FOREWORD

Soon another year will be over, and will belong to the past. We have travelled a long hard way from registration to graduation. We've made some friends and a lot of memories, and with each day we learned a little more of life. The time is close when the seniors will walk across one stage and enter a new stage of their lives. With them, they carry a part of Carlisle and, in return, Carlisle retains a part of them. It is my hope that this, the 1964 REBEL, will through the years help in keeping bright our memories of this part of our lives.

Thank You,

DEDICATED TO MAJ. WILLIS F. MARTIN

We of the annual staff take great pleasure in dedicating the 1964 REBEL to Major Wick Martin. Major Martin has been at Carlisle for 11 years. In his time here he has handled grades and is now in charge of the student bank and advisor to the Golf team. He has seen his son come here to teach, and then go on to continue his education.

Major Martin is well known by the cadets, especially on Wednesday. As we have said he is well known and, due to his wit and willingness to help, well liked. We are sure the cadet corps agrees with us that this dedication is well deserved.

THE 1964 COLOR GUARD

RITTER

A black and white photograph capturing a color guard in action. Four members, dressed in military uniforms with peaked caps, are seen from the side as they carry a large American flag on a tall, dark pole. The flag is partially unfurled, showing the stars and stripes. They are standing on a grassy area. In the background, there is a white building with dark windows, a utility pole, and some trees. The overall scene is outdoors, likely on a school or military campus.

PRESIDENT

Colonel

James F. Risher

Colonel Risher was born in Hampton County, South Carolina. Upon his graduation from The Citadel he had to choose between a military career and one of teaching. He taught in Colleton County and for two years was the Superintendent of Ehrhardt High School. He began teaching at Carlisle in 1924, and four years later was made Headmaster. In 1939 he bought Carlisle, and he purchased Camden in 1959. He has held many important positions in community and national organizations. Col. Risher has in some way helped or influenced every cadet coming to Carlisle.

HEADMASTER

William R. Risher

Born in Ehrhardt in 1927, Colonel Risher attended Bamberg grade school and graduated from Carlisle in 1944. Like his father he too graduated from The Citadel. After his graduation from The Citadel in 1947 he went to the University of North Carolina for graduate work. In 1948 he came to Carlisle to teach and in 1958 he became headmaster of Carlisle. He is very active in the community and takes a true interest in all the cadets. We are very lucky to have a man such as this for our Headmaster.

PROFESSOR OF MILITARY SCIENCE

Colonel
Waddy Thompson

Lt. Col. Thompson was born in Chattanooga, Tennessee. He attended high school in Notre Dame, Tennessee. Lt. Col. Thompson graduated from The Citadel in the class of 1942. Upon his graduation he became a member of the faculty at Carlisle. He has served as P.M.S. for the past 22 years. He teaches military classes, with each class meeting twice a week and is in charge of cadet drill and government property. He has gained high respect from the cadet corps in his years of working with them.

COMMANDANT OF CADETS

Colonel
James A. Grimes

Lt. Col. Grimes was born here in Bamberg and graduated from the Bamberg High School. He graduated from Wofford and was commissioned a 2nd Lt. in the Army Reserve. During World War II he was a Capt. of the South Carolina State Guard. He has been at Carlisle for 28 years. He serves as Commandant of Cadets and teaches American History. In the years he has served as Commandant he has become known for his extreme fairness in his work. We are proud to have him on the faculty.

SENIOR OFFICERS

FELLOW CLASSMATES:

Finally we are about to graduate. These past five years have gone by all too fast. We, as a class, have had a lot of hard times, but I think the good outweighed them.

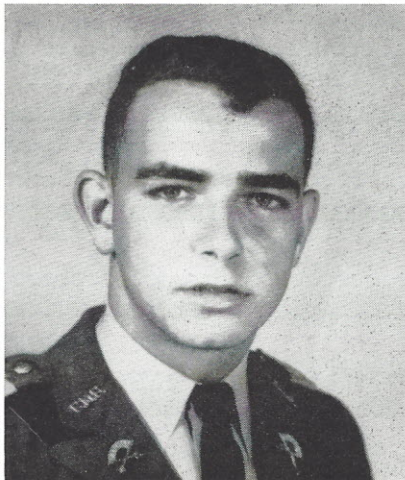

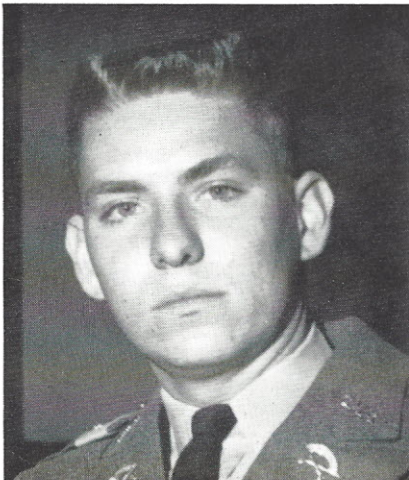

As we go our separate ways out into life I hope we can carry fond memories of these years with us. Though most of us will not see each other again, I wish you all the best of luck.

Sincerely,
PEE WEE PHILLIPS,
President Class of 1964.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Seniors, the time is drawing near when we must depart and go our own separate ways. But before this big step is taken, let us, while we are all still together, let our minds wander over the events leading up to this step, let us just once more linger with our memories. Pulling back the shades of time, it all seems to have its start about five years ago, five long years. September 1959, all over the nation children were flocking back to school, cheerful, not so willing maybe, but still cheerful. But it was a different looking crew arriving at Carlisle. Some were away from home for the first time, all a bit unsure of themselves. For the next six weeks the rats of the school year 1959-60 would undergo a startling ordeal, commonly called "Recruit Company". It is not with this entire rat class that we are concerned, only 40 of them, 40 children, the subfreshman class. Five years later 12 young men would look back to this year and remember. As the year got under way one of those 40 was dismissed from the school. His place was not destined to be vacant long. November 13, 1959 his place was filled, the cast is now all present. These boys, cast together under the same conditions became close friends on the whole, further molding the future of their class.

This year was their rat year. I will not bore you here with the details of the minor indignities suffered by them in their new way of life, it shall just pass to say that they were "rats". Instead we shall try to show you what they saw. This year, in itself, was not an especially eventful one, but it was this year that set the spark, that paved the way for the greater changes still yet to come. About the middle of the year the telephone booths that were on every section were struck by a wave of vandalism. In order to check this Major Risher moved the telephones into the lobby of Guilds Hall. Hazing is a problem every year, and this was no exception. The unexpected Honor Council hit hard, and hazing started to die. Sorrow was not to be excluded from that year. Returning from Easter furlough cadet Sgt. 1/c Zeke Olsen was killed in an auto accident.

But sorrow passed and the year drew to its end. These 40 had lived through it. Some now had rank, but all were a little wiser. Now they all looked forward to General Orders and the chance to be a second yearman. At these General Orders Maj. William R. Risher was promoted to Colonel.

The next year they arrived to face the adventure of being a 2nd yearman. Not all the boys came back, and new names were added to the class of "64". This was to be true of every year to come, some old friends lost, some new ones gained. 1960-61 saw changes in barracks and the uniform. The "Genie Lamps" were added along with the crests. A public address system was installed in barracks this year. The bugle blowing on each section was now obsolete. Still moving on, we can't stop now, they all prepared to face another year. The year 1961-62 saw changes in everything. Coaches Young and Phillips, Capts. Soukup, Hancock, and Maj. and Mrs. Eargle did not return. Their places were filled by Captains Norman, J.; Jenkins, Davenport, and Martin, G.; also, Lt. Col. Patrick, and Mrs. Walters. Two faculty officers now had their sons teaching along side of them; Capt. "Rock" Norman and Capt. Joe Norman; Capt. "Wick" Martin and Capt. George Martin. More items were added to the uniforms this year, also. Class colors and name tags were added to the regulation uniform. The campus also underwent some major changes this year. During the summer an office building had been erected just in front of the old one. The library was moved into the old office building, and the old library, in the middle of 1st section, was converted into a T. V. room.

The commissioned officers of this year saw a chance to add to their income, and placed Pepsi machines in the T.V. room. By the first 6 weeks' furlough the front campus drive was paved; greatly improving the looks of the campus. This was also an added convenience to the cadets. Before this, when the cadets formed, they would either eat dust or slosh in the mud.

The school received a shocking blow at the loss of one of the faculty officers this year. The time was the night before Christmas furlough; the night of the Christmas dance. Everyone was in high spirits. Those attending the dance were looking forward to a special treat. Major William Scaffé, once in the top 10 trumpet players, was to play at the dance. Shortly before he was to play, it was announced that he had died.

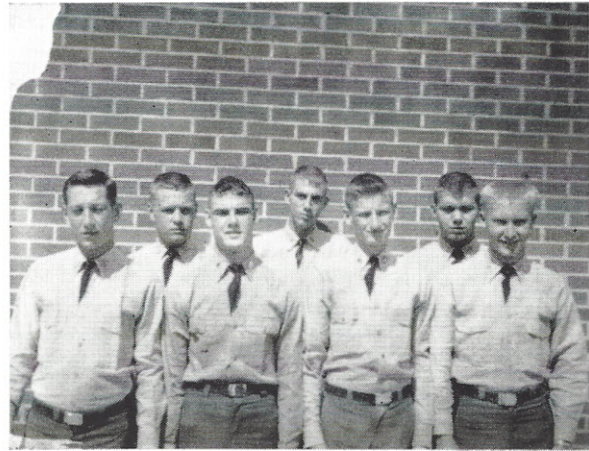

After Christmas Capt. Hancock returned to take Maj. Scaffé's place. Kibbee, the cadet captain of the band, finished the year doubling as band director. As before the sorrow passed, cadet life went on; "64" continued its way up.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

It was this year that the Drill team and Rifle team were organized by Maj. Thompson. Major and Mrs. Sturgeon were in the spotlight this year, also. All can remember the day he passed out cigars; the day he became a father. Another year is now at its end. At the end of this year, Capt. Steadman is promoted to Major. 1962-63—now the remainder of these 40 and their classmates were juniors, a big year for "64". The NCO Club, which had been built the year before, was moved to a new location. It now rested across from the Q. M. Store. The sidewalk now around the gym and office was also added this year. The uniform underwent another change. The metal chevrons on the fatigue uniforms were changed. The drill team began wearing a special uniform during performances this year. Before Christmas Capt. Norman was injured in an auto accident. He died during furlough. As before sorrow could not halt the year; Capt. Tiedeman filled in his place.

Captains Hancock and George Martin did not return at the year's start, and their places were filled by Captains Estes and Zemp. This was Capt. Estes second return to the faculty.

Capt. Zemp had graduated from Carlisle. Capt. Ragsdale was also added to the faculty.

This year the commissioned officers built a new clubhouse. Now the year is nearly over and the class of "64" prepares for "their year". At commencement Majors Patton and Thompson were promoted to Lt. Cols. and Capt. Martin was promoted to Major.

During the summer two things happened concerning Carlisle: new classrooms were built and the other resulted from a tragedy. Capt. Ludy Davenport was killed in an auto wreck. 1963-64—we moved into our last year.

Captains Ragsdale and Lt. Col. Patrick did not return and Maj. Sturgeon would not resume teaching until after Christmas, Capts. Walters, Gage, and Hattrich were added to the faculty and Capt. Judy filled in for Maj. Sturgeon. Mrs. McLean replaced Mrs. Thompson as school nurse. Our year has seen its share of changes about the campus. The T.V. room was moved under Memorial Barracks. The 1st Sgts. are now wearing .45 cal. pistols to drill and on duty. Before they wore sabers while on duty. Capt. Gage has been instrumental in bringing back the rifle team and the intramural football program. Also, this year work on a new track has been started.

This has been but a brief summary of our life over the past five years at school. The school and life here have not been the only changing things.

These last five years have seen history made and remade. They were years of strife and unrest. Our nation has been split by the civil rights dispute; cadets saw the Nixon-Kennedy debates on television. Kennedy defeated Nixon for the Presidency by the slightest of margins. Some three years later the same cadets were watching

T.V. when President Kennedy's assassination was announced. Then the aftermath that followed—Oswald, the accused assassin, was arrested and before completely questioned was killed by Jack Ruby. '64 saw the death sentence handed to Ruby. Vice-President Johnson took the oath as President.

These past few years have seen advancements in our space program, also. The U. S. advanced from the first unmanned space shot to Gordon Cooper's 22 orbital flight. World governments have also been changing. The French were driven out of Algiers and the Congo achieved complete independence from England. Cuba held the spotlight. It has shown its true colors and now openly admits Communism.

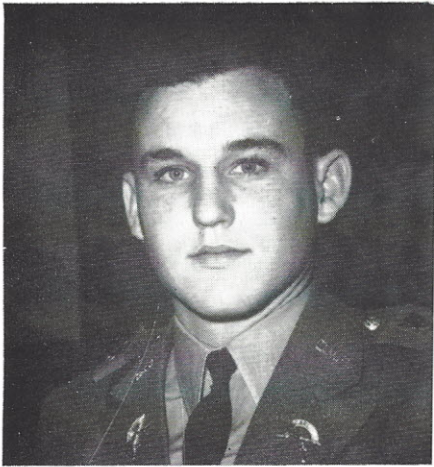

Many things have undergone changes in our stay at Carlisle. World history, politics and the school itself. The campus and uniforms, and things like that have been changed, but this is not what I am thinking of now. When the class of '64 first arrived on the scene at Carlisle, the public opinion of military schools was different from what it is now. The majority of the boys in military school at that time were there only because they could not pass at home, or to keep them out of trouble. Now, over the years, the public opinion has changed. Because of that change the way of life in barracks has also changed. It is now almost a "fad" for parents to send their children to military schools, and a new breed of cadets is the result. The cadets, now coming to military schools seem smaller, younger, more immature. The whole attitude of the cadets at Carlisle has changed, and it is hard for the "old timers" of the corps to understand. It's true that this is all part of a cycle, but it's hard for the old cadets to change with this cycle. We have, on a whole, adjusted to this change, but when ever a group of 5th yearmen get together talk will always get around to the "good old days."

History is still being made, but now, for 74 seniors, graduation is more important. Let us stop remembering and look to the future. Good luck to the Class of 1964.

THE REBEL STAFF

Here in this short paragraph, we of the annual staff, appreciate the chance to express our feelings toward the annual and the thought behind it. There are, everyday, things happening about the campus that, though commonplace, are symbolic of the life we have been leading for the past few years. We wish that we had the space truly needed to depict our life here, but we feel that the pages here will be enough in years to come to piece together the memories.

We hope that as you read the 1964 REBEL you will get as much enjoyment and memories from it as we did putting them into it.

THE BUGLE STAFF

The Bugle, our school newspaper, was this year supervised by Captain Fred Hattrick. We feel that through Captain Hattrick's supervision and the hard work of Cadet-Editor Elmer Lane the Bugle has been a great success.

Hard work, cooperation, and creative imagination are only a few of the ingredients going into a good newspaper. We feel that this year's Bugle has displayed all of this and more.

We wish to congratulate the Bugle Staff on a job well done.

THE CERO STAFF

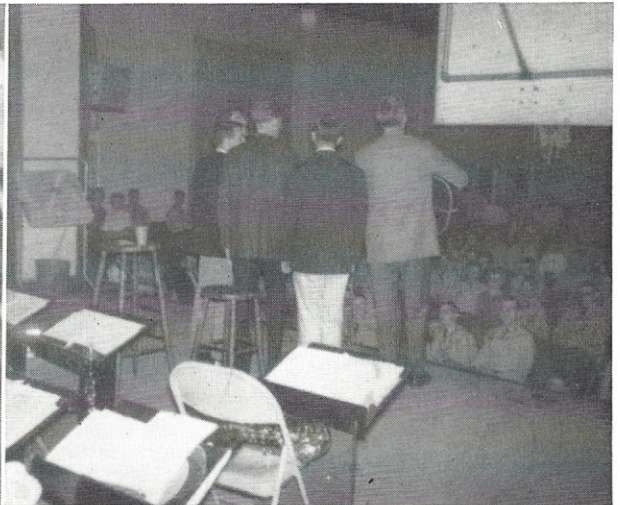

The CERO, Cadet Entertainment and Recreational Organization, consists of cadets willing to give of their time in order that campus life may be less tedious and routine. Under the guidance of, at the first part of the year, Major Jack Steadman and later upon his return to the faculty, Major Carson Sturgeon the staff has been able to enliven the campus with dances, both formal and informal, and a hootenanny.

THE LIBRARY CLUB

Books play a large part in everyone's life, and a Carlisle cadet is no exception. The Library Staff, supervised by Mrs. Harold Rice, aid in every way, cadets seeking to use the library. Whether it is for knowledge, enjoyment, or just to escape the hum drum of every day life, books are here to stay, and as long as books are needed, an efficient library staff will also be needed. As you read this think back to what the library staff, as well as the other helpful organizations here, have meant to our lives. It's hard to continue to do good work when it is neither recognized nor appreciated.

BRIGADIERS

The Brigadiers, Carlisle's Cadet Orchestra, has done a fine job this year, under Capt. Sam Walter's guidance. The cadets of this year's Brigadiers have put a lot of time and practice into their group, and enjoy doing it. Some, feeling held down by the slower orchestra music, branched out into "Dixie Land". They call their combo the "Saints Five".

It is a pleasure to have such a group represent our school and dances and other social affairs.

THE FLIGHT CLUB

The Flight Club, though small in number, is open to any cadet interested in flying. To these cadets flying is more than an age old dream or a childhood yearning. During and after "earning their wings" they are able to enjoy the thrill of being alone, among the clouds. We, of the annual staff, wish further success to this group of cadets pursuing this interesting educational hobby.

THE PHOTO CLUB

This club, though still in its infant stage, is fast drawing new members. In the past it was limited to just cadets able to afford expensive equipment. Now with less expensive gear, more cadets interested in photography have joined the club. Its members have branched out to taking pictures for the newspaper and the annual. We hope this fast growing club continues its successful climb.

THE BARBELL CLUB

The Barbell Club was at first organized for the big He-Men in the school. In the last couple of years, it's tone has changed quite a bit. Boys who want to develop themselves, or even have something to do have joined this club. Men who run track and play field events have found the use of this club to their advantage.

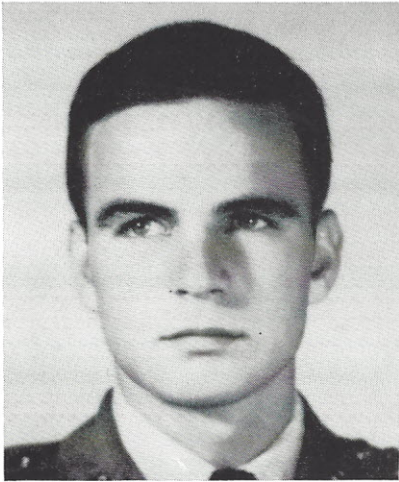

Through the Barbell Club, boxing though by the school not a recognized sport has become right popular among the boys. We thank and congratulate all boys who have played a part in organizing, developing and keeping going this club.

Judging the "Miss Carlisle" contest has been a great pleasure for me, because I know, as a former winner, what a thrill it will be to the young lady who has been selected as "Miss Carlisle" of 1964.

I believe you will have a very impressive beauty section this year, and I extend my best wishes to you for an equally outstanding annual.

TRAINING CADRE

To the training cadre and its officers is handed one of the hardest jobs of the school year, training the new rat class. The members of this cadre must be well chosen for they are the ones who give the rat class their first impression of Carlisle. How the first year men respond to orders and barracks life the whole year, depends largely on the training they receive the first six weeks. We feel that this year's cadre has lived up to the responsibility given to them.

HONOR COUNCIL

The honor council consists of the battalion commander, adjutant, and captains. Lt. Col. Thompson advises and aids this body of cadets whenever necessary. To these seven cadets fall the job of investigating major infractions of the rules and passing judgment on such cases. It is not always an easy task, nor is it a restful one. We hope that the cadets which hold this position of trust in the future will keep its tradition alive.

The commission officers club house was built last year. It was built with the idea in mind that the responsibility of leadership can be a lonely job. In this club these cadets can relax

RISHER RIFLES

This year's Risher Rifles have progressed well under the leadership of "Hudge" Hughes and "Buddy" Gaines. Wally Gramling was to command this year's drill team but found it impractical to carry the responsibility of both

Here on the last page, the annual has reached its end. The year, as well as the annual, is at its end, yet it is just the beginning. For 74 it is the start, the beginning of a new part in their lives. Here at the year's end they trade the old for the new. For both the Seniors and the returning under classmen this past year will soon be just a memory, and this annual will be a tangible part of that memory. To both I wish good-luck and give a word of advice. The past and its memories are only a friend on a lonely night. That is the way it should be kept. Our work is in the present, it is the making of the future.

Dedicated To The Memory Of
CAPT. JAMES LUDY DAVENPORT

We, of the 1964 REBEL, place this year's annual dedication and memoriam to Capt. James Davenport. Capt. Davenport was at Carlisle only two years, but in this time he earned the respect of the cadet corps. He will always be remembered for his fairness and devotion to the cadet corps.
