"It would be alright to be a twin because I would have someone my age to hang out with all the time," senior Ryan Broach said.

"I would like a twin and I would want Amanda Warner to be my twin because we understand each other and we both love American Eagle," senior Savannah Lane said.

"I wouldn't want to be a twin because I'm happy being an individual," junior Leon Bowman said.

"I would like to be a twin because I could do devious things and get away with it," senior Shacohn Brown said.

"I wouldn't like to be a twin because it would be weird seeing my myself again," senior Jeremiah Fink said.

"Me and Whitney are kind of different because we have different attitudes, she's more of the fiesty one," senior Brittney Williams said. "I think we are similar because we like most of the same things, but I'm the one that will get angry the quickest usually," senior Whitney Williams said.

"I like being a twin because she challenges me to do my best," senior Ashley Garrett said. "The advantages of being a twin is I always have someone to blame," senior Alicia Garrett said.

Juniors Riddhi and Siddhi Naik share their sisterly love. "I like being a twin because no matter what she will be there for me," Siddhi said. "We do a lot of things together, very seldom do we do things with other people," Riddhi said.
