

Trap the Energy

"SC is Red Hot, SC is Red Hot! SC is R-E-D, red H-O-T, hot! Once we start we can't be stopped. SC is red hot!" Our student council at CCHS recited this energizer before meetings. Student Council has over 100 members who work hard to be involved in not only school activities, but also activities within the community. Our seniors have started the new tradition of selling the Pulsera bracelets for children in Nicaragua. Senior Anna Davis explains, "I saw the video through Mrs. Clark's spanish class. The children in an orphanage create the bracelets. Then the organization sends the bracelets off to different places. We sell them then the money goes back to the kids at the orphanage." The CCHS Student Council also sponsored toy drives, made holiday cards for soldiers overseas, and volunteered at the animal shelter.

1. "Welcome to the Front Porch of the LowCountry" was the sign at the District One Rally, which was thought of and put together by our Student Council and advisors.
2. Senior Tieshia Walker holds the door open to welcome in new students for the District One Rally.
3. Senior Alana Peets ecstatically greets the other students as they enter the District One Rally at Colleton County High School.
4. The Student Council comes together for a fun game, led by junior Hannah Houck before the classes are dismissed to go to their class meetings.

Freshman Timothy, "Tim," Hickman hangs a poster for Student Council. "I'm glad to be in Student Council," he added.

"My sister introduced me to student council and ever since then, I've been hooked," stated freshman Macie McCaskill

"I joined student council because I love the activities they did my 9th grade year, and I wanted to have a say so," said senior Nichole Williams.

Sophomore Krystal Reed-Blake stated, "I joined Student Council because I like getting involved with the community and helping my school."
