OUT of the Past...

INTO the Future!

As the year kicked off, a blast of new experiences rushed into the doors of Colleton County High. There were so many new challenges in this old building, and this was the last year to cherish them here. The students looked forward to the new building, while the teachers flashed back to all of the memories that they have acquired over the years. Although many changes took place this year, next year will be an overwhelming new experience for everybody. The student body will have to adapt to even more new changes, and a totally new environment. All of the students will be like freshman again. This is our time to reflect on the past, and look towards the future.

What is prom? Some people may say it is a waste of time and then many others will say that it is the best night of your high school years. Seniors find this important night as a way to celebrate their last year of high school. It is the juniors responsibility to decorate and put on the prom for the seniors. Juniors are also invited to the prom to celebrate the night that they helped create. Freshman and sophomores can also come to prom if they are invited by a junior or a senior. The Prom of 2010 was called Midnight Masquerade. The prom committee worked hard to put this special night together for the seniors. With gold, purple, and green decorations, the gym did not look like our gym. It really felt like a masquerade party. All in all, the Prom of 2010 was a hit, and it was a great way for the seniors of 2010 to celebrate one of their final nights at Colleton County High School!

Schools all over enjoy having pep rallies to get the student body pumped for the big game. All have their own way of making their pep rallies fun and entertaining.

Games were played here at CCHS such as the animal game, where students acted like animals and had to find their partner, and Mock Homecoming, this was when guys dressed up as the homecoming court and the girls dressed up as their escorts. These types of activities help get the student body more involved in school spirit.

Bringing your true language OUT

We have quite a few students at Colleton County High that do not consider English their first language. These students take part in the English Second Language (ESL) class. ESL helps these students learn a new language while still staying true to their culture. It's a challenging task to learn English while keeping in touch with your inner language, but they succeed in doing so throughout the school year.

"Only 47 more years until we're seniors again." - Anonymous

It all began in 2003, when Doug Bullock decided to start something for the seniors, Senior Tailgate. The day of the Homecoming game, eligible students of the senior class, got out of school and went down to the track where they could park their cars. The seniors were allowed to cook out and just hang out with each other, spending one of their final moments at CCHS together. All senior students look forward to this time, though this year one senior was not able to attend. His name is Robert Glover. Robert has been diagnosed with leukemia and was not able to attend his Senior Tailgate. He was greatly missed as all of the seniors felt the lack of his presence. "We all came to the middle of the field to bless the food and to recognize Robert and to let the whole class know about what is going on with him. We also recognized him at the pep rally and the football game. Everywhere we go everyone is going to be thinking of him." Hillary Clegg stated. The senior class is supporting him and hoping for him to overcome this challenge in his life. A few students even decorated shirts in orange, the color for leukemia, for the game Friday night to show their support.

Sierra Tippins, Devin Breland, Carroll Martin, and Caitlin Rituno make the best of their senior year by goofing around with Freddie the Cougar. Freddie made his rounds at the senior tailgate posing with many of the seniors.

It is spirit week time again, and this year was a great one! Though we had more restrictions due to the new uniform policy, participation was outstanding. Rebecca Legare believes that, "there was more participation than last year because everyone wanted to get out of their uniforms." Although some students were disappointed with the limitations, most students still went all out and got to show their true blue spirit. Spirit week was overall very successful, and we all had a blast regardless of the changes that occurred. The entertaining week that we call spirit week is a tradition that Colleton County High School will continue to hold despite the changes we may face.

"We do not remember days; we remember moments."

The 30 year old program, JAG, which stands for Jobs For America's Graduates, is an organization which identifies students who need guidance and help in receiving their high school diploma. The mentors in this program teach their students to better themselves both in their schools and in their communities. Students who participate in the program receive professional guidance in work-based learning to help then succeed both in and out of the classroom.

Yearbook:08

Andrew Judy

"No matter what difficulty you may be facing, you will always have the home field advantage you are always surrounded by the vocie of victory."
Jaques Glover

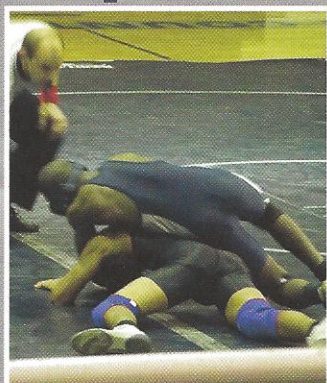

During wrestling season, the wrestlers begin to prepare to step into the ring of thunder. One lesson from months of practice, which they will always remember, is that they should never back down out of the ring. One by one, they enter the ring to begin their battle. The boys kept their mind on the prize, and didn't lose focus for anything. They didn't let anything distract them from winning. They hoped to be undefeated through any circumstance or situation.

Playing the year out!

As summer faded out and marching season commenced, the long hours of band camp began yet another year. Taylor Crosby talks about her band camp experience, "you meet a lot of new people, and it was fun." After hours of seemingly endless practices in the burning heat, the Band of Blue went on to perform at football games and competitions. "Performing is one of the greatest feelings in the world. It's exciting and a great adrenaline rush. It makes me feel like a part of something bigger. It makes you feel whole," says Jasmin Vance. When you spend so much time together in band practicing and performing, you become a sort of family. For seniors, it's their last year to enjoy this family. "I'm upset that I'm leaving band because I enjoy marching a lot and because I'll miss my friends," Taylor Crabb explains. Out on the field and in school, these students express themselves through music.

Capturing moments
each and every day.

The 2010-2011 Yearbook Staff has worked very hard and put a lot of effort into the creation of the CatTales yearbook. Through all of the hard work and dedication, the Yearbook staff came together as a team and family. Yearbook is more than just a class, it's a responsibility. Deadlines have to be met and all work has to be completed without any mistakes. Thankfully, we were guided by two great teachers, Mrs. Welch and Mrs. Cable, who are here to support us in any way possible. This yearbook takes a lot of patience and effort. It was definitely an experience and a lot of fun to be the creators of the book. Hopefully, "Into the Future and Out of the Past" will be a great success.

Buzzing in to win!

Hearts pounding, palms sweating, thoughts rushing at 100 miles per hour. This is just a normal Academic Team competition. For years, the Colleton County Academic Team has done extraordinarily well, and this year was no exception. "We're a very small team this year, but we're doing remarkably well," Danielle Sexton said. Having come in third in the state for the Fall 2010 Knowledge Master Open, you can see what she means. "The returning members love being part of the Academic Team and the new members are getting used to it," says Jesse Sexton. With each new year comes new members and new challenges!

Twins

Seeing double?

Being a twin may sound like it would be a great thing, but surprisingly many twins believe the exact opposite. As a matter of fact, you may even hear them say things like, "I hate sharing my birthday," or "I don't like looking like him or her." Being a twin is a very unique thing, and usually you don't see too many. Twins may come into the world together but many venture out and onto different paths. As a twin, even though you might not always like each other, you have to love one another!

Wrapped up Language

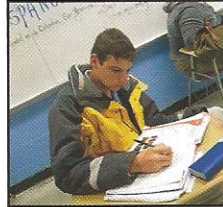

Coming in saying hello and going out saying adiós!

The 2010-2011 Spanish classes kicked off this year with a great start. All Spanish classes had many different activities going on throughout the year. One great activity included is a Spanish food day where students were able to sample things such as ants. The students that participated in eating the ants said that the ants tasted like chicken and were very crunchy. By the end of the semester, students taking this class will be able to have conversations with one another in Spanish. These students came in with the desire to speak Spanish, and the teachers are going all out to teach them how.

"I expect my students to take this subject seriously," says Madame Courtney, "and to have a lot of interest and cooperation in this class." Although students are given the chance to choose between Spanish or French, many choose French. The students say it's something different and isn't really that hard. Madame Courtney has them doing a lot of activities to prepare them for tests and classwork. "Hopefully all my students will pass and take French II at the new high school," said Madame Courtney.

Sing IN to the World

Voices out of the crowd!

When it comes to singing, these students take it seriously. Between practicing at school and home, they spend a total of ten hours a week practicing. That may seem like a lot, but the Chorus members really enjoy being in Chorus and they love singing. Sure, it may seem nerve-wracking to perform in front of hundreds of people, but Ansley Hiers says, "Mrs. Drawdy prepares us very well." To a normal student, having to balance classes and Chorus may seem like an impossible task, but Mrs. Drawdy thinks differently about her students, saying, "the majority of my students are very studious. They care about their grades."

From memories into keepsakes

The task of creating a high school newspaper is a daunting task, but each year CCHS has a few dedicated students willing to take on the challenge. "These girls work really hard to make sure that the school's newspaper meets its deadlines in a timely manner," says Mrs. Brown. "I'm very proud of these talented girls. They are like a big family and work together to reach the goals for Colleton County High," shares Mrs. Brown. The articles these ladies write are treasured by many students and can be memory keepsakes as we enter into the future.

IN the line of duty

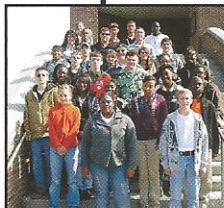

Demonstrating leadership
in and out of school.

Self-discipline, respect, integrity, honor, pride, and courage, these are the values of our NJROTC unit. They are a team, but they look over one another like a family. They have high standards, higher expectations, and they believe in hard work and being productive. Each cadet honors their uniform with pride. It is all thanks to Commander Armentrout, Gunner Williams, and Senior Chief Spofford. These teachers believe in their students as they go out into the world and do something with their lives after High School.

Painting IN Memories

There is no such thing as, "I can't."

When putting pen, pencil, charcoal, paint or pastel to paper, an artist creates something magical. The ability to create a work of art takes concentration and attention to detail as it is a form of suspense. CCHS offers opportunities many students to express themselves. As students learn about the history of art, they learn about famous artists and their most famous work. Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Langston, and Mrs. Waddell, the three art teachers at CCHS, do an excellent job teaching these students the art skills they need to become successful.

IN the Spotlight

Time to hit the stage!

The lights dim, the audience silences, and the curtains open. Standing behind the curtain is the cast of the play. A strange awe falls as the first word of the play is said, the nervousness fades, the play picks up, setting a whole new bar for acting. Drama isn't just acting out scenes. It's taking on a persona and using your emotions to express it to the fullest. These students love acting and it shows when they perform. "I think performing is honestly my first love. I'd rather be acting than doing anything else." Chardea Barnes said. With Mrs. Gantt's help, these students can express themselves and look good doing it.

Who was walking these halls Back In The Day?

Coach Adams has worked here an outstanding 30 years, which is one of the longest terms a teacher has taught at CCHS. Coach Adams graduated from Thomas Academy in 1973. While in high school, he loved playing sports and being a part of student council. "The best part of high school was friendships and the whole experience as a student," Coach Adams said.

Coach Rusty
Adams

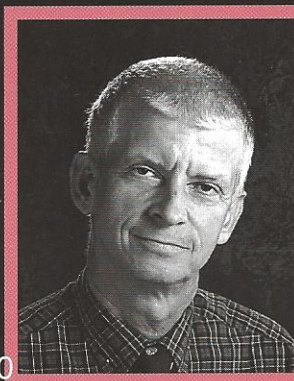

New to the CCHS staff in 2010, Ms. Pritchard graduated from CCHS in 2006. She participated in band, NHS, and took two AP classes in school. "I have noticed students now are harder to teach because kids are so used to texting and emailing. Cell phones were just becoming a big thing when I was in high school, so texting wasn't all that popular yet," Ms. Pritchard shared.

Ms. Jennifer
Pritchard

Mrs. Goodwin graduated from Westside High School in Anderson, SC in 1975. She has been a teacher at CCHS for 10 years. "The best part about going to high school at Westside was the school spirit, pep rallies and the parades. Students had more school spirit than they do now." When she was in high school, she participated in the band, was on the yearbook staff and played softball.

Mrs. Rebecca
Goodwin

Coach Smith is a very serious teacher who treats everyone with respect. He has worked a whole 17 years at CCHS. In high school, his interests included academics, attending band trips, and just plain out going to school. Coach Smith graduated from Summerville High in 1975. "The biggest thing that has changed since when I was in school is definitely technology," Coach Smith said.

Coach George
Smith

Mrs. Vicki
Brown

Mrs. Brown, a graduate from Sumter High in 1977, has dedicated 16 years of her life to teaching at CCHS. When she was a student, she enjoyed parties, friends, movies, bowling, and off campus lunch. Mrs. Brown participated in graphic club and bible club.

Mrs. Lorraine
Browning

Mrs. Browning, graduated from Walterboro High in 1977. She has been working in this school for 9 and a half years and is very respected. When she was in high school, she enjoyed going to sports events and pep rallies. Mrs. Browning participated in Student Council and Future Teachers Of America.

Mrs. Sharon
Courtney

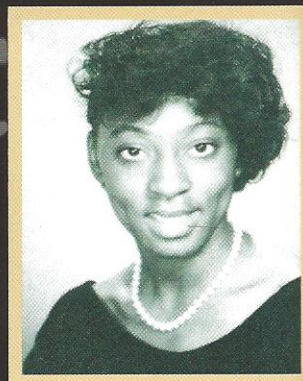

Mrs. Courtney, the only French teacher at CCHS, has worked here for 19 long years. When she was in High School, she had her eyes on one prize, and that was becoming valedictorian. She was focused on school and was very goal oriented. She participated in the Band Of Blue, National Honor Society, Student Council and the Literary Club.

Mrs. Courtney's hard work paid off when she graduated in 1980 and was valedictorian.

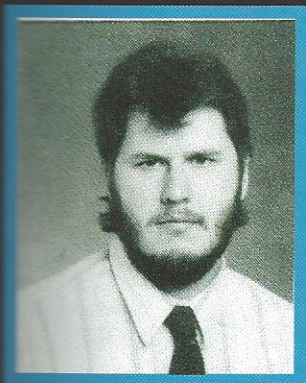

Mrs. Cherrilyn
Keaise

Mrs. Keaise is a dedicated teacher that has worked here for 18 years. She believes students really don't have much interest in school. "This could be a direct reflection of our societal problems and lack of value," Mrs. Keaise shared. She enjoyed High School but spent most of her time outside. She graduated in 1986 from Walterboro High.

Mr. William Hayden

Mr. Hayden was a part of the first class that graduated from Walterboro High in 1983 and has worked here a total of 22 years! Mr. Hayden was a part of the military club and enjoyed being in NHS. "I wish the NHS would now volunteer in the community like they did back then," Mr. Hayden said.

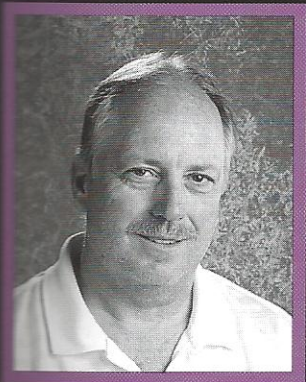

Mrs. Lydia Culler

Mrs. Culler graduated in 2003 from CCHS, and immediately went to college to pursue teaching. After college, she began her career at CCHS. In high school, Mrs. Culler enjoyed socializing, playing varsity soccer, and being in the musicals for chorus.

Coach Polk graduated from Starville Mississippi in 1977. Back in the day, he enjoyed going out with friends, pep rallies, and sports. Coach Polk has been at this school for 26 successful years.

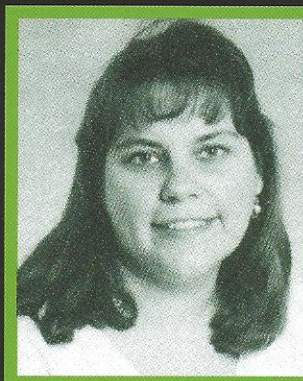

Mr. Russell Polk

Mrs. Kim Liles

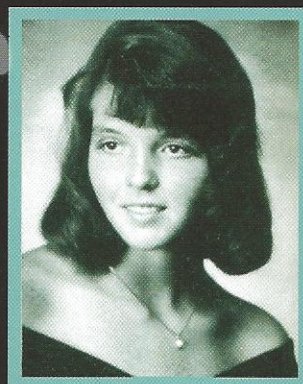

Mrs. Liles graduated from Wando High School in 1979 and has worked at CCHS for 18 years. "The best part about high school is not having and responsibility other then going to school," Mrs. Liles said. "I was in NHS, the German Club and Yearbook Class". Mrs. Liles shared.

She enjoyed shopping, going to the movies, and every vacation she was able to take was at the beach.

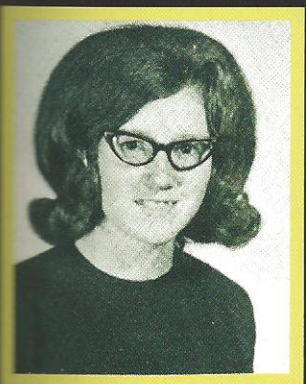

Ms. Barbara Gehlmann

Ms. Gehlmann graduated from Walterboro High in 1993. Ms. Gehlmann participated in the BETA club and FCA. She loved the pep rallies and socializing with her friends. Ms. Gehlmann believes that there is a lack of discipline since she has been in high school. She also believed that parents were more involved with the staff.

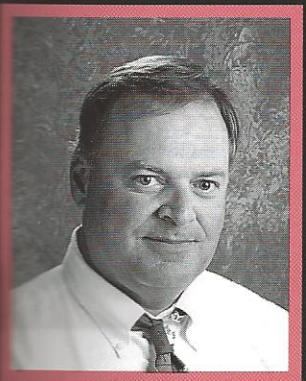

Mrs. Judith Vincent

Mrs. Vincent graduated high school in 1969. She was a very mature young lady that had to deal with school and hard times in society. Even with the societal difficulties, Mrs. Vincent overlooked everything and had a really great high school experience. She was a part of the projection club, which she adored, and her most memorable experience was prom.

Mr. Joey Ritter

Coach Ritter has worked at CCHS for about 14 years. He graduated from John C. Calhoun High School in 1984. Coach Ritter thinks classes are now much harder. He enjoyed all sports and said that the best part about high school was graduation.

Ms. Stephanie Drawdy

Ms. Drawdy graduated in 1979 from Williamsburg Academy in Kingstree, SC. She was a Sports Editor for the school newspaper and was the first girl to letter in football. She was in NHS and chorus. Ms. Drawdy has been working at CCHS for 26 years. "When I was in school, we respected our teachers and all adults," Ms. Drawdy shared.

Bianca Barra

"My favorite subject would have to be Global Studies 1. I like it because it's interesting and not boring. I learned a lot."

Chris Jones

"I really like Chemistry because I get to blow stuff up. In Chemistry we learn a lot of elements."

Kearsha James

"JAG program is my favorite class because we talk about teamwork and doing the right thing."

Cody Chambers

"Wildlife is my favorite subject because it teaches me about outdoors. In wildlife we score deer horns and go outside to the green house."

Shantavia Holmes

"My favorite subject is Algebra 1 because we deal with money. Ms. Pritchard makes it easy to learn."

Jarrett Ritter

"American History is my favorite subject because it's apart of our past and it's where we came from."

Shelby Craven

"Global Studies is my favorite because I like learning about history, and Mr. Warner is really nice."

Timothy Reeves

"My favorite subject is English because it comes easy and comes naturally to me."

Hannah Houck

"My favorite subject is Chorus because I like to sing. I'm super excited to be in the Hairspray musical this spring."

John Biggs

"Chemistry is a pretty cool subject. I like to know how to make things out of nothing. We made 'goo' out of borax and Elmer's glue. I would take it over again if I could."

Cameron Durham

"I like Chemistry. One day I would like to become a chemist. I'm in Chemistry now and we are disecting things."

Lauren Bishop

"My favorite subject is Engilsh, because it's really easy, and I'm good at it. Oh, and I became best friends with Mrs. Nettles."

Jessica Bishop

"My favorite subject is Business & Markeing because I like dealing with computers and typing. I'm interested in business and marketing."

Haley Davis

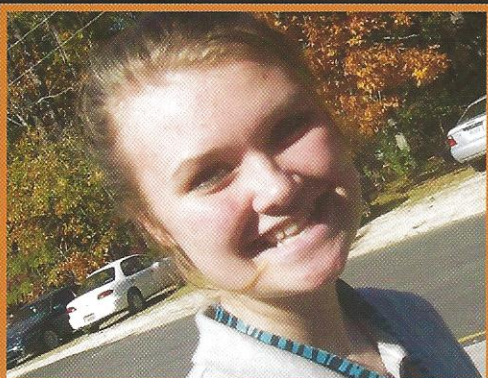

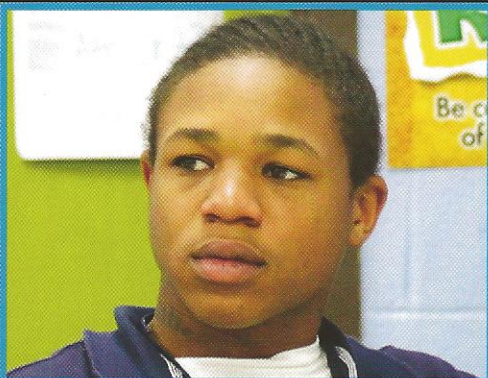

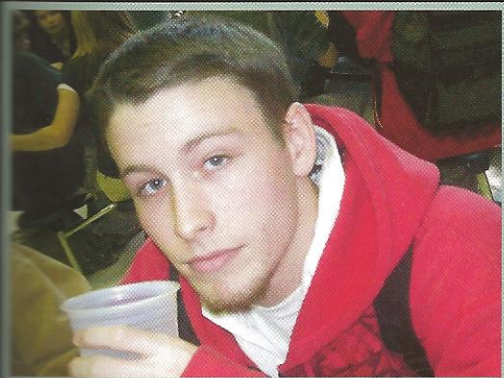

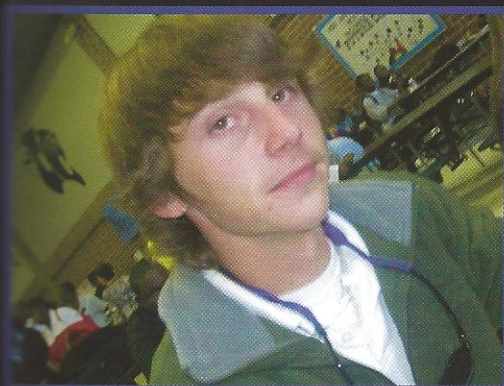

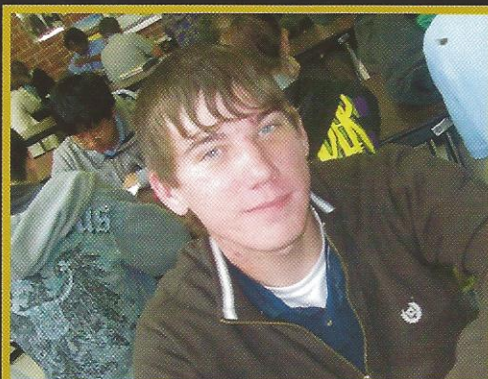

"World History is my favorite subject. It's not hard and we get to watch a lot of videos. Mrs. Causey is a really nice teacher."

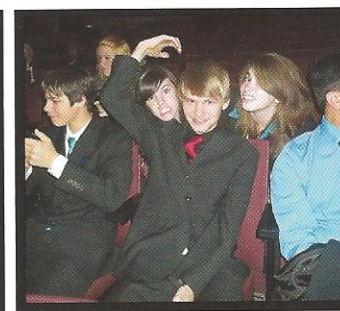

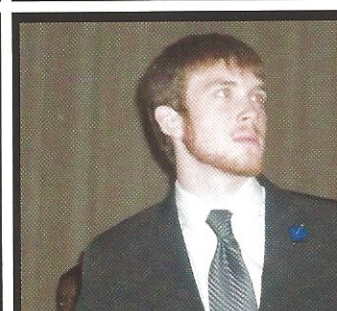

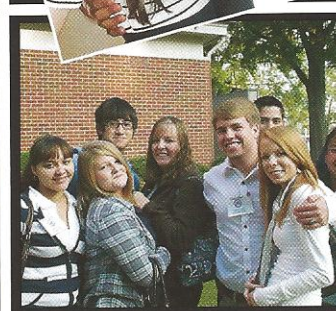

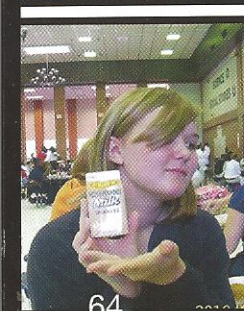

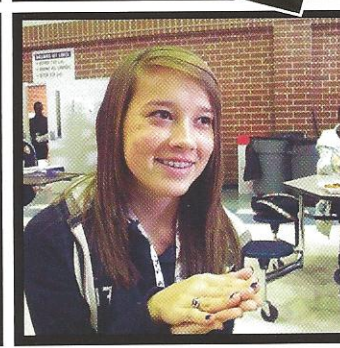

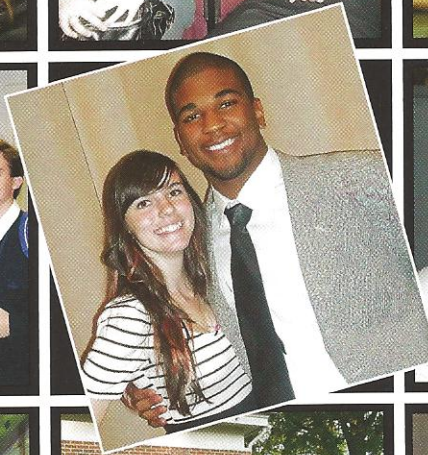

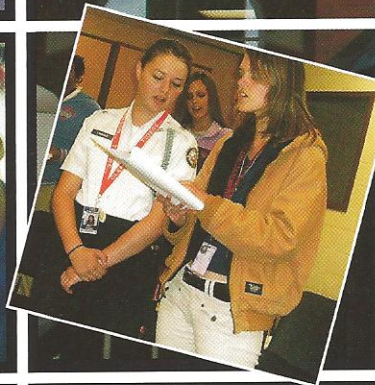

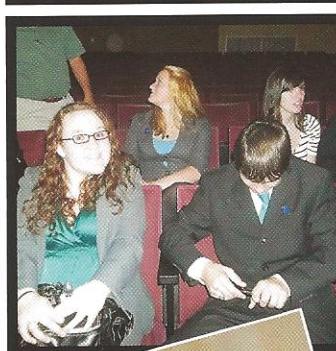

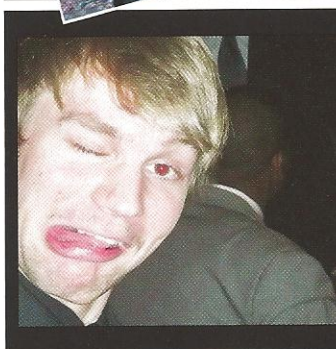

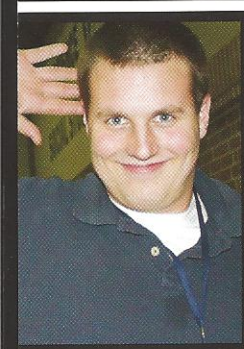

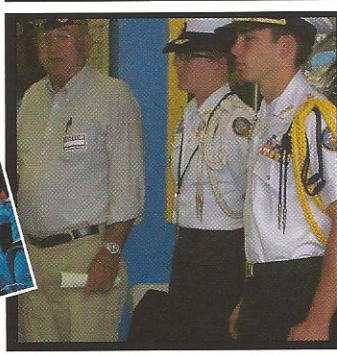

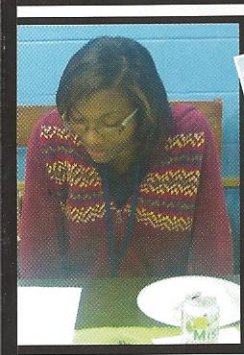

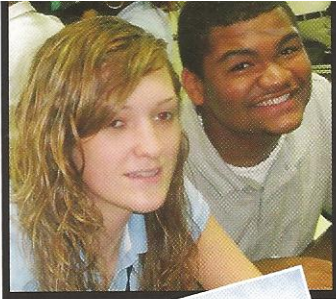

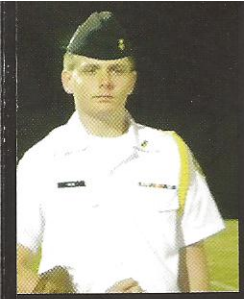

Antionett Hamilton

"Psychology because one day I want to be a psychologist."

National Honor Society

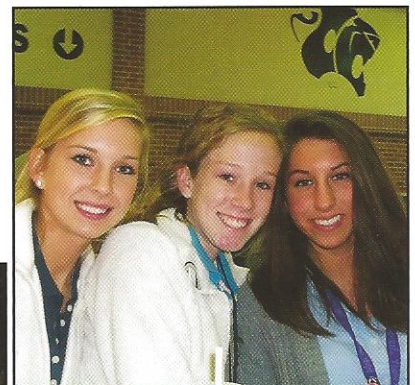

"A leader is not only someone that stands out among the crowd," says NHS president Calvin Bailey, "but someone who is able to work within it. I tried to model myself after those words this year."

Being a part of the National Honor Society at CCHS is a great accomplishment and is a great way to spend time! Through NHS, students strive to become role models by using the four core principles of NHS, which include: character, scholarship, leadership, and service. Maintaining and promoting integrity in each of these is the ultimate goal of the NHS and it's members. Even if you are not a member, the NHS encourages everyone to shine brightly by helping the surrounding community through positive community service!

After a successful induction, Allison Sanders, and Cress Rhoden, Caleigh Smoak said, "It made me feel accomplished, and I kept thinking, I hope my skirt doesn't rip."

Truly embodying the principles of NHS is Mikalah Ramey, who contributed pictures for use in the yearbook!

Students demonstrating excellence and aptitude.

Now part of a large, welcoming family of students, Kayla Howell reflects, "Induction night for NHS was memorable for me because I became a part of something that takes strides to better the community."

Taking a much needed break from helping Dustin Smith hand out programs before the 2010-2011 induction ceremony, Danielle Sexton says, "I was excited so many people were interested in NHS because community service is important."

Student Council is an excellent program that unites the students and the school. It is a great way to get involved and an even better way to boost your school spirit. Student Council teaches the importance of teamwork and helps its members utilize that skill while improving our school.

"I love to make new friends, and I enjoy the activities in Student Council. I get amusement out of being in Student Council," said Morgan Seabrook.

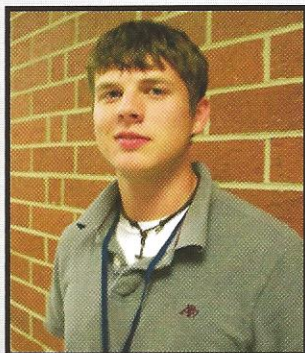

As president, what do you hope to accomplish this year?

"I would like to make Student Council a better organization and help the student body have a positive attitude towards every situation," states President, Morgan McCaskill.

How long have you been part of Student Council? Have you learned any life lessons as being part of this club?

"I have been in Student Council since the beginning of my 7th grade year. This extended period of time has taught me that in order to succeed in getting a task done, you must network, delegate, and learn to compromise because not everyone will agree with something all the time," said Vice President Calvin Bailey.

"Friends told me about it and it's fun helping the school," Sarah Tobin said.

Anna Davis joined Student Council because she "wanted to be involved in school activities."

What would you do to get people more involved in school activities?

Secretary Chelsea Douglas told us, "I would talk to them about what Student Council is all about and how fun the activities are."

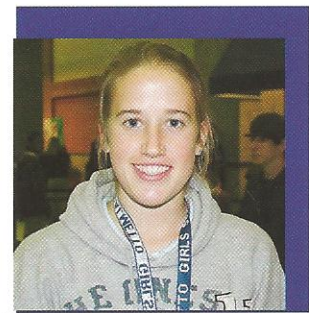

All participants of 2010-2011 Student Council came together to take a group photo.

What made you want to be apart of Student Council?

"I joined Student Council because my family was telling me how fun it was and how they were in it," said Freshmen Chandler Stone. "It feels good to be a part of the school besides being in sports."

Lindsey Cummings likes being in Student Council "to help with school events such as spirit week. You get to be with a lot of good people, and it looks good on college applications."

Antoinett Hamilton said the absolute best part of student council is "helping with spirit week and working with other individuals to improve our school."

OUT to make a Difference

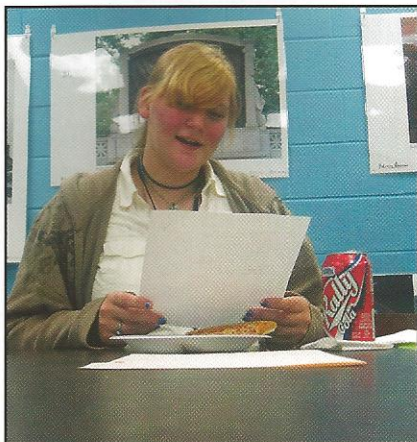

Why do you like being apart of the Student Council at CCHS?

"Because we do a lot of decorating and other things to try to increase the school's school spirit," Senior Sherilyn Phillips said.

"I think it is important to get the students opinion out into the school, and you also get leadership skills, and you learn to function as a group and not an individual," Emily Stone said.

Poetry & Pizza Club

Poetry & Pizza is the perfect way to express your feelings and a great way to have fun. It's also a great way to meet new people and hang out with the people you already know.

OUT of the soul

After presenting their poems to the class, Keith Lowerre, Kymberly Collins, Amber Sanders, and Sierra DeFoor sit back and enjoy some delicious pizza. Following pizza, the students were treated to some desert, and they all went over information concerning the next meeting.

At the beginning of the school year, the fate of Poetry & Pizza was met with much questioning and anticipation after Ms. Breece resigned. When Ms. M.O.M. took over the position of head librarian, she did not let the loyal poets of Colleton County High School down. We can only hope that Poetry & Pizza will continue to grow as a student organization as members come together to enjoy food for the belly and soul.

Senior Keith Lowerre shares a tragic story concerning an old friend with the members of Poetry & Pizza. The atmosphere was filled with the resonance of his words, as he shared through his poem a quiet gloom.

HOSA

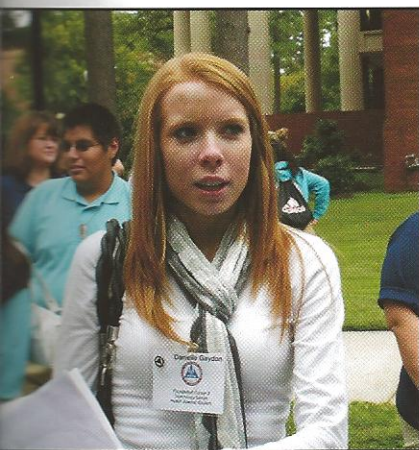

IN the Hands that Achieve!

HOSA is one of the best student organizations that bring students awareness of the medical industry and its related fields. Being a member of HOSA gives students many opportunities to explore medical careers while still in high school. HOSA as a program encourages students to take part in charitable events. Students in HOSA are able to help society as a whole, all the while building self-confidence and helping students understand what future employment in a medical field may bring.

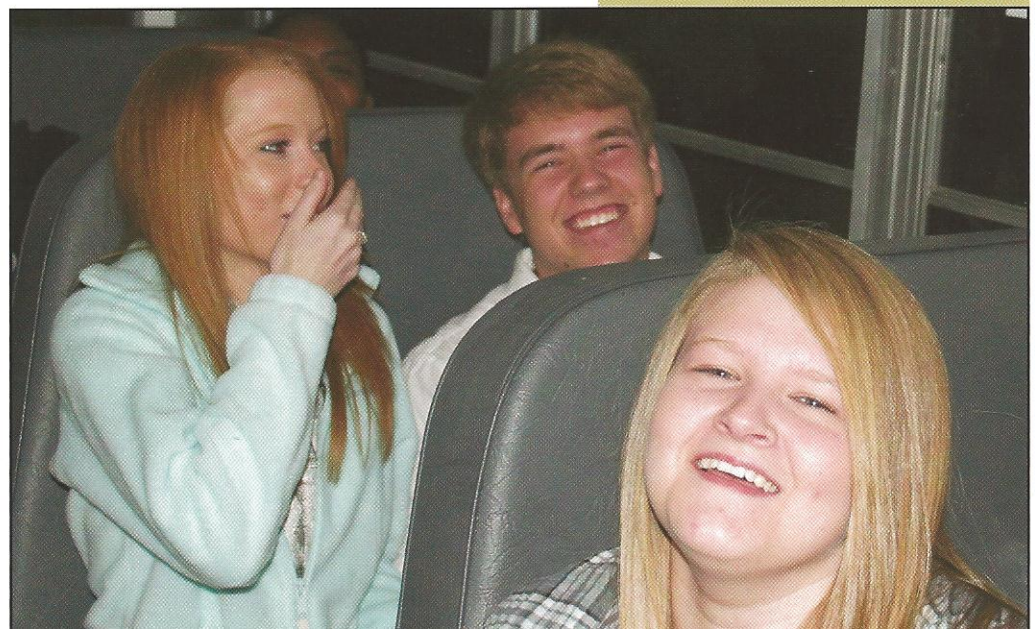

"I want to be a surgical technician. I really want to be a super hero, but I don't see that happening. I enjoy the atmosphere and the fact that I have someone's life in my hands," said HOSA President Nicholas Clark.

Senior Jessica Rheam gave us some info on joining, "to be in HOSA you have to maintain an 80 average, so you have to keep your grades up. My grades are better than that, but it gives students who have lower grades something to strive for."

"There is a lot of stuff that goes on behind the scenes that you don't really know about unless you're a member. Like the charity work, and volunteer hours," said Danielle Gaydon.

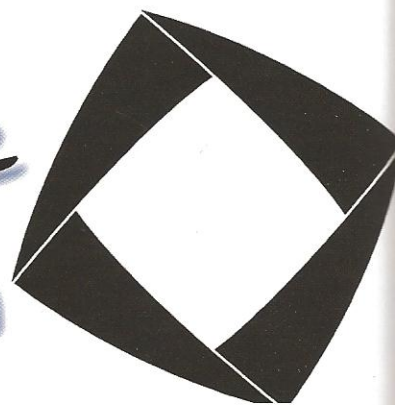

DECA

The girls have a lot of fun riding to the competition. Surprisingly, they had enough energy to compete when they arrived. "Though annoying, their enthusiasm was admired," said DECA President Karan Patel

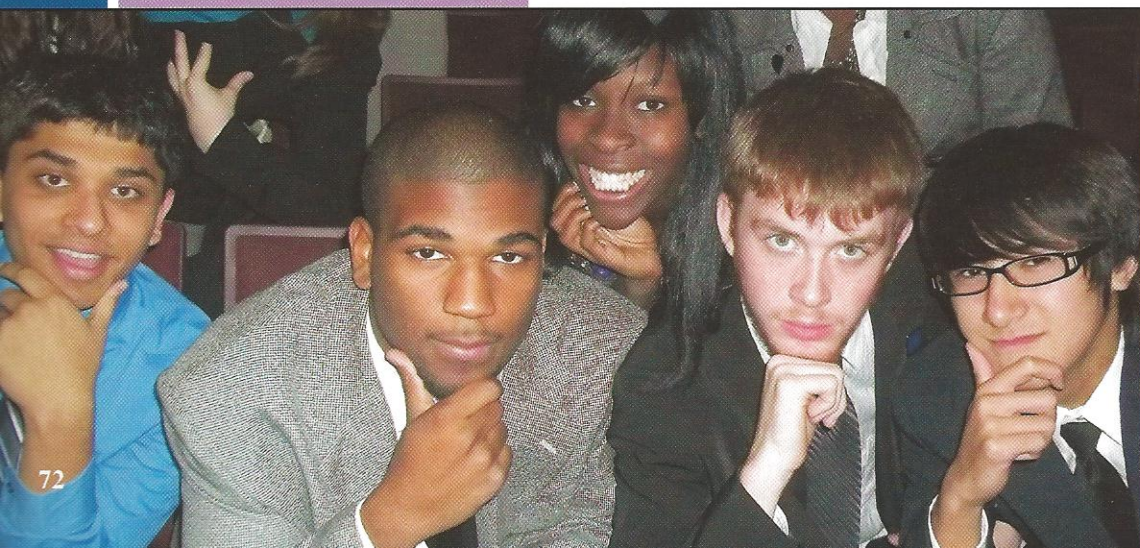

OUT of the Classroom

DECA members Karan Patel, Trey Black, Veronica Bastian, Campbell Wiltshire, and Trervor Pham pose for a picture. "I was pretty nervous on the way to the competition," said Trervor Pham, "but, when I arrived I was ready." Trervor went on to place 8th in Retail Marketing, saving him a spot for the next competition.

DECA accomplished a lot this year, building for itself a reputation at numerous competitions and raising money for charities. TCTC's chapter honored CCHS senior Robert Glover by donating money to Pennies for Patients. Perhaps one day we will see the fruits of our labor as our young members head out into life with the skills and knowledge that they have gained from being a part of DECA.

Members gathered for a picture before the regional competition at Wando High. Everyone was excited, yet anxious. Mr. Kubik, the advisor for TCTC's DECA chapter felt confident this year's group would leave a lasting impression. Surely they did when looking at the 26 out of 30 that placed to go to state.

How did you first get involved in FBLA?

"I was in Ms. Bozard's class," said Veronica Bastian.

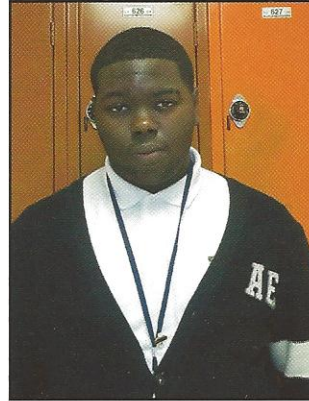

FBLA stands for the Future Business Leaders of America. Membership in the FBLA at CCHS gives students the opportunity to experience the business world. You can join this club to help you succeed as a business leader or in any business field. You can also join this club to make friends that are also interested in the same business fields.

FBLA

What is your position as being part of FBLA?

"I'm in the sports managing field," said Terrell McCutcheon.

INTo Life

The participants of FBLA came together to take a group photo.

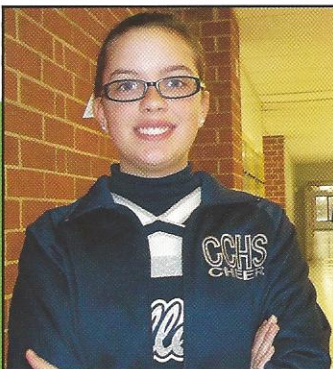

Top: Terrell Mccutcheon, President Charli Pringle, Quintin Cunningham, Patricia Poirier.

Bottom: Matthew Bennett.

What is the best part about FBLA?

Taylor Fox said, "competing."

Why did you join FBLA, and why do you love being in this club?

"I joined FBLA because I felt that it would be a good opportunity to experience new things," says Charli Pringle, "especially in the world of business. I enjoy being in FBLA because it helps develop skills that I will need when entering the work force."

To our sweet daughter, so beautiful and smart, we couldn't be more proud of the Godly young woman you've become. May your adventurous spirit and passion for all of God's creatures take you places you've always dreamed of. We pray that God will fill your heart with dreams along with the faith and courage to follow them.

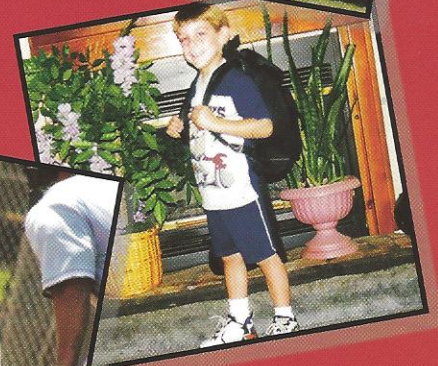

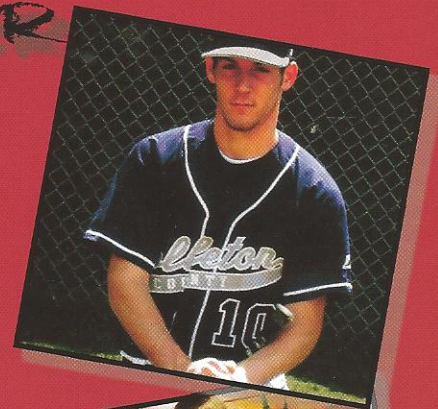

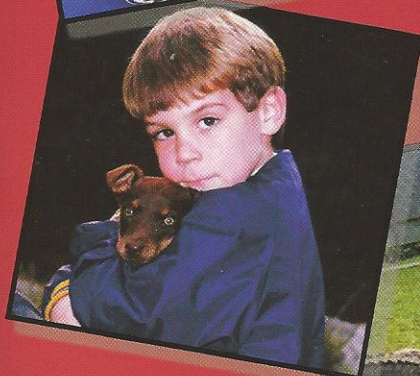

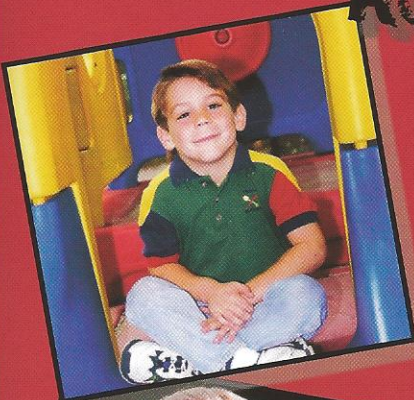

We love you,
Mom, Dad & Jonab

AUSTON RISHER

Since day one you have been our pride and joy. You have made us laugh until we cried and even given us a few heart attacks on the way, but we are so proud of you and the young man that you have become!!

Love you bunches,
Momma & Daddy

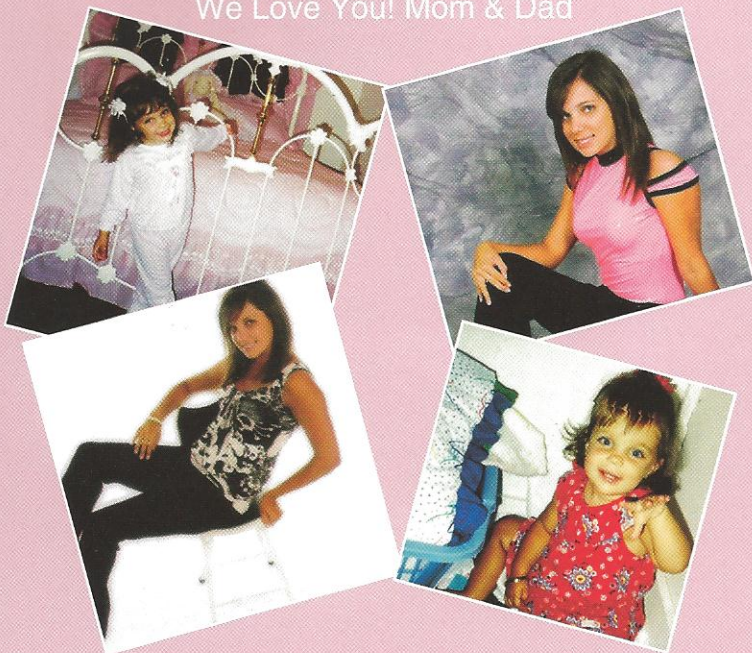

Chelsea Gale Douglas

Congratulations to the best daughter a mother could ever have. You are a true blessing to me. I am so proud of you and all that you have accomplished.

Never let go of your values, integrity, or wonderful sense of humor. I know that your future is bright, and I wish you all the success and love in your journey through life.

Always remember the words of Ralph Waldo Emerson;

"To be yourself in a world that is constantly trying to make you something else is the greatest accomplishment."

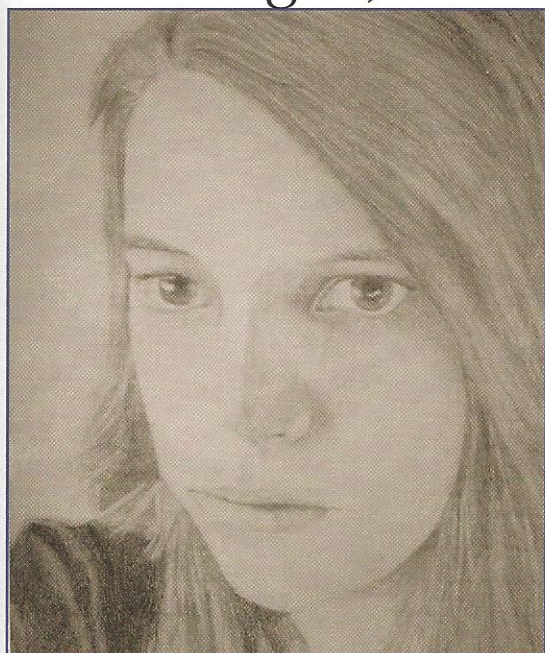

I love you always and forever!

Morgan McCaskill

I've heard it said
That people come into our lives for a reason
Bringing something we must learn
And we are led
To those who help us
most to grow
If we let them
And we help them in return
Well, I don't know if I believe that's true
But I know I'm who I am today
Because I knew you
-From the Broadway Play "Wicked"

I-P-A, SIPA, SIPA, SIPA, HEY! The Southeastern Interscholastic Press Association's annual conference was a weekend full of fun and learning activities. Both the CatTales Yearbook staff and the Blue Print Newspaper Staff will always remember these times in their own little ways. Not only was it a Friday outside of school, but also a weekend to get to know fellow staff members and share common journalism goals for the future. Staff members attended multiple classes over the three days and gathered information and techniques to use on next year's publications. This trip was fun both inside and out of the SIPA classes, and both staff's are prepared to excited to attend SIPA 2012!

Both NHS and Student Council went into the first student vs. faculty volleyball game with laser focus, sure that they would beat the faculty. Much to their surprise, the CCHS faculty came out on top. The faculty had a huge fan base and really got the energy flowing. This volleyball tournament was not going to the students, not this time. All and all, both of the teams high-fived and showed good sportsmanship after the faculty's victorious win. The volleyball games were a success!

Emily West and Coach Tew high-five after the game. None of the teams showed any anger at the other for the outcome of the matches. It was all just fun and games.

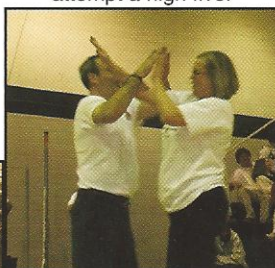

NHS takes a time-out to contemplate their game plan for taking on Student Council in the first round of volleyball. Fortunately, their hard work and determination paid off until they faced the undefeated faculty.

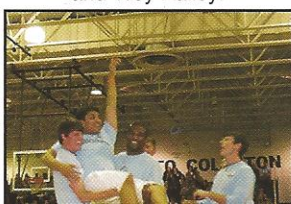

Terrell McCutcheon & Zachary Clegg

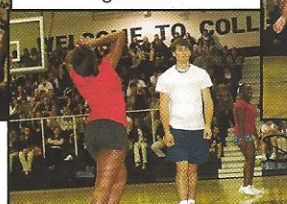

Teacher teammates Mrs. Goodwin and Mr. Litzinger attempt a high five.

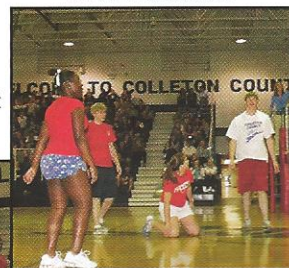

Karan Patel celebrates victory with his teammates Spencer Floyd, Trey Black, and Trey Bailey.

Jakan Richardson & Zachary Clegg realize that their team might not be dominating the games.

The Student Council team takes a breather.

Trey Black and Breyontay Washington were crowned Prom King and Prom Queen of 2011. This from their gave a will cherish remem from senior and Prom nomination classmates these seniors moment they always and ber their year.

As the year fades out, the seniors look forward to some fun involving everyone's favorite moment of the year, prom. Not only is this the last prom for this year's seniors, but this is also the last prom at this school building. The decorations were placed, tables and chairs brought in, the DJ's song list was made, and it was soon time to have fun. At the beginning of prom, many students walked around and talked to their friends until the majority of the people got there, and the party started. The dance floor soon filled with all of the students, and the DJ got the crowd going with the music. The 2011 Prom King and Queen were announced towards the end of the night, and after they were crowned, they began the traditional king and queen dance. Overall, the night was a hit and a great way for the seniors to create lasting memories. As always, the Class of 2011 decided to go out with a bang.

"Coach P is a very good coach because he is one of those coaches who pushes us to be the best, and strive to the top. He's also a good coach because he holds the team together through the good and bad times."

Cristhea Campbell

Coach Perry
Smalls

"Our coach motivates us by having us weight train, because he is very big himself. He is a young coach, so it makes the players want to be like him. I like coach Myers because he is a man of his word, and he stays on us constantly."

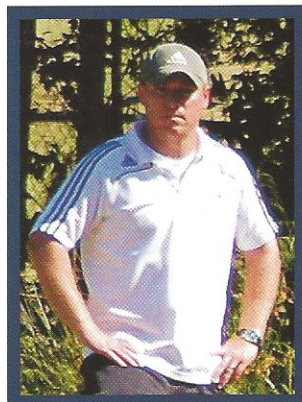

Antonio Elliott

Coach Christopher
Meyers

"Coach Gardner motivates us to do our best on the court and to not get upset when we're down a couple points. She tells us good things to make us feel confident against other teams."

Kayla Smith

Coach Joey
Gardner

"Coach Coker pushes us to our limits. He wants the bar to be raised higher, no matter what. If you're doing anything wrong, he'll be there to correct you, so you'll be doing the best you can do."

Johnathan Sanders

Coach Brice Laughter

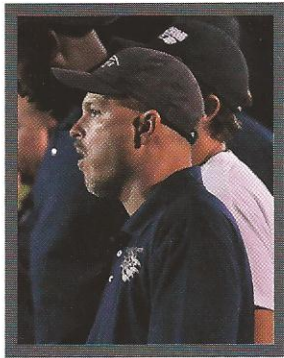

"Coach Laughter is a good coach because he makes me do my best every practice and game. He motivates me by getting me to concentrate on my progression in future sports."

Eric Kirkland

Coach Brian Reid

"Coach Reid motivates us to do our best and push ourselves. He always seems to find the right words to pick you up when you are down and can make hard work fun."

Jared Ritter

Coach Lauren Townsend

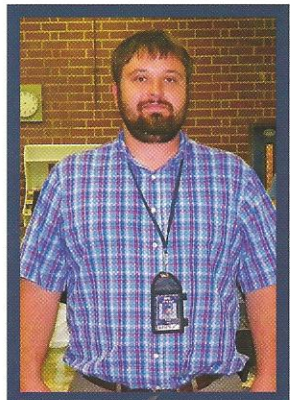

"My Coach is a good coach because she is young just like all of us, and she works us hard to where we need to be. She motivates me and my teammates because she pushes us to where we need it, and she doesn't put us down. She knows that we all are a great team. I really appreciate everything she does for us and our team."

Hillary Clegg

Coach Jessica Cable

"She's a good coach because she pushes you to do your best! She knows your areas of weakness and helps you get strong! I can't wait for the upcoming year with her as my coach!"

From early conditioning in November, through practicing in May, sweat plus sacrifice equals success. The season was up then down, but the Lady Cougars remembered who they were. They got back up, and their dedication and momentum started to flow again. Now they live for each day, coming out ready to play.

GOAL! With constant dedication, our girl's soccer team goes all out to score the winning point. Practicing for hours at a time and kicking past the opposite team's goalie shows the dedication and admiration they have for their school. This game isn't for the timid, but instead it is for those who aren't afraid to get a little sweaty.

"We have a very talented group of girls this year. I really enjoy working with them and seeing the improvements made throughout the season."

"I love playing soccer because I enjoy being a leader. I love working hard to make my team and my school proud."

Martha Dodd, 15

"My inspiration for soccer comes from knowing the success of your team, their desire to put their heart and soul into the game, and the team's will to win."

Congratulations Hillary Clegg for earning soccer scholarships to USC Salkehatchie and Lancaster! Your years of hard work and dedication for soccer have paid off.

IN the Hearts of the Seniors

A dedication to Mr. Richard Ford from the Senior Class of 2011!

"He is a good English teacher. He knows how to keep his students happy, and he knows how to make work easy."
- Jacquelyn Harrison.

"He's a really cool teacher, and he takes the time to explain things, unlike other teachers. He's a really good person."
- Courtney Stevens.

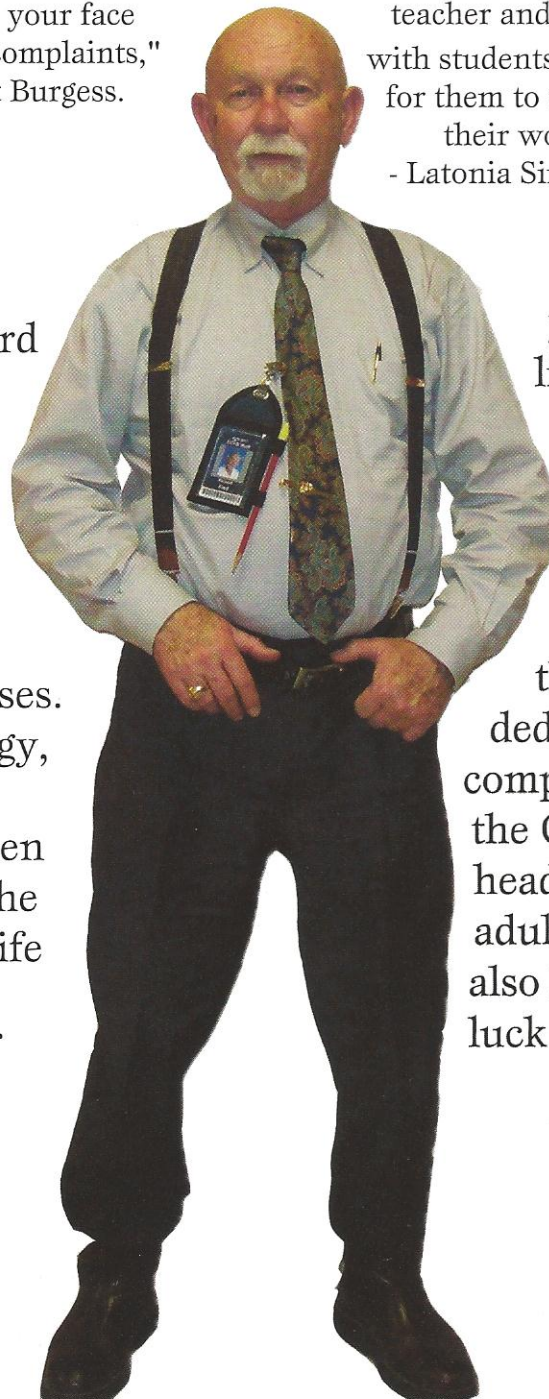

"The old man keeps a smile on your face 24/7. No complaints,"
- Ernest Burgess.

"He is a very good teacher and works with students in order for them to complete their work."
- Latonia Singleton.

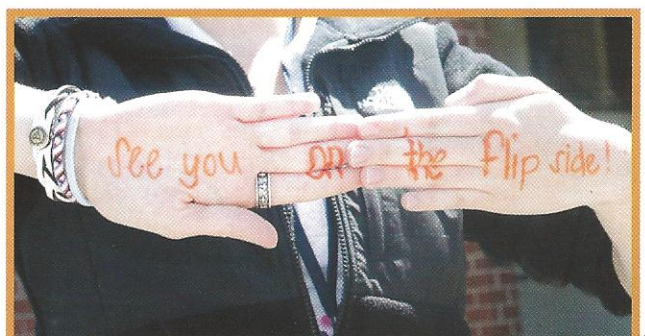

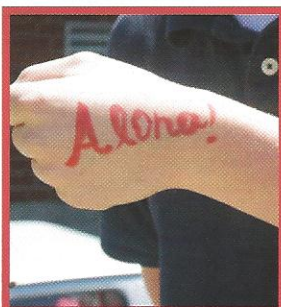

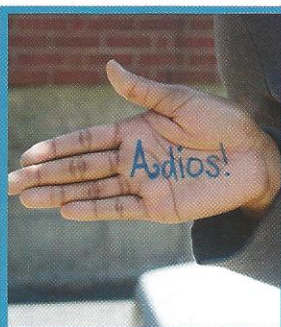

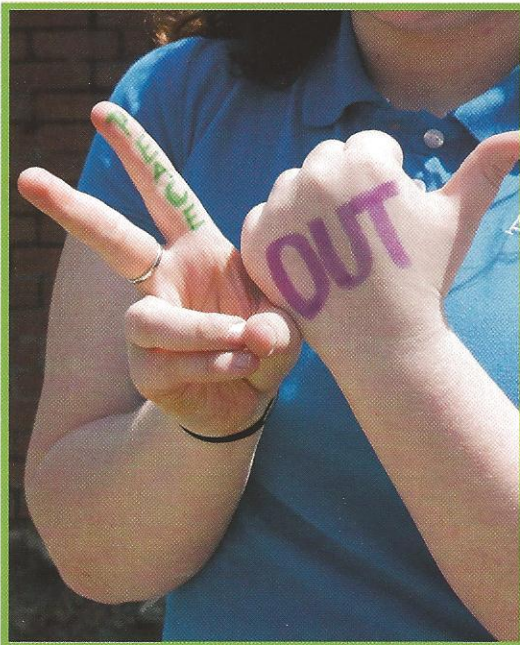

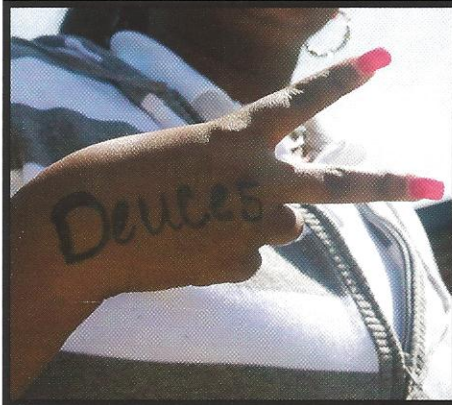

In January of 2000, Mr. Ford achieved what he had been planning, to become a teacher. Teaching English IV and English as a Second Language, he has taught and spent time with eleven different senior classes. He remembers, "their energy, and their basic goodness" above all. Through his eleven years of teaching, he says the part that has enriched his life the most is that, "you can learn from your students if you sit down and listen." When teaching, Mr. Ford said that the idea he wants to leave with his students the most is, "the ability to think for themselves," and this dedication makes him feel complete. To the seniors of the Class of 2011 that are heading out into adulthood, Mr. Ford would also like to say, "good luck."

As the Year Fades OUT

Another outstanding year has quickly come to a close, and anticipation for our summer adventures is through the roof. We entered into this year with many goals and wishes, and now we will leave it behind, tucked simply in our memories. Excitement for the new school is expected, but Colleton County High School, and the memories it holds will truly be missed. Goodbye Class of 2011, hello Class of 2015, and to the precious moments this year has held, you will be cherished.
