James talked with his friends in the Commons Area before school. "I don't think I would like my girlfriend in a class with me. It would keep me from doing my work," senior James Davis said.

I Can't Concentrate!

There were times this year when energetic young adults found it difficult to pay attention. It was hard to focus with all of the different things going on in class. There were many distractions: class clowns, friends, significant others, and vibrating cell phones. So what was it that caused you to lose your focus?

Chippy's Friends

Twan chilled in the hall after second period. "Texting doesn't distract me. I text all day," senior Antwan Walker said.

Mario and Juice gave each other dap (a form of horizontal handshake) at first lunch. "I don't like my girlfriend being in a class with me. She stares at me," senior Terrell Stephens said.
