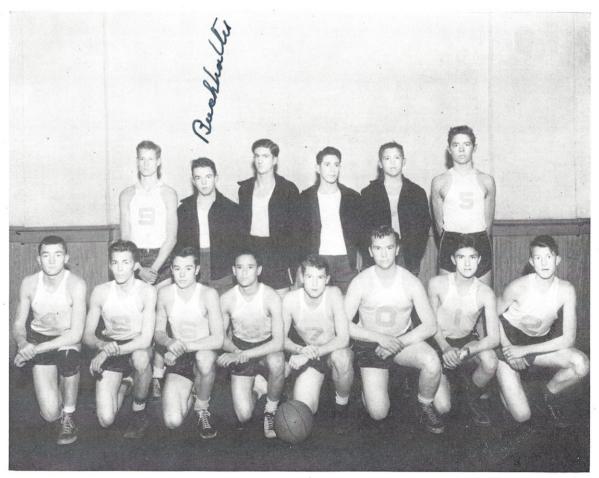

The Cadets then invaded Charleston for a clash with the high flying Charleston Bantams, but were turned back by a surprising score of 37-20. The Cadets were definitely having an off day, and the Charleston boys took advantage of this fact by using a dazzling passing attack which the Cadets were unable to stop.

CARLISLE 42 BARNWELL 20

With five first string seniors playing their last game for the black and gold of Carlisle, the Cadets romped over Barnwell for a rousing 42-20 victory. McKenzie and Carlyle, the only two lettermen on the squad, led the team with a determined passing attack. McKenzie again was the leading scorer of the game as he ran up 16 points.

The season ended with a victory over Barnwell on February 29. This year was a very successful one, being proven by the fact that our quintet defeated the Class "A" State Champions, the Charleston "Bantams."

Lolly McKenzie was elected captain and Bob Carlyle was elected co-captain.

Literary Society

Each year, Carlisle has seen steady improvement in its Literary Society, and we feel that this has certainly been its most successful one.

Perhaps the most educational and one of the most interesting organizations in school, the Literary Society affords many advantages to its members. At the meetings which are held every two weeks, the boys gain experience in public speaking, debating, constructive criticism, and open, organized discussions. Each meeting is governed by the "Laws of Parliamentary Procedure."

The faculty advisers this year are Maj. J. M. Grimes and Capt. D. A. Cromer. These men were present at the meetings, helping the Society's officers iron out difficulties Without the guidance of these advisers, we feel that the Literary Society's unquestionably successful year would not haven been possible.

Military Activities

This year in order that the cadets may have a clearer understanding and better knowledge of infantry drill, the commissioned officers have undertaken a further duty by instructing them in a complete study of military science and tactics. Military classes are held every Saturday morning after inspection for a period of forty-five minutes. The textbook used is the junior R.O.T.C. manual. This study is not limited to the regular close order drill, for since the outbreak of the war we have realized the importance of perfecting extended order drill. So it is with the fact that perhaps some day in the near future some small part of this type of drill may mean the difference between life and death on a distant battlefield that we do our best when on maneuvers. These maneuvers are the practical application of that which has been taught us in the classroom.

Dramatic Club

Under the direction of Capt. C. G. Green a Dramatics Club was founded this year. After weeks of careful planning and organizing the club chose as its stage debut "Dear Son," a three-act comedy drama. The play was a great success and the acting was exceptionally good.

The Dramatics Club furnishes the student body with good clean entertainment and we are grateful to them for their initiative and progressiveness.

The female characters in the club's plays and minstrels are portrayed by the girls of Bamberg High School whose coöperation is deeply appreciated by the entire corps.

Also, had it not been for the inexhaustible work of the stage crew under the direction and supervision of Cadet Fred Cook, the success of the Dramatics Club would have been doubtful.

Rifle Team

The rifle team is composed of the seven best marksmen in the Corps of Cadets. In previous years these men have been selected by competitive shooting, but this year, due to the shortage of ammunition, it was impossible to hold these matches. Captain Thompson chose the six men who made the highest score last year to serve on this year's team.

Our riflemen take part in various marksmanship tournaments held for Prep schools. The team last year entered the Hearst Trophy match, and while it did not win the trophy, our sharpshooters turned in a fair score. Although the war and its limitations have cut down its activities, the boys on the rifle team have enjoyed themselves and have received some beneficial experience.

Crack Platoon

The platoon was formed in the latter part of September. Many an afternoon under the boiling sun, these men drilled and strived for perfection. This organization is made up of cadets from all of the companies, who are interested in learning more about close order drill. This close order drill, although fundamentally the same as our regular drill, differs in the fact that no verbal commands are given. All of the movements are executed in unison by the silent counting of each member.

The platoon gave a demonstration of their drilling ability on the gridiron before a large crowd between halves at the Carlisle-Porter game. This demonstration did as much for the team spirit as the organized cheering of the Corps of Cadets.

In the past years, the members of the Crack Platoon have received citation cords as an honor and reward for their efforts. Due to the war's restrictions, the school has been unable to get them this year. However, the boys feel that the fact that they are a member of the platoon is honor enough.

In Carlisle, as in any other school, the Senior Class consists of the school's student leaders. We have been going to school for eleven or twelve years and have at last reached the end of our high school days.

From the day when we, with a look of bewilderment on our faces and a tingle of excitement in our blood, were led into our first classroom by our mothers, we have looked forward with great anticipation to our Senior year in high school.

On the twenty-ninth of May as we go up the aisle to receive our diplomas, the future is very undecided for most of us. Some will go on to college, some directly into the armed forces, and some back home to a job, but wherever we go we will always remember our Senior year at Carlisle.

Whether it's the Army or the Navy, his initiative, energy, and forcefulness foretell a successful future for him in the armed forces of our nation.

Lawrence Haywood Miller Wilkesboro, N. C.

"Where are you from, Mister?" "Err, sir, I'm from North Carolina, or any other place you'd like me to be from, sir." With these words, this North Carolina lad made his informal entrance into the academy. As a roommate and close friend, Lawrence will always be remembered for his comradeship and sterling character. After graduation his quiet and efficient manner is certain to bring him continued success.

When you first meet Gene you recognize him as a fellow with a ready smile and a genuine friendliness. When you work with him you realize that he is a possessor of a quiet efficiency which makes difficult problems seem simple. Although he studies hard, he still finds plenty of time to indulge in reading the latest offerings of current magazines. This is Gene—ever a gentleman and a fine roommate. He will do well in life.

BILLY BRYAN NORWOOD Oklahoma City, Okla.

Dancing, sports, and women were his hobbies, and he could handle them all with ease. This happy-go-lucky kid from Oklahoma devoted but part of his time to these pursuits; the rest he spent in total war with the Academic Department. "Billy" is an incurable romantic with love of excitement foremost in his nature. He is the type of guy that everyone likes at first sight.

Benjamin Willison O'Neil Arlington, Va.

The academic department couldn't quite catch "Benny." Their hot breath was always on his shoulders, but he, like an old track man, knew how to keep a lead. Brilliant success or dismal failure are treated alike in "Ben's" calm philosophy, but under his pleasant exterior lies a fighting Irish heart. From his personality one can see why both men and women like him. He likes both—especially the fairer sex. His cool-headed balance will certainly bring him outstanding credit some day.

ROBERT GRANT PHILLIPS Walhalla, S. C.

"Live and let live" is Bob's key to life. Always easy-going and unassuming, Bob took all the academic storms without once losing his equilibrium. A noted Red Mike, Bob has kept women off his trouble list, or he has fooled his classmates completely. Wherever he goes, whatever he does, "Bob Phillips," and "well done" will be synonymous.

WILLIAM RHETT RISHER Bamberg, S. C. hing else in his life, he will make the state of the state

If Bill never does anything else in his life, he will make a host of friends. For he was just what his soft South Carolina drawl indicated—calm, easy-going, and friendly. In his own casual manner he got things done. He was a true son of the South, one of those many rebels of which Carlisle is so full, and of which we are so justly proud. Life will never get the best of Bill, and neither will women—so he says.

WILLIAM PRESSLY SAID Columbus, Ohio

If yow wish to meet a true "Yankee" with a southern accent, the man to see is Bill. In the three years we've known him he has been a great organizer and a 1-A fellow, not only with the boys at school, but with the draft board, also. Bill's crowning achievement was to be awarded the command of the battalion, this being the dream of every cadet who has entered Carlisle. No one will ever forget his warm handclasp and flashing smile.

A true gentleman of the old South, "Jimmie" made an inspiring record at Carlisle. Standing in the top quarter of the class, he was never too busy to aid a puzzled classmate with any difficult problem. "Jimmie" was a brilliant student, a stalwart officer, and a perfect roommate. Here's to a swell fellow!

Undoubtedly, "Bob" was one of the finest fellows ever to enter the academy. His close friends admired him for his sterling character and the Corps was proud of his ability as a "bruising" center on the football team. He was a swell sport, an understanding companion, and a true gentleman. With a foundation like this, coupled with a pleasing personality, "Bob" ought to go far in life.

"Boots" came to us in the fall of '42 from his home-land of Pittsburgh. He isn't very athletic, but he stands near the top of the class in his studies. If all harsh feelings had to originate from "Boots," we assure you that this would be a world of eternal peace. Best of luck to you and we all hope to see you in the future.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

This year, the Junior Class has enrollment of seventy-five boys in comparison with forty boys of last year. It is one of the largest single classes in the school's history.

From these cadets will be chosen the battalion's officers of next year, which considering the officer material, should be a competent lot.

In the past, this class, as well as the others, under the management of the officers, has enjoyed outings at the river or Clear Pond, where surrounded by the South's beauty, they and their dates have barbecued a pig or roasted weiners, but since the war, due to the restrictions on transportation, all activities such as these have been interrupted. In place of them we have had to be content with a good basketball or baseball game. It is an honor for the Class of '44 to wish this class a successful senior year to come.

The men whose pictures you see on the following pages are the up and coming cadets at Carlisle. In the next two years these boys will develop into the school's leaders.

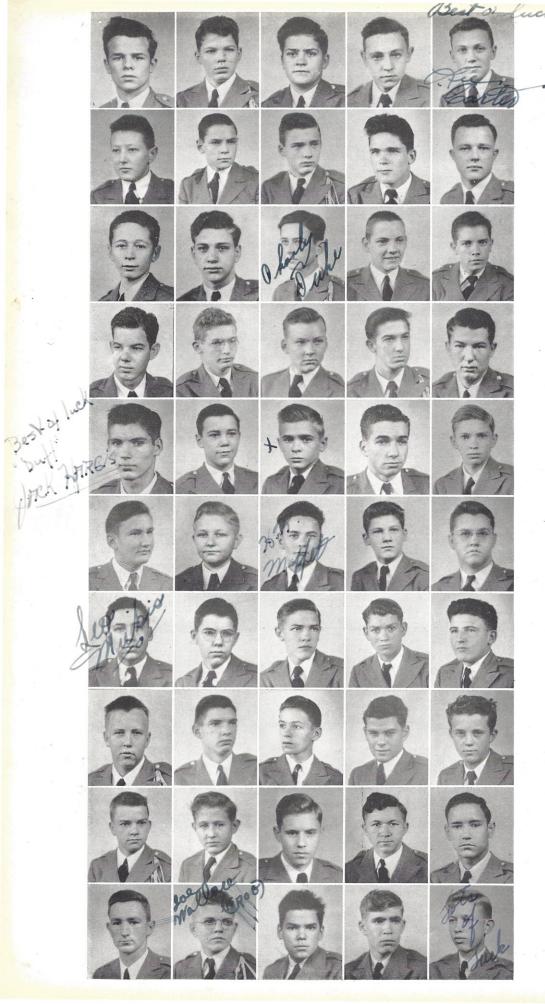

A student's sophomore year in high school is second only to his senior year in importance. It is during this year that the student begins to see himself as a definite part in the school's activities. He develops self-confidence and feels that his place in the school is fairly important.

Carlisle is proud of its sophomore class this year. Its members are independent, right-thinking men, and the majority of them show characteristics of capable leaders.

Final Exams

Although the end of the year is welcome by all, the examinations that come with it are not; which is understandable for few boys, cadets at Carlisle or elsewhere, waste any love on their scholastic work.

Our mid-term exams are hard, but these finals are—! Well, let me put it this way; if the boys had their choice between any one of these exams and a night on Guadalcanal with the Japs, they would gladly choose the latter. However, not all of the Cadets would be confronted with this problem, for if they make an average of 85 per cent or above in their work during the last semester, they are exempt from these nightmares.

There are two types of cadets that end up taking them. The first, realizing that he is not a genius, studies and does sufficient work every day so that he will not have to cram for these exams. The second type, either thinking he is a mastermind, or not caring, but in reality a fool, neglects his work and wakes up a week before exams to jam, cram, twist, and turn, trying to quench this newly aroused thirst for knowledge. To the former, we say "more power"; to the latter, we say "we can feel for you, bud, but we just can't quite reach you."

We wish to take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation to the following, without whose aid the publication of this annual would have been impossible:

Capt. D. A. Cromer, Literary Adviser, whose job it was to proof all of the copy and to help us over the rough spots in putting the annual together.

Capt. F. W. Dial, Business Adviser, who helped the business staff in financing this book.

Mr. Howard R. Jacobs, photographer, whose superb work is shown on every page of this annual.

Mr. J. H. Hardison, of the Edwards & Broughton Company, without whose technical advice and numerous suggestions, this book would not have been so successful.

Our advertisers and patrons, without whose support the large sum of money needed would have been impossible to raise.

THE STAFF.

We Appreciate Your Business.
