

Captured!

The students brushed off their sun bleached hair and the fond memories of summer as they walked into the hallways of Colleton County High School. The wide-eyed freshmen scurried through the hallways, trying to avoid confrontation. The prominent sophomores reveled in the success of knowing that each year they would become wiser. The juniors sauntered in the doors with an air of all-knowing, getting ready for their toughest year thus far. Finally, the seniors took their time making their way into the school just as the five minute bell was ringing. The seniors found comfort in the fact that this would be their last year as a high school student.

As the first day of school passed, Homecoming and Spirit Week commenced soon after. The show of school spirit for the Cougars was heightened with the addition of a new football coach. The football team fought through the game until there was just seconds on the clock. The juniors snagged the coveted Spirit Stick, and Keiosha Bingley was crowned Miss Homecoming.

Each memory was to be forever captured. The depth of the student body as it suffered and clung to each other through tragedies that defined just how short wonderful lives can be taken. With a show of how talented our student body can work to prove that we are the best. Forever the Cougars will roar, and forever they will remain captured.
