Sophomore Ashlee Ackerman stopped to look in the mirror at her house before she went out with friends. "If I could change roles with anyone in my family it would be my little sister because she doesn't have any responsibilities," Ashlee said.

Role play anyone?

We all had to play certain roles at school but for some students "role play" didn't stop there. For a lot of students after school meant going to work or going home to take care of little brothers and sisters. After school roles didn't come easy for some, some students had to play mom and dad. What role did you play in high school?

Sophomore Sierra Tippins sat in the Commons Area during third lunch studying for her French test. "I think I would make a responsible adult," Sierra said.

Sophomore Caitlin Rituno sat in the Commons Area during third lunch preparing her homework for fourth period. "I would make a responsible adult because I baby-sit my sisters and people refer to me as a little momma," Caitlin said.
