

Steal the Base

Three strikes and you are out! This phrase is what the Cougar Varsity Baseball team likes to hear while playing defense. Practicing more efficiently, and putting in a lot of extra hard work has helped them improve this season. Senior Dakota Crosby said, "winning is fun, but not the biggest part of the game. It is more important to work together and build up our skills." Both coaches and players had high expectations of an improved season as a team and program. They wanted to not just win this season, but also build for future success. The team was a mix of returning and younger players, which made the teamwork even harder to obtain success, but it worked well. With experienced senior leadership and coaching, the Cougars will have a more successful season than in years past. The Cougars have hit a homerun with success this season.

1. CCMS student Michael Thigpen #17 winds up to deliver his next pitch.

2. Senior Dakota Crosby #14 stands in the batter's box to take the next pitch.

3. Seniors Joshua Brown #5 and Willis Dobison #2 talk about their strategy before their game starts.

Willis Dobison, a senior, "My favorite game of each season is playing our rival, Summerville, because it is always an intense game."

Brandon Reichle, junior, quoted, "Baseball has taught me how to work hard in life as well as on the field."

Caleb Nichols, sophomore, says, "my favorite part of playing is pitching because I feel like I have control over the game."

"I started playing baseball because my dad made me, but then I began to like it, and continued playing," stated sophomore Tanner Massey.
