Color Guard

SPELL, RICHARDSON, CHESTER, JARVIS

YOUNG GENTLEMEN:

The Great Commandant of the Universe sometimes needs a good soldier in a tight spot. The difficulties and trials you now face may be His estimate of your character and ability. You cannot afford to complain or dodge the duties and responsibilities of this hour.

Yours sincerely,

JAMES F. RISHER.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of '47, at the time of retiring being supposedly of sane and sound mind, do will and bequeath the following.

ARTICLE I

To the Faculty we leave the thought of our being the best Senior Class.

ARTICLE II

To the returning cadets we leave our sympathy and hope for '48.

ARTICLE III

Sympathy does no good so we leave to the rats the board of education.

ARTICLE IV

Below are listed our individual traits, pastimes, and the beneficiaries.

Duc, Harden, and Arnold give their hot trumpets to Albrecht.

Amos leaves his "Ugly Chile" to the Eubanks brothers.

Bucettas gives the Dodgers to Manos.

Burch leaves the big Metropolis to any one who will take it.

Bell passes on his T. B. to Harrel.

Brown, H. leaves his basketballs to Baldwin.

Boyleston's personality goes to Mason.

Coffey leaves his love making ability to R. Thompson.

Cannon's unpredictable neck goes to Jack Lee.

Crosby passes on his love to Felix "Doc" Robinson.

Castelloe's radios go to Chahala.

Creel leaves his Sgt. stripes to Krasner.

Coleman bestowes upon Wingfield his "Hot Rod".

Clark wills his nick-name to Ranno.

Cuevas, O. leaves his sax to Ganci.

de La Viez gives his managing ability to Barber, T., and Carlisle.

Dunwoody entrusts Risher with the Bugle.

Dorsey gives his cards to Hunt.

Cubbedge leaves his goldey locks to Rice.

Old Man Eddy's protruding forehead goes to Heron.

Ellis leaves his Savannah women to Paulsen.

English hands the office down to Hamilton.

Foley's artistic pen goes to Porter Gibson.

Fenters puts "Little" Watson in charge of his horses.

Grim leaves his joy stick to Spink.

Green bequeaths his "all mighty history" book to Lipsman.

Garrett's long legs go to Cotton.

Heaton leaves his gridiron glory to Weatherington.

Holley, T. gives his ever lasting smile to Patrick.

Hutchinson bequeaths to Mikell the "Geechie" theory.

Harris hands his "Black" hair to Davis, T.

Hydrick leaves his ability to pull furloughs to Kinard.

Hinson leaves his "Mighty might" to McDaniels.

Harmon gives his John Deeres to Nesmith.

Howard's tool kit is returned to its rightful owner, Capt. Herbert.

Jarvis leaves his soup to Capt. Thompson.

Jones leaves his easy going ways to J. B. Jackson.

Jackson, J. W. passes on to Nic. Delorme his technique.

Martin, F. gives the steel to Windy Worril.

Mann, J. leaves the "G. I. Bill of Rights" to Hicks.

McAbee's title "Blue Boy" goes to Spell.

Massey leaves his safety pens to Watts.

Ulmer's sleepy eyes go to Barrett.

Newton's camp fire boys are in charge of Wuersch.

Norton leaves his twirling fingers to Bennett.

Parsons gives Deeter his "Golden Gloves."

Poppell leaves his job as "Post Master Gen." to Shaeffer.

Powers lets Trevallion have his "Damn Yankee" traits.

Rodgers thinks Smith, W. will be able to carry on at the air port.

Cole gives Holland back his quarters.

Snowden leaves his red hair to Cuevas, R.

Stallings, G's, ability to get sick at the time he is on furlough goes to Morris.

Sawyer's manly ways go to "Pee Wee" Lewis.

Scheetz gives Fischer the freedom of his room.

Schoonmaker, Tison, and Test give Jack Lee full charge of the local talent.

Morgan awards his stick pad to Wilkinson.

Wallace leaves his baby blue eyes to Arnsdorff.

Watson, G. teaches his snappy sabre manual to Elms.

Hobbs, H. leaves his gun to Worril.

Doubleday and du Fief leave this will to the Annual Staff to be re-written.

Prophecy

I am not a prophet nor a son of a prophet, but join me in my guess of the future. The time is '66, and the place could be anywhere.

The two of us, agents of the great Robert Scheetz Detective Agency, were on the trail of "Red" Snowden and "Decon" Jones, who had a big moonshine business down in South Carolina, the state of our old Alma Mater.

We started out the next morning in our new Cadillac Spitball. On our way down from Washington we stopped in to see our old boss McAbee who was the proud owner of a modest horse ranch in Greenville. We saw two more of our old chums there also. Fenters was a jockey, and Boylston who was one of the trainers. Watson was keeping books of the winnings.

We left the farm and traveled further south. When we reached Columbia we decided to spend the night there. When we reached the hotel we checked in with the desk clerk who was Hinson. The bellhop, Green, carried our bags up to the room. We got settled and began to wash up, but to our dismay no water. We called the manager, who was Coleman, and he sent up Howard to fix the plumbing. This was soon done and we decided to make a night of it and see if we could find some more old friends. We knew that Garrett owned a night spot called "The Fiery Furnace". We arrived just in time to hear "Stardust", the theme of "Hotlips" Harden and his fine orchestra. Cuevas, O., Duc, and Arnold were also members of this hot band, while they starred Crosby on the vocals. Bell and John Jackson were out on the floor cutting a rug. Some of the boys were throwing a party for Roy Coffey to celebrate his fifth wedding, Cubbedge was to be the best man. Test was there too, he was trying to tell Roy all about married women.

There was a fanfare from the stage and out came Jimbo du Fief and his stooge, Doubleday. Their blackface act went over well. We stopped by the bar on the way out and the bartender, Dorsey, mixed us two swell cocktails.

We got a good nights sleep at the hotel and then decided to look around a bit more before we again picked up the trail of our bootleggers. After buying a paper, we noticed an article written by Bill Dunwoody about the fine work being done by the Columbia Moral Society. Their president, Henry Eddy, had just been elected. There was also an ad for the Frank Martin laundry service. We read Joe Foley's comic strip of "Junior G-Men", it was pretty good. After reading our paper we went to a restaurant where "Daddy" Jarvis took our order in fine style. He said that he had just recently been promoted to head waiter.

When we had finished our meal, we began to walk down Main street and who do you think waved at us from a beauty parlor but Tison—he was trying a new hair-do. We passed Castelloe's radio shop and then went into Newton's clothing store. Bucettas, one of the clerks, was trying to fit "Pussy" Clark with a new sailor suit. We wandered on down past the Cole and Ulmer Camera Co., and Burch's hardware store.

We checked out of the hotel and headed deeper south. Seeing a Cub plane make a forced landing in a corn field we hurried to their assistance. It was Rogers, Bernie Wallace, and Grim. They were on their way to Florida to see Heaton who was district manager of Trans-Atlantic Air Ways. They were looking for a job.

We found out from them that Tommy Powers, Ray Parsons, and Perry were on a baseball team up north. Just then Harmon came out from a nearby farm house to chase us out of his cornfield with a shotgun.

We stopped in a small town to ask some questions and saw Poppell delivering mail. Sawyer was running a feed store and he told us some of our criminal's bootleg whiskey had been found in Orangeburg, so we went there next. When we got there we went to the Eutaw Hotel and Cannon was running the bar downstairs. We pumped him a while and he finally promised to lead us to his supply of the "stuff". We got the local sheriff, Hutchinson, and headed for Lemon Swamp to make the arrest. We shot it out for a while and then made the arrest. It hurt us to do this to our old chums, but we had to take them to jail. Holley, T., the judge gave them five years. Hobbs, H., the jailer, took them to their cell. Their mouthpiece, Creel, had failed to get them free.

We headed back north. Suddenly our peace was interrupted by a radio flash! Our culprits, with the aid of Jack Mann, had made a jailbreak. That brightened things up to know our friends were out of jail. We picked up Hydrick hitchhiking. He was a 1st Sgt. in the army. Stallings, G., was with him also. He told us he was married and lived in Savannah. Hydrick told us he had seen Vaughn who was a librarian in Miami. Amos was there too; he was managing a fighter.

We stopped back at our hotel that night and after cleaning up from the days adventure we decided to shoot some pool. Massey had a pool parlor down the street so we went there. On the way there Griffin offered us a ride in his hepped-up jalopy but it looked dangerous, so we politely declined. Brown, H., as usual was with him. He owned the motor. We changed our mind about going to the pool parlor and went to a football game instead. We arrived at the half and saw "Pete" Norton and Schoonmaker leading the band across the field. de La Viez was managing one of the teams, he had been elected All-American Manager. When the game was over we rode home with Stallings, A., and Harris. Stallings was teaching Harris to speak Spanish.

After completing our dream of the future the two of us, Blake Ellis, and Bob English, returned to our yachts and penthouses to make our second million.

Military

Under the watchful eyes of Capt. Waddy Thompson, P. M. S. & T., and Capt. W. R. Padgett, Band Director, along with the assistance of cadet officers, the Corps of Cadets has developed into a smooth functioning organization.

Our military courses, including close order drill, tactical training, and maneuvers, are varied and interesting. Although drill becomes routine we realize it is designed to develop us as leaders, and to make us better citizens.

Capt. Padgett has fitted a schedule for band members to be divided into separate groups in classrooms for individual attention as well as working in unison. Several exhibitions have been preformed by this organization at out of town happenings. We are proud of our record as best band in the state.

Sunday afternoons are set aside by many local families and visitors to review the dress parades executed by the Corp of Cadets.

The CROSS SABRE CLUB was organized this year and holds meetings every other Saturday night under the direction of the Cadet Major.

The club is composed of the twenty-one commissioned officers who take their problems and suggestions to the faculty for the betterment of the school.

Non-Commissioned Officers Club

There is no doubt that this year we have had the best group of non-commissioned officers ever in the history of Carlisle.

The boys worked well together not only in military activities, but in everything else they participated.

This NON-COMM. CLUB was well organized and many social activities sponsored by the club.

Football

The '46 football team started the season ahead this year with most of the team coming back to school a few days early. The team had very few experienced men, as most of the boys were green, but with hard practice they caught on slowly. The first game caught up with us before the inexperienced had a chance to better themselves. The football squad this year, because of so many inexperienced boys, did not come out on top. Even though they did not, there was that undefeatable spirit through the whole season. At the close of the season the boys picked "Pete" Manos the most valuable player on the team. "Pete" well-deserved this honor.

The football team would like to thank Captain E. W. Burnette for his excellent coaching and his having faith in his team even though it had a tough season.

Boxing was resumed this year after an elapse of several years while Carlisle had no instructor of this sport. Under the able coaching of Capt. G. A. Hoffman, a former boxer of the Citadel, the team began training during the month of November and will continue throughout the month of March.

The team fought some interesting bouts, in which Capt. Hoffman selected the best athletes to participate. Capt. Hoffman has devoted his spare moments to bring this outfit to perfection.

Basketball Team

CAPT. BURNETTE
Coach

The basketball team got off to a fine start this year under the instruction of Coach Burnette. With some members of last year's squad back this year and a host of new men, the team has progressed by leaps and bounds since the first practice.

With Coach Burnette's skillful guidance this year's team has proved to be one of the most successful in many years.

REBEL

I, the editor of this, the '47 REBEL, would like to take this opportunity to thank all of those persons who have helped make the publication of this book become a reality out of a vision.

My sincere thanks and appreciation go to the staff and the faculty officers for their untiring efforts in helping to prepare this material for the press.

Honor Council

One of the highest honors which can be bestowed upon a cadet is that of being selected by his rank to serve on the Honor Council. The Honor Council is composed of six cadets. The company commanders and the cadet major are automatically bestowed this honor upon achieving their rank. Capt. Thompson is the faculty advisor in this organization.

It is the duty of this group to assign judicial punishment to those cadets who by their actions have committed an offense which reflects discredit on the honor of the corps of cadets. When such a violation occurs the party is given a hearing by the Honor Council in which all evidence, testimonies, and witnesses are brought forth in order that a fair verdict may be reached. This verdict, along with punishment, is submitted to the Headmaster for approval.

This Honor Council has almost unlimited power in handling these matters; therefore this group must be made up of capable and broad-minded men of sound judgment.

(Trombone) GRIFFIN, (Trumpets) DUC, ALBREICHT, ULMER, (Drums) WILKINSON.
(Vocalist) GARDNER, (Base Fiddle) TIMMONS, (Piano) LEWIS.

Orchestra

Under the capable leadership and perseverance of Capt. W. R. Padgett, the Carlisle orchestra has been made into a smooth functioning organization. The willingness of the members to go to every performance has led to the pleasing effect of a musical background at the school dances. Coming events will unveil accomplishments still desired. When the familiar restrains of "Good-Bye" meet the ear, the outlook on a pleasant evening has cause for enlightenment.

Dance and Decorating Committee

(Seated) WALLACE, NORTON.

(Standing) EDDY, FOLEY, DUNWOODY, DORSEY, GARRET, DU FIEF, McABEE, BELL.

The highlight of Carlisle's social activities is the dances. These are held approximately every three weeks. They are sponsored and directed by the dance committee.

Dances are a form of recreation that a school of this type needs, as it helps add to the spirit, morale, and social culture.

The majority of our dances this year were a great success. We hope that next year's dance committee will be as successful as we were in planning dances and showing every one a good time while he attended them.

(Third row) GARRETT, MEHAFFEY, CRUIT.

The James M. Grimes Literary Society is composed of twenty-five selected cadets who are interested in literary dealings and public speaking.

Each Monday night the members of this society meet and make oral book reports, have debates, and give extemporaneous speeches on subjects designated by the president.

The officers are: Gregory Watson, president; Jack Crosby, vice-president; "Red" Richardson, secretary-treasurer; Johnny Ulmer and Robert Garrett, critics; and Dick Wilkinson and Edward Mehaffey, censors.

BUGLE

The editor and the staff of this year's "Bugle" take this opportunity to thank the faculty and the corps of cadets for the untiring efforts they have put forth in making this year's paper a success.

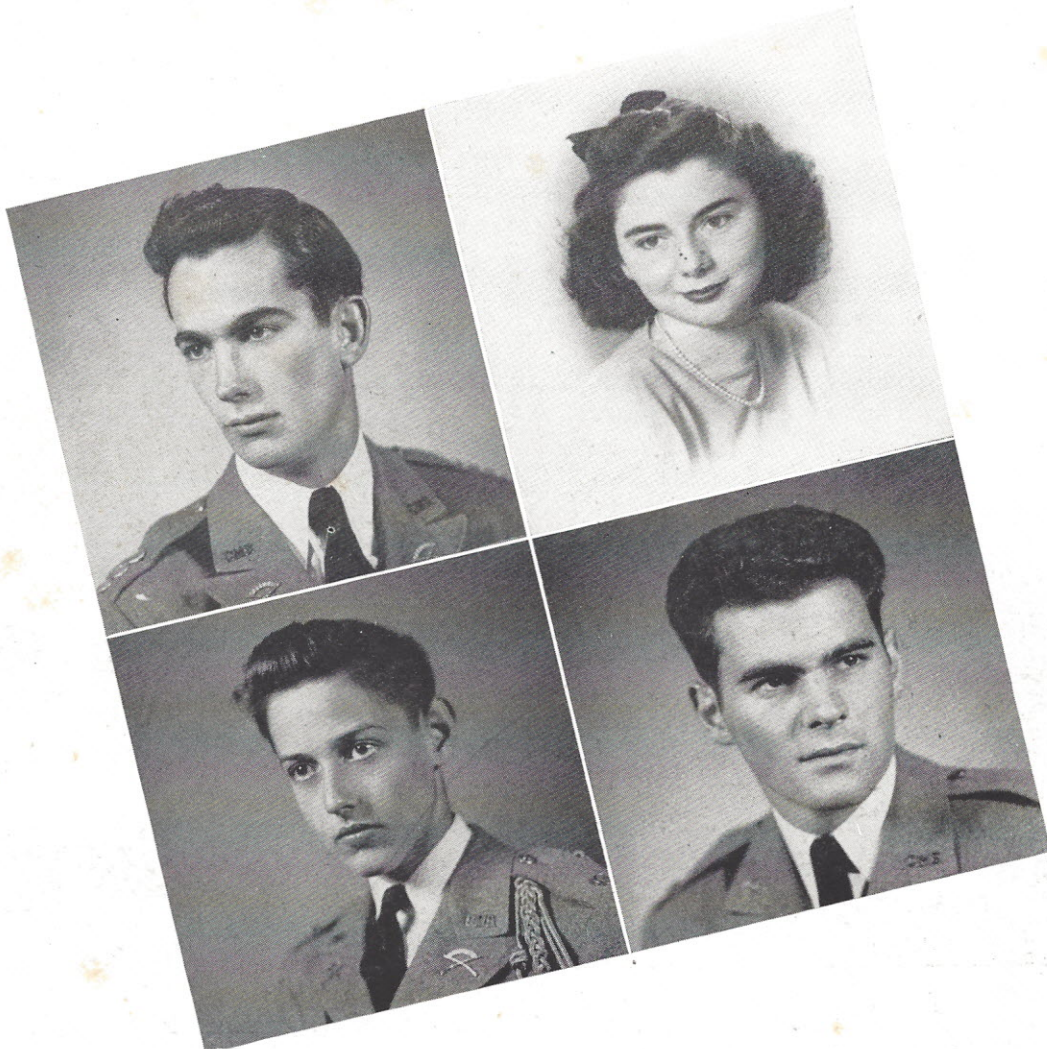

The Carlisle "Bugle" was a comparatively small organization at the beginning of school, but gradually worked into the smooth functioning group it is now. We have been kept quite busy trying to keep the cadet corps well informed on the happenings around school.

CAPT. CROMER, HEATON, TEST, BLACK, SMITH, W., SPINK, MARTIN, F., WALLACE, DAVIS, T. G., CARLISLE, DU FIEF.

Although the Flight Club is one of the younger clubs of Carlisle and few in number, under the guidanc of Capt. Cromer it has made a very outstanding record. In addition to having a good many Student Licenses awarded to cadets, several private licenses have been given.

Glee Club

(First row) BATLEY, COTTON, CREEL, CUEVAS, R., HINSON, WALLACE, FENTERS, WARD.

Under the direction of Captain Cromer and with the wholehearted co-operation of the cadets, the Carlisle Glee Club was organized this year.

The cadets sang in many of the churches on different occasions, they also sang many Christmas carols before they went home for the holidays.

The Glee Club has taken many steps to improve the musical world around school, and it is hoped that it will not only improve in ability, but also in popularity.
