

What's for lunch? Mrs. Buckner's third grade students enjoy the feast at the annual Thanksgiving celebration.

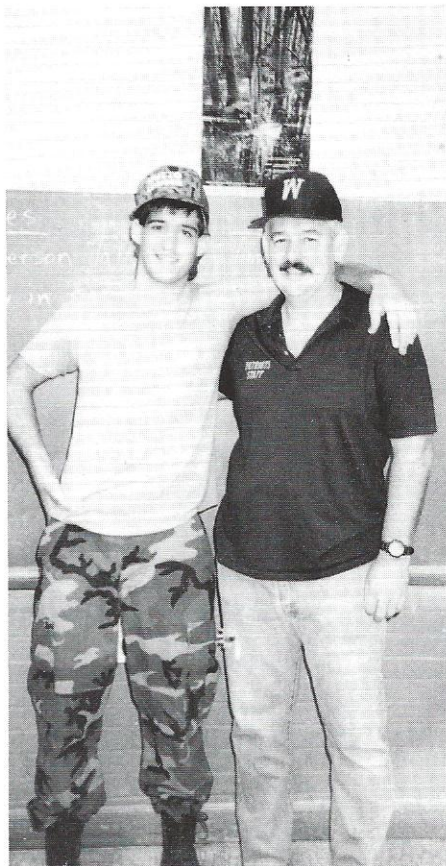

How do you spell relief? Seventh graders John Henderson and Eric Sumner help load donations to be sent to the Hurricane Andrew relief program in Florida.

Birds of a feather flock together . . . Junior Marshall Morehead and his father Barry Morehead dress in Wardlaw Academy attire to celebrate "Redneck day" during spirit week.

As the year came to an end, the hustle and bustle of CPA life came to a screeching halt. The usual activities — students cramming for tests, teachers grading papers, and coaches overseeing athletic practices — suddenly ceased and created an atmosphere of silence across campus. The events of the year began replaying through the mind of each and every student: receiving an award from SCISA for outstanding library improvement, the tennis team capturing the state title, the installation of the new computer and CD Rom. Now, the Class of 1993 has graduated and gone their separate ways. Of course, the year is over, but these events will not be forgotten. After all, they are what made 1993 — the year.

These seniors came prepared for Mrs. Tabor's class. Even though dressed for spirit week, these students occasionally got to bring in blankets and pillows while they watched classic movies.

THEYEARTHEYEARTHEYEAR
THE YEAR
 THE YEAR THE YEAR THE YEAR
THE YEAR THE YEAR
 THEYEARTHEYEARTHEYEAR
 THEYEARTHEYEARTHEYEAR

"1993 has been a turning point in my life because it was my last year of high school. I have to learn to be independent and to form good study habits. I'm looking forward to college, but I will really miss all my friends at CPA."
 — Dan DuPre, 12th

"I was really excited about going to the Inauguration. Meeting Bill Clinton is something I will never forget."
 — Caroline Henderson, 5th

"Kindergarten was great! Learning to write my name was the best part. I had fun with all my classmates."
 — Molly O'Quinn, K