Dear Mr. Carter:

I should have been smarter than to have agreed to select Miss Carlisle and the four runner's up, because the task was very difficult! Enclosed are my selections.

Even though selection of five was a very hard decision, I must admit that it was a pleasant task upon which I cheerfully spent a good bit of time. The judging of this contest reaffirms an opinion that I have had for a long time: That Carlisle men just have an uncanny ability to surround themselves with girls far prettier than they deserve!

Thanks for the honor and the confidence in asking me to make these selections. Best wishes for a most successful annual.

Sincerely yours,
W. R. Risher
