

Orchestra

Music, music, music! These might well have been the passwords for the members of this year's string orchestra.

Under the direction of Mr. Boyer, the orchestra acted both jointly with and independently of the band. They combined with the band in presenting the annual Band Dance. In the spring, they once again joined with the band in competition in the St. Louis Music Festival. This festival provides opportunity for various orchestral groups throughout the county to vie with one another for top honors.

In addition to the Festival, the orchestra gave several concerts during the late winter and spring. All in all, the 1959-1960 season was a busy one for all the orchestra members.
