

Senior Courtney Harper and her friends were talking about their favorite colors during lunch. "Pink defines women as being strong and men as being pretty," Courtney said.

Think PINK

Flourished along hills of flowers
 The wind blows slightly as minutes and hours
 Pass through time but no one thinks
 About the depth and strength of the color pink.

Representing those who give new life
 And respect their responsibility as a wife.
 And even if they fail the test
 They fight the cancer in their breast.

Raising children as they're able,
 Working to put food on the table.
 And for men who have a softer side
 It shows that it's okay to cry.

With more strength than people see
 This color is more than we let it be.
 And regardless of what others think
 There's a depth and strength in the color pink.

Written by Courtney Harper

Courtney's Friends:

Working on spreads for the yearbook, junior Jill Beebe worked to submit her layout on pink by the deadline. "Pink isn't really one of my favorite colors, so this topic was kind of difficult," Jill said.

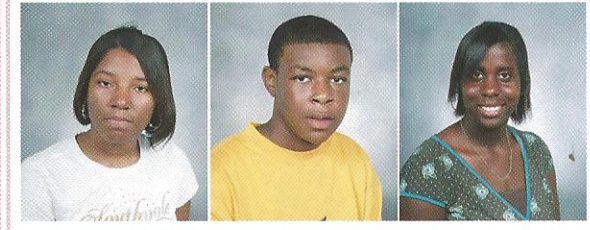

While searching for a table where she could sit during lunch, senior Kari Harper stopped to give her opinion on the color pink. "Pink is my favorite color in the whole world," Kari said.

Veronica Bastian-10 Domonique Blakeney-11 Taurean Bligen-11

Levi Blue-11 Ralph Bright-9 Jahleel Dubois-10
 Toni Jones-9 James Jordan-9 Imani Kinsey-10

Students who are the youngest sibling

Sherri Maulorico-11 Lauren McCollum-10 Thomas Morrall-11