

Taylor Marie Long

Taylor,

Where do I begin--It is so hard to believe that our baby girl is graduating from High School. Where has the time gone. There aren't enough words to express to you of how very proud your dad and I are of you. Over the years you have been such a joy to us always so caring and compassionate of other people's feelings. Your energy lights up the darkest room when you walk into it. You always strive to do your best in everything you do. Even when you were hurt you always gave it 100%. We are so proud of the young woman you have grown into.

As you start the next chapter in your life set your goals high and strive to achieve the very best. In doing this we know that you will achieve whatever it is in life that you want to become. All of us face difficult choices in life but we know that whatever you choose will be the right choice for you.

Always remember that dad and I will always be there for you no matter what time of the day or night it is. We will only be a phone call away. Enjoy your college years and remember we love you from the bottom of our hearts!!

Love You,
Mom and Dad

Taylor,

I am so proud of you and couldn't ask for a better sister. You have grown into an amazing young woman inside and out. Please always remember you can be anything you want to in life if you work hard at it. I am really going to miss you when you go off to college but I will always be there for you!!

I Love You,
Randall
