

Nick,
 You grew up too fast. I hope that your college years will be as exciting as your high school years. You make me proud to be called your father. I love you more than words can say!
 Good luck!
 Dad

Nick,
 Congrats my dear! We are so proud of you and all of your achievements. It seems like just yesterday you were born and now you're graduating. We can't wait to see what the future has in store for you. I have no doubt that you will continue to make us proud. Chase your dreams, Nick. With hard work and dedication, anything is possible. Always believe in yourself!

Love,
 Rusty, Mom, Caleb & Cole
