While enjoying her milk Jordan stared into space. "Having a disagreement with someone in my class does cause me to lose my focus. It makes me really angry and I want to jump across the desk and beat them up," senior Jordan Shearouse said.

During her break, Brittany socialized in the commons area. "I am the class clown and I don't think I distract anyone," senior Brittany Sally said.

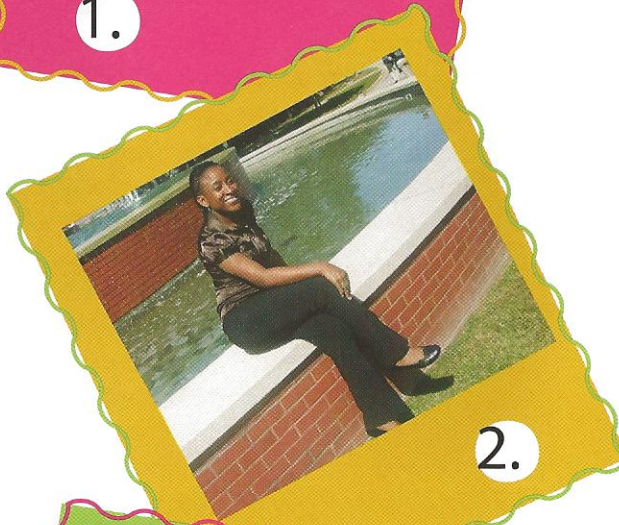

Sitting in class Shannon concentrated on her third period's assignment. "I would like my boyfriend to be in a class with me although it would distract me," freshman Shannon Creech said.

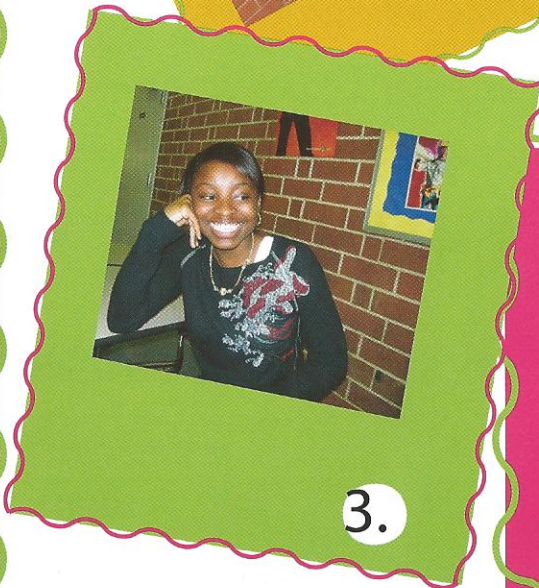

Conversing with her friends Michaela talked about NJROTC. "I would not like it if all girls were in my class. I'm not a girly girl," freshman Michaela Jones said.
