Stephanie Gautreaux, in the LMC classroom, read during the October meeting. She sat with friends from the Pizza and Poetry Club, "Our bargains been met," junior Stephanie said.

Kelly Lanier stood looking at the people that attended the October Poetry and Pizza Club in the Library Media Center." If you can keep your head while all around you people are losing theirs, then you have not checked your answering service," sophomore Kelly said.

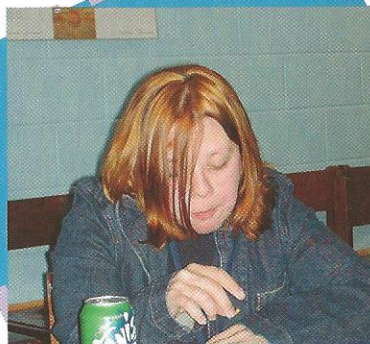

Rongera Lawyer in the Pizza and Poetry club in November ran to meet a friend who has not been to the meeting in a while. "Poetry is cool, it helps people with their problems," senior Rongera said.

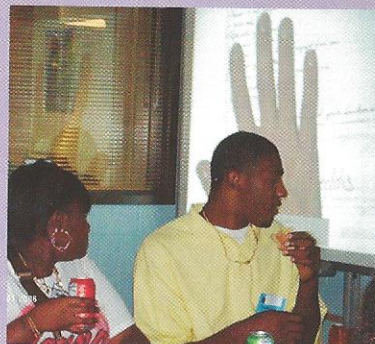

Senior Joshua Middleton laughed at the poem his friend read at the meeting in November in the library. "Josh's world is different in a poetic way. If you want to write like me wait another day," Joshua said.

Students in Poetry and Pizza Club

1. Ashely Oliver sat in the Commons Area Friday morning as she laughed with her friends. "I love Poetry," senior Ashley said.

2. Senior Caitlin Cottingham in the Library enjoyed listening to the poems being read in November's meeting. "It's a lot of fun. It's a place where you can express yourself without being judged. The pizza is good too," Caitlin said.

3. Terrill Stephens was the newest member of the Pizza and Poetry Club for the month of November he really enjoyed it. "It's fun and you get to showcase your talent and get to see others showcase their talents," senior Terrill said.
