

Sloman,
 It's hard to believe you are 18 and graduating high school. It seems it was just last week we were dropping you off for Kindergarten. Your mother and I are so very proud of you. You are and have always been a very bright, beautiful and caring young lady. You have everything you need to succeed in life. Don't let anyone or anything hold you back. Continue to make us proud!
 Good Luck and Love You Bunches, Dad

Sloman,
 You have been a joy to me, a beautiful, loving granddaughter! Always be true to yourself and keep making good choices. Wishing you only happiness!
 All My Love, Ghee

My Little Boo,
 It seems that just yesterday we were bringing you home from the hospital and now you are graduating; time has gone by way too fast. We are so proud of the young lady you have become. You make good friends, good choices, and you have a very good and kind, old soul. May God always be with you, help and strengthen you as you go down the road of life. I have no doubt that you will remain the unique person you are and will continue to beat to your own drum without worrying about what others think. Keep the fortitude to meet your goals and always remember that being happy is the ultimate accomplishment.
 I Love You Forever My Doll Baby, Momma
