1. Hillary Clinton announced her bid in April for the 2016 presidential election. Other notable candidates include billionaire real-estate developer Donald Trump and Dr. Ben Carson, a world-renowned pediatric neurosurgeon.

2. On May 2, the Duchess of Cambridge gave birth to her second child, Charlotte Elizabeth Diana. Princess Charlotte of Cambridge is fourth in line to succeed Queen Elizabeth II.

3. Capt. Kristen Griest and 1st Lt. Shaye Haver became the first two women to graduate from the Army Ranger School. This is the first year the Army has opened the course to women. Despite their success, Griest and Haver will not be able to serve with the 75th Ranger Regiment because of its ban on female soldiers.

In July, a family-run salvage company hit the jackpot when they worked the site of a 300-year-old Spanish shipwreck 1,000 feet off the coast of Fort Pierce, FL. Brent Brisben's team recovered 350 sunken gold coins, including nine Royals worth $4.5 million.

Since 2010, Brisben said he and his company have recovered close to $6.5 million worth of artifacts.

4. In announcing their daughter's birth on Dec. 1, Mark Zuckerberg and his wife Dr. Priscilla Chan also pledged to donate 99% of their Facebook stock - worth about $45 billion - to promote equality and the human potential.

5. On October 21, Nike unveiled a fully functional version of Marty McFly's famous power-lacing, light-up sneakers. The company released the shoes in honor of "Back to the Future" Day, the day that Marty McFly arrived in the future in the iconic 1985 film. The company plans to release a limited quantity of these shoes, which will only be available by auction. All proceeds will be donated to the Michael J. Fox Foundation for Parkinson's Research.

6. A long-lost Dr. Seuss book, What Pet Should I Get?, was released in June. The book was discovered by Theodor Seuss Geisel's widow when she decided to have some of her late husband's sketches and drafts appraised. In the first day of its release, the book became the #1 best-selling book on Amazon.

Pope Francis
visited the United States for the first time in September. President Obama welcomed him at Andrews Air Force Base. The pope spent time in Washington D.C., New York City and Philadelphia. While in New York City, he met with world leaders at the United Nations.
