

Food For Thought

All students liked to eat, especially growing teenagers. With all of the activities throughout high school many students ate because they burnt off so many calories and energy during the activities. In the society of the day eating was one of the top ten hobbies. Some people enjoyed cooking at home, going to family members houses, fast food restaurants or dining in restaurants. Most students agreed that there was nothing like a home cooked meal. Just imagine what this world would be like without food. Well, that is a scary thought, isn't it?

Going to the vending machine, freshman Matthew Andrews got a snack. "I love snacks and I love that I am able to come purchase my favorite type everyday," Matthew said.

"If you are looking for good chicken nuggets, french fries and sweet tea, Wendy's is the place to be. The food is also cheap," junior Lance Stroble and senior Chad Bloodworth said.

Eating at Wendy's junior Megan Musgrave enjoyed an afternoon meal. "I really enjoy eating outside of school because it's easier than cooking a meal," Megan said.
