

Charlie Cary presided over Student and Guidance Councils and found many opportunities to represent Webster. His responsibilities as Senior School President were equally important. Charlie is known at Webster for his special snicker and hard work, and he tackled each job which befroanted him with ambitious gusto.

"The man with the gavel" and a determined grin, who presided over Student Council and Guidance Council, and effectively carried out all his duties in the interest of Webster High, was our Student Body President—Allan McArtor.

A girl stepped into the limelight this year as Junior School President. Anita Collins, acting as "executive" over the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades, officiated at Junior Student Council meetings, presided over assemblies, and carried out the business of the Junior School.
