

Mr. Gladstone, Miss Steffen, Mrs. Pyburn

- Row One: P. Kizziar, P. Wilson, K. Jud, N. Hendryx, M. Lee, A. Macko, S. Jenkins, J. Branscum, C. Bergman, E. Braun, N. Cobb, M. Johnston, P. Owen.
 Row Two: A. Lampros, K. McCrory, M. Scherr, M. Mitchell, L. Nissen, K. Thayer, J. Wolff, S. Moses, B. Cassell, C. Greenhill, N. Sears, J. Heitman, K. Perkins, J. Williams.
 Row Three: T. Mitchell, G. Kincaid, G. Otz, B. Fannon, C. Kramer, D. Jordan, K. VanWessem, P. Door, W. Pierce, R. Karliner, T. Anstedt, J. Clifford.
 Row Four: D. Dickerson, R. Jackson, J. Colvis, B. Ballentine, J. Coppersmith, J. Graupner, J. Burris, V. Rossi, K. Johannsmeyer, R. Migneco, G. Overstreet, E. Shimamoto.
 Row Five: S. Decell, R. Meier, T. VonHatten, B. Schrepel, E. Yates, K. Jenkins, B. Zahner, M. Hirsch, R. Rearden, S. Vincent.
 Row Six: B. Allen, J. Thiel, D. Boehm, J. Neville, C. Rawley.

Semester One

for college, or for a job. Nothing is more frustrating to student and counselor alike than the not uncommon situation of a pupil, who has chosen, say, a business curriculum for six semesters, suddenly deciding that he wants to attend M. I. T.

These are our freshmen. We are proud of them, and we know that in four years, they will graduate equipped for whatever lies ahead. Toward this felicitous fruition of their time at Southwest, we urge that they seriously begin now to consider their careers.

