DEDICATION

To Mrs. Mabel Pierce, for her faithful and untiring efforts of helping to get advertisements for our Annual, we dedicate
this third volume of the CRYSTAL

CLASS POEM.

ELEVEN YEARS HAVE PASSED,
BUT NOW THE TIME HAS COME
WHEN WE HAVE TO SAY "GOOD-BY"
TO SCHOOL DAYS AND TO CHUMS.

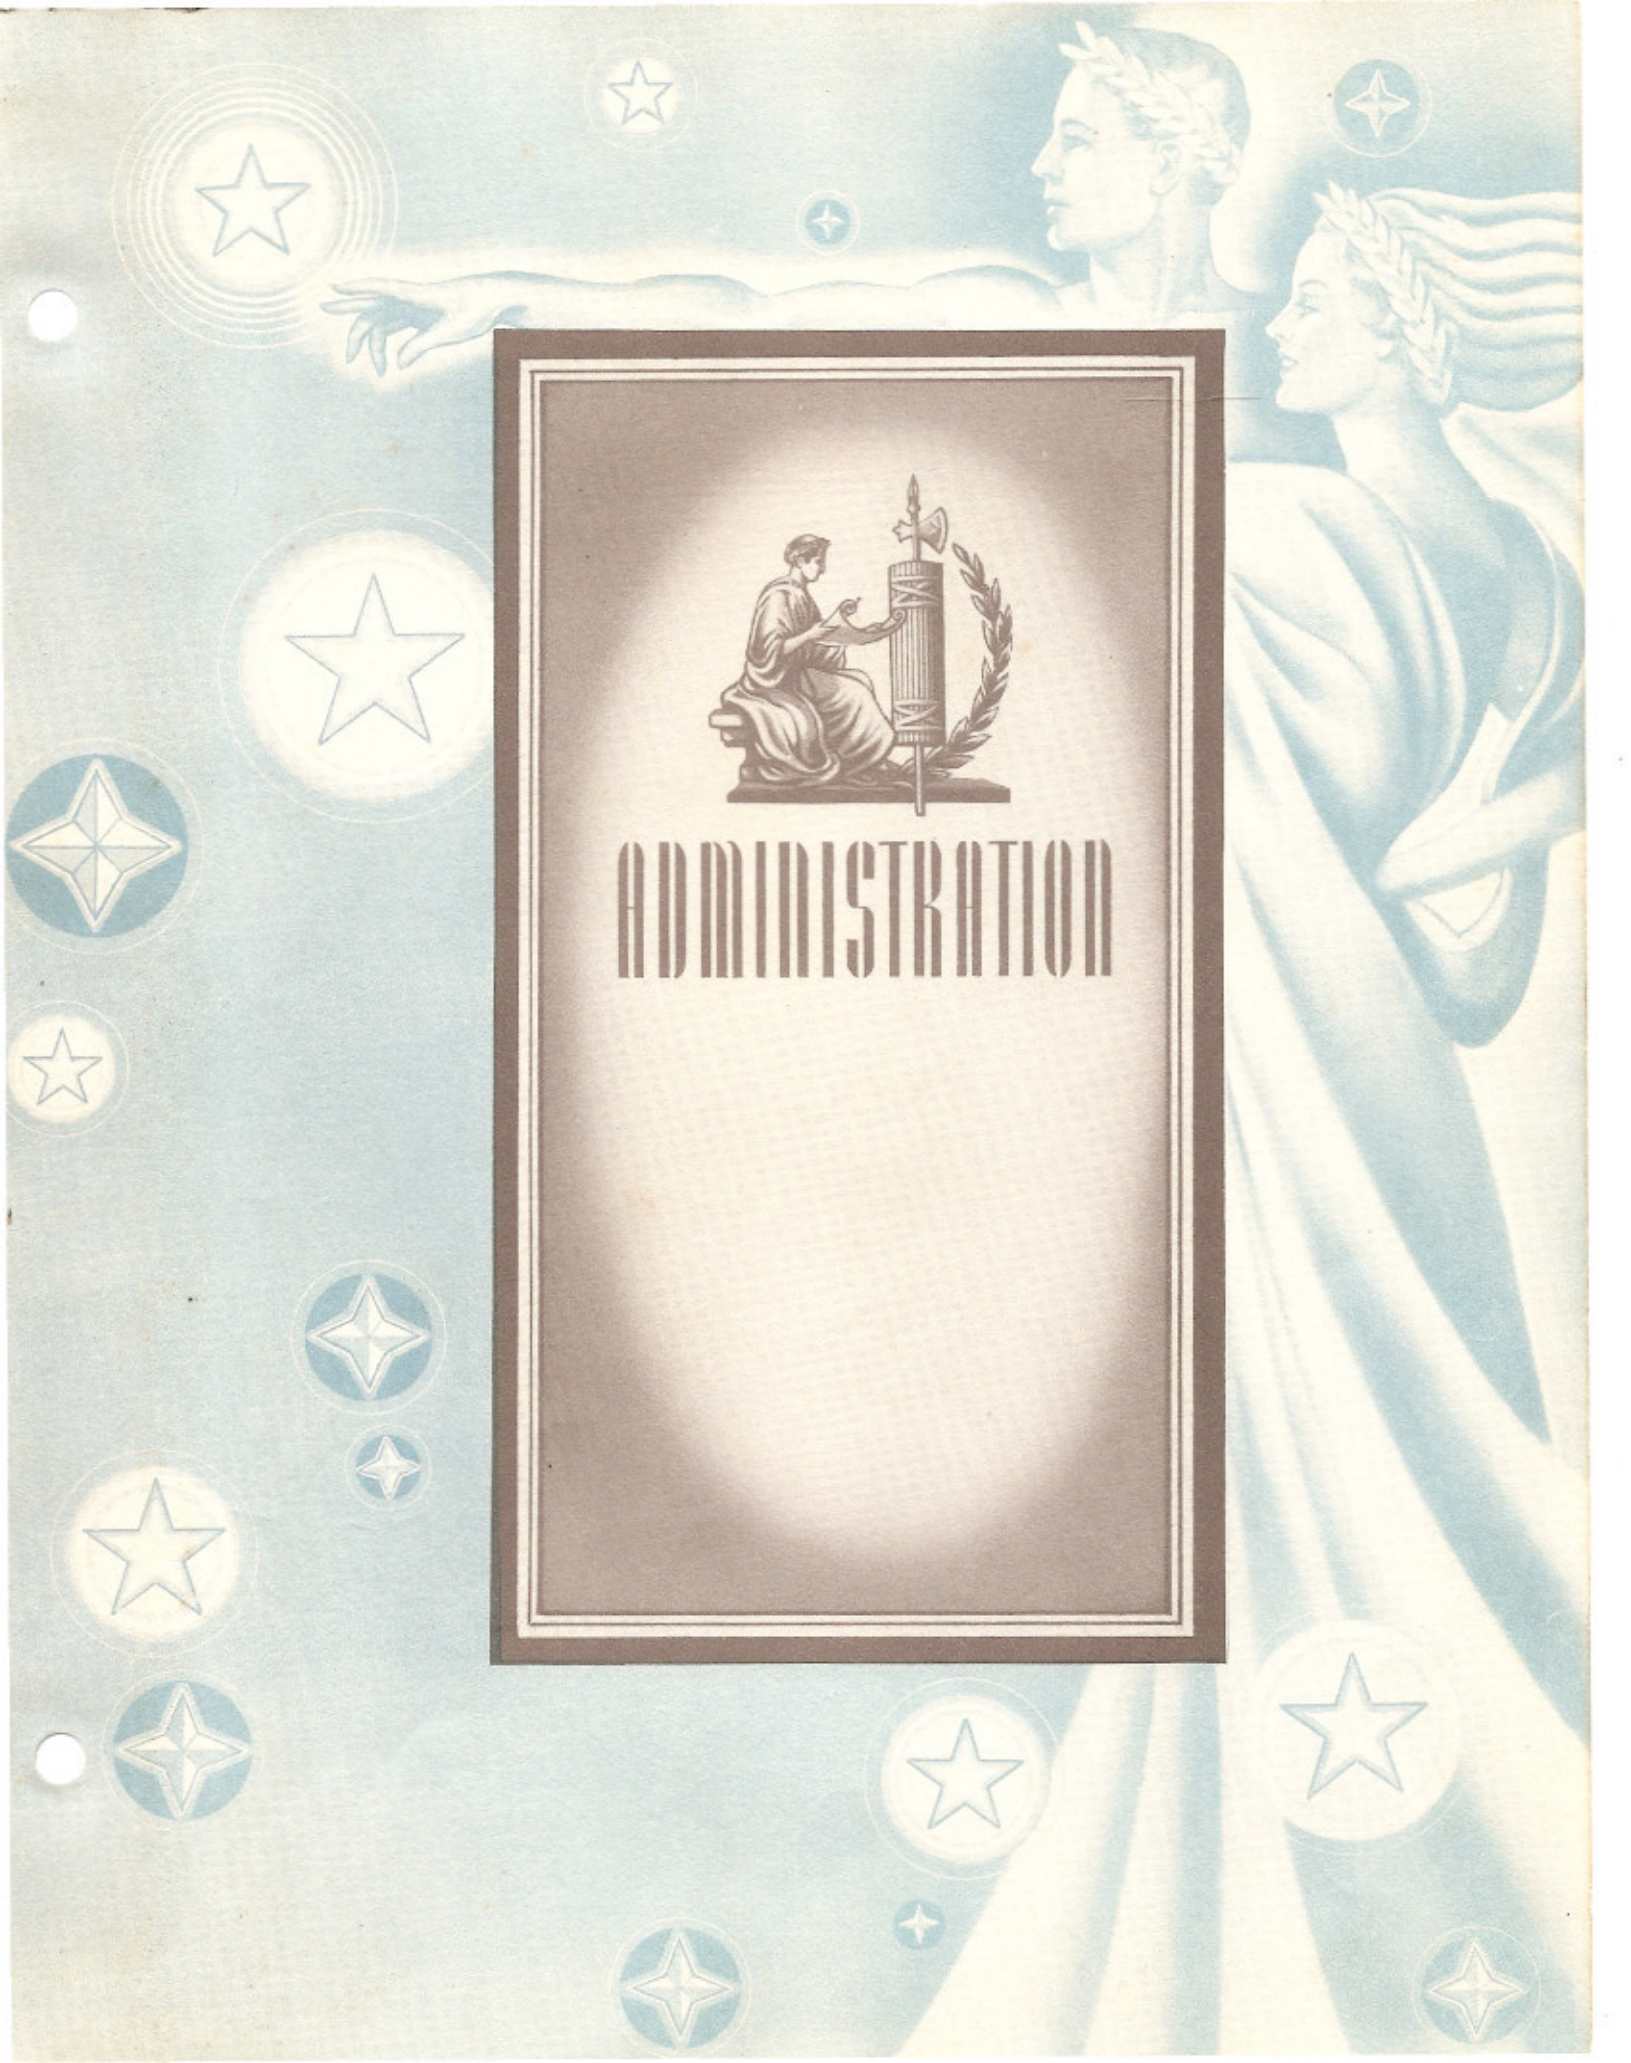

FOR ELEVEN YEARS WE'VE WAITED
FOR THIS HAPPY, JOYFUL DAY;
BUT TO-NIGHT WE EACH ADMIT THAT HERE WE'D RATHER STAY.

OUR HEARTS ARE FILLED WITH SADNESS,
OUR EYES ARE FILLED WITH TEARS,
FOR WE HAVE KNOWN NOTHING BUT HAPPINESS
FOR ELEVEN SHORT YEARS.

THE ROAD TO OPPORTUNITY IS OPEN,
AND WE PRAY IT LEADS US ON
TO A LIFE THAT IS AS HAPPY AND SUCCESSFUL
AS THE ONE WE HAVE ALWAYS KNOWN.

FOR MOST OF US SCHOOL DAYS ARE OVER,
BUT LIFE'S JOURNEY MUST GO ON;
FOR EACH OF US A SUCCESS WE HOPE TO MAKE A HAPPY HOME.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the class of 1941; of Cottageville High School, County of Colleton, State of South Carolina, being of sane mind and sound body, realizing our present dignity and importance as Seniors of this worthy institution and realizing also that we must soon depart this life, do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament.

We, the class of 1941 do hereby will and bequeath:

To the High School Faculty, we wish to leave the memories of a happy-go-lucky bunch of boys and girls who were always ready and willing to do anything to please the teachers.

To the Junior Class, we will our dramatic ability so that they may go through with their Senior Play as well as we did, (and get as much money).

I, Frances Ackerman, being in as sane mind do hereby will and bequeath to Mrs. Mamie Ackerman my desire to retire a rich old woman. To Gwendolyn, I will my ability to keep the "Jitterbug" going in the school.

I, Sara Ackerman, do hereby will and bequeath my slenderness to Lorene Nettles, and my freckles to Ethel Dandridge.

I, Marcaliese Ackerman, in a humorous state of mind do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get Daddy's car to Elva Ann, hoping that she will have as much fun with it as I have. To Herbie Adams my natural curls.

I, Walter Ackerman, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to string the opposite sex to Hugo Smith, hoping that he can keep up with them better than I have. To Donald my position as president of the F.F.A.

I, Mary Addison, do hereby will and bequeath my height to Helen Adams, hoping that she will be a better basketball player than I. To Hubert Dandridge I will my position as Editor-in-chief of the "ECHOES".

I, Pearl Blanton, do hereby will and bequeath to Mrs. Mineta Johnson my old pair of overalls in memory of the first day I came to Cottageville School. To Rosalie Adams my rabbits foot so that she may get as many letters a week as I did And they too will come from Canadys.

I, David Cone, do will and bequeath to Leonard Newton my basketball uniform, hoping that he will not get as many kicks in the seat of the trunds as I did. To Clyde Ackerman my ability to tease.

I, Virginia Dandridge, being in a serious state of mind for the first time, do hereby will and bequeath to Marie Muckenfuss my place at Mildred's and Ernest's hoping that she will enjoy staying there as much as I did. My ability to skate to Mr. Gaskins, hoping that he won't bruise the floor as bad as I did.

I, Emmett Faulkner, do hereby will and bequeath to Thomas Faulkner my seat on the bus, hoping that he can hold the back end down as well as I have. To Hervie Adams I will my broad smile.

I, MaryJo Reeves, do hereby will and bequeath to Mary Louise Reeves my navy blue skirt, hoping that she will get as much wear out of it as I have. To Marion Bridge I will my English knowledge, hoping that she can teach Mr. Gaskens as as much in the future as I have in the past.

I, Alice Rhode, do hereby will and bequeath to Sara Neece my pink sweater, hoping that she will keep it as clean as I did. To Wanda Addison and Elizabeth my tapping class, hoping that some day they will become famous teachers, like me???

I, Fannie Mac Stokes, do hereby will and

I, Fannie Mae Stokes, do hereby will and bequeath to Doris Adams and Lily Mae Spell my ability to do bookkeeping. To Elizabeth Ackerman my ability to get up in a basketball game after being knocked down by the opposite team.

I, Cecil Stokes, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to tell jokes to Doyle Stokes and my agriculture note book to Gus Harbiston, hoping that he will keep it better than I have.

To little Jay Ackerman, our mascot, we leave our best wishes hoping that he will always remember the Senior class of 1941.

HISTORY

This, the Senior Class of '41, has been a happy-go-lucky group of boys and girls always looking for a big time and usually finding it. We realize now what a short time four years is, and we can truthfully say that our school days have been the happiest days of our lives.

We began our first days of high school life in September, 1937. Our class consisted of Frances Ackerman, Sarah Ackerman, Walter Ackerman, Marcia Iiese Ackerman, James Adams, Mary Addison, Willard Beadle, Gladys Bell, Pearl Blanton, David Cone, Virginia Dandridge, Emmett Faulkner, Anna Bell Ferguson, Horace Hickman, William Metts, Alice Rhode, Mary Jo Reeves, Fannie Mae Stokes, and Cecil Stokes.

We entered school early that morning and found that there was someone else to begin with us. This was our new superintendent, Mr. R. E. Gaskins. We were very proud to have him with us and to start us off in high school life.

We became accustomed to high school life as the year passed on, and very early we learned the ideals of a high school pupil.

The most outstanding event of our freshman year was the time when our class thought it perfectly all right to follow the upper classmen on a short trip through the woods on April 1, 1938. We had a big time that day but the week that followed was rather tough for us!

Another important incident this year was moving around to the old school building--Work was beginning on our new school building. You can imagine how happy we were!

Another event we cannot forget was in the spring of '38 when most of the girls had their first date. This important part of our life we owe to the F. F. A. boys, who with their agriculture teacher, Mr. R. R. Thompson, had a chicken supper at Graham's Camp.

We continued our sophomore year in the old building looking forward to a happy junior year in our big new building. We had lost, very much to our regret, Willard Beadle, Anna Bell Ferguson, and Horace Hickman. Later on in the year Gladys Bell left us because she had suddenly become Mrs. Kenneth Muckerfuss.

The pleasures of our sophomore year were greatly marred by the infantile paralysis epidemic, but we continued to make our school life a success and to make school a happy place for the departing seniors.

Our class carried on the work that produced the "Cottageville School Echoes". We were rather crowded in the old building, but we found plenty of room and time to work on our school newspaper.

When the year ended, we were overwhelmed with joy to know that next year we would begin in a brand new building.

The following year in September, 1939, we began as "dignified juniors." We really were beginning, for the first time, to feel our importance and to sense the responsibilities which our junior year held.

The biggest and most important event of the year was the preparation for the Junior-Senior Reception. We wanted to give the Seniors a big time on this occasion and show them how much they had meant to us. It was a big success and I'm sure those who attended will always remember the tunnel that led them into our gymnasium--at least those who made it will.

On September 11, 1940, there arrived early that morning a group of boys and girls who bore the name of "Senior Privileges" and it was very happy because we had always envied seniors and looked forward to the time when we should be granted the privileges we thought the seniors had.

This group consisted of Frances Ackerman, Sarah Ackerman, Walter Ackerman, Mary Addison, Marcaliese Ackerman, Pearl Blanton, David Cone, Virginia Dandridge, Emmett Faulkner, William Metts Alice Rhode, Mary Jo Reeves, Fannie Mae Stokes, and Cecil Stokes. We were a group of boys and girls who had always stuck together with plenty of determination and good will; now we were working together for the last time.

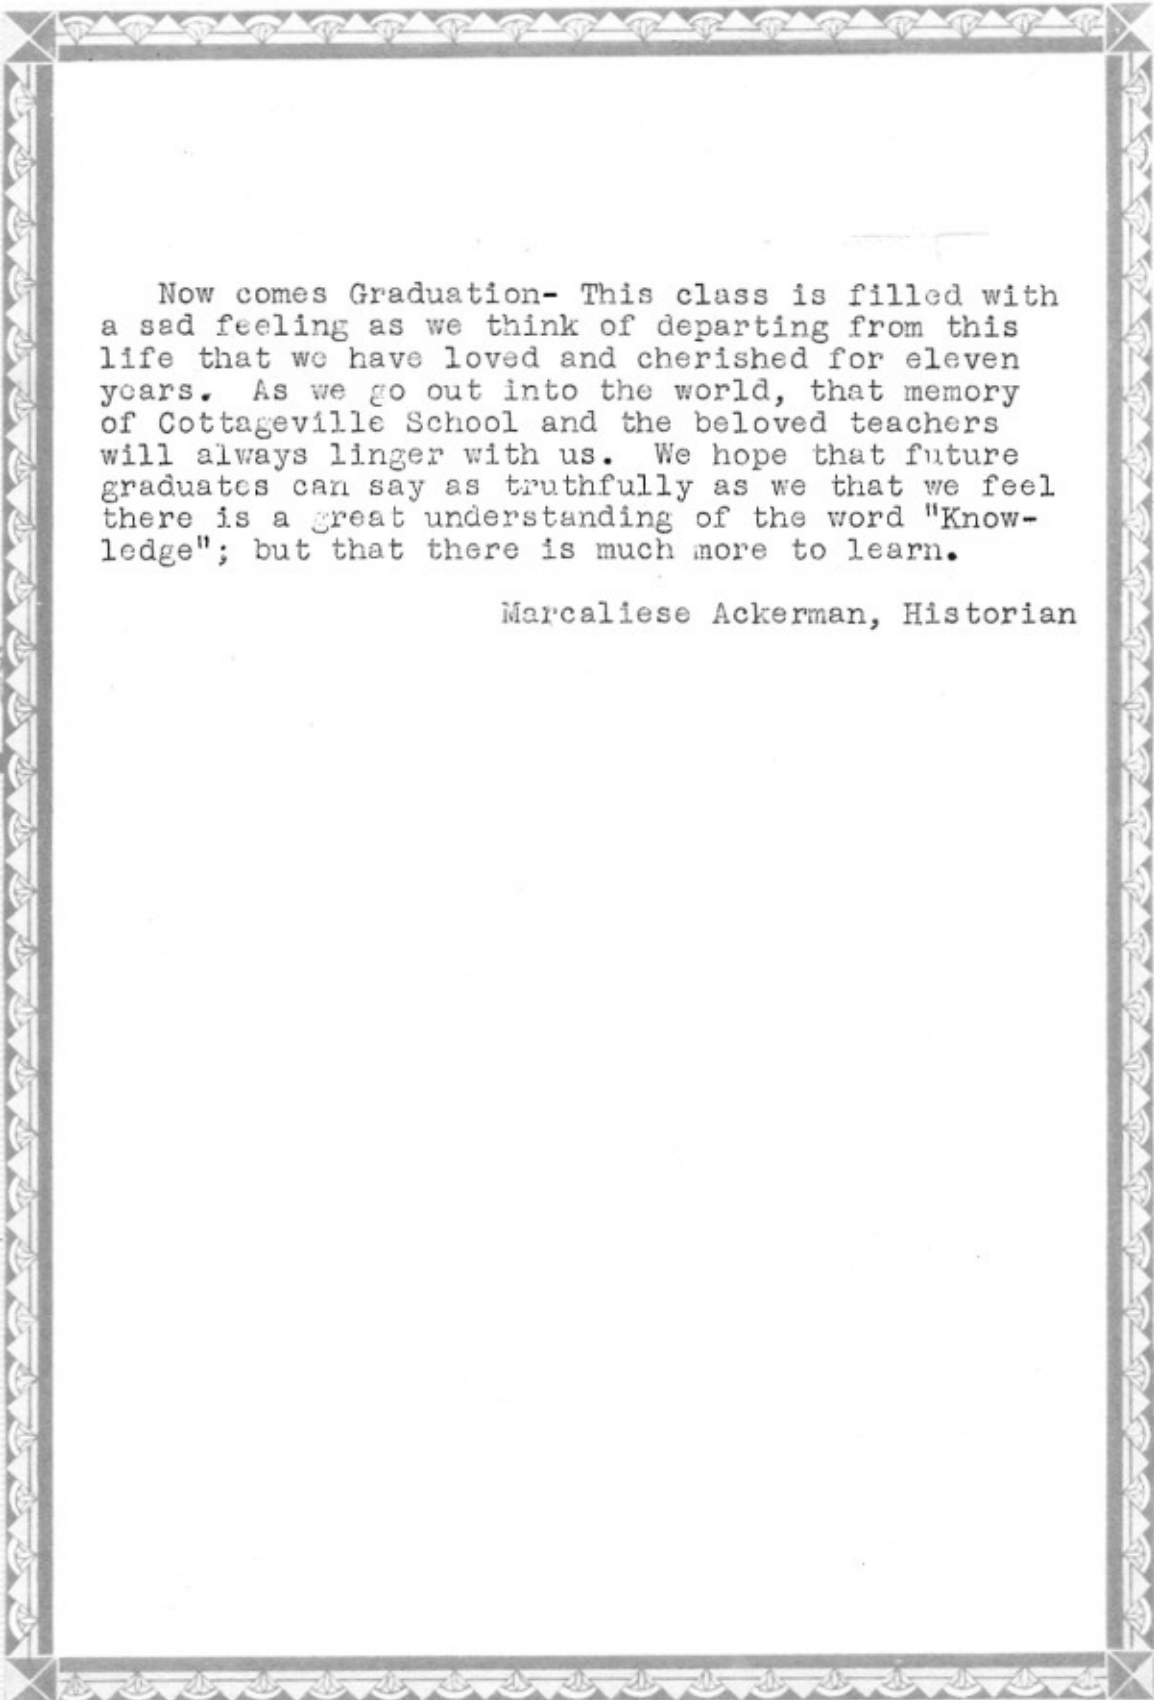

Our first disappointment was the misinterpretation of the word "senior privileges". We thought it meant, "Do as you please", but we found this was wrong when we received the punishment for going to lunch an hour before time--just two weeks of waiting for lunch an hour later.

The happiest day of the year was the day when we received our rings. We had lived for that day and it seemed that our dreams would never come.

After much consideration we decided to have a senior play. This play was a great success, perhaps the greatest performance our class has ever presented.

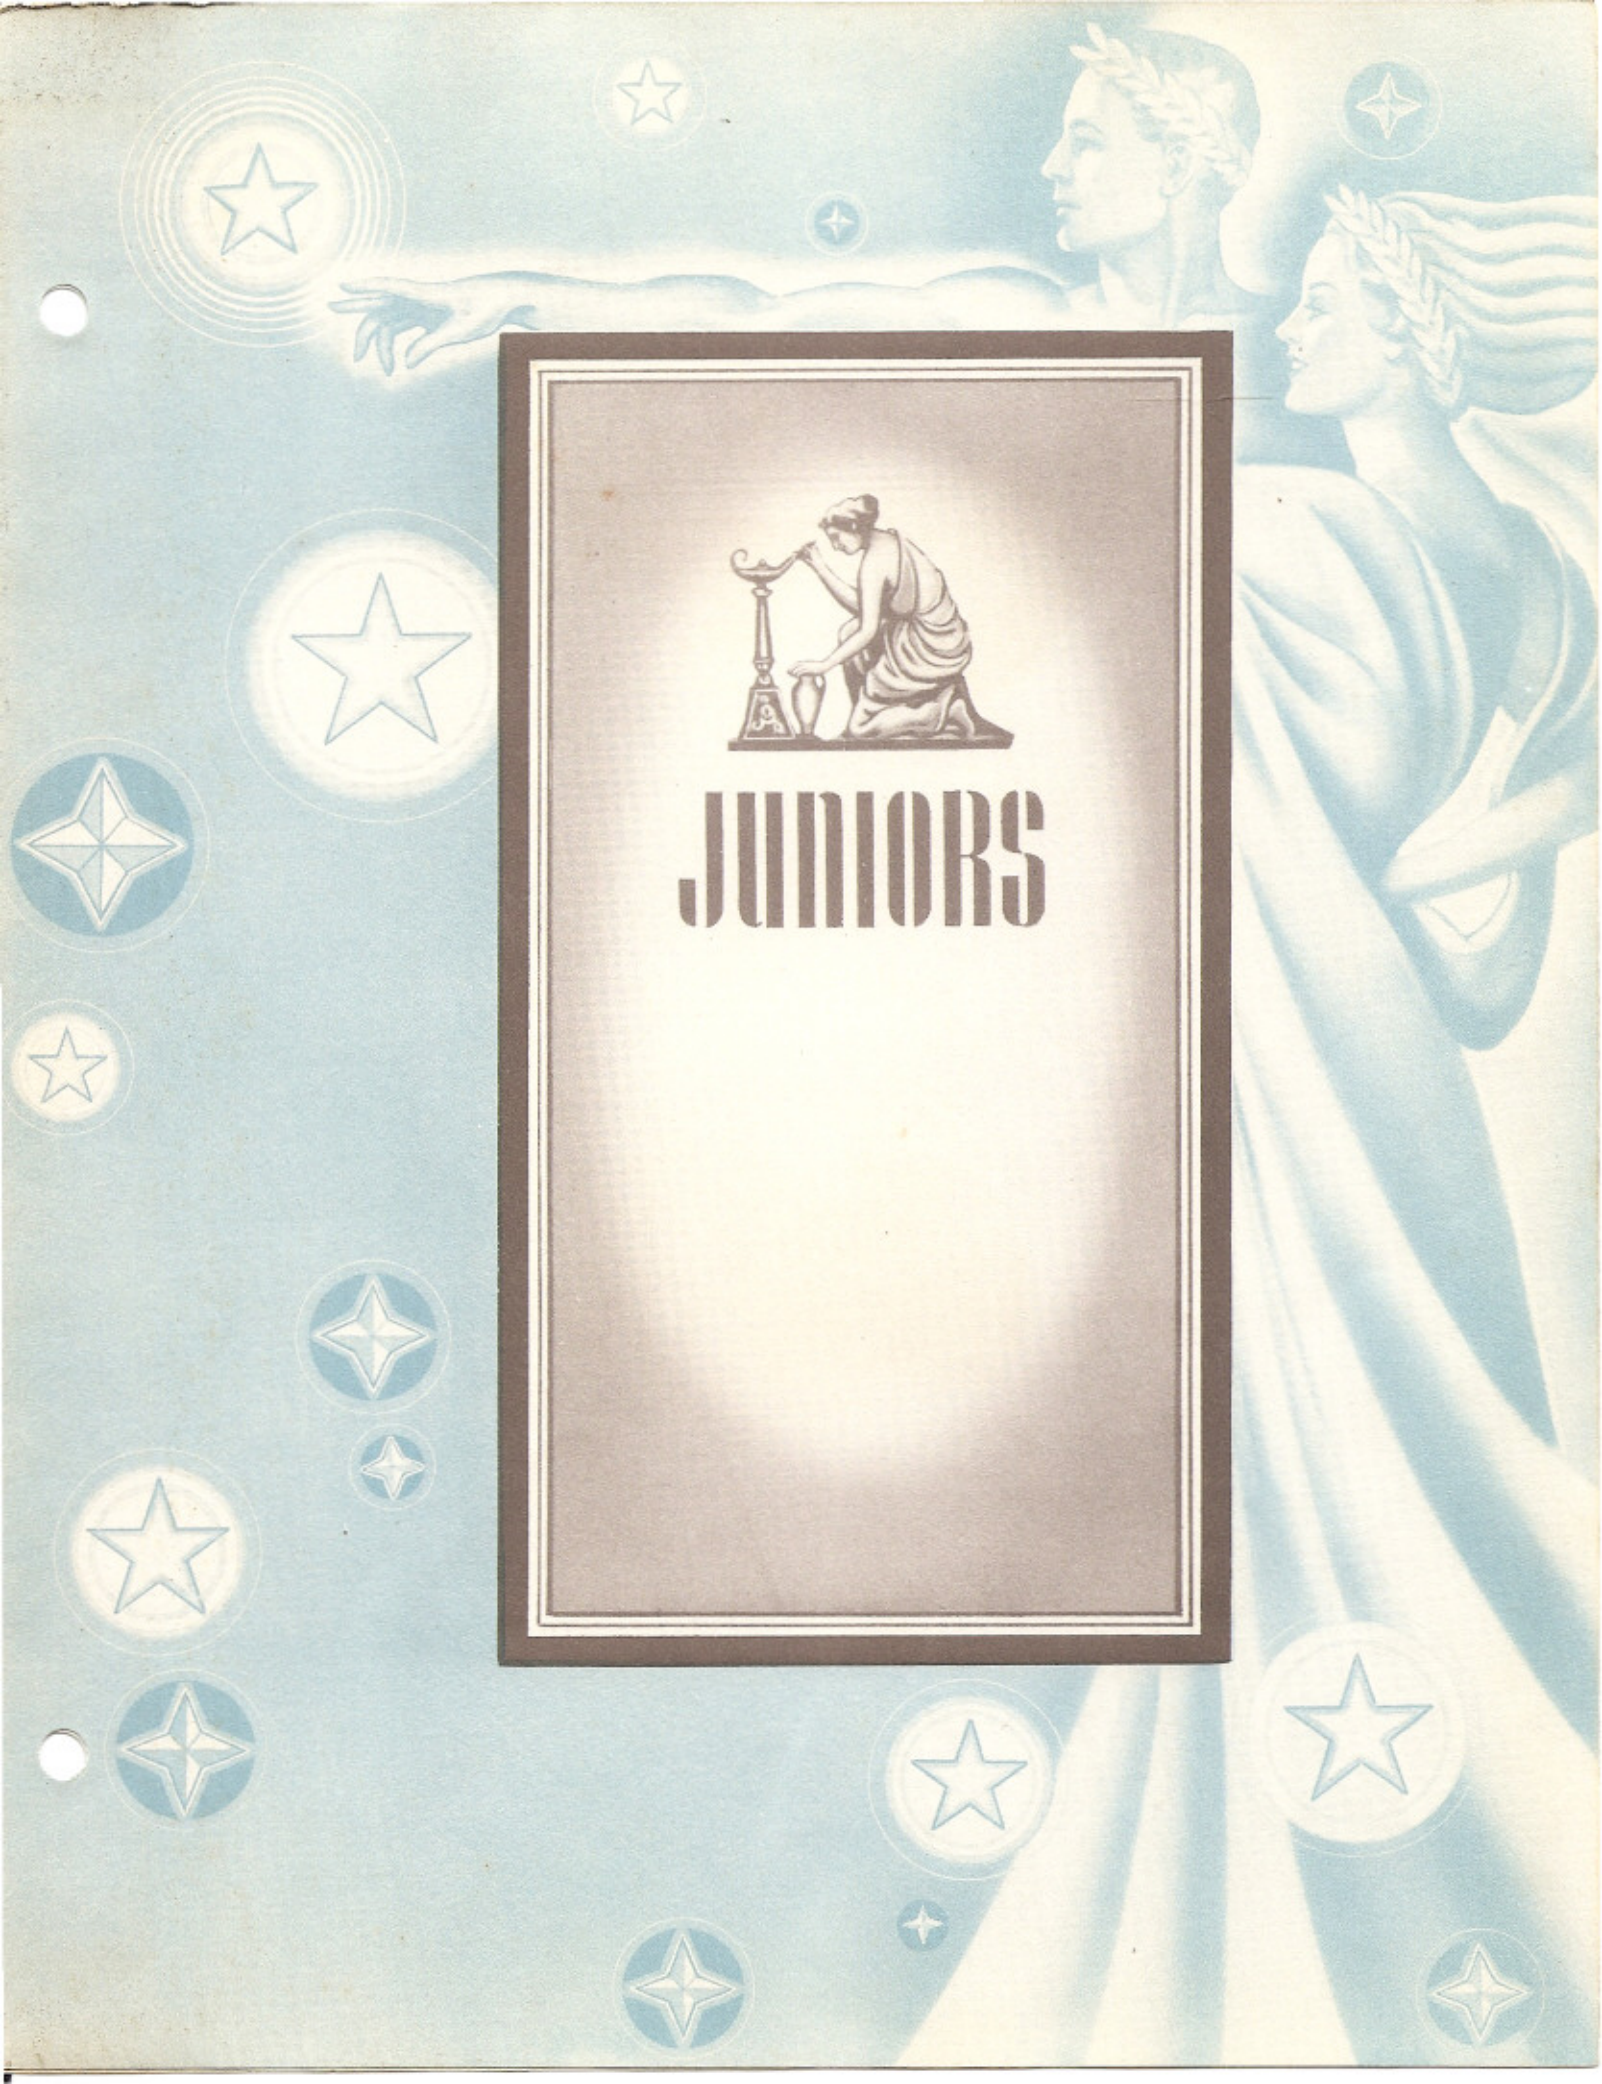

The Junior-Senior Reception was a big surprise to us for no one of us had any idea what their plans were for this event. We will always remember it as one of the biggest occasions in our senior year.

Our class now has one missing-William Metts left us during the year and began his life in the business world. He has been missed very much by his classmates. We hope that he will achieve great success in his life and that he will always remember his classmates who were the graduates of '41.

Now comes Graduation- This class is filled with a sad feeling as we think of departing from this life that we have loved and cherished for eleven years. As we go out into the world, that memory of Cottageville School and the beloved teachers will always linger with us. We hope that future graduates can say as truthfully as we that we feel there is a great understanding of the word "Knowledge"; but that there is much more to learn.

ACTIVITIES

"THE ECHOES"

About six years ago the sixth grade, now the eleventh, decided that our school needed a newspaper. Work was begun at once on it. The paper was the size of a typing sheet and consisted of news from the sixth grade only. Mrs. Griffith, the sixth grade teacher, after the children had got the news, would type it and make the copies on the school hectograph. Only enough for the class was made at first but soon they had about twenty-seven subscriptions. The copies sold for one cent each and sometimes enough news was found to write on the back of the paper. It was called "The Wildcat". They started publishing it toward the middle of the year and continued on at the rate of an edition each week until school turned out in June.

The paper was not published again until two years later when the sixth grade, now the eighth grade, started it again. Sara Neese was the editor and before the first semester was over it was turned over the high school. The paper was made larger and more subscriptions were gotten. Mr. J. J. Padgett, our county superintendent of education, gave Mr. Gaskins a mimeograph and the paper was printed on it. Hubert O'Brien gave the paper its name, "Echoes". The paper has been published every year since by the seniors. The staff for each year was as following: 1938-1939 Editor-in-chief--Sara Neese, Advertising Manager--Barto Hill, Circulation Manager--Wanda Addison, Sports Editor--Lucile Rhode, Jokes Editor--Gwendolyn Ackerman and Billy Youmans, and Society Editor--Elizabeth Ackerman. 1939-1940 Editor-in-chief--Madge Adison, Asst. Editor-in-chief--Mary Ella Walsh, Business Manager--Virginia Redman, Circulation Manager--Alice Rhode, and Sports Editor--Derryl Willis and Pearl Blanton. 1940-1941 Editor-in-chief--Mary Addison, Asst. Editor--Pearl Blanton, Business Manager--Marcaliese Ackerman, Sports Editor--Mary Jo Reeves and Sports Editor Walter Ackerman.

J. H. A. ACTIVITIES

The Junior Homemakers Association is a state organization for girls and by girls studying Home Economics. The purpose of this organization is: to develop girls as girls; to develop a spirit of cooperation in the school and community; to strengthen the confidence of the girl in herself and in her work; through encouraging her to assume responsibility for purpose and activities individually and in a group.

The Cottageville J. H. A. was organized in 1940 under the leadership of Miss Gaines. It functioned again very successfully again in 1941. Cottageville Chapter was the first in the county to pay its state dues and the only one to make the Honor Roll.

The Officers of the J. H. A. are:

President---Pearl Blanton
Vice-President---Helen Adams
Secretary---Doris Adams
Treasury---Johnnie Redman
Social Chairman---Lily Mae Spell
Program Chairman---Syble Reeves

The members are: Elizabeth Ackerman, Bessie Adams, Gwendolyn Ackerman, Wanda Addison, Elvenia Blanton, Sara Neese, Irma Rhode, Lucile Rhode, Serena Rhode, and Mary Louise Reeves.

Johnnie Redman and Miss Gaines attended the State J. H. A. Convention at Winthrop College March 28th, 29th, and 30th. The delegates elected new officers and voted to assess each J. H. A. member 10¢ for state dues instead of $2.00 per chapter. While they were there they made reservations for the Cottageville J. H. A.'s at Whialhalla for June 3rd to 10th.

The Cottageville J. H. A. and F. E. A. broadcast over W.C.S.C., Charleston in January. The topic of the program was Providing Food for the Family for Home Gardens and Community Canerery. The broadcast was presented in play form using the sub-topic, "How the Graft Family Paid their Mortgage." The script was written by Helen Adams, Miss Gaines, and Mr. Williams. Helen, Pearl, and Doris were the girls who took part in the broadcast.

The J. H. A. entertained the F. F. A. at a Christmas party in the school building on December 19th. They gave Syble Reeves and Miriam Reeves a shower and entertained the F.F.A. at another party in spring.

The J.H.A. girls went to the State Fair. They spent the day and saw many friends; Mr. Alex Willis, Mrs Allen Adams, and Mrs Berry Adams carried the group.

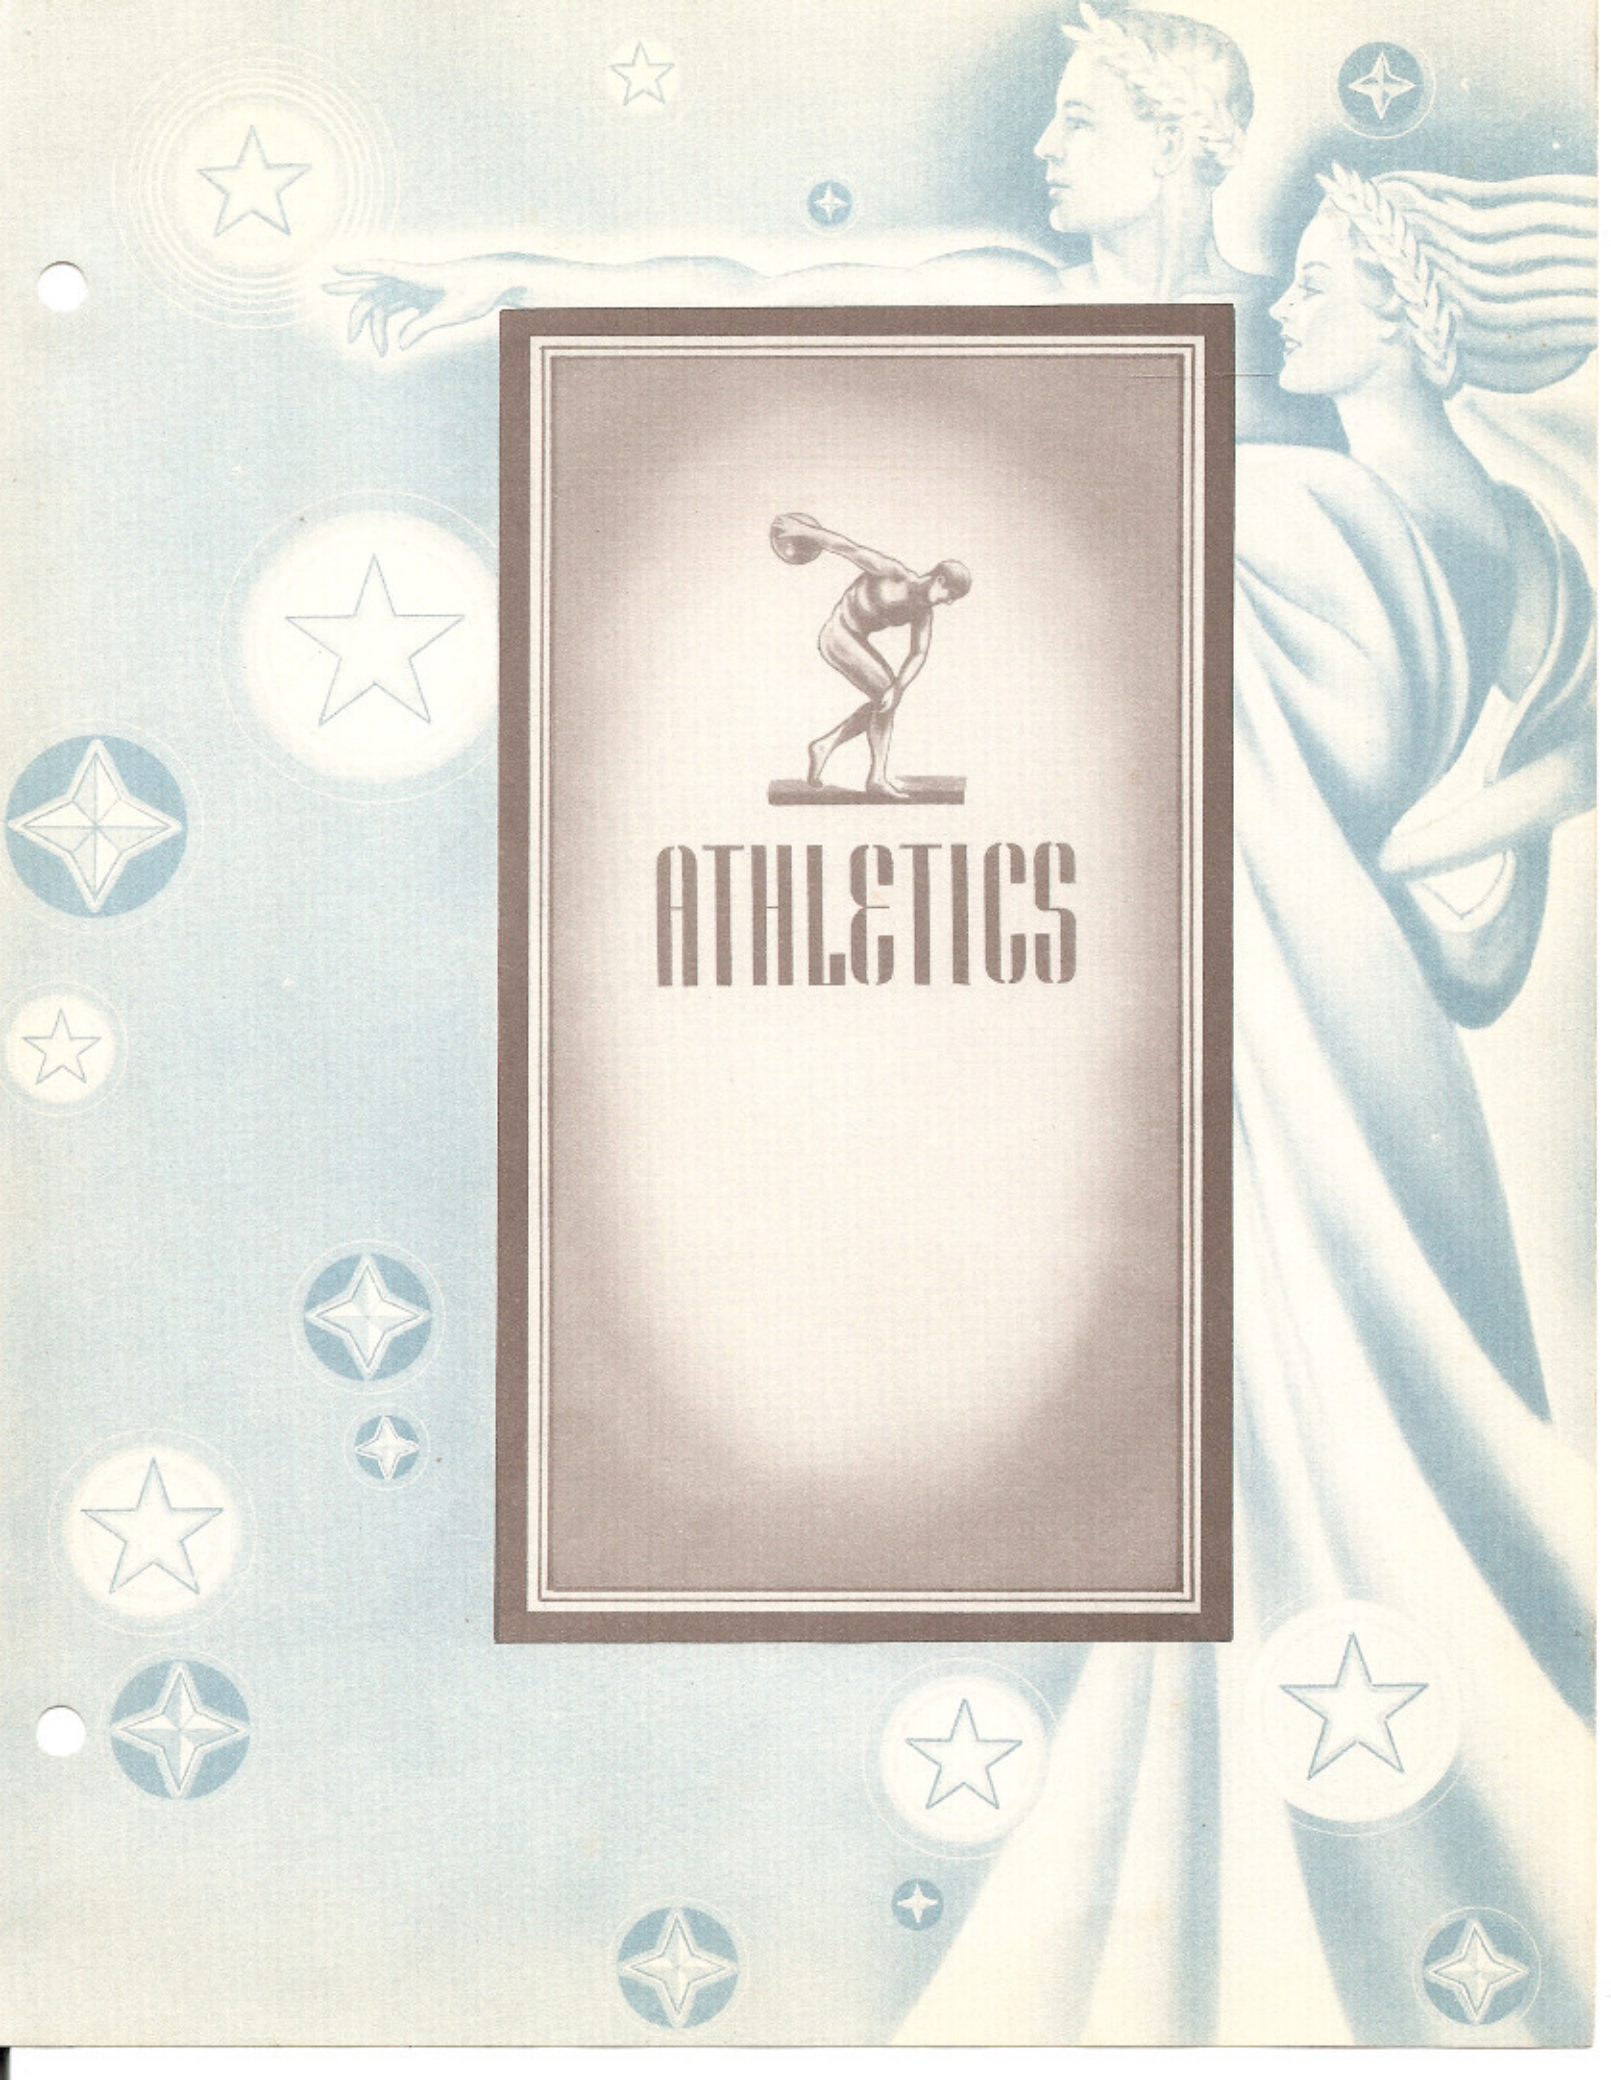

THE SENIOR PLAY

The Seniors of 1941 presented "Bound to Marry" on April 18, 1941. It was a very outstanding event of the year and was attended by a large crowd. This three act comedy was directed by Mrs. Mamie Ackerman.

The characters were as follows;

Betty Jane Dove--madly in love--Mary Jo Reeves
Billy Powder--high school red head--War Ackermann
Hilda Slater--The man hater--Fannie Mae Stokes
Augustus M. Baker--Whoop maker--Sarah Ackerman
Evelyn Grace--The girl in the case--Pearl Blanton
June Violet Ray--From old Broadway--Marce Ackerman
Mandy Snook--Colored cook--Virginia Dandridge
Mesa Hall--The black snow ball--David Cone
Samuel Boyer--Resourceful lawyer--Mary Addison

Alice Rhode tapped between the acts.

ATHLETICS

BOYS AND GIRLS SUMMARY

The boys and girls that made up the team for Cottageville were very determined to make the year 1941-1942 a successful sports year. We were defeated quite a few times but we also won a few games. Mr. Gaskins was our coach again this year. Although at times he became quite discouraged with us, we awarded him for his hard work with a few games. Several of our games on the schedule were cancelled during the flu epidemic. The teams that the Cottageville teams played were St. George, Lodge, Smoaks, Ridgeville, St. Paul, Grays, and Walterboro. The girls were unable to win over Lodge, but the boys were victorious once. This was one of the aims of the sports year. The Cottageville teams put up an equal fight with all of the other teams.

The preliminary tournament was held at Smoaks. The girls played Ridgeville and the boys played Hardeeville but both of our teams were defeated. The final tournament was held in the Cottageville gymnasium but neither of our teams were eligible. Lodge was the winner again for the District tournament.

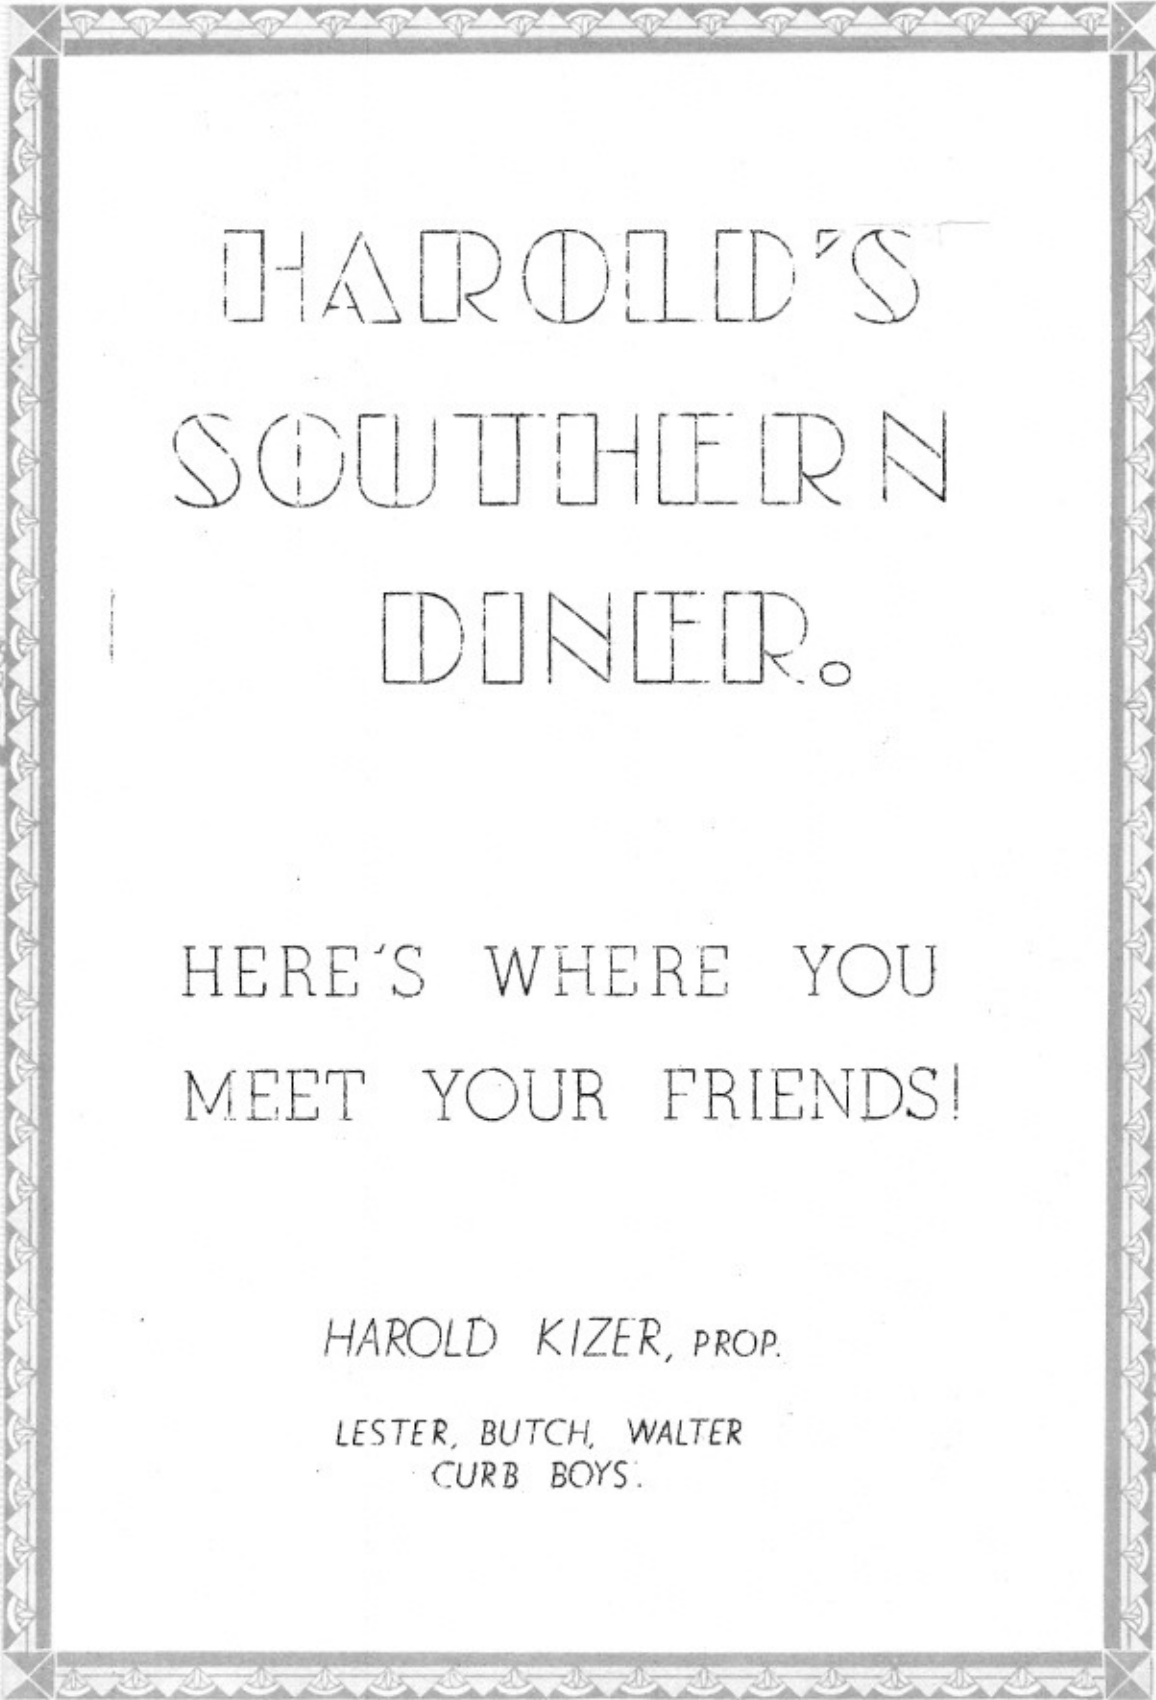

THE HOT LUNCH ROOM

The lunch room has improved very much this year. They have served better lunches; they have bought more equipment; and they have put benches for the pupils to sit and eat which is much more comfortable than standing. The cooks this year have been Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Nettles, Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Willis.
