

Backbone

Of The Team

"Backbone of the team." This term most clearly describes the JCCA trainers, managers, scorebook keepers, and statisticians. Many people do not realize what hard work and dedication it takes to participate in a sport being a player or non player. These people that do participate are an asset. Without question, individual players make a team but these people are the backbone of the team and it is they who keep everything in running order.

"My term as assistant manager/trainer was a learning experience that I enjoyed being involved in." — Monica Pinckney

Kevin Smoak, a junior, is a first time manager of the J.V. Boys Basketball team.

Season Summary

"I enjoyed working with coaches and being a part of the basketball team." — Beth Gas-kin

What did it take to be a team? It took devotion, and school spirit. Those were characteristics of the players, coaches, and also the people behind the scene that do not get recognized as much as they should. Those people who were at every ballgame come rain or shine and who felt as the players, exhilaration or devastation, are to be commended.

No matter how big or small a job was, it was done the best way possible. By putting forth 100% effort in each game, they were contributing and making the team even better.

Archie Murdaugh and Monica Pinckney serve the Varsity football team as the manager and trainer.
