

An End To The Beginning

Kindergarten graduation was the end to the beginning of education for fifty-two shining faces. Many of the students will remember the excitement and warmth they felt that night, and the parents will never forget the pride they felt as they watched their child ramble around the gym floor in cap and gown before the ceremony.

After a prayer and the "Pledge of Allegiance," the students sang "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and recited the Twenty Third Psalm. Then the students marched up on stage to receive their diplomas as many emotional applauses sounded from the audience.

Much will be expected from this class in the next twelve years. But they will always remember the fun times and the educational experience they had with Mrs. Hiers and Mrs. Warren. Who knows what these students will do in the future? But for now, their Kindergarten Graduation is a long-lasting memory.

The kindergarten class of 1984 anxiously awaits the moment to receive their diplomas.

Danielle Dantzler receives help from Mrs. Warren after getting her diploma.

The kindergarten graduation class recites the "Lord's Prayer" to open the ceremony.

