The Senior Class Provides Outstanding Leadership

The 1978 senior class provided outstanding leadership for their underclassmen. Seniors played important roles in school clubs, student government, and in athletics. Along with their many responsibilities, the students received senior privileges, which they enjoyed after eleven years of anticipation. Eating lunch inside, exempting first semester exams, entering the buildings before the 8 o'clock bell, and leaving assemblies first were several privileges that the seventy-two-member senior class enjoyed.

Senior Class Sponsors Money-Raising Projects

Money-raising projects conmed the efforts and time of the enior class. Seniors participated in the annual magazine sale at the beginning of the year and received a percentage of the school's profit. The students combined their varius talents to present a successful senior class play, the proceeds of which added to its treasury. In February the class also sponsored the Queen of Heart's program, which netted the seniors over nine hundred dollars. Reaping the benefits of hard work, the seniors enjoyed their class trip to Washington, D.C. in March. After twelve years, the class of '78 graduated in lune.

Eighth Graders Assume Responsibility As Head Of Junior Student Council

The authority of being the oldest members of the Junior Student Council was stimulating to the eighth graders. Achieving in courses such as Latin, Algebra, and world geography gave eighth graders goals to reach. Also new general science books provided insight into astronomy and space travels. Playing on Junior Varsity teams and in the Powder Puff football game increased student par-

A Time For Lower School

6th Grade Helps With School Functions

Sixth graders made many contributions to WHA. They raised the flags in front of the administrative building. By running a store in Lower School, they increased their treasury. Also, canteen and traffic duty were included in some of the students' day. Students participated in Saturday basketball, physical education, May Day festivities, and the Christmas program. One of the highlights of the year was a dance held for the fourth throug sixth grades. For the first tim sixth graders experienced the tria of exams. This year United States history came alive to the second graders. They studied about the Mayflower and the Pilgrims and now view Thanksgiving with a new outlook.

They studied many maps of Orangeburg and found for themselves where their homes are situated. These students were very scientific-minded this year. They learned about the atmosphere an explored the use of X-rays in studying bones. The world of plant intrigued them as they grew the own bulbs and trees.

Daily Assignments Keep First Grade Pupils Busy

Through their first year of "real" school, 1st graders continuously used their imagination and originality. With the aid of modern teaching techniques, learning the basic skills of reading, 'riting, and 'rithmetic proved to be most enjoyable for all.

Many students agreed that their favorite subjects were lunch and recess. Eating lunch and playing chase and freeze tag filled many a recess hour. The students also eagerly awaited their appointed day for trips to the school library.

First Year Of School Is Exciting To Kindergartners

The first year of school is always exciting to children, and for the children at WHA Kindergarten it was no exception. Learning the letters of the alphabet and learning numbers kept the students occupied. Weekly testing games gave the students more initiative to learn. Painting, playing with toys, and singing songs added to the excitement. Fun and hard work were combined to help prepare the young kindergartners for the twelve long years ahead of them at Wade Hampton Academy.

A Time For Features

Rebel Victory Adds Spirit To Homecoming Festivities

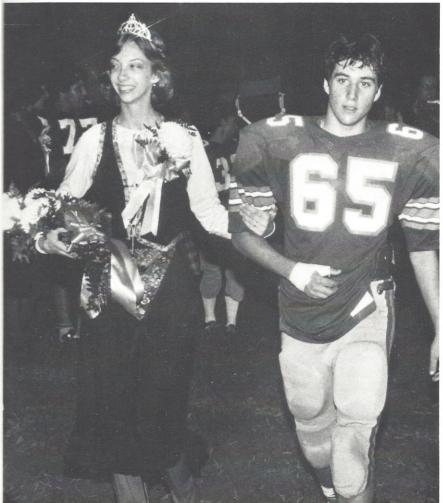

Students and faculty worked hard preparing for this year's Homecoming festivities. "Up, Up, and Away In My Beautiful Balloon" was the theme of the float. Meredith Edmonds was chosen Queen; Cathy Axson, Maid of Honor; and Bobbi Ayers, an attendant. A 24-6 win over John C. Calhoun and a dance following the game added to the evening's excitement.

Raggedy Ann And Andy Come From "Toyland" To Queen Of Hearts

The Senior Class worked diligently for several weeks prior to February 14 in order to have the gym ready for the Queen of Hearts. The theme this year, "Toyland," featured the adorable characters Raggedy Ann and Andy.

Festivities started with a Kiddie Parade. Chris Arant and Nichole Fogle were chosen Little Mr. and Miss Valentine. Then the candidates and their escorts were presented. Following the presentation of candidates, Mr. Burns crowned the Queens and Princesses of Upper and Lower School for 1978. Those crowned were Bobbi Ayers, Queen; Franke Cope, Princess; Cheryl Carson, Queen of Lwer School; and Donna Dukes, Princess of Lower School.

- 2. Escorted by Marty Smoak, Bobbi Ayers is crowned Queen of Upper School.
- Fifth grader Cheryl Carson, escorted by Weldon Burns, is chosen Queen of Lower School.

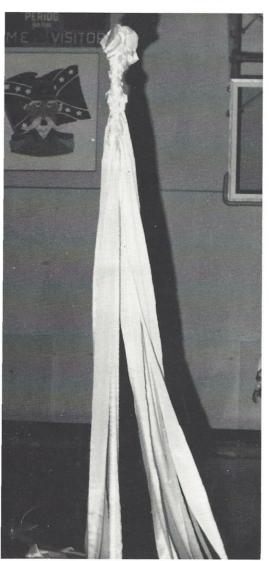

- 1. Chosen as Princess of Lower School is Donna Dukes, escorted by Chuck Rose.
- 2. Raggedy Ann and Andy, Debbie Haigler and Derek Rickenbaker, provide entertainment with a song.
- 3. Freshman Franke Cope, escorted by Paul Strickland, is named Princess of Upper School.

ON PAST ZEBRA Climaxes Entertainment For May Court Festivities

The Dr. Seuss play On Past Zebra gave May Day festivities a sunny atmosphere even though the activities had to be moved indoors. Dr. Gressette crowned Bonnie Campbell Queen, and

Meredith Edmonds served as Maid of Honor. The Queen and her court enjoyed the song "The Impossible Dream," sung by Mona Matthews and Debbie Haigler; the May Pole dance presented by sixth graders; and the seniors' interpretation of On Past Zebra. Refreshments were served after the entertainment.

- 1. The traditional May Pole dance was presented by the sixth graders.
- 2. After being crowned Queen, Bonnie Campbell and Maid of Honor Meredith Edmonds enjoy the entertainment.
- 3. Following the entertainment, Mrs. Hare, Mrs. Brooks, and Artie Brickle converse while they enjoy refreshments.

Fran Mixson Is Winner Of Tommy Wannamaker Award

Leadership, scholarship, dependability, character, citizenship, and service to school were the criteria for the selection of Fran Mixson as the recipient of WHA's highest student award — the Tommy Wannamaker Award.

A student at the Academy for six years, Fran has participated in all phases of school life. She served as president of her sophomore class and has held various homeroom offices throughout her upper school career. This year she served as secretary of Senior Student Council.

Having been a member of the Rebel staff for three years, she served as editor-in-chief this year.

Fran participated in the junior varsity basketball program and served as manager of the varsity girls' team her junior year. She has held membership in the Latin, Spanish, and Science clubs.

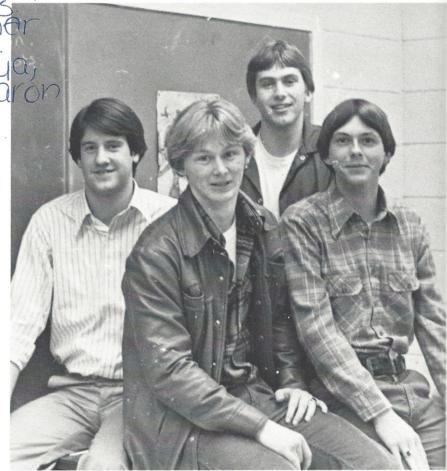

A B+ student, Fran was selected a delegate to Girls' State, was named a recipient of the Junior Service League Distinguished Youth Award, and was elected Miss Rebel. She was also a Homecoming attendant.

Besides her school activities, she found time to work as a Candy Striper at the Orangeburg Regional Hospital and as secretary in her father's office.

Fran plans to enter the College of Charleston in the fall.

A Time For Activities

Halloween Carnival Brings Fun And Excitement To Many

Through the diligent efforts of Student Council, the annual Halloween Carnival was held. The Spook House designed by the senior class horrified many. Numerous games tempted students to try to win a prize. Baked goods, plants, and pickles from the Country Store and handmade items from the Lower School Handicraft Booth were purchased by both parents and students. Other highlights included the Key Club's Car Bash, the Sponge Throw, the Teacher Freak Show, and a Costume Contest.

- 6. At the Christmas assembly, a number of students provided entertainment with a Christmas skit.

Hustle And Bustle Characterize Christmas At Wade Hampton

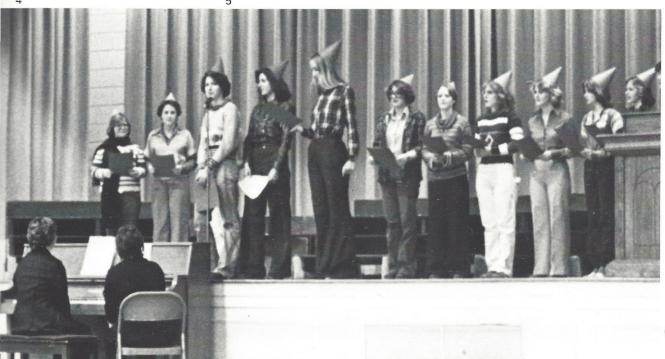

With the Christmas season came the usual excitement that the Christmas spirit gives to everyone. The chorus presented a very enjoyable program, with a part of the program being presented by the band. Upper School was inspired to decorate doors and bulletin boards in a festive manner There was also a special assembly with several skits to provide amusement for everyone. The Lower School enjoyed their own festivities. They held Christmas parties and exchanged gifts.

- 2. Juniors Kris Brezsny and Liz Reynolds finish their Buddha Temple.
- 3. While the band takes a break, sophomores perform a skit for graduating seniors.
- 4. Ching Chow's Chop Suey Joint awaits its first customers on the night of Jr.-Sr.
- 5. Juniors frantically strive to perfect the decorations for Jr.-Sr. in time for the dance.

Juniors Present "Shangri-La" 1977

The Junior Class worked together to create a beautiful Oriental paradise for the annual Junior-Senior dance. Each day of the week prior to Junior-Senior, many students stayed after school to transform the walls and stage into the shops and streets of "Shangri La."

Entering the lobby, Juniors and Seniors found themselves walking through an enchanting Oriental garden with a bright red pagoda dominating the scene. Guests enjoyed the skit performed by the waiters and waitresses, who also served Oriental refreshments. The band, Tucson, performed in front of a large colorful dragon.

Coming Of Spring Means New Experiences

Anticipation marked the coming of spring and new events. The kindergarten children looked forward to becoming first graders in the Lower School. Graduation culminated their wishful thinking when Mr. Burns presented their diplomas. Sixth graders, in graduating, were losing "senior privileges" and becoming the newest students in the Upper School. Mr. Ted Litchfield presented the diplomas and wished each student the best of luck in the Upper School.

The Science Fair added to the excitement of the school year. The Senior Physical Science entries were the largest ever. Seven entrants that represented WHA in state competition won awards in their respective fields.

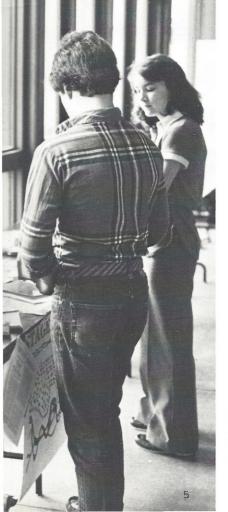

- 1. Kindergarten presents "Around the World" as the program for graduation.
- 2. First grader John Parker examines culture dishes through a magnifying glass.
- 3. President Matthew Albergotti welcomes the guests to sixth grade graduation.

Radio Programs And Pierian Provide New Experiences

Six seniors gained valuable experience by producing radio programs each week. These programs contained news of the current events at WHA. The broadcasts over WORG, WTND, and WDIX kept the community up-to-date.

The Pierian, a literary magazine, was compiled by a group of seniors. Many WHA students showed their originality in this publication. This collection of articles proved to be widely read by WHA students.

- 1. Senior Kris Brezsny and Ronnie Bird record their weekly program for WTND.
- 2. Before going to WDIX, Ben Moore and Cindy Padgett revise their program.
- 3. At WORG, Jeff Keller and Beth Dahlgren take a break from a recording session.

Rebel Yell Spreads News To Students

The Rebel Yell staff worked hard throughout the year to publish the newspaper five times. The editorial staff consisted of 23 volunteers. Each member was assigned various articles to write for each issue. A featured article in every issue was the Snoopy Column that helped everyone catch up on the latest gossip. The business manager had a twelve member staff. The business staff members were responsible for selling ads and newspapers. The Rebel Yell staff covered WHA news well.

'77-'78 Key Club Serves School And Community

The '77-'78 Key Club sponsored projects to raise money as well as projects to help the community around them. The members combined work with pleasure and accomplished many goals. This year, for the first time, the twentyfour club members sold popcorn at all home football games and provided wood for a bonfire before the WHA-Willington football game.

Rebels Strive For Victorious Season

Daily practice, beginning at 6:45, characterized the '77-'78 Varsity Boys basketball year. This time was spent perfecting their game strategy. Ball-handling drills allowed Rebels to take advantage of their quickness. Man-to-man and 2-3 defense proved effective against many difficult opponents.

- 1. Junior Dalton Prickett breaks through the Wilson Hall defense.
- 2. In a tense moment Varsity boys watch as their teammates pull from behind.
- 3. Avoiding a block, Ronnie Vaughn makes a difficult shot.

3. In final seconds of the game, a Rebel outjumps an opponent.

Logan, Thank goodness this year is almost over! I'm grad. Next year we will be mighty "sophomores" Stay sweet and don't get pulled (Driving)
Love, Love,

An enthusiastic group of twenty-two girls turned out for the first practice of the J.V. girls' basketball team. Although the girls started the season with a loss, they added many wins to their record as the season progressed. Practices were hard, but the girls admitted that winning games was worth all the hard work that went into practices. The combined efforts of Coaches Sam Allen and Skeet Smith produced a winning J.V. girls team; they ended the season with a 12-2 record.

- 6. Yelling to a teammate, Ralph Faulling acts as the first-base coach.
- 7. Scoring for the Rebels, Dalton Prickett runs home.

1977 Baseball Team Gains Experience Through Daily Practices

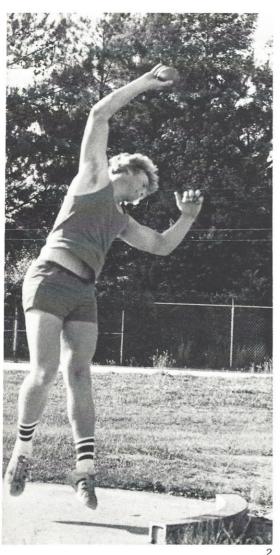

The baseball team, once again this year, started off with tough daily practices, which prepared the players for the trying season ahead. Baseball practices consisted of a lap around the field, infielding and batting practice, and the eating of many hot balls supplied by Mr. Tom Bird. Behind the pitching efforts of Dalton Prickett, Kenny Davis, Ronnie Bird, and Howie Love, and the combined efforts of all the other players, the mighty Rebels ended their season with a 6-8 record.

The Rebel fans, although they did not see a victorious game for Wade Hampton every time the team played, remained loyal to the baseball team.

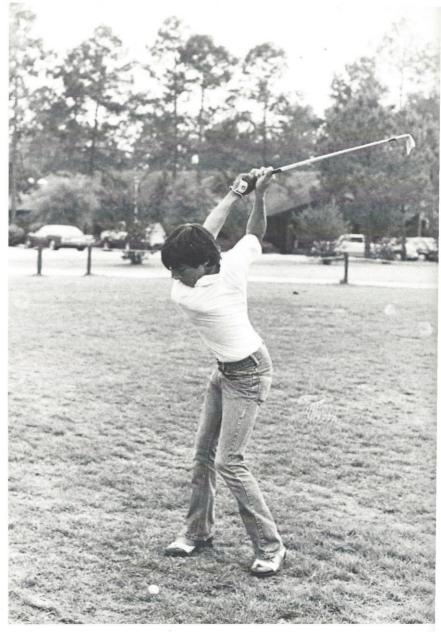

- 2. With extreme determination, Bill Salley strives to throw the shot.
- 3. First row: Wesley Kemmerlin, Michael Culler, Bobby Clary, Marty Smoak, Gregg Frierson; Second row: Steve Cook, Dalton Prickett, Bill Salley, Ronnie Vaughn, Mark Mulkey.

Hard Work Aids Golf And Track Teams

With daily practices, members of the track team began to build their strength and speed and work on skills. The squad, directed Coach Sam Allen, ran hundreds alaps and sprints to get ready for the state track meet.

Under the leadership of Coach Martin Cheatham, the four members of the golf team practiced many long hours to master new techniques and tactics. However, the team's patience and determination paid off, as each member gained valuable experience for next season.

- 1. Paul McElroy, Rion Groomes, Mike Griffith, Tom Isacks.
- 2. With a steady hand, Rion Groomes putts the golf ball.
- 3. Junior Marty Smoak thrusts his body over the hurdle.

Softball And Tennis Teams Have Exceptional Seasons

The '77 tennis team improved its state standing considerably. Winning most of their matches netted them an invitation to the tournaments at Hilton Head. One singles and one doubles team progressed to the finals at the tournament.

Practice and hard work enabled the 1977 softball team to obtain a winning season. The Rebelettes, who had lost no players from the previous year, were again able to gain a berth in the playoffs. There they advanced to the regionals. The season ended with a 5-2 record.

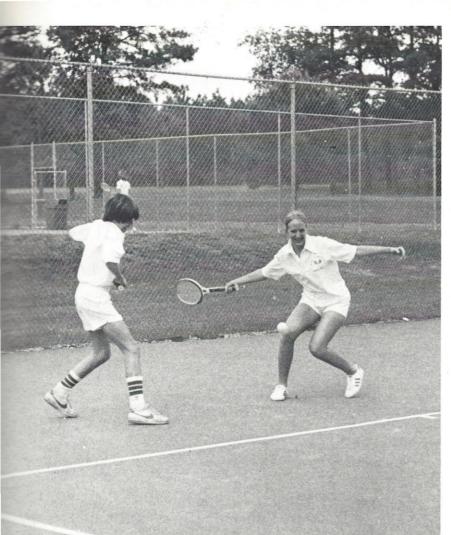

- 1. First row: Susan Wells, Elaine Caughman, Natalie Rose, Jane Thompson, Kris Brezsny, Ann Purcell; Mr. Bill Jacobs, Tommy Huffman, Carl Brandenburg, Jack Rose, Banks Wannamaker, Robert Hunter, Clay Shirley, Russ Fender, Mrs. Sheryl Fender.
- 2. At a crucial softball game, Coach Ted Litchfield observes the players on the field.
- 3. Senior Lee Ann Martin gets ready for the pitch.
- 4. Displaying skill, Jack Rose stretches for the ball.
- 5. During afternoon practice, Carl Brandenburg and Kris Brezsny vie for the ball.
- 6. First row: Jackie Sharpe, Tracey Kinsey, Beth Martin, Marie McLean, Tammy Rose, Mary Paige Hutto, Permelia Sharpe; Coach Ted Litchfield, Lisa Nichols, Reggie Huber, Kathy Taylor, Beth Holman, Anne Hartzog, Julie Schaefer, Lee Ann Martin, Sherri Bozardt, and Manager Sheri Meyers.

In Memoriam

Jane W. Early

History Department (1969-1975)

Your friends say they'll keep in touch, but you know they won't. Your teachers say come back and see them. And you know you won't. Maybe someday it won't matter. But right now, it hurts a little to realize this is true.

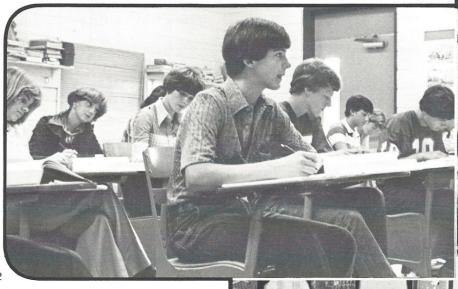

Logan,
Oh man, what a quick and fun year! Sorry about Sheryl. I tried, you know! But when you get mixed up with the wrong, people you get mixed up in the Head: I kope your your offer. has got to be the best year of any school year so for! How was your year. It took me long enough to find a place! Tammy took my usual place, but that is obay . I miss you're algebra, but that is the breaks when you're a brain! I'm not talking about me-you're the brain! Some people have it and A Time For Epilogue some people don't! Don't prock out to many girls this Summer with your dark smooth skin! Ha! You and Rob better watch out! ya'll woth turn black! Must be nice. you letter behave this Dummer! I don't want you to be get any trouble Don't flip out Sheryl in her "little bathing suit". You might go crazy and fall hard again for her! I hope you'll have a good summer and all! B-Ball was fun and you did good! I enjoyed cheering for ya'! Hope I will Sel ya Luw ya, THE HAWK, Ketty (THE JR231) next year -

A Time For Living Each Day As It Comes, And A Time For Laying Foundations For Tomorrow;

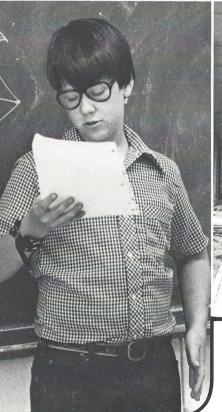

- 1. Seventh grade boys fight over the ball in a game of crab soccer.
- 2. Sophomores copy history notes from the board.
- 3. Lunch boxes are stored in the shelves until time to eat.

- 1. Getting adjusted to school, these first graders are only beginning their hard years of working.
- 2. Trying to convey the idea, Brad Waters explains a math problem to his classmates.
- 3. During the week of cheerleader camp, Meredith Edmonds supervises the sign-painting.

- 1. During a crucial golf match, Mike Griffith attempts to sink a putt.
- 2. Lunchtime furnishes fourth graders with a free moment to converse and catch-up on their studies.
- 3. A student diligently practices forming his letters and improving his writing skills.

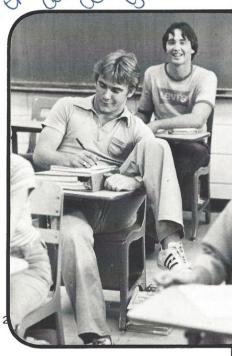

A Time To Leave The Safety Of The Past Behind, And A Time To Face The Uncertainty Of The Future;

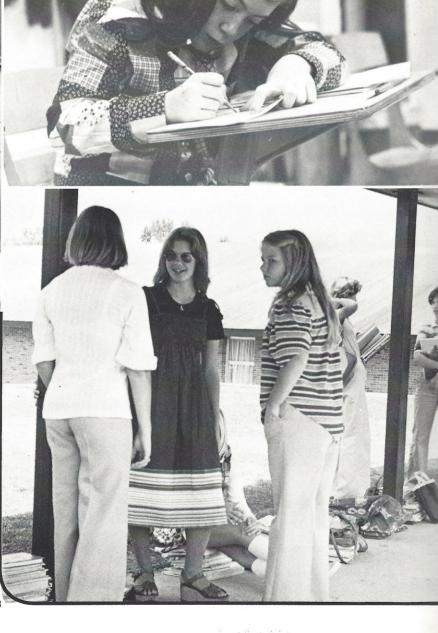

- 1. Adjusting the typewriter, Phil Tyler types an annual layout.
- 2. Students sing an original song while performing a Christmas skit.
- 3. Copying notes from the board, students prepare for a test on new material.

A Time For Beginnings

- 1. Making up a test after school, fourth grader Fran Jameson solves an arithmetic problem.
- 2. Toward the end of the school year, seniors' minds wander to thoughts of post-graduation.
- 3. Discussing the day's activities, students await their rides from school.

mondand don't me F
