

1. Playing the trumpet with fellow trumpeters, senior Jason Howard helped carry the tune during the homecoming game performances. "I started out playing flute, but later on, when I started playing high school band, I played the french horn and mellophone," Jason said.

2. Playing the clarinet and keeping up with the band, sophomore Jamaica Nix performed during this years half-time performance at homecoming. "I joined the band because I was looking for an extra-curricular activity and I also enjoy music," Jamaica said.

3. Marching with his fellow band members, freshman Richard Pinnillos helped lead the band piece called "Are We Alone?". "I have played many instruments from the trumpet to the baritone sax and now I play the tuba," Richard said.

Showing the freshmen how its done, junior Cory Elliot performed during the homecoming game. "The reason that I started band is because I just like to play music," Cory said.

Concentrating on winning the state championship, sophomore Victoria Sherril performed during the home coming show. "I have been to several band classics, Bands of America, Lower State and State competitions," Victoria said.

