

Caroline Hayden

Dear Caroline,

As you finish your Senior year and your Colleton Prep career, I realize just how fast these 18 years have gone by. I know it was just yesterday when we were taking walks to the park and to the drug store for lunch after pre-school. Precious memories!

I am excited for you as you get ready to begin college. Your confident and independent nature will help you make good decisions in life and I know you will be successful at what you choose to do.

As you begin this next chapter of your life, have fun but be careful, focus on your goals, and always remember that I am proud of you and love you very much!

Love,
Momma

It's hard to believe that you're already graduating! It's going to be weird without you always here. Thank you for everything you have done for me. Even though we don't always get along, I couldn't ask for a better sister. I'm going to miss you! I love you, sis!

Kayla

Dear Caroline,

I want to relate to you a few things as you get ready to embark on a new phase of your life. College will be different and you will now be considered an adult by all you come into contact with...your teachers and professors, your friends and your friend's parents and families, and even to a certain extent, your own family. This being said, you have grown into quite a remarkable young lady and I could not be any prouder. You have excelled at practically everything you have tried and I know you will do well in college. Let me also say that I trust you...and this is extremely important to me. Without trust, a father and daughter could not build the type of relationship that we enjoy. I also feel you are an honest individual, and that, too, is a quality which reflects your character and make-up. Finally, let me add that I expect you to come home to visit next year when you are away and you will always hold a special place in my heart and soul. In closing, let me convey my most sincere wishes for a fun, successful and fulfilling future.

Love you always,
Daddy
