

SHELLEY REBECCA MCDOONALD

Dear Shelly,

The Lord blessed us with one of our greatest gifts on April 17, 1998. Throughout the years, you have given us such joy watching you become the beautiful person both inside and out. You have reached the first of many milestones in your life. Remember the values you believe in and stay true to yourself. As you travel down the road of life, expect the challenges. However, have faith in the Lord and remember that your family will always be there. Reach for your dreams and do not settle for less. Mom and Dad will always love you!

Love you always,
Mom and Dad

Shelly,

I am so incredibly proud of you and all of your accomplishments. I can't wait to watch you grow as a person and excel in everything you do. Be thankful for every opportunity that comes your way and always give 110%. Study hard, but don't forget to relax and have a little fun because the next four years will fly by, trust me. No matter where life takes you, just remember that I will always be your number one fan and best friend.

Love always,
Sarah
