FOREWORD

This year, as in the past, we once again have tried to present to you, the readers of our '53 REBEL, a clear and precise picture of the Carlisle cadet, his routine of duty, and various outside interests and activities. These, along with the cadet's moments of leisure time, mold his life and character into one full and abundant, fitting in all phases of human life.

As you turn the pages of this yearbook, we, the annual staff of 1953, sincerely hope that what you see before you will be of lasting interest and enjoyment, thus fulfilling our endeavors and achievements.

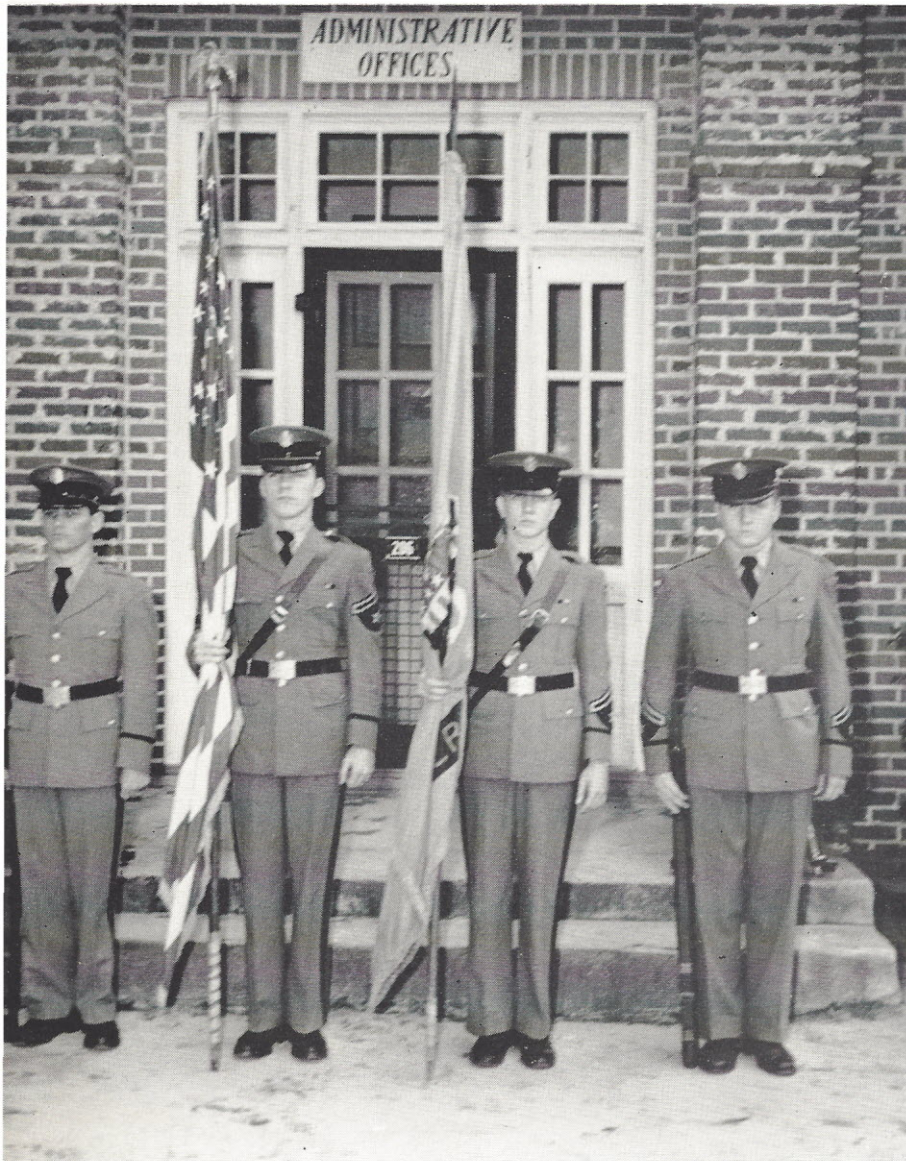

OUR HEADMASTER

YOUNG GENTLEMEN:

BELIEF IN GOD IS THE FOUNDATION OF HUMAN SUCCESS. IT ENABLES US TO SERVE GLADLY, LEAD GENTLY, AND ACHIEVE WITH HUMILITY.

SINCERELY,

JAMES F. RISHER.

COMMANDANT OF CADETS

DEDICATION

We, the Annual Staff of 1953, dedicate our edition of the REBEL to the Commandant of Cadets, Lt. Col. James M. Grimes. "Diamond Jim," as he is affectionately nicknamed, has played a major part in our success and development at Carlisle.

Faculty adviser to the Senior Class, Col. Grimes has lent his untiring efforts in helping us attend to the many duties, obligations, and problems which we are obliged with as seniors at Carlisle.

In the years following, when you, Col. Grimes, turn the aged pages of our yearbook, we hope that you will look upon and remember the Class of '53 as a group of men who served as an example and inspiration for future Carlisle cadets.

The Carlisle Cadet Corps is a group of men that strives to maintain high academic and scholastic standards. The members of the Carlisle faculty have rendered much assistance to help the Cadet Corps attain their goal. The training and guidance given to the cadets by these teachers will be useful throughout their lives. The experience of the members of the faculty helps the cadets through the many problems they encounter every day.

We, the members of the cadet corps, would like to extend our sincere and deepest appreciation to a great group of men.

BATTALION

Under the very capable leadership of Capt. Waddy Thompson, P. M. S. & T., and Capt. William Scaffè, Band Director, the Carlisle battalion, increased in size by the addition of "D" Company, enjoyed a very outstanding year. The cadet officers gave their utmost in ability and leadership to produce a very well organized and efficient military unit.

Class instruction and daily drill periods keep the cadets in the finest of military discipline and precision. A formal inspection of both personnel and barracks is held each Saturday morning, and the big highlight of the week, dress parade, is held on Sunday afternoon.

THE HONOR COUNCIL

The Honor Council, one of the most honorable organizations on the campus, is composed of the cadet captains, and functions under the capable guidance of the cadet major and faculty advisor, Capt. Waddy Thompson.

In the event that a cadet's conduct is such that it brings dishonor upon the Corps of Cadets, he is brought before the Honor Council for a hearing to determine his innocence or guilt.

After hearing all the testimonies concerning the case, it is the duty of the Honor Council to determine a just punishment for the offense committed. However, before any official action is taken, the verdict and punishment are submitted to the Headmaster for his approval.

CROSS SABER CLUB

The Cross Saber Club is composed only of outstanding cadets who have achieved the rank of a commissioned officer by good conduct and known ability to lead.

This club is without a doubt one of the most highly honored organizations at Carlisle, for the success or failure of the cadet corps depends upon its members.

Every officer in this club is a symbol of what Carlisle strives for in a cadet. He stands ready and willing to help any cadet who needs it.

NON-COMM CLUB

Through the guidance and direction of the Non-Commissioned Officers, the rest of the battalion works as a complete military unit.

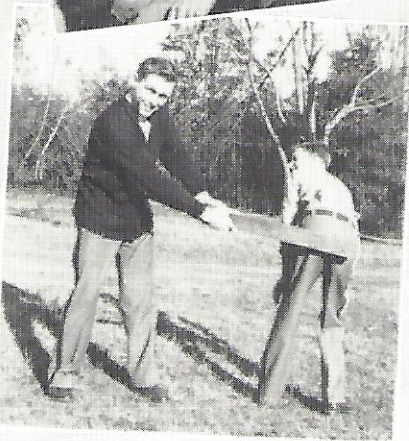

The success and discipline of the entire Cadet Corps depend largely upon these men.

The Non-Commissioned Officers work well together and with the invaluable training which they receive at Carlisle, they will indeed become future leaders in America.

DEDICATION TO THE SENIORS

We are not going to sail the stately ship of life over the tumultuous waters of fear, doubt, discontent, and all the other obnoxious difficulties encountered in life. We, the Class of '53, do not fearfully await our fate in the world of men. We do not attempt to paint a glowing picture of early morning sunrise on life, with a noonday shadow, and a final magnificent sunset.

We, the Class of '53, know that a ship manufactured of sugar, will dissolve and send us plunging down into the dark mysterious depths of this thing called life. We do not look upon life with an awesome dreading, nor with a spirit of false confidence. We realize that we are life, that we have been meeting problems daily, and in most instances, have acquitted ourselves successfully.

After graduation there is no reason why we should not continue to buck the tide and make our way as men among men. We will not be pessimistic, nor will we be optimistic. We will strive to strike a happy medium. On our shoulders are placed the problems and entanglements, which generations before us have left unraveled. We do not pretend to have a solution to the world's many problems. A few of us may make an everlasting mark in history, while the greater majority of us will be infinitesimal buds on the tree of success.

We will be men like the good Samaritan of Biblical fame. If, in the course of our life, we are presented with an opportunity to contribute to the welfare of our fellowman in any respect, we will administer kindness and consideration naturally and openheartedly.

Above all things, we will live as gentlemen. Remembering always that, "A man that's clean inside and outside; who neither looks up to the rich, nor down on the poor; who can lose without squealing; who can win without bragging; considerate of women, children and old people, who is too brave to lie, too generous to cheat; and too sensible to loaf; who takes his share of the world's goods and let's other people have theirs," commands the respect and admiration of all.

We will hold true to our ideals and belief, and respect the rights of others to do the same. When duty calls, we will be blinded to all temptations and diabolical excuses which may tend to drive us off course.

In all things, we will realize that there is a Power greater than ours, that guides and watches over us at all times. Putting trust in God, and maintaining that our fellowmen are our brothers, we, the graduating Class of 1953, dedicate our lives to the service of others.

LAST WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1953, having been declared as sound of mind and sane in senses, do hereby declare this as our last will and testament.

ARTICLE 1

To the Faculty we leave our everlasting thanks for helping us to be the best Senior Class.

ARTICLE 3

To the Junior Class we leave the joy of becoming Seniors.

ARTICLE 3

To the poor unfortunate rats and underclassmen we leave our most cherished possessions and traits.

AGNEW leaves second base to "Cutie" Austin.

AUSTIN, L. R. leaves his love for Carlisle food(?) to Maxey O'Tuel.

BAKER leaves the string band to "Little Joe" and Robert Hodges.

BAXTER leaves to Bannister his physics book, to O'Brien his bed, and his love for hillbilly music to McNeil.

BOYKIN leaves his nose to McConnell in hopes that "Moe" will be able to make as good use of it as he has.

BREMER leaves his old black socks to Henry J. to use for the next two years.

BRUNSON leaves to Col. Risher the ditch that he has dug by walking the bull ring, and hopes that he will use it as a foundation for a new barracks.

BULLARD leaves to Minshew, Bowen and Trowell his ability to do the wrong things at the right time and not get caught.

CARBONELL leaves the supply depot and armory to "Lazy" Sigg.

CLANCY leaves the Bugle and the headaches that go with it to Val Lipscomb.

DABNEY leaves his love for Carlisle to Pundt, for it seems that he will spend quite a few more of the happiest years of his life here.

DOONAN leaves his book, "How to Get Along With Girls," to Conrad Sigg.

DORN leaves to Sam Wilson his ability to snow all the women in all the cities of the world except Bamberg.

DUCKWORTH leaves gruesome thoughts of all night vigils to next year's Editor-in-Chief of the REBEL.

DUGGAN, E. E. leaves his black loafers to Lipscomb because he wears them all the time, anyway.

DUGGAN, J. H. leaves to Val Lipscomb his college algebra and physics books in hopes that he enjoys serving restrictions as much as he did.

ECONOMOS leaves his ability to snow women to "Fairy Queen."

ELKING leaves Carlisle to the Indians.

ESCUE leaves to all the future members of the Block "C" Club the thought of having sore rumps for weeks to come.

Fox, C. S. leaves the hospital to "Dr." Reber.

GARNER leaves his ability to come in 45 minutes late off leave and get caught to Fetzer.

GILLIAM leaves to "The Snide" his good looks and posterior anatomy.

GRIFFIN leaves to Joe Hunter his ability to be the greatest goldbrick that Carlisle has ever had.

GRINNELL leaves John Lowther to his next roommate.

HARMON wills to his mother the diploma that he slaved so hard to earn.

HART leaves his ability to outfox Captain Risher to Hobbie.

HILL leaves his hard earned P.F.C. stripes to next year's senior private.

HUNTER, J. E. leaves his old fatigue hat to Charlie Jones, and to Waddy the 9th he leaves "A" company in hopes that he will do as good a job as he has.

JETER leaves to "Mullit" Hester a bottle of air-wick to take care of his pet fish.

JUMPER leaves his good looks to "Little Joe."

KERR leaves the Bamberg Airport to Jim Bradin.

KUIPERS leaves his good looks and manly ways to Helmken.

AND TESTAMENT

LANEY leaves all his ability to drill to Ferrell Posey.

LEONHARDT leaves his position on the staff to anyone who is sucker enough to be the lowest member of the staff.

LESSIG, following in the footsteps of former Carlisle bums, leaves nothing and takes all with him.

LOWERY leaves the postoffice and his beloved physics book to Dicky McNeil.

LYON leaves his cat walk to Bannister and Helmken, and hopes that they will be able to get as many women as he has.

MCCARTHY wills to "Bub" McConnell his ability to snow the women of the world, and also his good looks.

MCCASKILL leaves his ability to get into trouble to Wade and Page.

MCKAIN leaves to Berry his two K.P. tables, and his ability to slip in the back door after fall in and not get caught.

MCNEIL, C. D. wills to "Fat Rat" his batting average of 32 and his position on the mound.

MACDONALD, J. P. leaves to "Fairy Queen" when he receives his commission, his cross arms, Sam Brown, saber and all the rest of the junk.

MILLER, W. E. leaves to Gillion his ability to pass physics.

MILLER, W. P. leaves his well-worn college algebra book to Capt. Risher.

MOORE leaves all the Bamberg "Queens" to Henry J.

NOEL leaves his seat on the basketball bench to Featherston.

NOWELL leaves his office work to Bradin.

OSTEEN leaves his place in the Baptist Choir to Faircloth.

OWEN leaves his many trips to the canteen to some poor rat.

PAINÉ leaves his wonderful Carlisle bed to Kitching.

PINNER leaves to Edwards his ability to stay restricted all year.

RAMSEY leaves his ability to get on the basketball bus late to Shiel.

RIVERA leaves his dancing ability to Capt. Roberts.

ROBERTS, T. W. leaves his Cpl. chevrons to Featherston.

SHADLE leaves his good looks, personality, and ability to graduate to "Fat Rat."

SHAW leaves to Capt. Burch $1.00 with the understanding that he will buy a new roll of tape for his paddle.

SIMPSON leaves the rubble of Carlisle to Uncle Willie, his diploma he takes with him.

SLAUGHTER wills "Click-Click" to "Hitler" Bradin.

STEELE leaves to Hollis his ability to graduate after twenty years at hard labor.

STOLLER leaves to Burley Bannister his faithful John Deere tractor.

STUCKEY leaves to the Carlisle laboratory a new Gilbert Chemistry Set.

SUMMEY leaves his Captain Personnel to some lucky cadet.

THREATT leaves his love for "Black Dog" to McAbee.

VANNES leaves his love for the South to Guirado.

VILA leaves the bull ring to Cleaves.

WALDROP leaves to Hollis his good looks, ability to get ratings, and his ability to conduct parties after taps and get caught.

WEISNER wills to "Big Greek" his ability to get along with Capt. Risher.

WHITE, E. G. leaves to O'Brien his ability to run Carlisle.

WHITE, L. A. leaves his chicken roost, his lead pencil, and his everlasting supply of paper to Capt. Thompson.

WILLIAMS leaves Carlisle—period.

WILSON, J. P. leaves all the Walterboro girls to Wright.

WILSON, T. E. leaves "C" Company to the unlucky rats of next year.

Class Prophecy

As we gaze in our crystal ball twenty years in the future, we find that the majority of Carlisle's 1953 graduates have settled down in Slaughter's Alley, the crustiest, vice-ridden mile in Bowerytown, U. S. A.

As we pass the corner, we hear newsboy Clancy trying to sell last week's Bugle. Then we drop in Nick Economos' "Greasy Spoon" Cafe for a refreshing breakfast of oatmeal and grease balls. Much to our surprise we see perched at the end of the counter, "Cats" Lessig, Lancy, and Moore, drinking a combination of tomato juice and Alka-Seltzer, using White Lightning as a chaser to relieve "the morning after the night before" blues.

We stroll out of the cafe and meet Jimmy Hunter and Ed Steele, who by their combined efforts manage to bum a buck to buy a gallon of Vila's imported Vodka. Next door we find McKain's Loan Shop, where Noel is trying to hock a pair of diamond studded spurs. We hear a mighty roar, as a big black "Cad" with dual Hollywood muffs slides past us, driven by getaway man, Herbie Hill. In the back seat is that gangland boss, "Boondocker" Threatt, with his torpedoes, the Duggan twins, gats in hand, shooting their way through Chief Agnew's police force, after a daring heist of C. J. Kuipers' money bin.

After the excitement has cooled down we are approached by Delgo "Daddy" Dorn, who attempts to sell us a couple of reefers that were smuggled into the States from Bernardo Carbonell's marijuana farm by Big Jim Doonan, the Florida narcotics king. As we wander down the alley we notice that Frazier Lyon, the dope addict, has already had his daily lift.

We saunter across the street to Andy Jumper's Black Mountain Lodge, where we see by the sign out in front, that "Dub" Baker's Rhythm Ramblers, featuring Roger Lowery on the mandolin, John MacDonald, second guitar, and that sensational new vocalist, Jim Baxter, fresh from Duckworth County, Tennessee, on the bill tonight. We go inside and are shown to a table by head waiter, J. C. Gilliam. While we are ordering our dinner he tells us that Weisner and Rivera are working as dishwashers since their run of bad luck on the Guam pineapple market.

We hear a mighty din from next door, so we hustle over to see what the fuss is about. Up on the band stand of Joe Pinner's and Frank Boykin's night club, is Pete Grinnell and his battered horn blowing some low down jazz to the rhythm of Charlie Fox's drums. Drinking it in (along with their stale beer) are Jimmy Bremer and Kay Leonhardt, newly arrived from a rugged trip through the mountains from the desert.

Back out on the street we find Bert Summey bargaining with Harvey Owen for his shoeshine stand so he can use it to start his street corner Tooth Pullery. Holding up the nearby lamp post is Tommy Brunson who is mumbling to himself, "Why, oh Why, didn't I listen to Capt. Drymon?"

By this time, we're getting a little foot weary, and catch the local street car, owned and operated by "Boongie" Garner. "Boongie" drops us off at Elking's Gymnasium. Here we watch Walter Miller's High Lifers lose their fiftieth straight game. High scorer for the game is "Old Grandad" Harmon, with two points (for the other team). This amazing feat was accomplished by the constant feeding of "Smokey" Shadle and "Church Key" Escue.

"Rudolph" Ramsey, a capable substitute, is on the sidelines telling a small group of youngsters about Shadle's . . . fine playing ability. As the game progresses, we observe Charley McNeil bumming pennies from the crowd (Leland Austin and Henry Shaw, by name). Once out of the gym, Glen White is seen flying by, rushing Henry Stuckey to Griffin's Memorial Hospital for a nose operation. The noise that comes thundering from down the street is caused by the tragic crash of an airplane flown by Perry Wilson and Everett Kerr, which has completely demolished Jimmy Osteen's Holy Roller tent.

Simpson's barber shop is our next stop, where "Drip" Waldrop and Marshall Nowell are getting their bi-monthly peach fuzz clipping. "Little Crow" Stoller and "Hayseed" Paine drive up in William Miller's newly designed pick-up and go into Norman Dabney's grocery to buy their monthly supply of snuff. On the next corner is Bullard's Business College where Capt. Risher's son is trying vainly to teach Larry White and Denny McCarthy the fundamentals of college algebra, aided by that great brain of mathematics, Tommy Wilson. The last building is the local clink, where jailer Richard Williams is keeping an eye on "Speedy" McCaskill and Thomas Roberts, the latter a permanent boarder because of a habit formed at C. M. S. VanNess says he'll bail them out if they promise to guide him back across the Mason-Dixon Line.

The image in our crystal ball fades into oblivion and we remind ourselves "to check later" in about twenty more years, and see if the Class of '53 has yet settled down to life in the outside world.

As editor of the Carlisle Bugle, I take this opportunity to express my gratitude and deep appreciation to my staff for the excellent and unfailing cooperation shown throughout the school year.

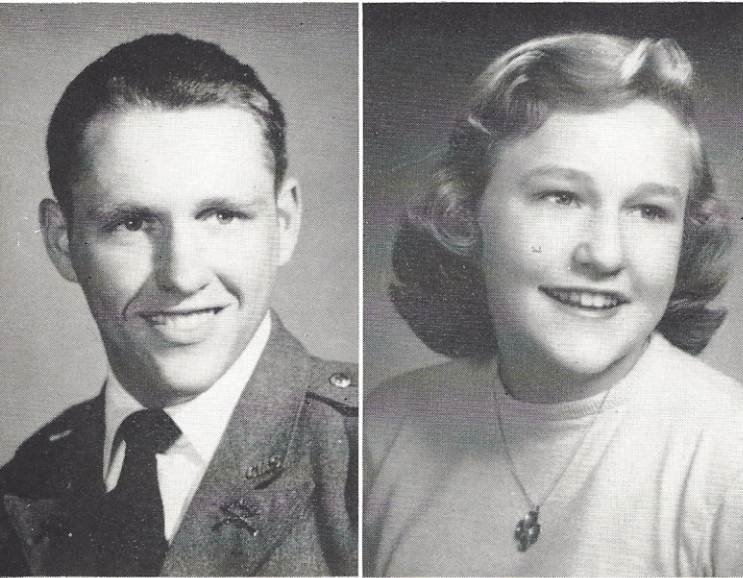

We have tried to publish a newspaper that would prove of interest to the corps-of-cadets. We sincerely hope that this year's Bugle has lived up to the standards set in past years, and that each cadet has derived a maximum of enjoyment from its pages.

JACK CLANCY,
Editor-in-Chief.

This year, the Carlisle Library Club has lived up to the standard of achievement set by the South Carolina High School Library Association, of which it has been a member for several years.

The purpose of the Library Club is to train student assistants in library services, resources, and procedures, and to promote interest in good books.

The Carlisle Brigadiers, a group of the more accomplished musicians drawn from the C. M. S. Band, play an important role in the social proceedings of the school curriculum. Directed by Capt. William Scaffé, and Cadet Pete Grinnell, they provide pleasant melodies from their bandstand for formal and informal dances. They are frequently asked to perform for outside engagements.

The Carlisle Entertainment and Recreation Organization has charge of organizing and supervising the various social entertainments which highlight the school year.

Faculty advisor, Capt. M. Carson Sturgeon, and Co-Chairmen, Cadets Baker and Lowery, expend a large amount of effort to plan these dances, taking care to provide a most relaxing atmosphere and adequate music. The Cadet Corps deeply appreciates the enjoyable functions which are made possible by this group.

The Carlisle Flight Club, having been organized now for two years, is under the direction and supervision of Captain William Risher, faculty advisor.

The club continued this year to maintain the purpose for which it was organized; to stimulate and provide interest and enjoyment in the skill of flying.

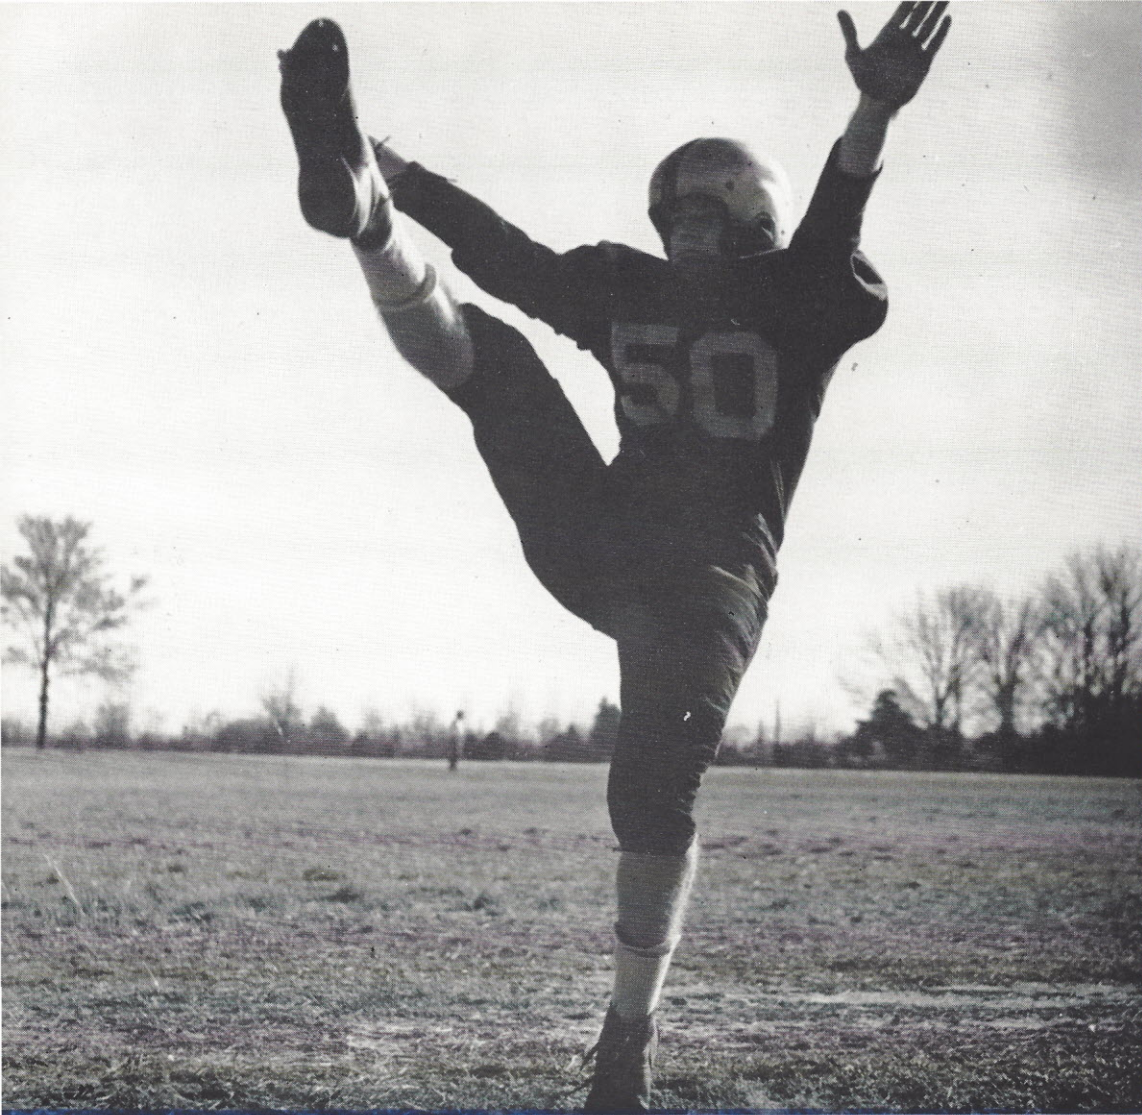

This organization is limited to those cadets who have already received, or plan to receive a private flying license. By the end of this school year, after earning the required number of flying hours, nearly every member of the club receives his license.

The Block "C" Club is one of the highest and most respected organizations at Carlisle. Throughout the year they sponsor many dances and other types of entertainment in order to raise money for their annual banquet.

To become a member of the Block "C" Club a cadet must have earned a letter in one of the three varsity sports. Cadets who have served as cheerleaders for a period of two years are also admitted. After a cadet has been accepted into the club he must undergo a very rigid initiation which lasts one week.

Much credit is due to the Block "C" Club for their accomplishments in promoting sportsmanship and fair play.

INTRAMURALS

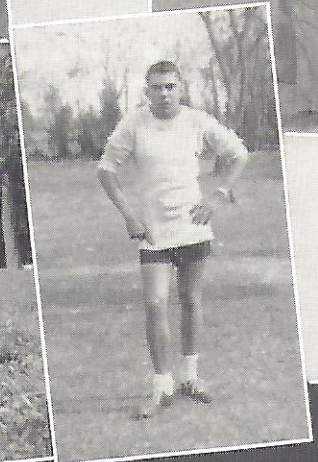

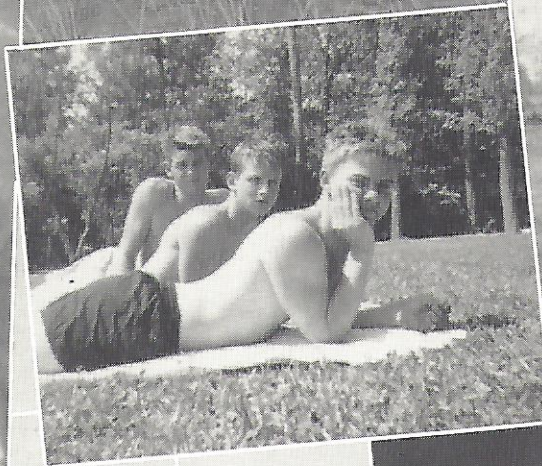

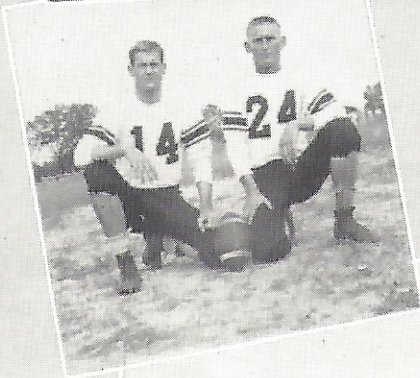

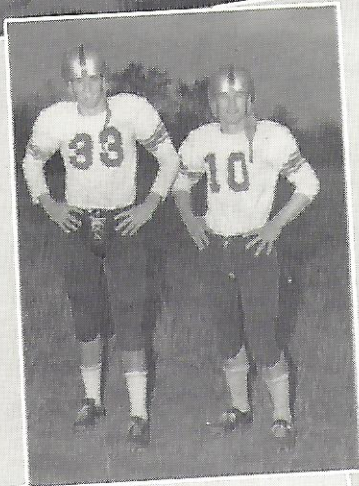

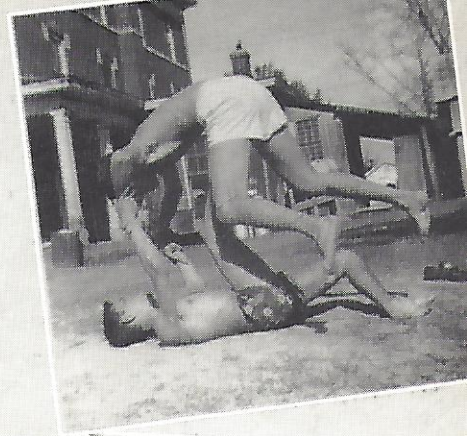

The Intramurals at Carlisle are for the recreation of those cadets who are unable to take a part in the varsity sports.

Softball, volleyball, basketball and other sports are enjoyed daily by this group of cadets.

We would like to express our gratitude to Capt. Ben J. Drymon for devoting his time and talents to the advancement of this activity.

“THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS SECURITY—THERE IS ONLY OPPORTUNITY!”

GENERAL DOUGLAS A. MACARTHUR

Carlisle Military School training is designed to develop alertness for opportunity and the skill and ability with which to make the most of opportunity.

The Irving L. Wilson Company was organized a little more than three years ago because the founder of the company was interested more in opportunity than in security. That there was a glorious opportunity to specialize in the manufacture of military school and college uniforms seemed to be self-evident and a challenge which the Irving L. Wilson Company has accepted. We are dedicated to the proposition of producing better uniforms at reasonable prices and to give our customers a high degree of personalized service.

We are proud to be one of the uniform suppliers of the Carlisle Military School and we hope by the way in which we serve you that we will continue to merit this privilege.
