FOREWORD . . .

At last graduation has come. We have finally begun to realize just how much these years at Carlisle have enriched our lives. Our functions, our arguments, our teachers and roommates, all of these things that we once took for granted now begin to have a more complex yet beautiful meaning, never before noticed. In years to come, we will look back with an even greater realization of the beauty of these precious times, and will recollect the many happy memories weaved in such a short period of time.

But tomorrow, when we look back on all of this beauty and grandeur, all of these experiences are not seen. Time, "that devil", reaches out and dims the light cast upon the fond memories. Actions change, people, places; facts begin to get hazy and blot the memory from 'neath our eyes.

It is then the real purpose of THE REBEL to bring into focus these nebulous truths, and keep alive and clear the many happy thoughts of these, the most cherished days of our lives.

Thank You,
The 1962 REBEL Staff.

THE REBEL STAFF OF CARLISLE

Dedicates In Memoriam This 1962 Rebel

To

MAJOR WILLIAM SCAFFE

We, of the 1962 REBEL Staff, place this year's REBEL in dedication and memoriam to Major William Scaffé. Major Scaffé served Carlisle 14 years ably and with dedication. It is our hope that this record of Carlisle during Major Scaffé's last year will keep sharp in us the memory of his devotion to Carlisle and the Corps of Cadets.

PRESIDENT

Colonel James F. Risher

Colonel Risher was born in Hampton County, S. C. and graduated in the class of 1911, from The Citadel. He taught in the public schools of Colleton County, and was the Superintendent of Ehrhardt High School for two years. In 1924 he came to Carlisle to teach, and in 1928 was made Headmaster, purchasing the school in 1939. In 1958 he purchased Camden Military Academy, and he now serves as Colonel-President of both schools. Besides being a top rate educator, Colonel Risher has held many important positions in community and national organizations. We, the Cadet Corps of Carlisle, Greatly appreciate the knowledge and influence we have received from such a gentleman as this.

HEADMASTER

Colonel William R. Risher

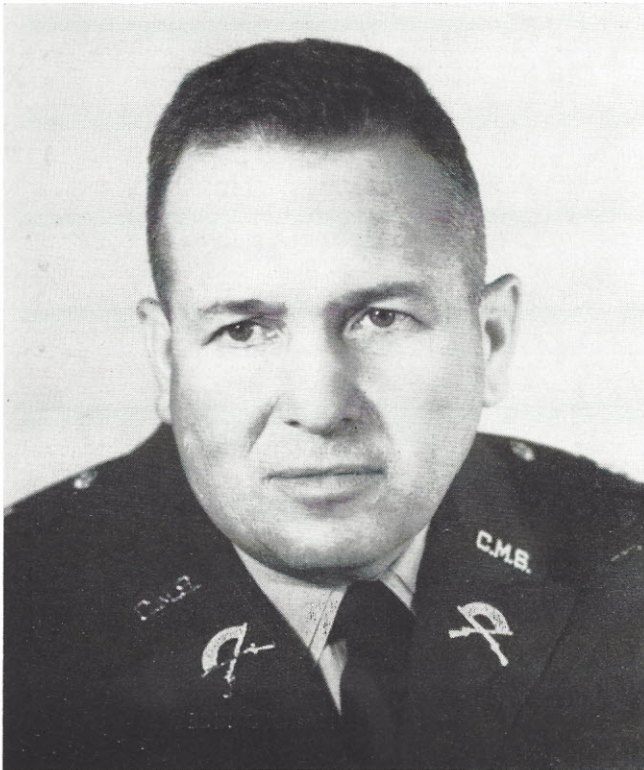

Colonel W. R. Risher was born in Ehrhardt in 1927. He attended the Bamberg grade school and graduate from Carlisle in 1944. In 1947 he graduated from The Citadel with a B.S. degree in Physics. After doing graduate work at the University of North Carolina, he came to Carlisle in 1948, where he became instructor of Physics. In 1958, Colonel Risher was made Headmaster of Carlisle. He is also active in community affairs, having been vice-president in charge of public affairs for the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce. We are, indeed, very fortunate and thankful to have such a man as our headmaster.

COMMANDANT OF CADETS

Colonel James M. Grimes

Lt. Col. James M. Grimes was born in Bamberg, S. C., and attended the public schools of Bamberg, graduating from Bamberg High School. He attended The Citadel and graduated from Wofford with an A.B. degree. Upon graduation from Wofford, he was commissioned to a 2nd Lt. in the U. S. Army Reserves. During World War II he was a Captain in the South Carolina State Guard. Col. Grimes has been at Carlisle 26 years where he has served as Commandant of Cadets. He presently teaches American History. Through the guidance of Col. Grimes, cadets have found a fuller and richer meaning in Carlisle.

PROFESSOR OF MILITARY SCIENCE

Major Waddy Thompson

Major Waddy Thompson was born in Chattanooga, Tennessee. During his high school years he attended Notre Dame, also in Tennessee. In 1942 he graduated from The Citadel, Charleston, South Carolina, and then joined the faculty at Carlisle. For twenty years Major Thompson has served as P.M.S. He has not only attained the respect of cadets, but also a prominent place among the citizens of Bamberg. It is to Major Thompson, that the Carlisle cadets owe much of their leadership abilities and esprit de corps.

FELLOW CLASSMATES:

These past six years have been hard, but yet easy in a way for me. As I have seen most of you come into Carlisle, and join the Senior class, I have grown to know you all well. Those of you who have helped me, I wish to thank you for all you have done.

I think that the class of 1962 has been very cooperative in most matters. Most of us will probably look back on this as one of the best years of our lives. I want to wish you all the best of luck in the world as you leave Carlisle.

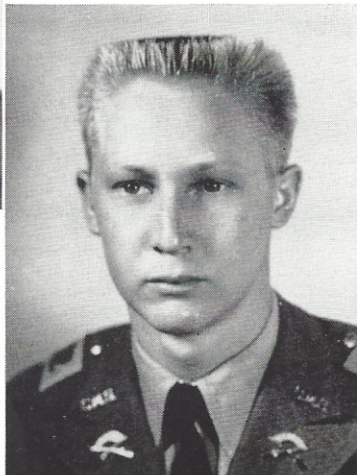

Sincerely,

BEN H. SUMMER,

THE SENIOR PROPHECY

Arriving upon the Carlisle Campus of 1987, we notice many outstanding changes in the appearance of the school. Guilds Hall still remains unchanged thus preserving one of the traditional buildings of Carlisle. The interior, however, has been completely remodeled. Risher Barracks still retains its name, but in place of the original building stands a magnificent three-storied structure. Each room has sliding glass doors which open on to a balcony. On the sight of Memorial Barracks stands Memorial Hall, a one-storied building accommodating the color company, the band, and the regimental staff. Each room quarters two men and is heated by solar power. The new mess hall, erected in 1980, seats the entire regiment. The sprawling one-storied building is made almost entirely of concrete and glass. The meals are cooked and served largely by automation.

The reunion of the class of 1962 is to take place in the recently constructed auditorium which also serves as Carlisle's theater and ballroom. As Allen Ayars, famous heart surgeon, and Frank Coney, a lawyer and a Senator from Florida, walk toward the aluminum and glass building, we cannot help but notice its beauty. The sides are made almost completely of glass, the top being aluminum. When we enter the enormous auditorium we see four of our old classmates sitting around a massive table discussing politics. Kent Bishop, famous author of the book "The Illusions of Life," is protesting the powerful Conservative Party. Hayne Rawls, the famous inventor of electrical appliances powered by flashlight batteries, Carl Stevens, winner of the 1974 Italian Grand Prix, and Fred Hess owner of the fabulous Californian Beach Resort, listen to Kent's opinions. Suddenly the talk ceases as a siren is heard on campus. Outside Joe Hightower, South Carolina Highway Commissioner, steps out of his car. Accompanying him is his motorcycle sergeant, Danny Ayars. Following Joe and driving the latest Chevrolet Impala is Joel Player. With him is Palmer Gourdin, his partner in Player's and Gourdin's Speed Shop Company. Strolling on campus is Lawrence Jackson, owner of "The Demon Den," a night club in Beaufort and his band consisting of Wayne Cuthrell, Bob Ingraham, and Bill Morris. Behind them is J. Q. Chambers, the comedian of Lawrences' show, who is telling jokes to Wally Mullins, Wayne Grace, and Eddie Steinmeyer of Charleston. A Greyhound bus wheels up in front of the auditorium driven by John Barnette. His passengers include Tony Beattie, manager of the new Playboy Club in Jacksonville, Joe Syler, engineer for Westinghouse, and John Raily, owner of the Friendship House Beach Resort. The landing of a plane on the small runway, located on the far back campus, brings everyone out of the auditorium and down to the airstrip. Johnny Dauth steps from his private plane followed by Luke Clarke, manager of the Northeastern Division of Pepsi-Cola Company, and John Kelly, civil engineer in Alaska. They are warmly greeted by Berry Murray, Commandant of Cadets, and Major

Jim Warren, geometry teacher at Carlisle. After acquaintances have been renewed, the group walks back to the auditorium. Before they reach it, a diesel truck driven by Art Kibbee, pulls up by John's bus. In the cab with Art is Charles Dietrich, his partner in their trucking business. Immediately following their arrival, another truck, driven by John Baggett, grinds to a halt. John is Art and Charley's chief competitor in the Eastern United States. A few minutes later all are seated at the tables, and amidst much laughter and cigarette smoke discuss their happy days spent at Carlisle. Suddenly appearing in the back of the gym we notice someone examining a movie projector. Taking a closer look we see Admiral Ed Cox admiring the new three-dimensional projector. Outside the auditorium we hear the powerful roar of two engines. The drivers enter the auditorium, and to our surprise we see that Teddy Corvette has achieved his desire of owning a car with the same name as his. Jan Berryman, designer of the first space ship to Mars, is also driving a Corvette. His companion, Leonard Trent, now holds the world's deep sea diving record. One by one we go outside and look over the two sports cars. Across the street Denny Hilderbrand, sports editor, and Homer Groce, editor of the State-Record, are shouting that their newspaper was the first to publish the astounding news that Apel and Knouse Petroleum Company has discovered oil in Puerto Rico. Dale and Jimmy are to fly up to Carlisle in Antonio Serbia's private plane. Antonio is now Puerto Rico's foremost chemical engineer and has rendered great services to Dale and Jimmy's company. Joe and Denny are nearly run over by a government car carrying Colonel Joe Bridgers and D. I.'s Ronnie Lafferman and Jug Parrish. Joe is now in command of a battalion at Parris Island.

Arriving in coveralls and straw hat is J. W. Chambers, owner of a large cotton plantation in Georgia, and Jim Girot commercial citrus grower of southern Florida. To our amazement the next person we see is Jimmy Kennedy roaring down Carlisle Street on his jet propelled roller skates being chased by sheriffs Boyce Edwards and Denny Clinton. Denny shouts to Jimmy that he's breaking the speed limit, but Jimmy doesn't slow down until he reaches the astounded group of his classmates.

To our left we see three figures dressed in sweat shirts and baseball caps. As they approach us we recognize Jimmy Covington, Barry Thomas, and Dewey Sikes, three of the finest coaches at Clemson since "Rock" Norman's time. Once again there is the renewing of friendships and the shaking of many hands. Overhead we hear an airplane circling the landing field and in a few minutes the second airplane touches down on the runway. When the door is opened the plane's passengers are revealed as Colonel Bill Bethea, commander of a S.A.C. Base in France and Bill Hammock, the U. S. Ambassador to France. Meanwhile, the owners of the Executive Golf Course in Washington, D. C., Henry Price and David Anderson, arrive to find the auditorium empty. They sit down to wait for their classmates when John Stanley, Stick Witham, and Perry Bryant burst through the entrance still under the effects of the Club's nineteenth hole. The three men, who have been guests of the club for three days; all agree the nineteenth hole is the easiest one to make.

In groups of twos and threes the men of '62 return from the runway. Just as the last three men arrive, Raz Peek, Sam Ferry, and Chappy Littlefield walk unsteadily up to their classmates. Raz and Sam have been partying at Chappy's beach house in Daytona Beach. They're all a little worse for wear but are happy to be with their old friends once again. Hank Hasler and Bill Lindsay charge through the crowd with Airon Kizer chasing them. It seems Hank told Airon to give up trying to earn the black belt, and Bill had suggested he take up knitting. Johnny Christmas, internationally known as the "playboy of the Florida Beaches," comes strolling in the huge rendezvous. He suggests to his friends that the next reunion be held at John Raily's "Friendship House Beach Resort." He then displays a thick black book the size of a dictionary and informs all his friends that he has enough addresses of women for each man to have a different date. This is met by groans from the married men and wolfish grins from the bachelors. At this point Frank Sears enters, and we are glad to see that he has safely made the trip from Canada where he is presently a textile engineer. Following Frank is Wes Davis and Paul Gillam who now teach engineering courses at Carolina. Glancing around at the growing number of the class of '62, we see Johnny Bullwinkle desperately trying to cancel an insurance policy he recently sold to Ray Haskell and Johnny Royal. Johnny and Ray plan to scale the peaks of Mt. McKinley. The reason for their exploit is a bet they made with Lee Martin and Kin Perlov, who mathematically proved they are incapable of performing such a feat. At this moment we notice two of our classmates who slipped in unnoticed, busily sketching the scene of the reunion. The two renowned artists are Harvey Gleason and Louie Pase, owners of their own art Studio in Richmond. While Louie and Harvey are busy sketching, David McArthur breezes into the auditorium with a mail sack over his shoulders. Mac is now Postmaster General of South Carolina and through the years has collected all the back mail of his fellow seniors which he begins to distribute. Randy Williams and Ben Summer, partners in a large loan company, have appeared in the crowd and have begun to talk to their many friends. Alva Berry, founder of the Berry Theaters, drives on campus in his 1987 Pontiac. He mingles with the group of men and hands out schedules of coming attractions at his theaters.

By now almost all the Seniors have arrived at Carlisle. The former cadets are now sitting around most of the tables talking of the impressive changes at Carlisle, of their past experiences, and their plans for the future. Next to join the group is Bob Risher, who for the past ten years has composed poetry at a coffee house in Greenwich Village. Bob has set much of his abstract poetry to music, which he plays on his guitar. George Boder, a dentist of Raleigh, North Carolina, walks into the massive room and insists on demonstrating a set of false teeth which he claims will last longer than anyone's genuine teeth. Earl Williams and Ricky Johnson, having arrived from the African jungles after a three months safari, have created quite a disturbance. Immediately we all hurry outside to see what the trouble is. The cause of the disturbance is Earl's pet gorilla, which he leads about on a small chain. Lawyers Billy Bryant and Clifford Sutcliffe have engaged Earl and Ricky in a loud argument. They tell them that it is illegal to have an animal in Bamberg unless proof can be produced that it has had a rabies shot. Their answer is a growl from the gorilla who advances toward them. Billy, commonly known as "Black-foot" and Clifford, much to the amusement of their friends, immediately drop the matter and quickly melt into the crowd. Tex Eaddy, forestry expert, and his aides, Harold Hendricks and Eddie Taylor, have accompanied Earl and Ricky into the jungle in search of a legendary man-eating tree. Much to their disappointment they did not locate the tree. "Long-tall" Inabinet, basketball coach at Furman, joins the group and almost immediately proceeds to argue with Dewey and Jim over whose team is best. Jerry DeVine, now president of the North Augusta Federal Savings and Loan Company, drives on campus in his new Cadillac. His body guard, Charles Winter, steps out and methodically checks his friends for hidden guns while Jerry waits in the car. Astronaut Pepper, the first man to Mars, walks on campus with his partner, Astronaut Asserson. They greet everyone and exclaim how good it feels to get their feet back on earth again.

Arriving from Charleston is Jackie Drake and Ray Hilton, owners of the Charleston 250 Racetrack in their 1987 Jaguar. Last, but not least, is "Hotrod" Morris, their number one driver following them in his new Grand Prix. The expert drivers hop out of their cars and are met by a flow of questions from their curious fellow senior classmen.

General formation is heard echoing throughout the campus. Quietly now we watch as the regiment forms. We see over a thousand boys snap to attention as the major adjutant calls them up. Our thoughts rush back to 1962 when we were last at Carlisle and see ourselves mirrored in the faces of the cadets before us. Then we slowly walk to the parade grounds where the regiment is to hold a parade in our honor. We cannot help but wonder if their senior class ties will mellow and grow stronger through the years as ours have done.

Somehow, we the prophets, feel they will because they are truly CARLISLE MEN.

FELLOW CLASSMATES:

I would like to express my deepest appreciation for the cooperation and enthusiasm shown by the entire class this past year. If this same spirit prevails next year the graduating class of '63 will equal, if not surpass, the performance of any class to graduate from Carlisle.

Along with Crip, Flip, and Bob, I close wishing you an enjoyable summer and hope to see everyone return next year to help mold the best senior class yet.

Sincerely,
BOB EYERLY,

THE BUGLE STAFF

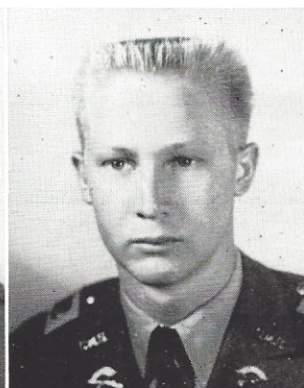

The "Bugle" Staff consists of those cadets who are interested in newspaper work. Their tasks as writers and reporters are interesting, educational, and at the same time tend to give the boys a chance to work together.

The newspaper is published once a month and keeps the campus well informed of goings-on. The whole cadet corps owe their thanks to the work of the Newspaper Staff.

THE REBEL STAFF

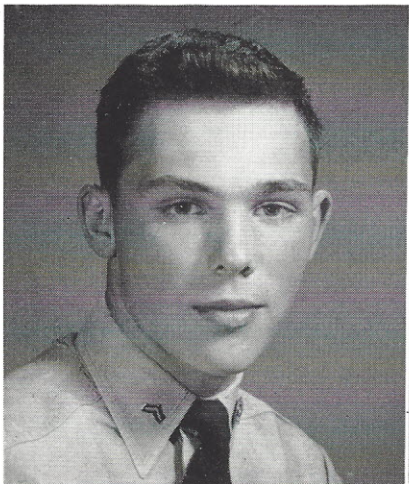

As editor of the 1962 REBEL, I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to everyone who has helped make this publication possible. With the help of my staff and the faculty officers connected, we have made a reality out of a fond wish.

It has been our principal aim to produce a yearbook that will always keep our memories, companions, and experiences recorded on its pages. We hope with all sincerity that the 1962 REBEL will renew our memories in years to come of this most important phase of our lives.

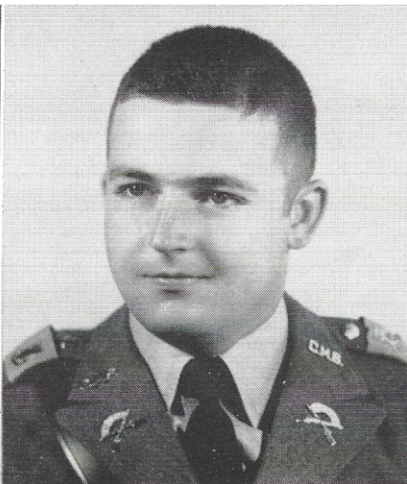

In conclusion, I would like to thank Captain George Martin for the time and work that he so generously gave to help make our wish come true, and the influence he placed on this publication.

The Carlisle Entertainment and Recreation Organization has this year, under the direction of Major Carson Sturgeon, given the Cadet Corps an unusually delightful program of entertainment.

CERO is composed of those cadets who voluntarily give their time to socially flavor our stay at Carlisle. Frequent informal dances, Sunday night movies, and the year's Formal dances were marks of CERO's achievements for the year.

Throughout this year, Mrs. Harold Rice and the members of the Library Staff have tried to increase the efficiency of the Library. Together they have worked to afford the Corps of Cadets with the best selection of books and periodicals.

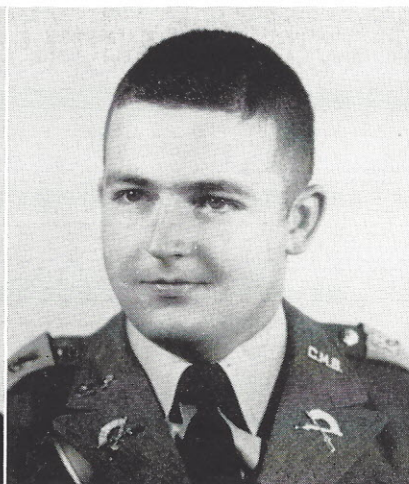

The Carlisle Library Staff is a member of the South Carolina Library Association and participates in library conventions throughout the State.

Carlisle's orchestra is known as the "Brigadiers". This group of young men entertain the cadet corps at many of their informal dances, and frequently are called upon to play for dances in the Bamberg vicinity.

Whether the "Brigadiers" play for Carlisle or town dances, they are always appreciated deeply by their audience.

To be eligible for the club, a cadet must have earned at least one letter in either track, football, baseball, basketball, golf, or two years of cheerleading. After this, he must go through one of the two initiations of the year, and then be accepted by the old members.

The club has a party following each of the initiations, which are after football season and after baseball season. The big party, which everyone looks forward to, is given at the end of the year.

The Nomads, affectionately known as the "Dream Ranch Boys", have provided music at many of Carlisle's informal dances this year. The Nomads, having come a long way since the first of the year, did not stop at the informal dances, but advanced to local and out-of-town engagements. Climaxing their career at Carlisle they were finally able to realize their dream and cut a record in a professional studio.

There will always be someone taking your measure

Some measures are taken with a tape but the more important measures of life are taken by the people who size us up, whether it be a sweetheart, a classmate, a son or daughter, or a prospective employer. There is always some keen eye, whether we know it or not, scrutinizing the dimensions not only of our physiques but of our minds, abilities and characters.

Your training at Carlisle has been designed to improve the dimensions of both your mind and character so that when you graduate it can be said that here stands a cadet foursquare to the world, ready and eager to shoulder the responsibilities which his particular talents and abilities qualify him to assume.

We measure cadets for uniforms. Our customers measure us in their appraisal of our ability to execute a uniform contract satisfactorily. It will be a never-ending effort on our part to keep our measurements good in the eyes of Carlisle Military School.

We salute the graduating class and wish you all Godspeed in your chosen field of endeavor.
