

William Wiltse Carter

"If your uniform isn't dirty, you haven't been in the game." - Ben Bernanke

Will,
Anyone who has followed your high school career knows that your uniform is always filthy! You are definitely "in the game" in all that you do! I love the way you approach challenges with willful determination, and I admire the way you enjoy life and the great outdoors. You can succeed at anything you put your mind to! Dream big and most importantly, be happy! Always remember, "No Surrender!" Your family will be with you every step of the way.

I am proud of you! I love you so much!
