

GOOD TO FORGET

A decade is defined as a ten year span of time — in this case, the decade in question is 1980-1990. Ten years in the “over all scheme of things” seems like a small amount of time, but the changes that have taken place will make history books for the next generation.

On the international front, communism has fallen, democracy for the people is on the rise. On the national scene, the San Francisco Earthquake and the Challenger Disaster made history. State wide the Pope’s visit to Columbia and Hurricane Hugo will not be forgotten. In even closer inspection the world of John C. Calhoun Academy has changed a great deal — not only the faces of students and faculty, but in academic awareness as well. The Open Court Reading, computers, AP classes, and P.E. Classes all help prepare our students for the coming decade.

During a decade faces and buildings may change, events that are noteworthy take place, but soon fade into history, but the spirit and family unity of JCCA will continue for many future decades.

Gary Hunt and Jason Jones prove that no matter what year it is spirit week at JCCA can be very dangerous.

Every year the kindergarten class performs a musical for the pleasure of the parents and faculty.

Tim Godwin tries out for the former JCCA Marching Band.
