

Comments

Sophia Brown was in Ms. Edwards' class showing off her step for the Distinguished Women on Thursday. "The program inspires me to work hard to maintain my GPA to stay in it, and it has a great outlook on my education," senior Sophia said.

Ashira Dobison was outside on Wednesday after school just chillin' with friends and sharing how much she enjoys the Distinguished Women program. "We have fun and we consider each other sisters. We stick together," senior Ashira said.

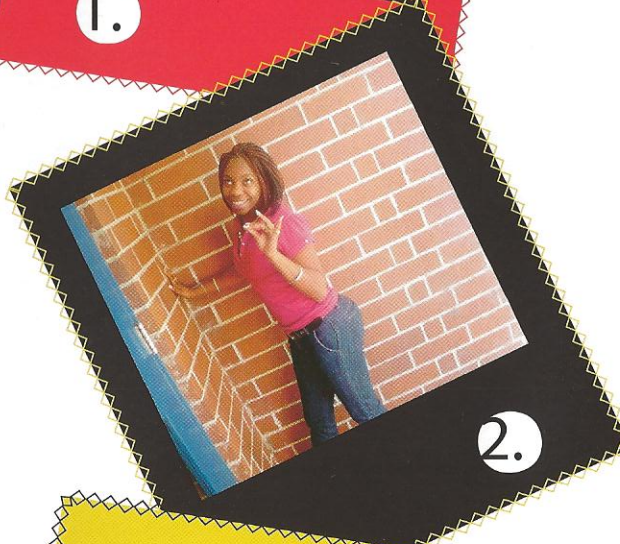

Senior Ziesta Simmons was in the hall Monday on the way to Mrs. Hood's classroom to get a student, and stopped to talk with a friend. "I'm in Distinguished Women because it's a good organization. We work very hard at practice and everyone gets along," Ziesta said.

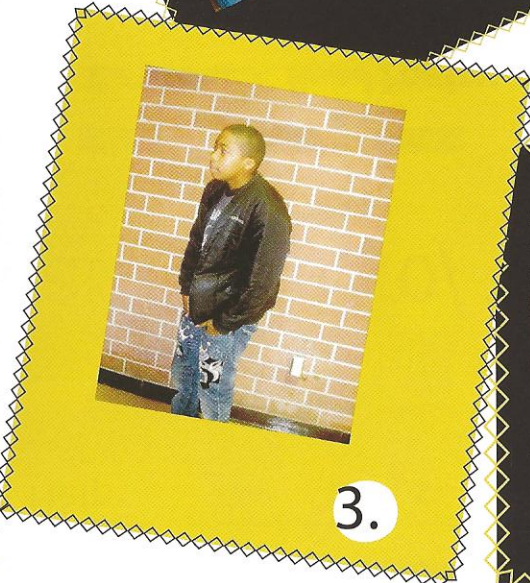

In the Commons Area on Tuesday, Sierra sat and chilled with some friends and talked about the next Distinguished Women meeting. "It's a wonderful experience and allows us to be able to meet new people and learn new things," senior Sierra Akon-Jenkins said.

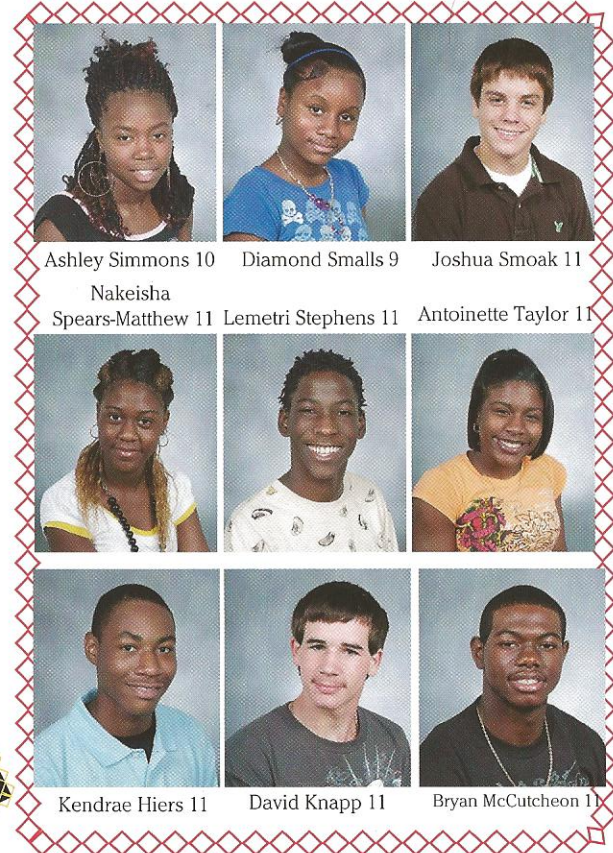

1.

2.

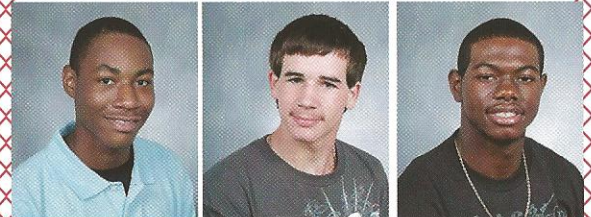

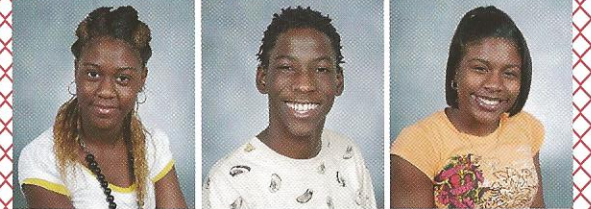

3.

Ashley Simmons 10    Diamond Smalls 9    Joshua Smoak 11

Nakeisha Spears-Matthew 11    Lemetri Stephens 11    Antoinette Taylor 11

Kendrae Hiers 11    David Knapp 11    Bryan McCutcheon 11

1. Larry Edwards was in the hall on the way to his third period teacher's class on Thursday. "In the Kappa league we get things done when they need to be done, we get down, and we know how to put in work," junior Larry said.

2. Senior Kindra McNeil was outside Wednesday chatting with Distinguished Women friends when she took time out to show how she cares for the organization by showing the sign. "This organization gives us a chance to travel and experience things in a new way," Kindra said.

3. Charles Williams was in the Freshmen Academy going to the student parking lot on Monday after school. "I was chosen to join Kappa League because I know how to step, but it more of a brotherhood than just stepping," sophomore Charles said.