Foreword

We, the senior class of the Cottageville High School, are proud and happy to present this second edition of the annual. We hope the Cypress and Pine will serve as a pleasant reminder of many happy memories of our high school days and help us to keep them forever in our hearts.

-Editor-

Dedication

To Mrs. Jennie Williams for her kind helpfulness and patience in assisting with the work of this annual, we, the staff, dedicate this, our second volume of THE CYPRESS AND PINE.

For the patience and consideration as home room teacher and for the untiring efforts as co-sponsor of the annual we dedicate to our superintendent, Mr. W. M. Ferguson, the second volume of THE CYPRESS AND PINE.

Class Poem

Fourteen seniors at last are we,
That which it seemed to us would never be.
Now we take them one by one,
To tell what each of them has done.

Elva, the first on our list,
Has the personality of a very lovely miss.
As for Madelyn, a worthy girl and also kind,
Has music and the church uppermost in her mind.

Leona, the seamstress of our class,
Accomplishes many helpful and useful tasks.
Rhett, the quiet type, who is always easy to please,
Has a smile for each and everyone he sees.

Marie, who is quite often called Lee,
Is usually very full of glee.
And we wonder if Legree, a smiling speaker,
Will not some day become a preacher.

Vermelle, as a lover of music and art,
Will always hold these quite dear to her heart.
And Bill, usually so solemn, but still a big tease,
Is always seen riding around in the breeze.

Edward for a while was a cadet,
He's very intelligent but quite witty you bet!
Laverne, always quite jolly and gay,
Is also well mannered in every way.

John, who's always happiest when playing ball,
Is the very best on the team after all.
Francis, whom the boys call Henry,
Carries a smile and is very friendly.

Julie, who is a very sweet girl and an outstanding athlete,
Has intelligence that can't be beat.
The actress of our class is the well known Kaye,
And maybe that's what she'll be some day.

Now to our parents, and teachers so dear,
Who struggled with us year after year,
We wish to thank with all our hearts,
For you have all, well done your part.

Class Will

We, the Senior Class of 1951 of Cottageville High School, town of Cottageville, county of Colleton, state of South Carolina, being of sane mind and sound body and realizing that we are departing from school, do hereby take in our stride this important step in our life and make this our last will and testament.

Section I

Article 1: We do hereby will and bequeath to our Superintendent, Mr. W. M. Ferguson, our sincere thanks for his wise guidance and patience rendered to us during our four years of high school.

Article 2: We leave to the faculty much appreciation for their untiring efforts to aid us in our work.

Article 3: our parents we will our loyal devotion for their sacrifices that we might come thus far.

Article 4: To the juniors we leave the exclusive right to publish the Cypress and Pine next year.

Section II

Article 1: I, Elva Anne Ackerman, do hereby will to Gene Cone my ability of getting to school on time, hoping that he doesn't oversleep as much as I have.

Article 2: I, Rhett Breland, do hereby will to next year's tenant of locker No. 43 all the trash and dust in the bottom of it.

Article 3: I, Julia Alice Smith, do hereby will to Patricia Ackerman my basketball shoes, hoping they will not be as roomy in the heels as they were on me.

Article 4: I, John Robertson, do hereby will to Bobby Addison my love for all sports.

Article 5: I, Vermelle Gatch, do hereby will to Fern Tuten my artistic ability and my position as art editor on the school paper and annual staff.

Article 6: I, Francis Spell, do hereby will to Frankie Bridge my ability to catch behind the batter in baseball, hoping he won't shut his eyes and miss the ball as much as I have.

Article 7: I, Kaye Willis, do hereby leave to Deloris Anne Rhode my walk, hoping she won't get teased about it as much as I have.

Article 8: I, Legree Faulkner, do hereby will to Bobby Addison my ability to come down to the gym and play basketball when I should be studying, hoping that he will not spy Mr. Ferguson as often as I did.

Article 9: I, Marie Deery, do hereby will to Mary Bridge my ability to keep a slim figure, hoping she doesn't get too tired exercising

Article 10: I, Bill Reeves, do hereby will to Gene Smith my ability to behave in class, hoping that he won't have the privilege of sitting in Mr. Madison's room at activity period as much as I have.

Article 11: I, Laverne Redman, do hereby will to Peggy Ackerman my ability to type with the keys covered and my position as stencil cutter on the school paper staff.

Article 12: I, Edward Redman, do hereby will to Gene Smith my list of feminine telephone numbers in Walterboro, hoping he will have as much fun with them as I have.

Article 13: I, Madelyn Ackerman, do hereby will to Llewellyn Thomas my ability to play the piano, hoping she will practice as much as I have.

Article 14: I, Leona Ackerman, do hereby will to Peggy Ackerman my natural curls, hoping the price of Toni Home Permanent doesn't go up.

Class Prophecy

Early one morning Father Time tapped me on my shoulder and said, "Come, let me finish this one more task and I will call it a day." Knowing him for the wise old man that he is, I followed him at once. We stopped at a place that resembled a government project, where as far as one could see there were large buildings all alike. The building before which we stopped was marked 1951. Father Time unlocked the door and we walked in. The interior was one huge building, filled with hundreds of shelves. These shelves had no distinguishing feature, except over different sections were the names of the 48 states. Father Time led me over to the section marked South Carolina. There in alphabetical order were ledgers under the names of all the high schools of the state. Father Time picked up the ledger from the pigeonhole marked Cottageville. He said "This group of buildings houses the ledgers of the men and women, boys and girls of the whole U. S. In them is an account of the past, present, and future of each class throughout the nation. Since you are the 1951 prophet, I am going to let you look into the future of your group. You may select one year and see what your classmates and you, too, will be doing then.

I took the ledger and hesitantly turned to the page marked nineteen-hundred-and-sixty-one--just ten years from now.

Of course, Father Time had everything written down in alphabetical order and the first name to greet my eyes was Elva Ackerman. She will be fulfilling her ambition, for in 1961 she is to be a Colleton County health nurse.

Next was Leona Ackerman. She is going to run a beauty shop in Cottageville.

Madelyn Ackerman will be religious educational youth director in the Cottageville Baptist Church.

And you don't have to guess twice to know what Rhett Breland is doing. He is the principal of the Cottageville Public School.

As we move along we find Marie Deery in charge of the school lunch room.

After I heard Legree Faulkner make one speech, I was not surprised to see that in 1961 he will be a lawyer in Cottageville.

Vermelle Gatch will be teaching music in Cottageville. She is also continuing her art work and in 1961 will give her first exhibition.

Edward Redman is going to put that fine mathematical mind to work. If you want to have an interview with him in ten years, you'll have to meet him in the logging woods because he's going to follow in his daddy's footsteps.

Laverne Redman is going to be extremely happy in her work. She is going to be the home economics teacher.

John Robertson is going to own and operate a sawmill near Cottageville.

Ten years from now, Cottageville is going to be laughing as if it had been told a good joke, and it probably will have been because the mayor is going to be that fun-loving fellow, Bill Reeves.

Now, Julia Alice Smith heard Legree's speechmaking too, you know. We find that when he hung out his shingle she applied for, and got, the job as his secretary.

Francis Spell is one that I'll be especially interested in watching because he will be at the wheel of one of the school buses bringing the children to Cottageville School.

And would you like to know why I, Kaye Willis, will be interested in Francis and his school bus? Well, it so happens that I am going to follow the oldest career there is for women, that of homemaker.

And now my fellow classmates, you can see that it will be very easy for us to have a class reunion. We will all be right here in our old home town. Lucky, Lucky, Cottageville. Huh!

--KAYE WILLIS--

Class History

It was a happy occasion, September 1939, when about thirty little girls and boys, not knowing what awaited them, began their school life in Mrs. Irene Ackerman's first grade room of the Cottageville School. Our other teachers in the grammar school in the years that followed were Mrs. Jennie Williams, Mrs. Vineta Johnson, Mrs. Carrie Lou Ackerman, Mrs. Bernice Buchanan, Mrs. Evelyn Horton, and Mr. McRay Galloway. Mr. R. E. Gaskins was our superintendent.

Even though we learned readin', 'riten, and 'rithmetic we thought school was more play than work, not realizing then that we were developing in a natural situation, working together on a common problem toward a common goal--a developed personality.

High School at last! It was a sunny day in 1947 when the group, appropriately excited, entered the high school section of the Hall of Education of the Cottageville School.

During our first year we acquainted ourselves with the different subjects and the general routine and our new name--freshman. Some of the girls served at the Junior-Senior Banquet and made a first attempt at high school basketball.

Soon we found ourselves ready for the sophomore class. We began with enthusiasm still not exactly becoming "book worms."

Some of us were guests at the Junior-Senior Banquet. Honors during this year were bestowed upon Julia Alice Smith for highest scholastic grades, Betty Rilee for best-all-round, and Madelyn Ackerman for most outstanding in music.

In fall of 1949, we entered school this time as juniors. You can be assured that we felt our importance because of the duties and responsibilities that rested upon our shoulders.

A chance came to show off our dramatic ability in, "He Who Hesitates." Edward Redman stole the show as "Ollie."

The next occasion that opened the door to our social life and made us feel that we really "belonged" --our Junior-Senior Banquet. It was a grand affair and we felt that the seniors had nothing on us.

Then came our rings. How proud we were of them and how proudly we displayed them!

Honors during this year were given to Julia Alice Smith and Wendell Adams for most intellectual and to Vermelle Gatch for most outstanding in music.

Crawford Ackerman left us to join the United States Army. He is stationed in Korea.

Seniors! Our class had dwindled down to fourteen. We had finally reached the goal of all high school students, but we had to exert ourselves even more than before. Sports! Senior Play! Senior Superlatives! Senior Privileges! Senior Honors! Holidays! Examinations! Annual! Junior-Senior! Graduation Plans! Caps! Gowns! Invitations! Etc.

We have had great happiness and great sorrows during one time or another. These will soon be memories which we will cherish the rest of our lives. By this time next year, seniors will be studying and training for positions of all kinds; many will be in the armed forces of the United States, but whatever the task, it will be met with the grim determination and sincerity which Cottageville School has given us. We have learned to do our best with what we have whether it be great or small. Our aim in the future is to carry on with what we have learned.

We hope that students of the past and future remember the motto, "Education Is A Possession Of Which Man Cannot Be Robbed."
