

My dear daughter,

It is March 6, 1987 as I look at my newborn daughter for the first time, I begin to realize how lucky I am to have such a beautiful child and to think of the years of love and joy as I watch her grow up. I also thank God for the opportunity to be your dad and to be a part of the most joyous occasion of my life. As I look at you now, I still feel the same love and pride to be your dad. I am so proud of you. Of all my accomplishments and possessions, you are the one gift that has truly made me a man both spiritually and physically. As you continue your path in life you can be assured that your father is always there for you. To me you will always be my little girl. As you choose your path in life, search your heart, pray, and seek God to direct you. Always keep God first in your life and he will give you peace and comfort through trials and tribulations. Remember, that my love for you is unconditional. You will always find your father willing to share your joys and to provide comfort through all the years of your life. I love you so much!!! May God bless you and watch over you through the rest of your life.

With all my love,

Daddy

Dear Boo, Boo,

Congratulations!

You have made it to the beginning of your life. You will be as happy of your life. You will be as happy and successful as you want to be. Always have faith. Trust what is meant to be will happen in it's own time. Your dedication and loyalty will take you far through life.

Your dramatic personality and versatility will always be what I remember and love the most. I can't imagine a single day without a little drama (and you directing the movie)

A mother's love comes with no conditions or restrictions. Enjoy each day and just be happy. I am so proud of you!

I love you!

Mom
