

Left: Mrs. Shider greets Masiah Ferguson with a big smile as she inducts her into the JAG program. Middle: Senior Mariah Risher said, "JAG was the best experience of my high school year. It taught me leadership, intelligence, and the ability to form bonds with my peers." Right: Students of the JAG program pay close attention as they are spoken to about the importance of the JAG Installation and Invitation ceremony.

Students of the JAG program show how excited they are to accept the responsibility that they must uphold within the JAG program.

Sophomore Masiah Ferguson shares a light-hearted moment: "The JAG program doesn't only give us advise, they also give us good bacon."

After receiving a $1,000 check from Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., the JAG class, along with Asst. Superintendent Dr. Juliet White and Mr. Thomas, snap a picture to capture how excited they were.

Mrs. Kathy Shider, Director of Guidance at CCHS, shakes Junior Tiana Daniels hand as she congratulates her after being inducted into JAG.
