OUR HEADMASTER

YOUNG GENTLEMEN:

Life is a matter of salesmanship. We must have a worthy self and sell that before we can sell anything we have.

Yours sincerely,

JAMES F. RISHER.

FOREWORD

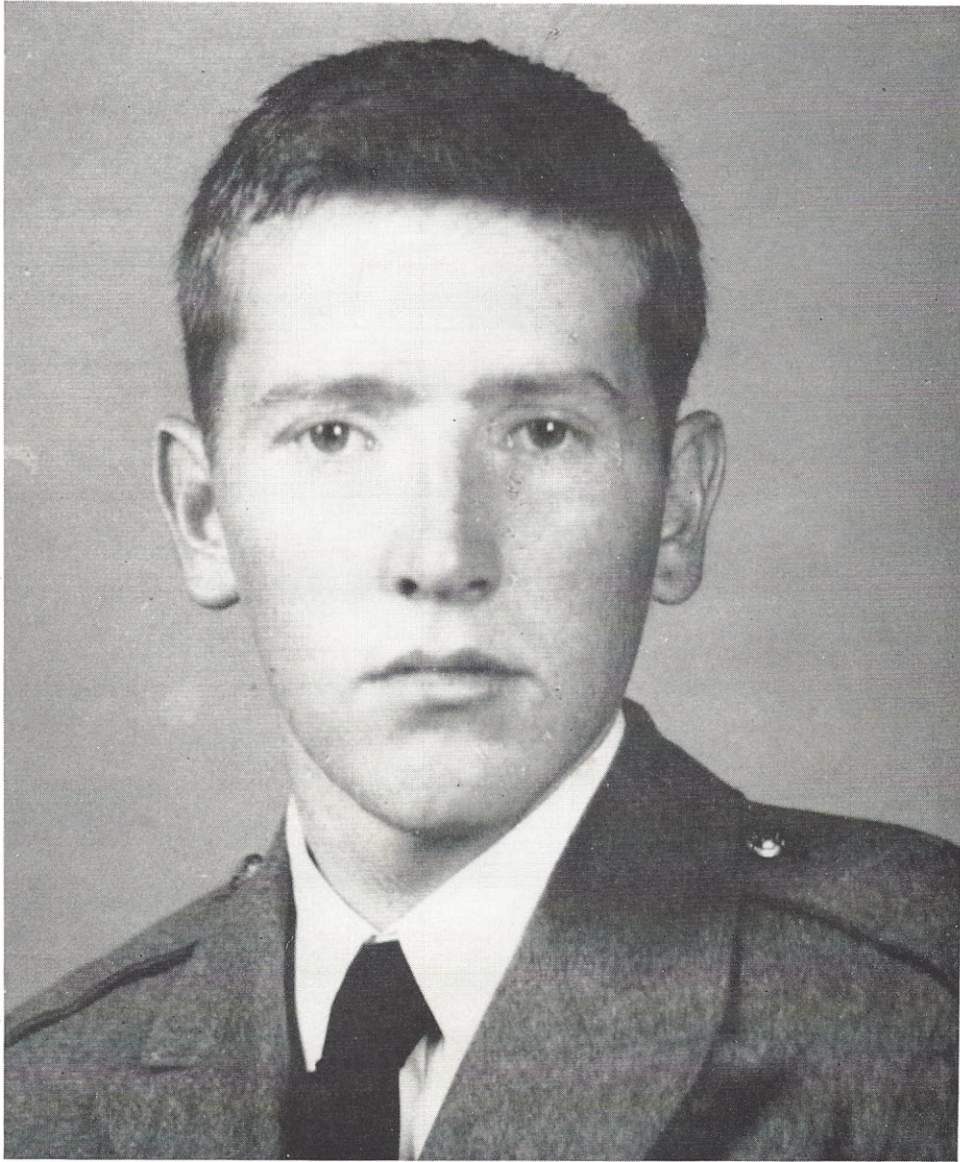

As you observe the following pages, the contents will acquaint you with the Carlisle Cadet—his life, his achievement, and the activities in which he participates.

While the eternal march of time continues to unknown and unheeded boundaries, the destiny of the world is in doubt with the oppressing forces of the rapidly advancing frontier of communism challenging the forces of freedom in our democracy to an inevitable conflict. If liberty is to survive from this forthcoming menace, our strength must be multiplied to new and greater heights in science, faith in God, and the development of true men. Military training will provide the character of men needed in this ultimate task.

The staff of the 1951 REBEL has earnestly attempted to present to you a yearbook of outstanding quality. It has been our privilege and honor to edit this annual for your pleasure and evaluation.

In Memoriam

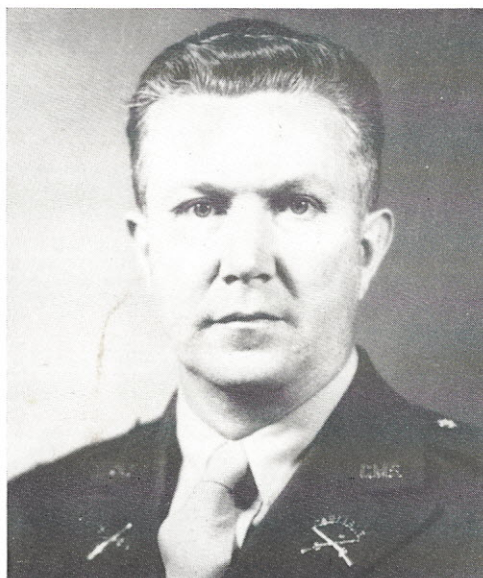

CADET RICHARD THREATT

LANCASTER, SOUTH CAROLINA

JUNE 12, 1933 - JUNE 12, 1950

Cadet Threatt was a corporal in the corps of cadets, a striving member of the Sophomore class, and well liked by all.

MAJOR JAMES M. GRIMES
Commandant of Cadets
 A.B., Wofford College
Instructor of History and Mathematics
 At Carlisle 16 years

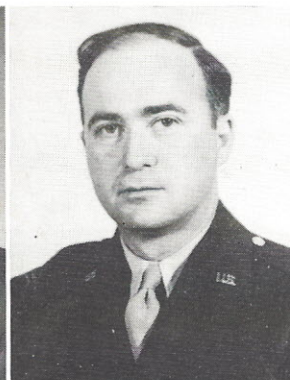

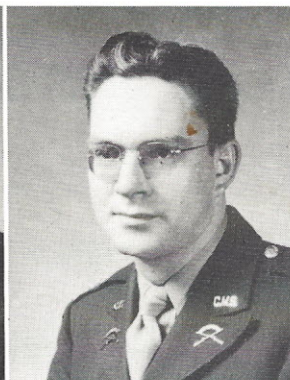

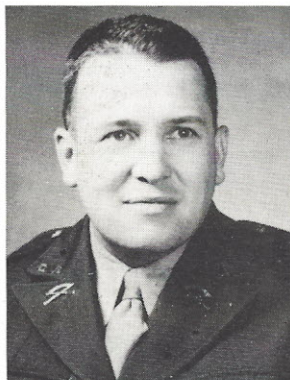

Every faculty officer is more to the cadets than a superior. He is a trusted friend who will render his assistance whenever necessary. Opinions and ideals that are formed by his teachings cannot easily be diverted or misled. His companionship and moral support have proven to be invaluable to us in our sojourn at Carlisle.

Battalion

Under the supervision of Captain Waddy Thompson, P. M. S. & T., and Captain William Scaffé, Band Director, the cadet corps has developed into a well-disciplined, self-relying organization.

With seldom interference, the battalion has one hour of drill each weekday, in addition to a rigorous inspection of barracks and personal appearance on Saturday morning. In the form of intricate drill exhibitions on Sunday, the cadets display skill and co-ordination before parents and friends. Twice weekly the cadets receive class instruction in extensive fundamental principles and counter-parts of Military Science.

The military training that the student body has acquired during the course of this year will undoubtedly be of future value.

Honor Council

One of the most reputable organizations on the C. M. S. campus is the Honor Council, which is composed of the Cadet Major, the Captain Adjutant, the Company Commanders, and Captain Thompson, faculty advisor.

This judicial committee governs the decision for punishment of a cadet who has been accused of an offense circumstantially of serious origin. All evidence and witnesses pertaining to the case are brought before the council for their consideration and a verdict is then submitted to the Headmaster for approval.

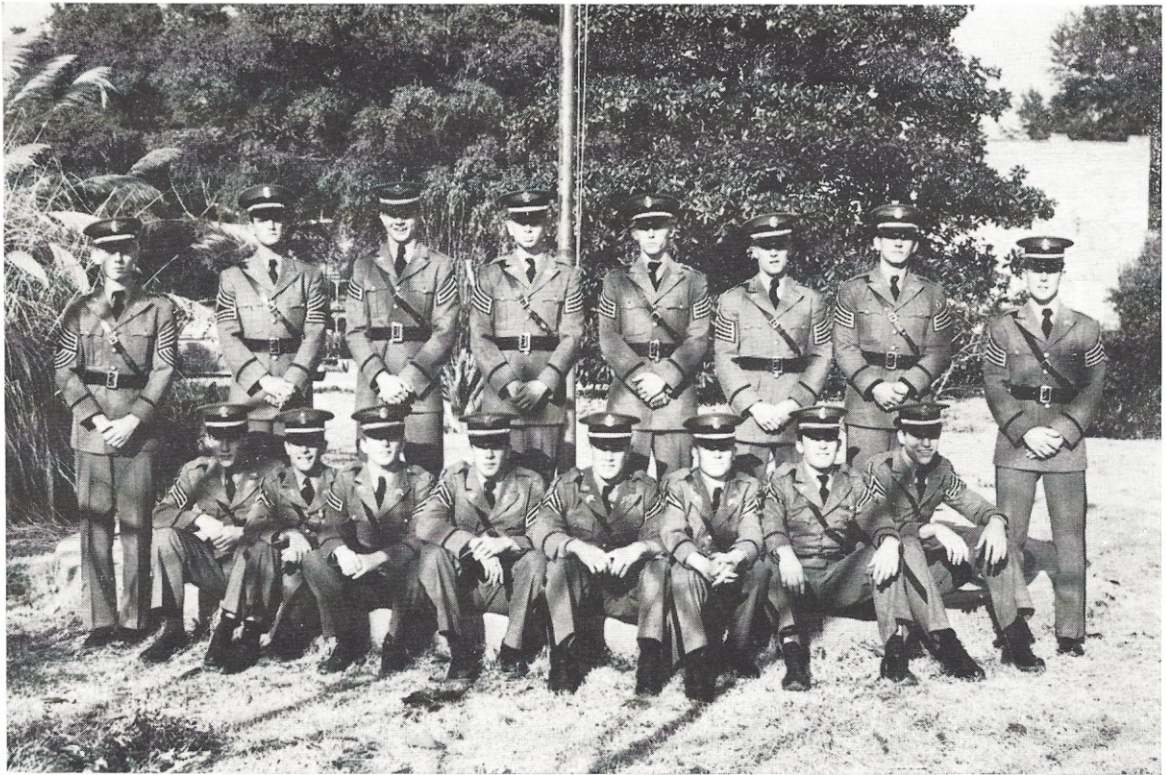

Since this council possesses unlimited authority in the expediency of these matters, it is essential that the members represented have the qualities of capability and intelligence.

Cross Saber Club

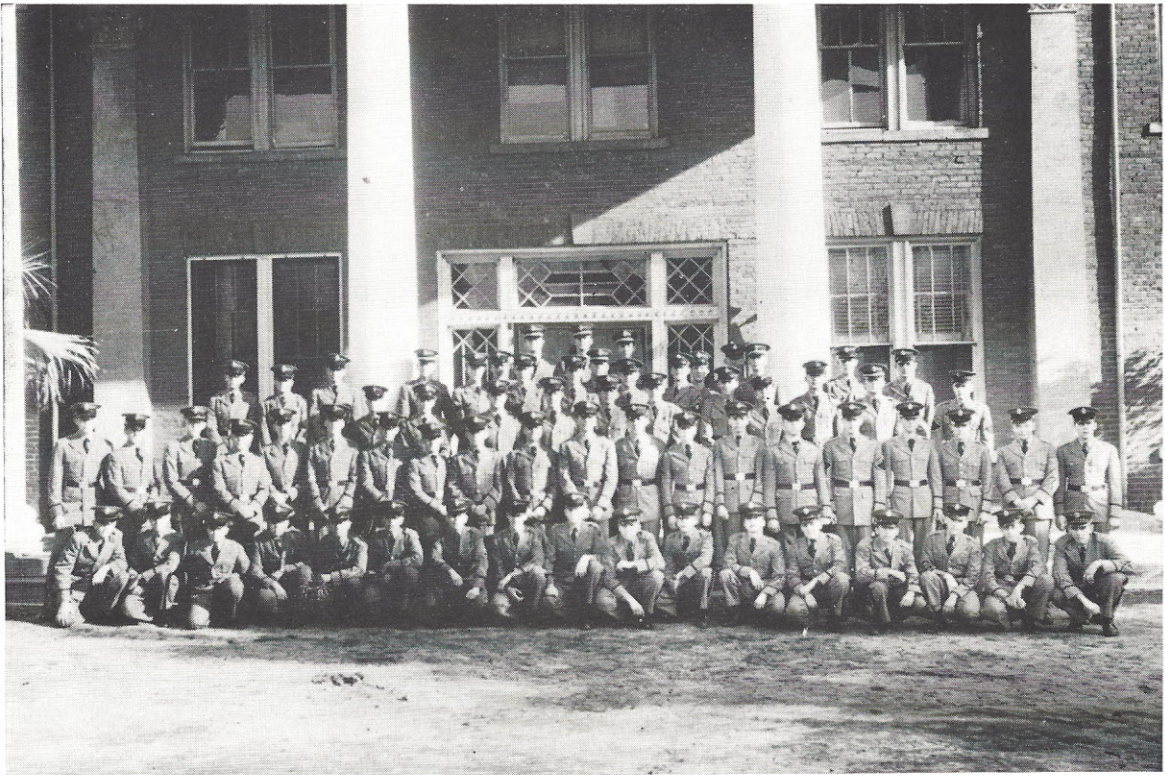

Honor, loyalty, and tradition outline the basis of the oldest organization at Carlisle, the Cross Saber Club. Membership in this club is limited to the Commissioned Officers who attain the qualities needed in the unwavering struggle to train and discipline the battalion. On the judgment and ability of these men depends the success or failure of the cadet corps. The military efficiency of the school is dependent upon these officers who have been competitively selected on their merit and ingenuity.

Non Comm Club

Excluding the Commissioned Officers, the remaining responsibility is distributed among the members of the Non-Commissioned Officers' Club. These men are blended throughout the cadet corps to set an example of discipline and to rectify any transgression of the rules and regulations established by the school. Chosen on character and dependability, they represent the backbone of the battalion.

To the men that went and will go from a Carlisle uniform into the Armed Forces of our country to protect our most esteemed heritage, Liberty, we ask only that they may not be sacrificed in vain.

Dedication To The Seniors

As the short rôle of life is enacted, only time will unravel the hardships to overcome and the successes to attain. When our existence on this earth is almost complete, we will then realize and appreciate the value of the following poem which expresses the morality of life in seemingly immortal words.

If you can keep your head when all about you,
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you,
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too,
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise:

If you can dream—and not make dreams your master;
If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim,
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster
And treat those two impostors just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you give your life to, broken,
And stoop and build 'em up with worn-out tools:

If you can make one heap of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you
Except the will which says to them: "Hold on!"

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with Kings—nor lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And—which is more—you'll be a man, my son!

In a dark laboratory on a foreboding cliff overlooking the stormy waters of the North Atlantic, preparations are almost complete for Experiment X; the transformation of brain cells into the future. As zero hour approaches, nuclear physicists Bob Velebny and Dick Iseley discover that they lack a human brain for the experiment. Dispatching their two notorious henchmen, Charlie Potts and Jerry Jester, they instruct them to obtain the "guinea pig." This is accomplished with all possible haste. After the disposal of the body, the brain is chemically treated and energized. The metallic clicking of the xtronoscope is plainly audible as the brain slowly disintegrates . . . three . . . two . . . one . . . zero . . . oblivion.

APRIL 3, 1954, UNITED PRESS BULLETIN, POSITION UNDISCLOSED: "American troops and equipment are massing for the first major offensive against communism, the drive that will lead through Manchuria with the eventual destination . . . Moscow." As you have probably guessed, I am a war correspondent. My name? That's not important. My job? To cover all military operations in this area. In my type of work I come in contact with many courageous and outstanding fighting units. The most unusual group of men that I have ever encountered is the unit I am covering now. Here is my proof.

Blaine Baradel, the rear admiral in charge of the USS Longhorn, is running wildly about the poop deck, swearing luridly at his Chief Petty Officer, Dean Gillikin. The boatswain, Moe McCredie, has just piped "Battle stations". The deck immediately becomes an entangled mass of scurrying sailors, each attempting to reach his post. In the resulting chaos, swabbies Billy Bennett and Donald Klein, while mopping the deck, happen to see their reflections in the water and quickly pull out combs. Ramis Solares and Perdomo are studying their Spanish-American dictionary, trying to decide what the word "FIRE" means. The ammunition bearers, Jimmy Mitchell and Red Threatt, are both hustling madly around bumming 12-inch shells. Crazy Steve is out with his navigator, Bull Cope, in a small dory which has already sunk three enemy destroyers. The signalman of the USS Longhorn, Pat Smith, is sending a code to Wings Garner on the aircraft carrier USS Lucy, commanded by Jack Fentress. Casey Stengel, minus his glasses, comes blundering on to the flight deck followed by Donald Newton with the usual shovel in his possession. The aviators, rather than listen to another tall tale, climb into their jets for immediate departure. Once up in the blue, the pilots, Ray Wales, Buck Buchanan, and Bud Pate head for the Kremlin with a special present for Uncle Joe. In the lead bomber, Billy Fogle and Bobby Lee Curry are having a discussion over diets and optional illusions. Walter West, the bombardier, is calmly sitting on an A bomb studying a book titled "How to Impress Girls." Poolshark Buffkin and Austin Jackson are betting on who was the best puller four years ago at Carlisle. As the planes approach the target area, Norman Powell gives the order "Clear Bomb-Bays." As the order "Bombs Away" is given, Greasy Heos tumbles out with the load. Squirtz Wertzenburger laughs sarcastically and blows taps. Seeing an enemy plane, Spooks Cuevas draws his shining new saber which Eddie Rice has just finished polishing and prepares for combat. Meanwhile, the new Navy transports, perfected by Little Risher, are flying at supersonic speeds to reach their goal with a cargo of men and supplies. Under the command of Albino Fox, these paratroopers are carefully instructed to open their parachutes when they jump. Contrary to the Flight Officer's explicit orders, Go Hard Gerhard, in his perpetually befuddled state of mind, jumps without his 'chute. Zoombie Brearley and Frank Radsprinter hit the ground, discard their parachutes and begin searching for the infantry unit in the area. The first "thing" that they meet is Eddy Paetzel feeding Colonel Jennings' dog. The Colonel's aide, Ollie Seabrook, rushes back to headquarters with the news of reinforcements. The barracks are in a pitiful state of confusion. Rubberneck Hemminger, reading about his ideal, Plastic Man, is being constantly annoyed by Bill Fincher who has just perfected a new card trick. Outside, several shots are heard. The new Bazookabooka tank, guided by gyroscopic controls and invented by Richard Russo, is starting off after an apparent enemy. Frank Lawrence, doing his utmost to avoid all pigs, living or dead, peers out of the Bazookabooka at a pair of feet and a head protruding from a mudpuddle. It appears to be L. A. Krell taking his afternoon snooze. Frank Garrett, who is in hot pursuit of what he thinks is a new species of Wabbit, is just in time to save Flake Cooper from a most horrible fate, succumbing to the charms of a voluptuous blonde. Larry Kinard is fighting, not with the enemy but with Dave Skelton, over a most prized possession, a copy of "Cyclops," the Private Eye. While all this is going on, Mac McMillan, who thinks that it is a mail order catalog, decides to confiscate it so he can send away for a pair of genuine Skipalong Hotspurs' chrome cap pistols. Bob Fountain is the only one who has taken this war seriously; he has taken on the impossible feat of ascertaining the enemy's losses. As the din of battle subsides and the sun sinks slowly in the East, the bellowing of Claude Lessig and Smith Hinnant trying to yodel is heard.

Prophecy

I think you are convinced that my story is authentic. As the troops and equipment move on, I must move on with them. As I said before, my job is to cover all military operations in my area. How can I tell you this story? You see, I was the result of Experiment X . . . I was the human "guinea pig."

Last Will And Testament

We, the Class of '51, supposedly of sound mind, do make this last will and testament:

ARTICLE I

To the Colonel we leave our most sincere appreciation for his devoted guidance.

ARTICLE II

To the faculty we leave the memories of a good Senior Class?

ARTICLE III

To the unfortunate underclassmen we leave our most cherished possessions and traits:

BLAINE BARADEL wills his dynamic personality to Leon Hart.

BILLY BENNETT leaves his ability to pull special leave to Perry Wilson.

"ZOOMBIE" BREARLEY leaves his books and teachers to Charley Feijoo.

JAMES BRITAIN wills the Denmark girls to Ed Steele and hopes that he finds one that will suit him.

"BROMO" BROWN leaves his way of pulling furloughs to Charles Wallace.

"BUCK" BUCHANAN leaves his eyebrows to Jimmy Swindell.

EDWIN BUFFKIN wills his wavy hair to Strickland.

FLAKE COOPER leaves his seat on the football bench to Burnet Sires.

SHELDON BULL COPE leaves his love for A Company to Oscar Pipkins.

EDWIN CUEVAS wills his love for the Bamberg girls to Billy McCord.

BOBBY CURRY leaves his 20-20 vision to "Stinky" Guest.

JACK FENTRESS wills his ability to get his large reports down to little ones.

BILL FINCHER leaves his strong dislike for grits to Sonnans-tine and Arn.

BILLY FOGLE wills his first Sergeant to that sparkling young private, Simpson.

BOB FOUNTAIN wills his quiet ways and good soldiering ability to Bill Schenck.

"ALBINO" FOX leaves his efficiency to Charlie Swindell.

LONNIE FRYE leaves his football ability to Ed Steele.

"WINGS" GARNER wills his Confederate Flag to Arn.

"WABBIT" GARRETT wills his wabbit ways to anybody who will have them.

RICHARD GERHARD leaves his big feet to Jimmy Reid.

"RUBBERNECK" HEMMINGER leaves Carol Brandenburg and the ability to stretch his neck to Sterne Bolte.

ROBERT HEOS wills all of his love "affairs" to John Waldron.

SMITTY HINNANT leaves to Nick Tucker his attraction for the Bamberg girls.

STEVE HODGKIN wills his love for beauty to everybody.

JACKSON A. wills his P.F.C. to Strickland.

"PAT" JENNINGS wills his ability to pull furloughs to "Monkey" Davis.

JERRY JESTER and CHARLIE POTTS will their apartment to Guest and Bryson.

"CUZ" KINARD leaves all the Bamberg girls to the less-fortunate cadets.

DONALD KLEIN and BILL PARKER leave their trips to Orangeburg to anybody who isn't afraid of six weeks.

L. A. KRELL wills "booger-snook" to Sam Slaughter.

"PIGGIE" LAWRENCE wills to Magee his chevrons and a few extra pounds.

BERLE LESSIG wills to Roger Lowery and Dick Magee his two greatest pleasures in life: beautiful women and hillbilly music.

"MOE" MCCREDIE leaves everything he has to anybody who wants it.

"MAC" McMILLAN wills his post office and ability to navigate to Grantham.

BILL MASON leaves his old saying "You can't win for losing" to Dee Deal.

"QUINCY" MOORER wills to Lowery his beloved physics book.

DONALD NEWTON wills his "zebra stripes" to Matheson.

"EDDIE" PAETZEL leaves his old love letters to Ivie.

"BUD" PATE leaves his baton to Harold West.

ANDREW PEEPLES leaves his smart appearance to Captain Patton.

"BEAK" PERDOMO wills his nose to Sirven.

FRANK RADSPINNER wills his true love, Francis, to Oscar Pipkins.

"TEDDY BEAR" REED wills his height to "Shorty" Price, but he doesn't think he can spare very much.

EDDIE RICE leaves all the extra milk he can drink to David Waldrop.

JULIUS RISHER leaves his guidon to Cecil DuRant.

Russo wills to Eckstein his Anti-Rebel attitude.

OLIVER SEABROOK leaves to Nick Tucker his ability to pull special leave.

ELUM SHUFORD wills to Dee Deal his "breaking barracks" ability.

DAVE SKELTON wills to Alan Rozon his "Romeo" ways.

BOB SMITH wills his knowledge of College Algebra to Alan Rozon.

RAMIRO SOLARES leaves his good looks to Jimmy Hunter.

"CASEY" STENGEL leaves his seat on the football bench to Grantham.

"RED" THREATT wills his ability to control his temper to Wilber Thompson.

BOB VELEBNY wills all the luck he can give to Allen Driggers with Judy.

RAY WALES wills all the impossibilities to Norman Thomas.

FRED WATERHOUSE leaves his pet monkey to Capt. and Mrs. Thompson.

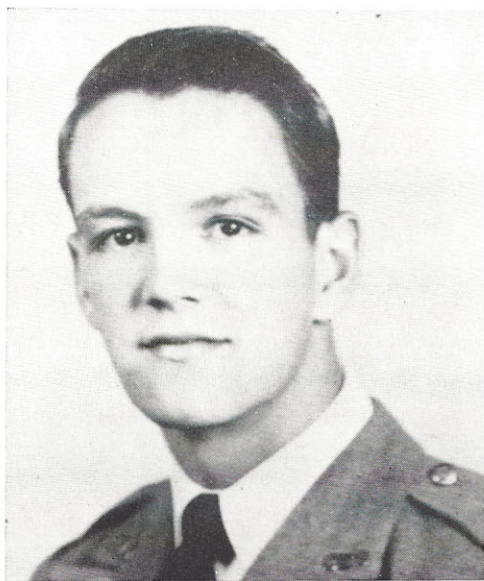

WALTER WEST wills his privilege of "rapping on the greasy greek" to Burnet Sires.

Publication of a yearbook cannot be accomplished without the qualities of interest and ambition as it necessitates unflinching preciseness throughout. Accessible limits of edition can be attained only when perseverance and steadfastness are employed.

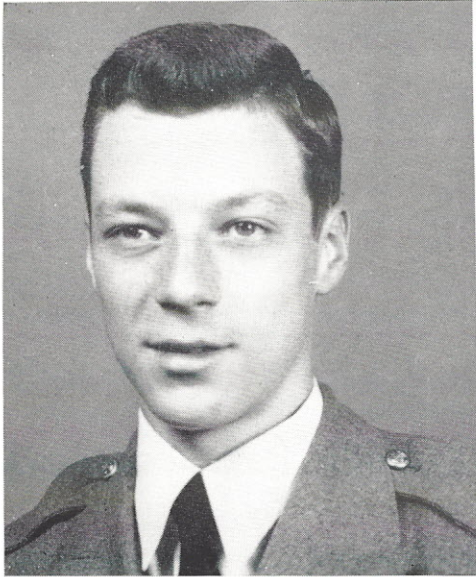

As editor of this, the 1951 REBEL, I would like to express my full gratification to my staff for their unceasing efforts in the adaption of this material for the press.

ROBERT VELEBNY,
Editor-in-Chief.

Edited by James McCredie, the official news unit of Carlisle Military School has displayed decided improvement in literary capacity. Throughout this year the staff has endeavored in each issue to thoroughly cover every phase of cadet activity.

The editors of the Carlisle Bugle wish to express their pleasure in its publication and sincerely hope that the student body has enjoyed receiving and reading its contents.

Literary Society

PAETZEL
President

The James M. Grimes Literary Society, under the capable guidance of Capt. M. Carson Sturgeon, has again this year shown that the literary field plays an important part in that school curriculum. The object of the society is to broaden the minds of the members in public speaking, debating, and in compositionary fields.

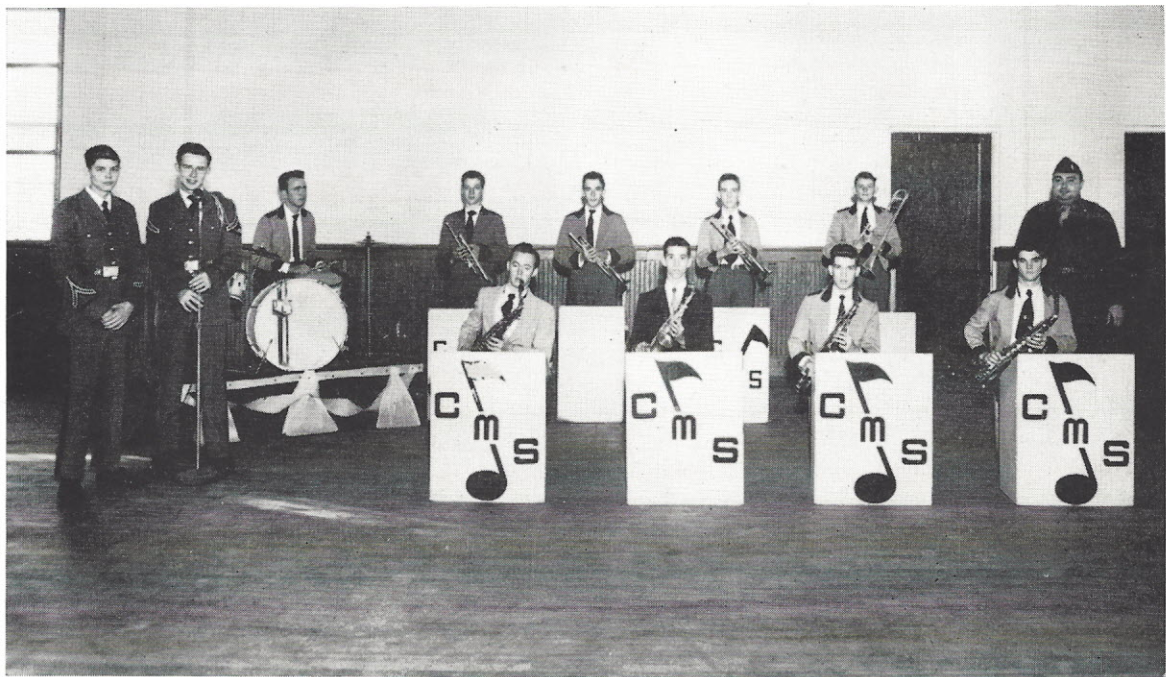

Seated, Left to Right: WALES, FENTRESS, ISELEY, Vice-President; PAETZEL, President; FINCHER, Secretary-Treasurer; BROWN, REID. Standing, First Row: DUCKWORTH, BRASINGTON, SWINDELL, J. F., CLARK, BROWN, R. R., SMITH, O. G., BOLTE, PIPKINS, SMITH, H., BROWN, M. E., SUMMEY, ROGERS. Standing, Second Row: GRIFFIN, PATE, IVIE, ARN.

Orchestra

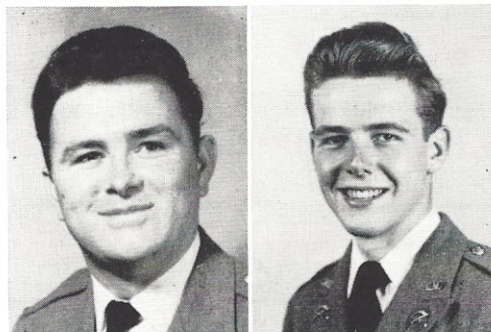

McCREDIE
Student Leader

The Carlisle Dance Orchestra performs for the formal and informal dances held throughout the year, providing delightful entertainment for the faculty and visitors as well as the cadets. Successful dances could never be accomplished without the co-operation of the "Brigadiers." Frequently they are invited to play for various outside engagements, demonstrating their ability as capable musicians.

Managers: FINCHER, BROWN, R. R. Saxes: HIERS, STRICKLAND, CLARK, BOATWRIGHT. Band Director: CAPT. SCAFFE.
Drums: COBLE. Trumpets: McCREDIE, FENTRESS, HENDRIX. Trombone: WILSON.

Dance Committee

ISELEY
Co-Chairman

The highlight of Carlisle's social activities are the dances, which provide entertainment for the cadets throughout the year. They are a form of recreation that is channelled to develop spirit and social culture. It is the aim of the Dance Committee to introduce and improve the variety of the school dances so as to advance attendance and expand the rhythmic skill of the cadet corps. In the course of this year, this committee has maintained a quality of dances that are worthy of our highest commendation.

The Block "C" Club has been formed for the purpose of distinguishing the outstanding men in their respective fields of athletic endeavor. Membership in this club is limited to those cadets who have earned a varsity letter in one or more of the four major sports that constitute the athletic agenda. Unlike the other organizations at Carlisle, the entrant must undergo a strict initiation before he is guaranteed membership.

This club acts as sponsor for the various dances and intramural athletic events among its prevalent social functions. The highlight of the club's yearly schedule is the annual banquet which is held in luxurious splendor.

The Golden Cyclone of Carlisle lived up to its pre-season expectations by completing the 1950 football schedule undefeated. The Cadets played decisive ball, clean, but hard; like the game should be played. Running from the single-wing plus the Notre Dame "T" formation, the gridders were soon molded into a smooth-functioning team.

Under the watchful eyes of coaches Burnette, Burch, and Eargle, the Cyclones of 1950 will long be remembered at Carlisle, as well as by those who attended their games throughout the autumn.

CARLISLE 6 NORTH AUGUSTA 6

The cadets opened the season with a high-spirited North Augusta 11 on the latter's field the 29 of September. Playing on a muddy, slippery field, which made fumbles frequent, the Cyclones could never get in high gear, and had to leave with a draw from the Georgia boys.

CARLISLE 13 CHESTER 13

When the Golden Cyclones invaded the Red Cyclones of Chester, spectators agreed the teams were well matched. With both teams battling from goal to goal, and with savage blocking and tackling shown by the contestants, the ball game terminated with undecided superiority.

CARLISLE 20 BATESBURG-LEESVILLE 0

Carlisle took an early lead and was never threatened by the Yellow Jackets from B.-L. Playing their first home game of the season, the Burnetemen put on a superb display of running, passing, and tackling, which was vastly superior to that of their opponents.

CARLISLE 48 BISHOP ENGLAND 0

Continuing their rampage, the Cyclones breezed through the "Geechies" from Charleston with little difficulty. Making their second home appearance, the Carlisle gridders kept the scorekeeper busy, scoring twice in three periods and once in the fourth.

CARLISLE 24 CATHOLIC HIGH 0

Showing a fast running attack, the Cadets stymied their adversaries with three quick T. D.'s before the Green Wave could turn around. The 24-point margin broke the back of Catholic High and they never threatened to cross Carlisle's well-guarded goal.

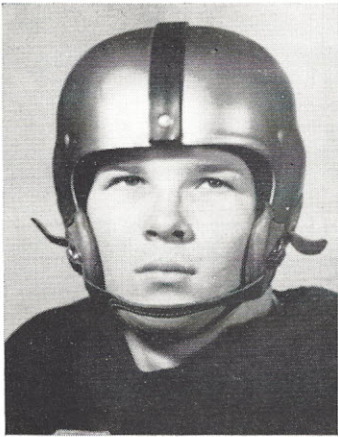

CARLISLE 7 GREENWOOD 6

Playing the entire game in a continuous downpour, the Cyclones defeated a game but outclassed Emerald 11 on the latter's field. Both teams played heads-up ball, but the one-point margin held by the Cadets was all that was needed for another victory.

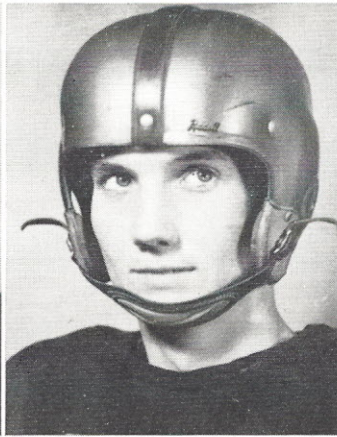

CARLISLE 34 PORTER 0

Moving to Charleston where they encountered their traditional rival, Porter Military Academy's Purple Cyclone, the Golden Cyclone unleashed a terrific scoring punch that was unparalleled. Traversing the field five times to paydirt, the Carlisle 11 kept the schools record untarnished.

With the return of five lettermen, the Carlisle "Pivoteers" have been synchronized into a hard-hitting basketball squad. Although the teamwork which they show is partly attributed to experience, a large amount of credit is due to Coach Marvin Gault for his skill with the players.

The Carlisle five, unanimously supported by the corps of cadets, has displayed true fighting spirit and admirable sportsmanship.

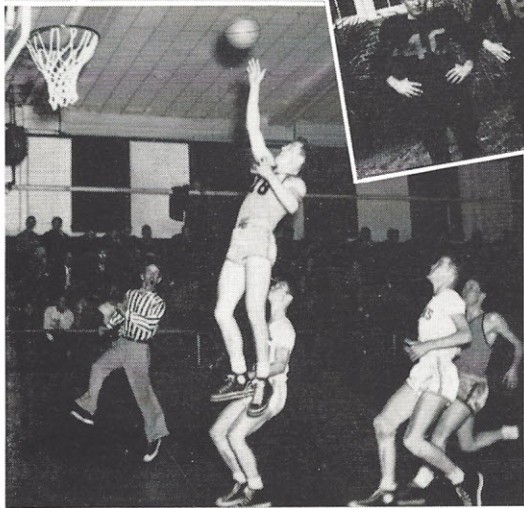

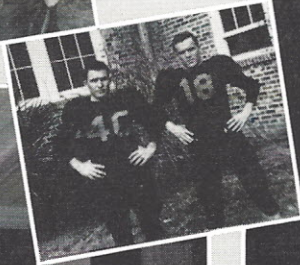

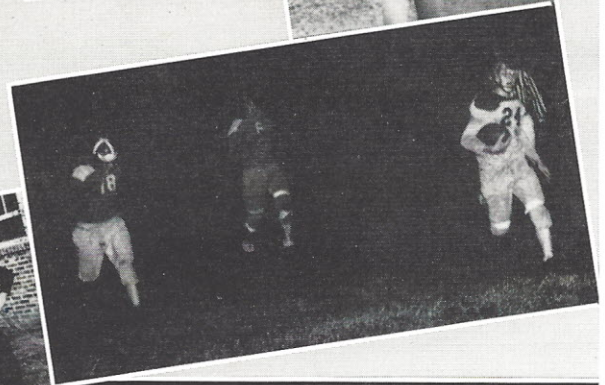

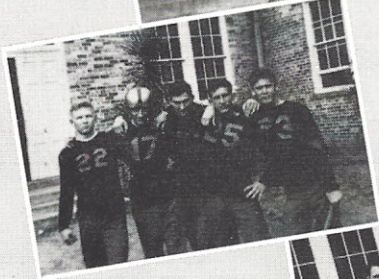

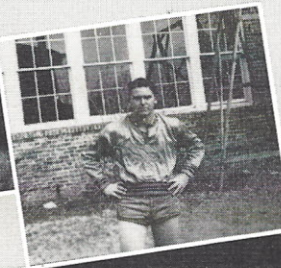

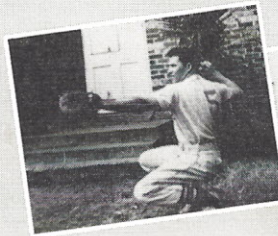

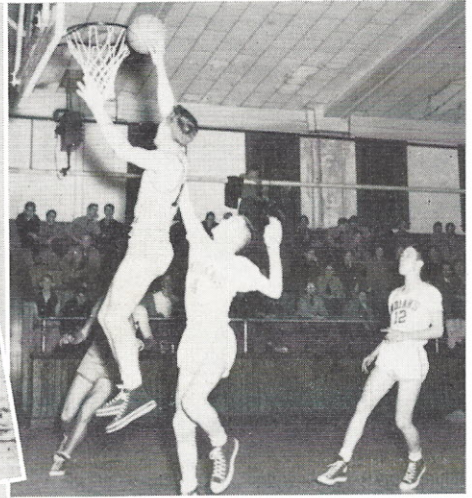

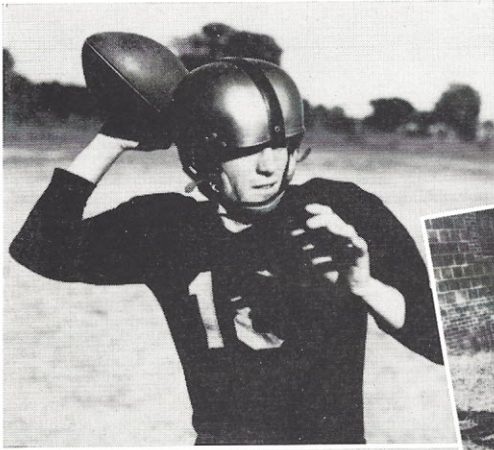

Baseball

1949-1950

Spring comes, and along with it the opening of Carlisle's baseball season. As this yearbook is printed before the athletic events of the year are complete, a photograph of the team is unavailable.

From the preceding baseball season the returning diamondmen are Jerry Jester, Charlie Potts, and Jimmy Mitchell in the infield and Bob McCully in the outfield. With the newcomers, this year's team should be as successful as the last.
