FOREWORD

It seems to have traveled so fast, for here we are at the close of another year. The road has been hard and long but looking back it seems too short. Eighty-six of us now wonder what the world holds for our future. In these pages will our memories be collected and in our hearts remain forever.

We would like to thank everyone, who contributed to all phases of our learning, with the deepest gratitude and sincere thanks.

May those who carry on next year and the years to follow devote themselves to learning all possible, letting nothing slip by, and keeping this institution in the highest regard and honor. With these words ending, the 1965 Rebel Begins.

Dedicated To The Memory Of Cadet George F. Myers

The 1965 Rebel is honored to place this year's annual in memory of George F. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Myers, Sr., of Scranton, South Carolina. He passed away on March 18, 1963, while attending the eighth grade at Carlisle.

He was liked by all cadets and friendly with everyone. We are proud to have had a man of his caliber in our student body. We hope that his memory will always remain with Carlisle.

COLOR GUARD

PRESIDENT

Colonel James F. Risher

Colonel Risher was born in Hampton County, South Carolina. Upon graduation from The Citadel he had to choose between a military career and one of teaching. Selecting the latter, he taught in Colleton County and for two years was the superintendent of Ehrhardt High School. He began teaching at Carlisle in 1924, and four years later was made headmaster. In 1939 he bought Carlisle, which was under a Methodist Conference jurisdiction, and in 1959 he purchased Camden, Carlisle's biggest rival. He has held many posts of responsibility and should be "Who's Who" in anybody's book.

HEADMASTER

William R. Risher

Colonel Risher was born in Ehrhardt, South Carolina, in 1927, attended grade school in Bamberg, and graduated from Carlisle in 1944. He went to college at The Citadel, and upon graduation in 1947 attended the University of North Carolina for graduate work. He began teaching at Carlisle in 1948, and became headmaster in 1958. Col. Risher is very active in all community activities, and we are very privileged to have such a man as our headmaster.

FIFTH YEARMEN

The Fifth Yearmen, which consist of those entering Carlisle in the eighth Grade, and following on through until graduation, are only ten in number. Their first year at Carlisle was in the year 1960. They started out with 32 classmates, who through the years fell out of school. The fifth yearmen have seen many changes; anywhere from new buildings to changes in school regulations.

Upon graduation these boys probably feel more sentiment and regrets in leaving than any of the other cadets. They have met and made more personal friends through the years, than most people achieve in a lifetime.

SENIORS PROPHECY

The year 1975 was one of peace, prosperity, and national pride following American success in gaining and maintaining freedom in 75% of the continent.

I found myself in Charleston, S. C. practicing my chosen profession, law; still single but hoping. The date June 25th and whom should I receive a letter from, but Mrs. George Benton informing me of the Class of '65-Carlisle Military School-reunion. It was to be held on the day of the annual Carlisle-Camden football clash.

No sooner had I laid the invitation aside than Bill Garbini phoned asking my plans concerning such. Now married to the former Gayle Ness, he has two daughters and is in partnership with Bob Van Ness. Bob has stayed single, preferring the louder side of life to that of family quietness.

The three of us, including Bill's Spouse and children, were off for Bamberg on the big day. Arriving at the front steps of Guilds Hall (which incidentally was still standing) we were met by the Bentons and told to drive on to Ziggies for a scheduled luncheon.

Before leaving, Irene related that several of the class would not attend. Unfortunately seven were deceased. Bob Finney and Paul Mopps were killed side by side in Saigon while reading a Playboy during a surprise air raid. Andy Straszewicz, who had returned to native Poland, shot himself in the stomach while playing with his gun collection. "Fish" Herin drowned while trying to swim the English Channel. Dud Gibson and Jim Spivey were killed in freak accidents at home. Dud died of internal injuries suffered when he fell attempting to skate down a bannister. Jim was killed when he fell out of a second story window. Rick Williams was slain by a renegade band of Zulu's while sunning on the Nile.

I was also able to learn something of the remaining nonattendants. John Scarpa was in New York, in the midst of a fund raising campaign to supply his street gang with tire chains. Brian Davies, Lindsey Schmidt, and Jack Pevser were unable to attend due to business interests. They were all head over heels in debt trying to get out. "Frog" Corley, a biologist whose life study is frogs (coincidentally), would not leave his work. Bruce Apel and Rick Thompson, gold-miners, were snowbound in Northern Alaska. Tommy Martin and Joe Johnson, navy careermen, were last heard of cruising close to the North Pole looking for a spot to surface. Earl Huggins was unable to leave his cotton patch. Dan West was too battered, following his tenth unsuccessful attempt for the S. C. Golden Gloves. Fred Branson was last seen broke still looking for a millionaires. John Bowzard, ace FBI man, was out hunting for the notorious bank robbers, Pat O'Neill and Jerry Peeler. On the other hand nobody knew the whereabouts of Buster Smith.

Several of our old classmates were already at the restaurant when we arrived. I at once started making the rounds, being anxious to talk with my old buddies. I ran across Tom Sharpe and Dozier Cook first. Both are married to Bamberg girls. Tom is a broom salesman, while Dozier sells Avon Products.

John Fischer, Earl Whatley, and Craig Rowe were seated at the next table. I learned that John keeps the stop watch on the 60-second Right Guard Commercials. Earl is in charge of picking up the paper left after New York ticker-tape parades. Craig is a Baptist missionary in Timbuktu. At this point Bob Byrd and "Daffy" Davant joined us. Both are employed by Comet, and have the difficult task of trying to find why Ajax outsells their company.

Moving on I spotted Paul Lawton, "Punk" Lewis, and Steve Lineberry laughing loudly. It seemed that Steve, who had returned to Carlisle as an English instructor (Maj. Steadman was his idol), was catching a hard time about it. Paul, after losing his shirt in the stock market, now sells fabricated tree houses. "Punk" is porter and utility man for Southern Railway.

All eyes turned to the door as Piney Hamilton, "Bup" Tyler, and Will Simmons entered. We were all most anxious to find out about these three. Piney resides in Augusta and is grounds keeper at the Masters Golf Course. He also go-kart races in his spare time. Bup is physical education director at the Florence YMCA. Will manages a red dot store, but can usually be found playing poker with his six year old son.

George entered and began the session at twelve noon. By the way he is co-owner of the Walterboro skating rink. We were given the itinerary for the day, which included the ball game, dinner, cocktails, and dancing.

Arriving in the midst of lunch were Jim McMillan, Cal Seckinger, and John Butler. Jim is in charge of the bargain basement at Belk's in Columbia. Cal has a trained flea act in one of the larger Eastern circuses. John is a promotion manager for Coppertone Sun Tan Lotions.

Also, on the scene were Greg Watson, Carroll Boswell, and Paul Mitchell. Greg is employed by a company that manufactures foam rubber garter belts. Carroll sells mosquito nets, door to door. Paul was the newly appointed Carlisle dietitian.

Harry Hobbs' and Bill Cogburns' families were sitting together. Harry was unemployed at that moment. Greyhound had fired him the week before for wrecking a bus and keeping it secret. Bill is the only one in the class whose residence is in a foreign country. He is sewer inspector for the Paris Dept. of Sanitation.

Just after lunch Alan Freeman and Chip Henderson strolled in. Everyone crowded around to see how the future had treated them. Alan is a state game warden working out of his native Coosawhatchie. Chip makes personalized surfboards and sharpens arrows in his leisure time.

Just before kickoff time Ray Combs and Stu Taber came bouncing up the bleachers. I didn't get to speak with them until halftime and by then others had also arrived. So I again proceeded to make the rounds.

Ray owns an alligator farm in central Florida, and Stu is the alto in a barber shop quartet working out of Beaufort. Lenny Traupel was a bugler at Fort Jackson until chapped lips caused his retirement. Walt Hazzard demonstrates the safe usage of sidewalk surfers in a Georgetown dime store. Mike Gilliam is water boy for the New York Giants. Randal Davenport hustles pool under the alias of "Carolina Fats".

Frankie Tucker, Tommy Gullede, and Lamar Cooper ambled in at the beginning of the fourth quarter. I later learned that Frankie is top singer on the Bob Poole Gospel Hour. Tommy was resting on doctor's orders following his futile attempts to put the toothpaste back in the tube. Lamar is a dancing instructor for Arthur Murray Studios.

The game ended just as Willy Sheils and Pratt Hambright drove up. Both have made military their careers. Willy has the rank of private in the Marine Corps and is stationed on the Rock of Gibraltar. Pratt, an instructor at The Citadel, holds the records for having put more cadets on report in one week than any other teacher in that school's history. Oh, yes, CMS won the game; of course!

At dinner I sat with several of the later arrivals. Danny Johnson, Early Walker, and Barry Watts all hold key posts with Metrecal Dietary Inc. Ottie Stone sells red long johns for a living, while Charles Mitchell tests flip flops for endurance.

"Dodge" Scarborough, "Huck" Finn, and Rodney Manogue made it just in time for cocktails. Dodge is a pickle packer for the Tennessee Pickle Packing Co. Huck is a wine taster for Mogan David Wines and Rodney is a house fly swatter salesman. I, also, learned that Dan Weatherington poses for the buffalo nickel. Phil Gaudreau and Brian Johnson are co-owners of a service station. From what I hear they are still chasing the Bamberg "queens".

Before the beginning of the dance the remainder of the class had arrived. Among them were "Dog" Dawson and Donnie Carter. "Dog" works for Sergeant's Flea and Tick Spray while Donnie is employed by the Pillsbury Corp. as a flour sifter. Bill Brooks, as expected, has become one of the best known head shrinkers in the U. S. One of his prominent patients is Roger Beck, the goat of stage, screen, and television. Bill says hypnosis seems to work best on Roger.

Bill Carter, David Moore, and J. P. Watson were seated together. Bill's company is tops in topless bathing suits, David is a chicken farmer, and J. P. is a talent scout for Playboy Magazine. Fred Brown is a portrait painter and Jim Freeman is a baker, specializing in grease balls.

David Chandler is presently employed at the Carlisle Canteen. That canteen special sure must have gotten to him. John Norman works for the Canary Bird Seed Co. He is in charge of protecting the test canaries from cats. Mike Sweeney is a wholesale distributor of diamond belly buttons and other female attire.

Eddie Wright is the lazy one out of the class. He receives unemployment checks and fishes. Two others were unable to make the reunion because of last-minute delays. Bobby Smith got drunk on the way and ended up in a Nova Scotia Alcoholics Anonymous meeting. Ed Soler, roving reporter for Life Magazine, had just been sent to Outer Mongolia to find out what happened to Inner Mongolia. Buster sent us a telegram at midnight. He had joined the French Foreign Legion. (Just for Kicks.)

Our reunion ended as the night faded. However, I'm sure we are all looking forward to 1985 and our next blow out.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Fellow Classmates,

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation for a job well done by this class this year. Without your help, I'm sure it would have been a failure.

I'm sure I speak for Jerry, Dwight and Ronald as well as for myself in saying that if the year ahead prevails in the same manner, we will by far mold out the best senior class yet. Have a nice summer and I will see you all next year.

Sincerely,

The most desired club of all the cadets is probably the Block "C" Club. To meet its requirements you have to letter in a Varsity Sport and be initiated into the club. The initiation meets all members' fancy and tends to be right enjoying for those joining. The Block "C" Club entertains the faculty and dates at its end of the year party and enjoys three other steak suppers. They also sponsor the Joseph Norman Award for an all around athlete and cadet.

TRAINING CADRE

This year's Training Cadre really had their work cut out for themselves. The rats were young and hard-headed but in just five weeks, the cadre produced a group of rats ready to perform for a passing General.

The whole school year depends upon this group, and the training they introduce to the first yearman. During this recruit period, it either makes or breaks the rats, in that it determines whether they can take orders with proper response.

The Training Cadre filled all of these responsibilities, and deserves much credit.

HONOR COUNCIL

These eight boys are confronted with the hard task of trying and prescribing punishments for major infractions of school rules. It is not a very easy task, in that punishing someone never is.

The Honor Council this year kept up with the long established tradition of honesty and fairness. We hope that those who follow these will keep up its high standards.

This year the commissioned officers have enjoyed a fine time. In their three-year-old Club House, built in Dedication to Donald M. Custard, they enjoy some mighty fine steak suppers, and manage to keep the phone always off the hook. In the past three years much has been accomplished. First the building of the Club House and Picnic Area and next the sponsoring of a One Hundred Dollar Award to the Cadet who is most worthy and meets the requirements.

All commissioned officers are deeply indebted to Col. Thompson for all his advice and work; without him there would be no Club.

FIRST ROW: Paul Lawton, Johnny Bowzard, Rick Williams, George Benton, Stu Taber, Ray Combs, Steve Lineberry, Roger Beck.
SECOND ROW: Danny West, Ronald Jacobs, Earl Huggins, Dwight Tankersley, Homer Hobbs, Clarence Lewis, Oattie Stone, Buggy Newton.
THIRD ROW: Jerry Counihan, Frankie Tucker, Bill Brooks, Bill Cogburn, Rodney Manogue, Jimmy McMillan, Rick Thompson, Randy Scarborough.

The N.C.O. Club was orginated approximately four years ago and during the elapsed time a new clubhouse has been built adjacent to the old one. It is conveniently located on the campus and provides a place of recreation and relaxation for its members. In order to have a small but steady income, doughnuts are sold regularly by the members.

This money is then used to purchase furniture and it also provides for two or three suppers during the year. We probably would not have advanced this far had it not been for the guidance given by Major Jack Steadman. We all wish to express our thanks to him for his hard and never tiring work.

RISHER RIFLES

The Risher Rifles, though hindered due to last year's graduating Seniors, have done a fine job this year. They have appeared in various Parades and at Dress Parades, under the leadership of Don Railsback. He has worked hard with his boys this year, having extra drill and individual practice; it has all proved itself very worthy of congratulations.

DEDICATED TO . . .

Mrs. Harold Rice

The Rebel Staff takes great pride in presenting the 1965 Rebel to Mrs. Harold Rice. Mrs. Rice, in her capacity as librarian, comes in contact with most of the cadets during the school year.

She keeps us up to date with the newest in literature and news. Although often taken for granted, she is the life saver when that book report deadline nears. Without her help and counsel cadet life would be much harder. We take this opportunity to acknowledge our heartwarm thanks to Mrs. Rice
